

FERTILIZERS

If you want Fertilizer from us and have NOT already booked your requirements...

WE ALSO WANT parties who now have their orders BOOKED WITH US...

A. Horne & Co. CHARLOTTETOWN

MARGIE ADAMS, 56, ACTRESS, PASSES

MASSENA, N. Y., May 31—Margie Adams, 56, repertory actress...

In Memoriam

MRS. MARGARET AHART

Another former Prince Edward Islander to pass away in Oakland on April 16, was Mrs. Margaret Ahart (MacDonald)...

BIRTHS

COLES—At Winsloe on May 31, 1937, to Mr. and Mrs. James Coles, a son.

MARRIAGES

CAMPBELL—MACDONALD—At Charlottetown on May 28, 1937, by Rev. Ewen Macdonald...

DEATHS

JONES—At 52 Rutland Square, Boston, Mass., Sunday, May 30, 1937, J. W. Jones...

DOULL—At New Dominion, May 31, 1937, Mrs. Edmund Doull...

CARVER—At Pownal on Monday May 31, 1937, G. H. M. Carver...

ROTARY

There was practically a full house at the weekly luncheon of the Charlottetown Rotary Club...

Card of Thanks

Mr. and Mrs. George MacDonald and family wish to thank their many neighbors and friends...

N. D. MacLean

UNDERTAKER EMBALMER Charlottetown and North Wiltshire Phone 149

The Central Guardian Degrees Conferred

AT GYRO—Dr. C. Keeping gave an interesting address on the Coronation trip...

MOTORISTS IN COURT—A motorist was fined five dollars and costs yesterday when he appeared before Magistrate Tweedy...

Mrs. P. W. Turner returned to Charlottetown last night from Lower Cove, New Brunswick...

New I.M.T. Bus Schedule To Be Effective Friday

In keeping with previous efforts to provide a link up to date Bus Service, Island Motor Transport Ltd. will commence its Summer schedule...

Commencing Friday of this week, two buses will leave the Charlottetown terminal at White's Restaurant at 7.30 a. m. Each will run to Borden, one by way of Victoria the other by way of Summerside...

Shoppers on the Victoria-Borden road will be offered a double service which will enable them to reach Summerside at 10.05 a. m. or Charlottetown at 11.20 a. m. Return trips will leave at 5.45 p. m. and 8.30 p. m. respectively.

As soon as the equipment is received, a regular service will be started between Summerside and Tignish. It is expected that this will be in the very near future. A daily (except Sunday) service now operates between Elmira-Souris-St. Peters-Charlottetown.

Island Motor Transport is to be congratulated on the progressive policy it has adopted. Its regular week day schedule will provide, when completed, a service which will enable people from nearly every part of the Island to travel at a convenient time of day and connect with the mainland bus service which in turn will carry them to all important points in the Provinces and the U. S. A. I.M.T. Service is extremely popular on the routes now served and the new schedule should meet with the approval of all the travelling public.

I.M.T. waiting rooms are now established at White's Restaurant in Charlottetown, Bowman's Drug Store in Hunter River, Davison's Restaurant in Kensington and Gourley's Drug Store in Summerside. Ticket Agencies will shortly be opened at each of these places and others will be established as quickly as possible. I.M.T. has had a capable staff of drivers in training. They are qualified by experience and properly instructed to handle I.M.T. buses in a careful, efficient manner. Each man is physically fit. He has to be to be an I.M.T. bus driver.

The new schedule will appear in The Guardian tomorrow, in the regular space reserved for bus schedules. We believe you will find it complete in every possible way and we commend I.M.T. buses to you. They are comfortable, quick and convenient and best of all, they are safe.

Also heard with much enjoyment were two vocal solos, "Souvenirs" and "When You Come to the End of a Perfect Day," by Miss Doris MacNeill of Tyne Valley. Miss MacNeill, who was the first prize winner at the recent Hobbes Exhibition here was accompanied by Mrs. Cleve Whean of Summerside.

