VOTES FOR RAILWAYS

Reach Quite Six and a Half Millions.

ON NEW PRINCIPLES

What N. S. and N. B. Get—New Road to North West Parallel C. P. R.

OTTAWA, July 27—The railway subsidies were presented to parliament tonight. The new votes amount to $4,898,175 and re-votes to $1,647,120, making a total of $6,545,295. In this is included $1,000,000 for Quebec bridge over the St. Lawrence. Nearly another million is for the Rainy River railway.

An entirely new departure has been made by the government in granting these subsidies. Take in the first instance, the Rainy River railway which will some day form a link of a great transcontinental railway, competing with the Canadian Pacific, and provision is made that it cannot amalgamate with the Canadian Pacific. The independence of this road is preserved as far as it is possible to do so. All the roads for which subsidies are given must grant running powers to all other railroads. Provision is made to this effect.

In respect to rates and tolls a new clause in addition to provision which already exists in the railway act, has been provided making it imperative that these shall be approved and controlled by the government.

There is another important feature in the resolution and that is that all the roads receiving public aid will be bound to perform work for the government to the amount of in least 3 per cent. on the total subsidy vote. These roads must enter into contract with the government to do this. A summary of the subsidies are as follows:

Railway subsidies	$1,597,120
New votes	2,812,000
Ottawa and Rainy River	800,000
Quebec bridge over St. Lawrence	1,000,000
Other bridges in Quebec	204,425
Other bridges in Nova Scotia	33,750

Total subsidies provide for 134 miles of road in New Brunswick and 217 miles in Nova Scotia at $3,200 per mile.

A LARGE FARMER

Mr. W. A. McCallum, Formerly of Lot 48.

HIS SUCCESS IN IOWA

A Brief Description of The Country and Its Many Advantages.

Mr. W. A. McCallum, formerly of Lot 48, but who has resided in Melbourne, Dallas Centre, Dallas County Iowa, was in the city yesterday arranging for a large shipment of codfish from Rustico for his own private use in Melbourne.

When seen by a GUARDIAN representative last evening Mr. McCallum was in his old-time good spirits. His many friends will be glad to know that he is in good health and that the climate agrees with him in Melbourne. He reports a very pleasant trip to the Island and is enjoying himself very much since visiting his home. He said:— "I left Prince Edward Island in May, 1881 and after travelling over 2,500 miles I arrived in Des Moines, Iowa. I went farming in 1883, which occupation I have followed ever since. My farm consists of a half section, 320 acres of land. The land was improved to some extent, but I tilled and broke it up for cultivation and today 145 acres are under corn; 50 acres of other grains; 60 acres of hay. The land is excellent for pasturing, no manure being necessary. We had new potatoes on the 4th of July. The corn crop this year is the best ever seen in the country. Harvesting is on at the present time.

"The country is a beautiful one. The climate in summer is very warm, reaching 100 in the winter the coldest day is about 30 degrees below zero, with very little snow. Winter commences in January and ends about the 1st of February and on the first of March farming is commenced.

"The fall wheat is sown in September and harvested in July. The yield is about 40 bushels to the acre. The yield of hay is about two tons to the acre. Potatoes are largely raised. Buzes are not as numerous as on P. E. I. "Corn is the principal crop and a yield of 90 bushels to the acre is a common thing and in many cases 125 bushels have been obtained.

"The country is generally level and easily drained. The rains are something the same as in P. E. I. Land, but we have some clones. About fifty miles from where I live, six years ago, a very destructive one passed to the northwest and caused much destruction.

"Des Moines has a population of 75,000 and is a wealthy city. It is a railway centre, seven-teen roads running into the city from various points. The State House finished a few years ago, cost three million and a half dollars and is a magnificent building.

"The people are mostly Scotch, Irish and German. There are a few P. E. Islanders residing in Des Moines. Among them are Mrs. (Rev.) Morrison, formerly Miss McDonald, of Southport; Jas. B. Rackham, of Whistly River, and Anthony Essory, formerly of Winsloe Road, and a large number of Canadians.

"We leave Melbourne at 12 o'clock and arrive at 7 o'clock the next morning with our Pork to be placed on the Chicago Union stock yards, a distance of 365 miles." We raise from 150 to 200 hogs every year.

SAW HIM IN SPIRIT

New York Medium Claims to Have

TALKED TO INGERSOLL.

The Great Agnostic has had Many of his Notions Shattered.

NEW YORK, July 25.—Spiritualistic mediums all over the country busy arranging for exclusive conversations with the late Col. Robert G. Ingersoll, but to Dr. William Franks, of No. 251 West Twenty-third street, belongs the distinction of having had the first communication in New York State from the spirit world with the great agnostic.

Dr. Franks' conversation with the late Col. Ingersoll occurred to-day about noon. The young man who had arranged for the interview appeared at Dr. Franks' office, accompanied by a dozen persons, some of whom were interested in spiritualism and some in Col. Ingersoll.

WENT INTO A TRANCE.

Immediately on the party entering the doctor's office Dr. Franks went into a trance, without any premeditation, and all that happened thereafter is a blank to him. Dr. Franks says that it is a very unusual thing for him to go into a trance in this sudden manner. Still he went into the trance, and the next moment, according to the stories of eyewitnesses, was in close touch with Col. Ingersoll.

The doctor told his auditors that he could see the form of Col. Ingersoll very plainly. The colonel told the doctor that he was much worried about two letters which had engrossed his mind for days before he died.

NOT AS HE EXPECTED.

He said that he found his state of existence in the other world far from his anticipations. He seemed to be comfortable. The laws of the spirit world, however, forbade him taking Dr. Franks as fully into his confidence as he could wish, but he promised when he became more accustomed to his surroundings to speak more in detail.

Dr. Franks explained to his auditors that Col. Ingersoll was satisfied that death was not the end. Col. Ingersoll also told Dr. Franks that he was worried a great deal about his will.

Dr. Franks saw the will in his dream. He was unable to divulge the contents, but it was in a hidden drawer in a large desk. Col. Ingersoll explained to Dr. Franks that he was afraid his family would not know where the will was secreted. Col. Ingersoll then went into some detail with Dr. Franks as to what he was doing in the spirit world.
