URGES UNDERSTANDING

WASHINGTON, May 6. - Secretary of State Cordell Hull believes that militarism sweeping many sections of the world might lead to war unless curbed through international cooperation to promote peace, understanding and friendship.

In an address last night before his fellow alumni of Cumberland University, Hull said:

"Today numerous nations are feverishly arming. They are taxing their citizens beyond the limit of ability to pay, and in many ways developing a military spirit which, regardless of present motives of self-defence, may probably lead to a reversal."

"While there are no signs of immediate war anywhere, it is true that seriously volcanic conditions exist in many parts of the world. Peace stabilization is all-important at this stage. It would be both a blunder and a crime for civilized peoples to fall much longer to take notice of present dangerous tendencies which negative every idea of friendliness and of the spirit of the good neighbor."

BRUSSELS, Belgium, May 6. - (A.P.) - The Belgian press forgot political and other differences today to join in an indignant chorus of denunciation of Colonel Graham Scott, Hutcheson's aide, who was reported to have been "tapped on the back of the head."

"Odious lie, ridiculous invention, German propaganda work" - these were most of the expressions used by newspapers to describe the Hutcheson statement. The Englishman was accused of insulting the memory of the king.

One newspaper asserted that Hutcheson was reputed to be "one of the most active Hitlerites" in Great Britain, thus accounting for the Colonel's statement that the king was killed because he would not take part in "the devilry of France in conspiring for war against defenceless Germany."

RELIGIOUS SERVICES

SACRED SONG SERVICE

The students and other young people of the city held their regular inter-church song service in St. Peter's Cathedral at half past eight last evening.

Upwards of two hundred and fifty young people were present, and a beautiful service was carried out. The address was given by Rev. Canon E. M. Malone, who took as his subject, "The Position of the Church of England, in Regard to Church Union," setting forth in very frank and concise style the Anglican interpretation of the Church Catholic.

The Scripture lesson was read by Mr. William Sherren and specially prepared programme sheets were distributed to those present.

This was the first Sacred Song Service ever conducted in St. Peter's Cathedral, and was held there upon special invitation last evening.

The committees of the Y. M. C. A. and the S. C. M. are very grateful to Canon Malone and his congregation for the interest which they have shown in this work, also to the organist, Mr. Sidney Fiddes, and the Warden, Mr. W. G. Hogg.

HOLY REDEEMER CHURCH

The retreat which is being conducted during the month of May at the Church of the Most Holy Redeemer was continued yesterday by Rev. Father Cloran, C.S.S.R. The subject of an inspiring sermon delivered by him last evening was "The Secret of Spiritual Health."

The service was largely attended by men and a feature of it was the singing of the men's choir. Benediction was given by Rev. Father Fleming, C.S.S.R.

SAINT PETER'S CATHEDRAL

There was a large congregation present in St. Peter's Cathedral at the 11 o'clock celebration of the Holy Eucharist yesterday. The Rev. Canon Malone urged on the congregation that they be as liberal as possible to the collection to be taken today for the City Dispensary and then preached a splendid and instructive sermon on prayer from the text "When Thou Prayest," urging special prayer at this Rogation season and reminding those present of the Archbishop's request, which is as follows:

I hope the Rogation Days this year will be generally observed by the Church with even more earnestness than ever.

When we consider the lamentable conditions in the West where the crops are seriously threatened both from the facts of the drought and the plague of locusts, which are a menace to about 150 acres, it is surely a time to ask God's blessing upon the farms and fields, the orchards and the fisheries.

It is satisfactory that our Church has provided services for these days, May 7, 8 and 9. But I would ask you all to make special reference to them in your Services on Sunday, May 6th. Below is a prayer that may be used:

Almighty God, Who has blessed the earth that it should be fruitful and bring forth abundantly whatsoever is needful for the life of man; Prosper, we beseech Thee, the labors of the husbandmen, and grant such seasonable weather that we may gather in the fruits of the earth, free from all manner of pests, and ever rejoice in Thy goodness, to the praise of Thy holy Name; through Jesus Christ our Lord.

At evening the text from which the sermon was preached was "Without me ye can do nothing." Thursday next is Ascension Day, a Festival Day in the Church of England. There will be a choral celebration of the Holy Eucharist at 7:15 a.m. in the Cathedral and the services next Sunday will be fully festive following Ascension Day.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

At the eleven o'clock service, a letter from the Archbishop regarding Rogation Sunday was referred to by the Rector, which requested that prayers be offered for this year's harvest, especially for the West where it is so greatly needed. The Rector, taking as his text "If ye, being evil (imperfect) know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Heavenly Father give good gifts unto them that ask," spoke of the need for a wider vision, greater faith and more earnest prayer for God's blessing where the need for it is so great. Taking up the history of Rogation Day, he said that the setting aside of a day of prayer for God's blessing on the crops goes far back in the Christian Church, and even beyond the Christian era. An ancient prayer to the god Mars for a bounteous harvest was read, and our greater responsibility for lifting our hearts to God in prayer was brought out. The need of prayer, not only for good harvests, but for a fuller and freer marketing and exchange of products from various parts of the world, was emphasized upon, both from the Provincial, National, and international standpoints. Speaking of the responsibility for crop failures in the West, the Rector likened the question to that one asked the Master, "Which sinned, this man or his parents?" While it may be that it is in order that the work of God may be made manifest, there is also the factor of our sin against the land by exhaustion of its elements by planting the same ground with the same crop year after year. From the world standpoint, it would be folly for the farmers to grow a tremendous crop with no market for it, and the injury and hardship wrought by tariffs and barriers to trade which prevent products from flowing along natural channels was mentioned. The sermon concluded with the matter of the disorganization of labour caused by the selfishness of both capital and labor, which must be replaced by the light of God's love and hearts in order that the want which is round about us may be averted.

THE MORNING LESSON

The morning lesson was Deut. 6. The offertory solo "Jesus, the very thought of Thee" was very acceptable by Mrs. H. S. Henderson.

The eleven o'clock service was followed by a celebration of the Holy Communion.

The special speaker at the evening service was Rev. W. N. Byers, Maritime Secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance of Canada. After outlining the history of the organization, he explained that it is often confused with the Lord's Day Act, which in itself is the law of Canada. The Alliance is a church organization which, through moral persuasion as contrasted with legal enforcement, is endeavoring to preserve and protect the Lord's Day from being commercialized by industrial organizations. The speaker pointed out that in certain lines of work which cannot be discontinued without serious inconvenience, those who work on Sunday should be given another day of rest. The Lord's Day Act of Canada provides that all commercialized business shall cease on the Lord's Day except works of necessity and mercy, which are stated. The Act states that each person shall have a day for himself if it is necessary for him to work on Sunday. He cited certain instances of work being carried on seven days a week in the Maritimes to co-operate with the Lord's Day Alliance to prevent Sunday being commercialized. Sunday should be preserved for freedom fellowship and worship.

THE MORNING LESSON

The lessons at the evening services were Deut. 8, and John 6: 47-59. The offertory anthem was Shelley's "Christian the Morn Breaks."