There was also a large attendance of guests. Major T. E. MacNeill, introduced by Rotarian A. H. Pickard; Dr. C. A. Simpson, New York; introduced by Rotarian Harold Palmer; Kenneth Ross, St. John's, Newfoundland, introduced by Rotarian Roy Cudmore; Dr. Tom Acker of Halifax, introduced by Rotarian E. L. Miles; Gordon Robertson, C. I., introduced by Rotarian G. F. Hutcheson; Rev. A. S. W. Cherry Valley, introduced by Rotarian R. E. Mutch; Rev. Hugh Miller, City, introduced by Rotarian George Tweedy; Hilton MacNeill, City, introduced by President J. M. Murray; and A. E. Brittain, Moncton, introduced by Rotarian A. H. MacPherson.

Needs of the Institution

"At former Commencement Exercises I have mentioned that it has been the policy of St. Dunstan's for several years to give her staff the best equipment that can be obtained. She realizes that the teacher who can draw from the profound knowledge of his subject in an inspirational way will not only enable the student to qualify himself for his future work, but will give him a love of study that will influence his whole life. But though flesh and blood he is, he is not an er brick and mortar, nevertheless modern education demands adequate accommodation for well-equipped laboratories and libraries.

Finished Our Journey

It is sweet to have finished our journey to have arrived at our goal; it is sad to leave our college and break off relations that will have for us eternally pleasant associations. Our joy we share today with our parents. In all our trials and labours we were comforted and borne up by our faith, our trust, our consciousness of the joy this day would bring to you. And even today you have hopes and plans for us, dreams lighted by the fire of love, whose magnificence we could not for a moment devine. God grant that we may never fall you or give you reason to reproach us.

Sound Practical Training

In sending us to Saint Dunstan's you have fulfilled and even surpassed your divinely imposed duty of educating us. Here we have received a sound practical training, a knowledge of literature and an insight into philosophy; the whole structure built upon the solid foundation of Faith. Unless the Lord build the house they labor in vain that build it. Well has Saint Dunstan's exemplified her own motto, "From the same source come faith and science." Well has she realized the important truth that he who would be a true scholar must advance on the road of sanctity.

Adult Education Work

"In our last year's report reference was made to the work we had undertaken to promote adult education. It was stated that at a meeting held here in May, a tentative Adult Education League was formed to continue that work. It is, indeed, very gratifying to all who are interested in the welfare and education of the adult population of the Province to know that a really wonderful work is being done. The success of the movement thus far is quite encouraging. When men and women study their own problems in the quiet of the study circle, they will do much to remove and prevent such conditions as make for the destructive "isms" that are rampant in the world today and to establish economic security on a sound and Christian basis. I am sure that the members of the League are grateful to those who so willingly gave their services without remuneration and to the Provincial Departments of Education and Agriculture for their active and timely assistance.

Congratulates Graduates

"Robed in their academic gowns, symbolical of graduation, nine young men will receive today from the Most Reverend Chancellor the Bachelors of Arts degrees. I wish to congratulate them on their success in the Baccalaureate examinations and to assure their parents and friends that, if honest and persistent effort is worthy of recognition, they will be conferred upon them. In their efforts these honors they did achieve. In the light of the fact that, as senior students of the college, there are many activities in which they should take their places as leaders. I may say to you, graduates, that with a true sense of your responsibility as seniors you have finished your course at St. Dunstan's and your benediction you will go forth today, bearing the title of baccalaureate-crowned with laurel. May that crown remind you frequently of your Alma Mater and may it be a help to you along life's pathway to win the crown that will not fade.

Faculty Changes

"Several faculty changes have taken place since our last commencement. Father Mulhally, after thirteen years of faithful service, will be leaving the parish of St. Dunstan's on July 1st. We are especially aware that this is the very last day of the month of May, the springtime of life when the earth is quickening into life and there is everywhere the singing of new flowers and the manifold leafing of trees—the expectation and half reluctant promise of summer; it is the season of hope, the month of brooding peace when the human hearts vibrate to the sweet mystery of life, and each one of us in the contemplation of changing things sees the repetition or reads the prophecy of his own. How fitting it seems to us that on this day we should hold our commencement exercises—symbol of the change from the spring of youth to the summer of manhood, the turning from the years of preparation and promise to the realization of life's destiny.

