Mrs. Laura Garland Tells How She Was Rescued From a Condition Of Debility and Weakness.

Mrs. Laura Garland, Crawford Street, Toronto, Ont., writes as follows about her wonderful success with Paine's Celery Compound: "Your Paine's Celery Compound has most wonderfully improved my health. Before using it my appetite was poor—almost gone; I was weak and debilitated, and suffered severely from pains in the head. Paine's Celery Compound certainly does all that is claimed for it. I have recommended it to my friends, and they all speak highly of the results received from it. I wish Paine's Celery Compound the success it so richly deserves."

Paine's Celery Compound Does the Same Blessed Work For All Sufferers.

ELOQUENT GREETING FROM CANADIAN METHODISM

The Full Address of the Rev. Wm. Dobson at Los Angeles, Cal.—A Magnificent Effort.

(Concluded.) While we must also hold to the larger truth of Christ that God loves the world, that Christ loved the church and gave Himself for it, yet we can never get away from the fact that in that mystery of Calvary the individual was taken largely into account, and men are beginning to feel that whatever responsibility rests upon them, in virtue of that truth, that responsibility must be discharged by the individual as he values his immortal soul. On the other side, you remember, it was said by the same authority that we shall each give an account concerning himself to God. That is to say, your moral bill and mine will not be sent to the general of the army, if you stick a bayonet through a man. Your moral bill and mine will not be sent to the government. It will not be sent to the corporation to which we belong. It will be sent to you, and to me, as individuals. And because this is so, we must stand forth in our awful manhood and meet these obligations to God and the universe in our individual capacity, saying with the Apostle Paul "from henceforth let no man trouble me, for I bear in my own body the marks of the Lord Jesus." I am a Christian first; then a British subject. I am a child of God first, then a member of the Methodist Church. [Applause.] And if the British nation or the Methodist Church get in my way while working out my obligations to God and the universe, they must get out of it, that's all. [Applause.] Now, we are looking to you to solve this problem, to build up a civilization where the man and the woman will be conditioned alike, being judged alike by the ethics of the sermon on the mount. Where the statesman, the soldier and the preacher will be conditioned alike and judged by the ethics of the sermon on the mount. If you succeed, and, oh, God, I hope you will it, will be the triumph of the ages; it will be the world's jubilee, but if you fail—there is no word in the English language to name such a failure.

But we hope, on the other side, that you will succeed, because allied to you in blood, in language, in law, in literature, your successes must always be our triumphs, your failures must be our sorrows. Was it not your own Lowell who once sang: "Whether conscious or unconscious, yet humanity's vast frame, Through its ocean sundered fibers feels the rush of joy or pain; In the gain or loss of one race, all the rest have equal claim."

And that bond which binds the Anglo-Saxon hearts together is more than a bond of mere sentiment. It is a bond of sympathy, as responsive to the touch of joy or sorrow as the harp strings are to the touch of a harper. I remember it as well as if it were yesterday, O I remember it very well, when it was flashed along the wires into Canada, "The President of the United States was mortally wounded at Buffalo to-day." A thrill of horror ran through the Dominion of Canada, from one end of it to the other. We almost held our breath; we bowed our heads; and in a few days later, when word came that "McKinley died this morning at 4 o'clock," from every pulpit throughout the land, both Protestant and Catholic, prayer ascended to Almighty God for a sorrowing nation and a widowed woman. They may say what they like, brethren, "blood is thicker than water," and it tells in the oils by which we are governed throughout the ages.

If I have caught correctly the trend of the Episcopalian address, it is very evident to me that you have questions to solve on this side of the line to which we on our side are comparative strangers. We have no colored question there to apitate us. We have no Mormonism with its untiring propaganda and its almost immitable organization; but when reduced to the last analysis, our difficulty in Canada is the thing that the theologians call "original sin." [Laughter.] Total depravity. I don't know whether you know anything about it on this side or not, but we have it over there, gigantic in its proportions, herculean in its strength. It breaks out in the form of political corruption, sometimes until we lift our heads with shame because we find men professing the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ, can be bought and sold like sheep and oxen. They take the form of strife between capital and labor, giving us no end of trouble to reconcile the views. Then it comes in the form of the awful liquor traffic, blighting our homes, ruining our young manhood, throwing its dark shadows across life's pathway in almost every department of human activity. When it takes on this form on our side, oh, it is cruel! Oh, it is mean! It is degrading! And sometimes on the Canadian side that total depravity will break out right within the bounds of the church and it will pull wires for election, it will canvass for position, especially just before a General Conference; and there is almost no limit to the depth of degradation to which it will stoop when it wants to gain its end for power or position in the church. It is very bad there in that case. [Laughter.]

