Lumber Must Be Of Best Quality To Hold Market

PARRSBORO, N. S., Aug. 20—(CP)—While Great Britain is in dire need of all the lumber she can get, only the best quality and competitive prices will enable Maritime timber operators to hold their markets, Arthur E. Bryant, newly appointed chief Canadian Trade Commissioner in London, told members of the Maritime Lumber Bureau tonight.

Addressing the seventh annual meeting of the bureau, Mr. Bryant said that to meet the requirements, lumbermen should put their houses in order now for economic operation and for quality grading.

The Canadian loan to Britain is not going to be much help in selling timber, he said. Britishers are hard-headed business men. But if you continue to put out shipments as good as those recent ones—especially the graded shipments—then you have nothing to fear.

Mr. Bryant said he thought the present timber agreements with the United Kingdom would do much to put the Maritime timber industry on a prominent and satisfactory basis.

Hon. R. J. Gill, New Brunswick Minister of Lands and Mines and his province's forest conservation program had suffered a heavy blow this year. More than 140 forest fires had occurred in New Brunswick between June and mid-August.

He also reported that by next year the Maritime would have at the University of New Brunswick the best forestry school in Canada, if not in North America. It will be complete even to its own sawmill.

J. D. Hickman of Sussex, N. B., president, was chairman at the opening of the two-day meeting.

In Memoriam

MRS. GEORGE RILEY

With tragic suddenness death came to Mrs. George Riley of Santa Ana, California, on Friday night at 11 o'clock at the home of her sister, Mrs. Harry Lee, Summerside.

The deceased lady, who was 71 years of age, was the former Edith Fraser, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Allen Fraser of Belmont, Lot 18. She had lived for 30 years in California, her husband, the late George Riley, having predeceased her some five or six years ago.

Four weeks ago Mrs. Riley arrived in Summerside to pay her first visit to her native province and home community in over thirty years.

She planned to remain on the island up to the end of August. She was suffering from a heart condition when she reached here and it is understood had been so troubled for some time. However, she appeared smart and bright and attended a picnic the day prior to her death. Coming back to Summerside she showed symptoms of distress and despite all that could be done she passed quickly away.

The funeral took place Sunday afternoon from the home of her sister, Mrs. Ernest Imman, Lot 16, with interment in the cemetery at that place. After a short service at the house the body was conveyed to the United Church at Lot 17 where the pastor, Rev. Dr. Price, impressively officiated at the burial services in the presence of a large congregation, and pronounced the final words at the grave.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. Silas MacFarlane, Leslie Simmons, Major T. H. E. Imman, Alfred Simpson, Seymour Thompson and Percy Millar.

The deceased is survived by one brother and six sisters, viz: Ira Fraser, North Bedouque; Mrs. John MacMurdo, Winnipeg, Man.; Mrs. Ernest Imman, Belmont, Lot 16; Mrs. Leslie Gardiner, Westville, Alberta; Mrs. James T. Burns, Victoria, B. C.; Mrs. Harry Mill, Clermont, P. E. I.; Mrs. Harry F. Lee, Summerside.

AFFLECK - GLOVER

A wedding of interest to many was solemnized at Charlottetown on August 7th, 1946, by the Rev. Dr. H. C. Rice, Trinity United Church, of Miss Gladys Elisabeth Affleck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Affleck, Mount Stewart, P. E. I., and Mr. Guy Garfield Glover, son of Mrs. S. C. Clark and the late H. R. Glover of Mount Stewart, P. E. I.

The bride looked very charming in a suit of powder blue with white accessories and a corsage of red roses. Her bridesmaid, Miss Kay Sheldon, wore pearl grey with matching accessories and a corsage of Tailsman roses. The groom was attended by the bride's brother, Mr. Harold Affleck. The groom's gift to the bride was a chest of silver; to the bridesmaid, a string of pearls, and to the groomsmen a wallet.

Supper was served at the Charlottetown Hotel, after which the bridal party motored to Mount Stewart where a very large crowd of charivariers awaited them.

A reception was held on Monday, Aug. 12th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jay, Mt. Stewart, for the immediate relatives of the bride and groom. On the same night the Legion Hall was filled to capacity when friends of the popular young couple tendered them a shower. The hall was tastefully decorated with pink and white streamers from an arch under which the bride and groom wheeled in by Miss Joyce Jay and Master Albert MacIntyre, dressed as bride and groom. The gifts were opened by Miss Evelyn MacIntyre and Mrs. Leith Affleck.

Mr. and Mrs. Glover expressed their deep appreciation in well-chosen words. Lunch was served to over three hundred guests after which dancing till the wee hours of the morning brought a most enjoyable evening to a close. All left wishing Mr. and Mrs. Glover many years of happy married life.

Mrs. Glover before her marriage was an esteemed and valuable employee of the Jenkins Pharmacy in Charlottetown. The groom is an employee of the Canadian National Railway.

Mr. and Mrs. Glover will reside in Charlottetown.

Material Shortage Halts Production

DETROIT, Aug. 20—(AP)—Chrysler Corporation announced today that because of a shortage of materials and parts, both in its own and its vendors' plants, production of passenger cars and trucks in its various plants will be halted for one week beginning Aug. 26.

No estimate was given of the number of production workers who will be affected by the closing. The corporation employs close to 70,000 hourly-rated workers.

OSHAWA, Ont., Aug. 20—(CP)—General Motors Corporation of Canada today announced approximately 1,200 employees of the plant here have been laid off this week as a result of shortages of materials.

R. B. Reddock, industrial relations manager of the company, said "this is just a start" and that other departments probably would be laid off progressively as they catch up with the tail-end of present production.

Mr. Tradewell's ship is in!

(A SIMPLE TALE TO SHOW HOW BANK CREDIT WORKS)

THAT FAUNTY hornpipe means his whole year's supply of molasses has arrived from the West Indies... in good time; at a favourable price.

Quite a change from Mr. Tradewell's earlier days in the wholesale grocery business, when he bought his molasses month to month... in small quantities... and didn't do so well with it. Now he buys in bulk... barrels of it... and cuts his cost per gallon.

Of course this takes ready cash—often more than he has on hand at the moment. So he borrows what he needs from the Royal Bank. When the molasses is sold, he pays off the loan.

This is a simple example of how bank credit works... how by making working capital available it opens the door for enterprises large and small when opportunity knocks.

Despite the many difficulties to be encountered electrification of rural areas in Canada is feasible and a recent film showing the progressive steps taken in that direction by the Manitoba Hydro amply prove the point. Benefits to farms from electrification are untold and Manitoba's plan calls for extension of facilities to 6,000 farms per year. The program is expected to take some 10 years to complete. The farm wife (left) is not reluctant to take advantage of electricity for her washing, while Mr. Farmer (at right) just has to "plug in" to use an emery wheel, a steel drill, a saw or a grindstone.

These photographs illustrate other advantages derived from electricity on the farm. Besides adding to comfort it raises the standard of efficiency and is a long step forward in Canadian agriculture. (Left to right)—Hands and head can be used better while hydro runs the cream separator; farm lads enjoying the best bath of their lives—and all by turning a tap; waste is eliminated and grades improved when milk is kept fresh and sweet in electric cooler.