VALEDICTORY

Alphonsus Campbell, '37 Today everything for us is symbolic; the smallest detail or the slightest act is sacred in meaning. We are especially aware that this is the very last day of the month of May, the springtime of life when the earth is quickening into life and there is everywhere the singing of new flowers and the manifold leafing of trees—the expectation and half reluctant promise of summer; it is the season of hope, the month of brooding peace when the human hearts vibrate to the sweet mystery of life, and each one of us in the contemplation of changing things sees the repetition or reads the prophecy of his own. How fitting it seems to us that on this day we should hold our commencement exercises—symbol of the change from the spring of youth to the summer of manhood, the turning from the years of preparation and promise to the realization of life's destiny.

Another Closing

We are happy to welcome and greet you on this day because you share to some extent in our feelings—but they cannot really be yours, they belong to us alone. For you greater part of the past year. "Another teacher, Mr. Clarence Murphy, B. A. who from the time of his graduation three years ago, has given excellent satisfaction in the High School and Commercial Departments, will go to the Catholic University of America to continue his studies. Mr. Murphy, in competing examination, won a Fellowship from that University a few weeks ago. I heartily congratulate him and trust that his success may stimulate other graduates to continue their education in a similar way.

Needs of the Institution

"At former Commencement Exercises I have mentioned that it has been the policy of St. Dunstan's for several years to give her staff the best equipment that can be obtained. She realizes that the teacher who can draw from the profound knowledge of his subject in an inspirational way will not only enable the student to qualify himself for his future work, but will give him a love of study that will influence his whole life. But though flesh and blood he is, he is not an er brick and mortar, nevertheless modern education demands adequate accommodation for well-equipped laboratories and libraries.

Finished Our Journey

It is sweet to have finished our journey to have arrived at our goal; it is sad to leave our college and break off relations that will have for us eternally pleasant associations. Our joy we share today with our parents. In all our trials and labours we were comforted and borne up by our faith, our trust, our consciousness of the joy this day would bring to you. And even today you have hopes and plans for us, dreams lighted by the fire of love, whose magnificence we could not for a moment devine. God grant that we may never fall you or give you reason to reproach us.

Sound Practical Training

In sending us to Saint Dunstan's you have fulfilled and even surpassed your divinely imposed duty of educating us. Here we have received a sound practical training, a knowledge of literature and an insight into philosophy; the whole structure built upon the solid foundation of Faith. Unless the Lord build the house they labor in vain that build it. Well has Saint Dunstan's exemplified her own motto, "From the same source come faith and science." Well has she realized the important truth that he who would be a true scholar must advance on the road of sanctity.

Adult Education Work

"In our last year's report reference was made to the work we had undertaken to promote adult education. It was stated that at a meeting held here in May, a tentative Adult Education League was formed to continue that work. It is, indeed, very gratifying to all who are interested in the welfare and education of the adult population of the Province to know that a really wonderful work is being done. The success of the movement thus far is quite encouraging. When men and women study their own problems in the quiet of the study circle, they will do much to remove and prevent such conditions as make for the destructive "isms" that are rampant in the world today and to establish economic security on a sound and Christian basis. I am sure that the members of the League are grateful to those who so willingly gave their services without remuneration and to the Provincial Departments of Education and Agriculture for their active and timely assistance.

Congratulates Graduates

"Robed in their academic gowns, symbolical of graduation, nine young men will receive today from the Most Reverend Chancellor the Bachelors of Arts degrees. I wish to congratulate them on their success in the Baccalaureate examinations and to assure their parents and friends that, if honest and persistent effort is worthy of recognition, they will be conferred upon them. In their efforts these honors they did achieve. In the light of the fact that, as senior students of the college, there are many activities in which they should take their places as leaders. I may say to you, graduates, that with a true sense of your responsibility as seniors you have finished your course at St. Dunstan's and your benediction you will go forth today, bearing the title of baccalaureate-crowned with laurel. May that crown remind you frequently of your Alma Mater and may it be a help to you along life's pathway to win the crown that will not fade.