Now, as a church, dear brethren, we realize the fact that all these national and social difficulties with which we have to contend, if dealt with at all must be dealt with in their cause or causes; so we are bringing to bear upon this total depravity in Canada the full power of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, urging men to lay their who being open to the sanctifying touch of His finger, so that selfishness and sin may be taken away and that men may love what they hated yesterday, and hate today what they loved yesterday. So, you see, we are bringing the church to bear, not only upon the individual for his individual good, but we are trying by means of the Gospel of Christ, to save the nation, the country, the dominion from that internal corruption which has borne so many nations down in the days that have gone by.

Our conception of God and His relation to the universe is just about the same as your own. Our philosophy over there rests upon a theistic basis, strong enough, we think, to bear the weight of all past human experience, broad enough to comprehend within its sweep our ever widening conceptions of time and space, and all the truths that science and metaphysics may see fit to fill them with in the future, and while it rests upon a theistic basis we think we can meet rationalism with reason. That thing that you call modern thought is essentially sane on our side; it is too positive to be flippant; it is being, after which it is searching, to be irrevocable; and we believe over there that the time has gone by when the honest inquirer shall be answered by being prayed at, or having it suggested to him that, if he does not repent, his future condition may be too warm for his personal comfort. We believe that the truth on which our creed rests is as eternal as the throne of God. We believe further that every truth that science can discover must harmonize with those truths upon which our creed rests. [Applause.]

And it is the duty of the church to show to the world that this harmony does exist. [Applause.] Here the church must be sane; she must be strong, she must rid herself of cant, she must be manly, and in order to do so she must face the problems of modern thought with all the power of the Gospel of Christ; and the philosophy which she has rests upon theism. [Applause.] If the church falls here, we think over there that it has lost its grip upon the thoughtful and the educated, and henceforth can only make its appeal to ignorance and superstition. Mr. President, and Brethren, no church or man has a right to ask another to believe in that which he cannot construe into thought. [Applause.] You may say what you like about it. I will take it as an insult from any man in California, that is, an intellectual insult, to ask me to believe that you have over there somewhere a round square, or that some where up in yonder peaks you have a plank with only one end, and it is not skepticism that makes me disbelieve it; it is because I am made in the image of God, with certain psychological laws conditioning me that I cannot believe it, and the church has no right to ask a man to believe truths which he knows to contradict well-defined truths that have been discovered by science.

Now, of course, the higher criticism has swept over us, but it has exhausted its destructive force. Very little damage has been done. We yet hold to the old Methodist doctrine of sin; we hold that Jesus Christ, by the grace of God, tasted death for every man. We hold that because this is so God can be just and still the justifier of him that believeth in Jesus; and being adopted into God's family, God sends forth the Spirit of His Son into our hearts, crying "Abba, Father," and the Spirit, while doing His offices there, as witnessing with our spirits, not only creates us anew in Christ Jesus, and enables us to love God supremely and our neighbor as ourselves, but He will change us from glory unto glory until by and by when Christ shall come to number up His jewels and take His ransomed home, we shall be like Him, for we shall see Him as He is. Now, to preach these grand old doctrines the Canadian Church employs somewhere about four thousand preachers, two thousand of them regularly ordained ministers and two thousand of them local preachers. We have, also, as your leaves, the Sabbath School and Epworth League going in full blast, and all the machinery of the Methodist Church, and we are bringing it to bear upon the Chinese of British Columbia, upon those wild Indians of the Northwest; we are bringing it to bear upon the French Canadian, and we have in China and Japan missions which give large promise of success. We are encouraged by the results of the last quadrennium, which has showed, by figures, at least, that there has been advanced along all the lines of activities of the church.

