WHY DOES A WHIP CRACK? When we crack a whip the lash, by the time the final flick takes place, is travelling very, very fast. The faster it travels the more quickly the space left by the passing lash.

At the time of the final flick the speed of the lash is greatest, and then, too, does the surrounding air rush in with greatest speed. So great, indeed, is this speed that the air meets with a noise, which we call the crack of the whip.

It is, in reality, nothing more than a thunderclap in miniature, the lash of the whip doing exactly the same work on a much smaller scale, than the flash of lightning does in cleaving a path in the air that closes behind it with the noise of thunder.

The following are the starters in Monday's race:—

Mr. J. O. Hyndman and Mr. David Bethune have offered prizes for the race.

Besides the prizes offered for the different races during the season it was decided to award in each race a red pennant to the boat finishing first, white for second and blue for third boat, these pennants to be flown on winning boats during the present season, either when sailing or when boats are anchored at mooring.

Since the last race a number of the yachts have been hauled out of the water, and numerous changes made to center boards, rudders, etc., and the owners of these boats promise that the Emerald J., winner of the last race will not have things all her own way in this race Monday.

Presentation to Section Man

A few evenings ago Mr. James Redmond, sectionman Lake Verde was waited on by those who worked under his supervision at the snow shovelling and presented with a valuable pipe and the following address:

Dear James Redmond, Lake Verde.

We the snow shovellers, working under your charge on the Murray Harbor Railway, wish to express our appreciation of the kindness received while laboring under your supervision at the strenuous work of keeping the track clear during the past winter.

The kindly manner in which you treated us, coupled with occasional witty remarks made time pass so pleasantly, that we did not seem to realize that we were working under a boss.

We ask you to accept this pipe, not for its material value, but while resting from your labor, enjoying a good smoke, you will kindly remember those who assisted you in the snow fighting campaign of 1923.

Signed:—Daniel Mitchell, Isaac Mitchell, Linwood McNeill, Warren Acorn, Claude Horton, Jasper Weatherbie, Gilmore Jardine.

THE FIRST BAKER

The first baker was Ching-Noung. He is reputed to have been the original teacher of how to make bread from wheat and while resting from your labor, enjoying a good smoke, you will kindly remember those who assisted you in the snow fighting campaign of 1923.