Faculty Changes

"Several faculty changes have taken place since our last commencement. Father Mulhally, after thirteen years of faithful service, will be leaving the parish of St. Dunstan's on July 1st. We are especially aware that this is the very last day of the month of May, the springtime of life when the earth is quickening into life and there is everywhere the singing of new flowers and the manifold leafing of trees—the expectation and half reluctant promise of summer; it is the season of hope, the month of brooding peace when the human hearts vibrate to the sweet mystery of life, and each one of us in the contemplation of changing things sees the repetition or reads the prophecy of his own. How fitting it seems to us that on this day we should hold our commencement exercises—symbol of the change from the spring of youth to the summer of manhood, the turning from the years of preparation and promise to the realization of life's destiny.

VALEDICTORY

Alphonsus Campbell, '37 Today everything for us is symbolic; the smallest detail or the slightest act is sacred in meaning. We are especially aware that this is the very last day of the month of May, the springtime of life when the earth is quickening into life and there is everywhere the singing of new flowers and the manifold leafing of trees—the expectation and half reluctant promise of summer; it is the season of hope, the month of brooding peace when the human hearts vibrate to the sweet mystery of life, and each one of us in the contemplation of changing things sees the repetition or reads the prophecy of his own. How fitting it seems to us that on this day we should hold our commencement exercises—symbol of the change from the spring of youth to the summer of manhood, the turning from the years of preparation and promise to the realization of life's destiny.

Another Closing

We are happy to welcome and greet you on this day because you share to some extent in our feelings—but they cannot really be yours, they belong to us alone. For you this scene is but a repetition, another closing. Tomorrow you continue your normal life, tomorrow we enter into a new one. Today we are students resting in the shelter of our college; tomorrow we enter a striving world where we must fight our own way, where our arms and armor will be tested and tried. As we are grouped here before you, united for the last time as a class, how are we to tell you what are our feelings when we hardly understand them ourselves? Borne up on a wave of changing emotions, how are we to describe them to you? With a divided eye we look back on the past and forward to the future; with a divided heart we feel both sorrow and joy. It is ours today to feel, as Francis Thompson so beautifully said: "All the sadness in the sweet, The sweetness in the sad."

Needs of the Institution

"At former Commencement Exercises I have mentioned that it has been the policy of St. Dunstan's for several years to give her staff the best equipment that can be obtained. She realizes that the teacher who can draw from the profound knowledge of his subject in an inspirational way will not only enable the student to qualify himself for his future work, but will give him a love of study that will influence his whole life. But though flesh and blood he is, he is not an er brick and mortar, nevertheless modern education demands adequate accommodation for well-equipped laboratories and libraries.

Finished Our Journey

It is sweet to have finished our journey to have arrived at our goal; it is sad to leave our college and break off relations that will have for us eternally pleasant associations. Our joy we share today with our parents. In all our trials and labours we were comforted and borne up by our faith, our trust, our consciousness of the joy this day would bring to you. And even today you have hopes and plans for us, dreams lighted by the fire of love, whose magnificence we could not for a moment devine. God grant that we may never fall you or give you reason to reproach us.

Sound Practical Training

In sending us to Saint Dunstan's you have fulfilled and even surpassed your divinely imposed duty of educating us. Here we have received a sound practical training, a knowledge of literature and an insight into philosophy; the whole structure built upon the solid foundation of Faith. Unless the Lord build the house they labor in vain that build it. Well has Saint Dunstan's exemplified her own motto, "From the same source come faith and science." Well has she realized the important truth that he who would be a true scholar must advance on the road of sanctity.

Adult Education Work

"In our last year's report reference was made to the work we had undertaken to promote adult education. It was stated that at a meeting held here in May, a tentative Adult Education League was formed to continue that work. It is, indeed, very gratifying to all who are interested in the welfare and education of the adult population of the Province to know that a really wonderful work is being done. The success of the movement thus far is quite encouraging. When men and women study their own problems in the quiet of the study circle, they will do much to remove and prevent such conditions as make for the destructive "isms" that are rampant in the world today and to establish economic security on a sound and Christian basis. I am sure that the members of the League are grateful to those who so willingly gave their services without remuneration and to the Provincial Departments of Education and Agriculture for their active and timely assistance.