I am here this morning to tell you how interested we are in you, Methodist Episcopal brethren; how we pray that you will succeed in your great mission. I have come to carry to you the greetings of the Methodist Church of Canada, and wish you God-speed and to ask that, when you live in your affections and in your prayers until by and by, when we shall wish our work as individuals, we may hear his said, "Well done, good and faithful servant enter ye in to the joy of your Lord." [Applause]

BOYS DROWNED.

WALTHAM, MASS., May 25.—Herbert Burgess, aged 17, and Harry Stoddard, aged 18, of Newtonville, were drowned today in the Charles River near Robert's Point. The bodies were recovered shortly after the accident. The boys were paddling up the river in a canoe. In some manner the frail craft was overturned and the occupants thrown into the water. Their cries were heard by workmen some distance away, but as neither could swim both sank before assistance arrived on the scene.

The Mammoth and the Mosquito

What has come to pass in thousands of years seems hardly credible. Primitive man, a weakling in comparison to modern man, was able to conquer the huge monsters of thousands of years ago, such as the Mammoth, and to-day they are dead forever; yet the mosquito and fly are still to be seen, and they are still killing the scientist to devise methods for killing the mosquito and fly, so that they will not join the mammoth and the monster lizard. The mosquitoes and flies are dangerous enemies of man because they spread contagion. The mosquito often carries the germ of malaria with his bite. The house-fly spreads germs of disease over our food. These bacterial germs, ever hunting for the weak spot, find a place in our blood, and then we suffer from grip, catarrh, consumption, or malaria. Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., says: "There would be no grip epidemics, the germs of consumption, or malaria would find no place in the human economy, if the blood organs were pure, if the lungs, heart and other organs were not allowed to accumulate in the body; it is best to take a gentle laxative at least once a week." Such a vegetable laxative as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets contains nothing which could harm the system. For putting the blood in order, and as a tissue-builder and tonic for those weakened by coughs, colds, catarrh, grip, nothing will build one up quicker than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This is a medicine made entirely of roots and herbs, without the use of alcohol. Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay customs and mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for paper covered, or 50 stamps for cloth binding, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

SAMUEL YARNELL, LABOR LEADER, Cured of Kidney Disease by Warner's Safe Cure

Mr. Yarnell is a Leading Light in the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners—His Representative at Five Conventions—He Talks About "Safe Cure."

"I do not think that 'Safe Cure' is a 'cure-all,' but I freely admit that it has made my burden easier by building up my badly run down system. I had kidney trouble, and was suffering from it wholly unfit to do any work. At first one does not recognize the symptoms of kidney disease. But it goes on stealthily sapping the strength and finally the collapse comes, and unless you know of Warner's Safe Cure you will throw away many a hard earned dollar on worthless 'so-called cures' and waste precious time, only to die in the end. 'Safe Cure' cured me after all other medicines failed, and I heartily recommend it to every one who has, or suspects, kidney trouble. Mrs. Yarnell and I always keep a bottle in the house."

As Mr. Yarnell says, those who have kidney trouble and do not know of "Safe Cure" stand a poor chance of being cured.

Backache, rheumatism, headache, swellings, frequent desire to urinate, painful passing of water, cloudy urine, reddish sediment or floating particles in morning urine after it has stood twenty-four hours, are all absolutely certain signs that your kidneys have been diseased for months.

You have no time to lose if you have any of these symptoms, or if any member of your family in this or past generations has had kidney trouble; it's hereditary. It's dangerous to neglect the kidneys for even one day. Get a bottle of "Safe Cure" at the nearest drug store. It has cured thousands of cases after every other medicine failed, and will surely cure you.

Safe Cure is guaranteed absolutely pure and free from all dangerous drugs found in so many "so-called" kidney cures. It has been used and prescribed by doctors and hospitals for over thirty years as the one certain cure for all kidney, bladder, liver and blood diseases. All drug stores, or direct, $1 a bottle.

TRIAL BOTTLE FREE

To convince every sufferer from disease of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, that Warner's Safe Cure will cure them, a trial bottle will be sent absolutely free, postpaid. Also free doctor's advice, and a medical booklet which tells all about these diseases, daily from grateful patients who have been cured by Safe Cure. All you have to do is write Warner's Safe Cure Co., 44 Lombard St., Toronto, Ont., and mention name of this paper. The genuineness of this offer is guaranteed by the publisher.