Congratulates Graduates

"Robed in their academic gowns, symbolical of graduation, nine young men will receive today from the Most Reverend Chancellor the Bachelors of Arts degrees. I wish to congratulate them on their success in the Baccalaureate examinations and to assure their parents and friends that, if honest and persistent effort is worthy of recognition, they will be conferred upon them. In their efforts these honors they did achieve. In the light of the fact that, as senior students of the college, there are many activities in which they should take their places as leaders. I may say to you, graduates, that with a true sense of your responsibility as seniors you have finished your course at St. Dunstan's and your benediction you will go forth today, bearing the title of baccalaureate-crowned with laurel. May that crown remind you frequently of your Alma Mater and may it be a help to you along life's pathway to win the crown that will not fade.

Faculty Changes

"Several faculty changes have taken place since our last commencement. Father Mulhally, after thirteen years of faithful service, will be leaving the parish of St. Dunstan's on July 1st. We are especially aware that this is the very last day of the month of May, the springtime of life when the earth is quickening into life and there is everywhere the singing of new flowers and the manifold leafing of trees—the expectation and half reluctant promise of summer; it is the season of hope, the month of brooding peace when the human hearts vibrate to the sweet mystery of life, and each one of us in the contemplation of changing things sees the repetition or reads the prophecy of his own. How fitting it seems to us that on this day we should hold our commencement exercises—symbol of the change from the spring of youth to the summer of manhood, the turning from the years of preparation and promise to the realization of life's destiny.

VALEDICTORY

Alphonsus Campbell, '37 Today everything for us is symbolic; the smallest detail or the slightest act is sacred in meaning. We are especially aware that this is the very last day of the month of May, the springtime of life when the earth is quickening into life and there is everywhere the singing of new flowers and the manifold leafing of trees—the expectation and half reluctant promise of summer; it is the season of hope, the month of brooding peace when the human hearts vibrate to the sweet mystery of life, and each one of us in the contemplation of changing things sees the repetition or reads the prophecy of his own. How fitting it seems to us that on this day we should hold our commencement exercises—symbol of the change from the spring of youth to the summer of manhood, the turning from the years of preparation and promise to the realization of life's destiny.

Another Closing

We are happy to welcome and greet you on this day because you share to some extent in our feelings—but they cannot really be yours, they belong to us alone. For you

MEETING OF S. D. U. ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Dr. G. L. Smith Elected President—Luncheon Precedes Business Session.

The Alumni Association of Saint Dunstan's University assembled in the college dining-room at one o'clock yesterday and were guests of the college at a splendidly served luncheon. The president, Mr. A. F. McQuaid in his report spoke of the activities of the year, and of the proper ideals of education. A most interesting feature of the meeting took the form of reminiscences of college days told by Monsignor Maurice McDonald, Dr. G. L. Smith, and Leo F. Macdonald. Other speakers were Major Tessler of the Military Hospital, Halifax; Dr. G. P. Monaghan; and Dr. P. McMahon.

A general reunion for 1938 was suggested, but no definite decision reached. Mr. Wm. Simpson on behalf of the graduating class thanked the Association for the welcome extended to the class of 1937. Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan was appointed by the Association to the Board of Governors of the college. The election of officers resulted as follows: Pres. Dr. G. L. Smith; vice-presidents, Leo F. Macdonald, and Amodeo Caron; secy-treas., Rev. R. V. MacKenzie; asst. secy., Rev. J. A. Sullivan; executive committee, Dr. C. H. Dalton, Somerville, Mass.; A. F. McQuaid, Souris; Dr. L. P. Hebert, Montreal; Dr. J. A. MacDougall, Rumford, Me.; Rev. M. J. Rooney, Cardigan; and B. H. Hughes, Charlottetown. Auditors, Frank E. Eden, and J. P. Callaghan.

The meeting closed in time to attend the graduating exercises in the college.

Resigns Post On Radio Commission

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) OTTAWA, May 31—Col. Wilfrid Bovey, director of extra mural relations of McGill University, has resigned as a member of the Board of Governors of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and his place has been filled by the appointment of Rev. Canon Wilfrid E. Fuller, Campbellton, N. B. An announcement of the change was made today by Transport Minister C. D. Howe who stated Col. Bovey had advised the Government his work for McGill no longer allowed the necessary time to serve on the board.

Sanctuary of Tranquility

As we prepare to leave this sanctuary of tranquility we look out into the world which we soon must enter and seeing there such strife and war, we realize that here we have enjoyed one of the greatest—and today the rarest—of blessings: peace. Here we have enjoyed peace because of hers and ruled both kind and others their own relations. There is no power but from God. We have learned; and our superiors have directed us not with harshness but with firm mildness; in all their acts toward us we could read their deep fatherly solicitude. In future years a shadow cast by the war in the strife we shall return in spirit to Saint Dunstan's to take refuge in her arms and receive new courage.

Must Say Farewell

But now we must take our departure. Time does not wait; the present moment in a moment has become the past. To you Father Rector and members of the Faculty we say farewell. We know how hard you have worked for us; our farewell has been your constant study, our success your one ambition. We can never adequately repay you, but if in life we follow your ideals, if we are true to the example you have shown us, then we shall be happy, knowing that we have made you the one recompense you desire.

We Must Part

With you also, fellow students, we must part. Many of you have been our special friends; all of you have been our constant companions. As we leave, we ask you to take advantage of your years at college. All too soon your course will be finished, you will depart as we are departing; your place will be taken by other boys as you are taking ours. Be true to Saint Dunstan's; be proud of your college. This year you have special reason to be proud of her. You witness these imposing commencement exercises; you see your classmates arrayed in their robes of filiation; and you realize that this year in the conferring of degrees you see a great event in the history of Saint Dunstan's. Let it be yours to appreciate her worth and bring her the recognition she has so well merited.

RESTORING YELLOW LINEN

Linens which have become yellowed can be whitened by being boiled in a lather made of milk and pure white soap. Allow half pound of soap to one quart of milk. After being boiled, the linen should be rinsed twice, blued, then hung out to dry.

RESTORING YELLOW LINEN

Linens which have become yellowed can be whitened by being boiled in a lather made of milk and pure white soap. Allow half pound of soap to one quart of milk. After being boiled, the linen should be rinsed twice, blued, then hung out to dry.

RESTORING YELLOW LINEN

Linens which have become yellowed can be whitened by being boiled in a lather made of milk and pure white soap. Allow half pound of soap to one quart of milk. After being boiled, the linen should be rinsed twice, blued, then hung out to dry.

RESTORING YELLOW LINEN

Linens which have become yellowed can be whitened by being boiled in a lather made of milk and pure white soap. Allow half pound of soap to one quart of milk. After being boiled, the linen should be rinsed twice, blued, then hung out to dry.

RESTORING YELLOW LINEN

Linens which have become yellowed can be whitened by being boiled in a lather made of milk and pure white soap. Allow half pound of soap to one quart of milk. After being boiled, the linen should be rinsed twice, blued, then hung out to dry.

RESTORING YELLOW LINEN

Linens which have become yellowed can be whitened by being boiled in a lather made of milk and pure white soap. Allow half pound of soap to one quart of milk. After being boiled, the linen should be rinsed twice, blued, then hung out to dry.

MEETING OF S. D. U. ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Dr. G. L. Smith Elected President—Luncheon Precedes Business Session.

The Alumni Association of Saint Dunstan's University assembled in the college dining-room at one o'clock yesterday and were guests of the college at a splendidly served luncheon. The president, Mr. A. F. McQuaid in his report spoke of the activities of the year, and of the proper ideals of education. A most interesting feature of the meeting took the form of reminiscences of college days told by Monsignor Maurice McDonald, Dr. G. L. Smith, and Leo F. Macdonald. Other speakers were Major Tessler of the Military Hospital, Halifax; Dr. G. P. Monaghan; and Dr. P. McMahon.

A general reunion for 1938 was suggested, but no definite decision reached. Mr. Wm. Simpson on behalf of the graduating class thanked the Association for the welcome extended to the class of 1937. Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan was appointed by the Association to the Board of Governors of the college. The election of officers resulted as follows: Pres. Dr. G. L. Smith; vice-presidents, Leo F. Macdonald, and Amodeo Caron; secy-treas., Rev. R. V. MacKenzie; asst. secy., Rev. J. A. Sullivan; executive committee, Dr. C. H. Dalton, Somerville, Mass.; A. F. McQuaid, Souris; Dr. L. P. Hebert, Montreal; Dr. J. A. MacDougall, Rumford, Me.; Rev. M. J. Rooney, Cardigan; and B. H. Hughes, Charlottetown. Auditors, Frank E. Eden, and J. P. Callaghan.

The meeting closed in time to attend the graduating exercises in the college.

Resigns Post On Radio Commission

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) OTTAWA, May 31—Col. Wilfrid Bovey, director of extra mural relations of McGill University, has resigned as a member of the Board of Governors of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and his place has been filled by the appointment of Rev. Canon Wilfrid E. Fuller, Campbellton, N. B. An announcement of the change was made today by Transport Minister C. D. Howe who stated Col. Bovey had advised the Government his work for McGill no longer allowed the necessary time to serve on the board.

Sanctuary of Tranquility

As we prepare to leave this sanctuary of tranquility we look out into the world which we soon must enter and seeing there such strife and war, we realize that here we have enjoyed one of the greatest—and today the rarest—of blessings: peace. Here we have enjoyed peace because of hers and ruled both kind and others their own relations. There is no power but from God. We have learned; and our superiors have directed us not with harshness but with firm mildness; in all their acts toward us we could read their deep fatherly solicitude. In future years a shadow cast by the war in the strife we shall return in spirit to Saint Dunstan's to take refuge in her arms and receive new courage.

Must Say Farewell

But now we must take our departure. Time does not wait; the present moment in a moment has become the past. To you Father Rector and members of the Faculty we say farewell. We know how hard you have worked for us; our farewell has been your constant study, our success your one ambition. We can never adequately repay you, but if in life we follow your ideals, if we are true to the example you have shown us, then we shall be happy, knowing that we have made you the one recompense you desire.

We Must Part

With you also, fellow students, we must part. Many of you have been our special friends; all of you have been our constant companions. As we leave, we ask you to take advantage of your years at college. All too soon your course will be finished, you will depart as we are departing; your place will be taken by other boys as you are taking ours. Be true to Saint Dunstan's; be proud of your college. This year you have special reason to be proud of her. You witness these imposing commencement exercises; you see your classmates arrayed in their robes of filiation; and you realize that this year in the conferring of degrees you see a great event in the history of Saint Dunstan's. Let it be yours to appreciate her worth and bring her the recognition she has so well merited.

RESTORING YELLOW LINEN

Linens which have become yellowed can be whitened by being boiled in a lather made of milk and pure white soap. Allow half pound of soap to one quart of milk. After being boiled, the linen should be rinsed twice, blued, then hung out to dry.

RESTORING YELLOW LINEN

Linens which have become yellowed can be whitened by being boiled in a lather made of milk and pure white soap. Allow half pound of soap to one quart of milk. After being boiled, the linen should be rinsed twice, blued, then hung out to dry.

RESTORING YELLOW LINEN

Linens which have become yellowed can be whitened by being boiled in a lather made of milk and pure white soap. Allow half pound of soap to one quart of milk. After being boiled, the linen should be rinsed twice, blued, then hung out to dry.

RESTORING YELLOW LINEN

Linens which have become yellowed can be whitened by being boiled in a lather made of milk and pure white soap. Allow half pound of soap to one quart of milk. After being boiled, the linen should be rinsed twice, blued, then hung out to dry.

RESTORING YELLOW LINEN

Linens which have become yellowed can be whitened by being boiled in a lather made of milk and pure white soap. Allow half pound of soap to one quart of milk. After being boiled, the linen should be rinsed twice, blued, then hung out to dry.

RESTORING YELLOW LINEN