—BROTHER KILLED — Mrs. Gillman (Mollie) Williams, of Summerside has received word from the Dept. of National Defense that her brother L. Sgt. Frederick Stanley Savage of Chatham, N. B., had died of wounds on August 6, 1944. Mrs. Williams who is a native of Chatham had another brother, Lorne killed in Sicily. Two other brothers, Don, overseas and Sanford in Canada are also in uniform.—S

— ANOTHER PARK — Summerside is eventually to have another park and a playground. Land has been purchased for this purpose by the town from Mr. Fred Palmer on the south side of Notre Dame Street, near the Imperial Oil tanks. It is hoped, at a later date, to be able to buy another piece of land to complete the project. For the present the Town has advised the S. Y. C. that they may go ahead and equip a children's playground on part of it. Plans for the future are to have a part of this ground used as a properly equipped playground under the supervision of the S. Y. C. I. and the remainder as a public park. As Summerside is not too well supplied with parks, it is hoped that these plans will mature in the not too far distant future—S.

— GOOD CATCH OF LOBSTERS — Since the opening of the lobster season on the 10th some very good catches have been made. The factory of Arsenault and Delaney of Queen's Wharf, Summerside has a large staff of local people employed in the work of canning. The main catches are coming in from Cape Wolfe, Campbellton, Brae Harbour and Cape Egmont. The lobsters are bringing in a good price and the outlook appears to be for a good season. The Arsenault and Delaney factory underwent a complete renovation prior to the opening for this season—S.

—BOUTLER-QUINN.—A quiet but very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. James Rayner 27 Hanover Street, Summerside, on Monday, August 14th, at 8.30 p. m., when The Rev. Ernest J. Barrass of the Summerside Baptist Church united in marriage Norma Nadean Boutler youngest daughter of Mrs. James Rayner and the late Ross Boutler to Sergeant Joseph William Quinn, .C. A.F. of Sherbrooke, Quebec. The house was decorated with summer flowers for the occasion by the friends of the bride. To the strains of the Wedding March played by Mrs. Herbert Platts of Charlottetown, the pretty bride entered the living room. She wore a full length gown of ivory satin with long veil of tulle trimmed with wide silk lace border. Orange Blossoms and sweet peas trimmed the cap of the veil and carried a sheaf of sweet peas and baby's breath. She was attended by her sister, Miss Nina J. Boutler of Brookline Mass. who wore a floor length gown of deep rose silk crepe and carried a bouquet of pink and white snapdragons. The groomsman was Arthur R. Boutler of Victoria, brother of the bride. The bride's mother wore a white swiss lace dress over white satin with a corsage of sweet peas. The evening was pleasantly spent with music and singing with Miss Katherine McCallum and Mrs. Herbert Platts at the piano. A delicious lunch was then served after a pleasant hour of social entertainment. The bride and groom left for the Canadian National Hotel, Charlottetown, after touring the Island, they plan to leave for Montreal where the groom is stationed. For travelling the bride wore robin shell blue tailored suit with white accessories. The best wishes of a host of friends go with them wherever they may dwell in the future. The bride received many beautiful and costly gifts, among them was a chest of silverware and a thousand dollar cheque given to her by her mother, also a beautiful reading lamp by the L.O.B.A. Lodge of which the bride was a member. —S.

U. S. Senator Has Eye On West Indies

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18—(AP)—Senator Kenneth McKellar (Dem-Tenn.), told the Senate today that "in two great wars we have been more than generous to Great Britain," adding that England should grant to the United States permanent possession of Bermuda and the West Indian Islands she now controls.

In the case of Japanese-mandated Islands in the Pacific, Sen. McKellar declared "we are entitled to them under the rules of war."

Author of a resolution to put the Senate on record as favoring United States acquisition of Island outposts for future protection, Sen. McKellar said:

"Perhaps the most difficult Islands to obtain would be the Islands of Bermuda. They stand out as our principal point of defence in the event of an attack by any European nation. We should have those Islands by all means."

"I believe," he added: "that Great Britain ought to yield these Islands to us."

The West Indian Islands, he said, "are small and not very valuable, and I am convinced that if we made a demand on Great Britain for these Islands in a general settlement that she would not hesitate at all in delivering them to us. In two great wars we have been more than generous to Great Britain."

French possessions in the Caribbean area, he said, should be taken because "France owes us an enormous sum from the last world war and . . . she has not paid us, and in this war deserted us."

Congresswoman's Views

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 — (AP) — Representative Clare Boothe Luce (Rep., Conn.) tonight admonished against "demands" for permanent acquisition of Atlantic and Pacific Islands, other than Japanese mandated islands, "lest America became involved in Imperialism."

"I believe," the Congresswoman said, "the British will allow us what military, naval and aviation facilities we need to keep the peace in the Atlantic and Pacific," and then declared:

'Aldrich-Boy Scout' Human Document Of American Boy

—After seeing "Henry Aldrich —Boy Scout," Paramount's latest Aldrich comedy, which opened last night at the Capitol Theatre, this reviewer can safely say that if the Boy Scouts of today are our citizens of tomorrow, then America is in very capable hands. The film, which was made with the complete cooperation of the Boy Scouts of America, pays a swell tribute to the courage and integrity of the Boy Scouts.

But "Henry Aldrich — Boy Scout' is more than just signaling and ropetying. It's hilarious comedy in the famous Aldrich manner and there's plenty of real excitement all the way through. Helpful Henry's a tenderhearted tenderfoot who consents to make a good scout of a bad little egg and winds up in more trouble than he can handle.

Foxman Tells Of Visit Here

Mr. John L. Jackson, Advertising Manager of the Fur Trade Journal of Canada who recently spent some time on Prince Edward Island and visited most of the different fox ranches in the vicinity has some very interesting comments regarding his trip to this province published in the August issue of the Journal. Expressing regret that his visit was not more extended he speaks of his visit to the H.G. Muttart Estate Ranch and of the many fine animals he saw there as well as on the Beechglen Fox Ranch owned and operated by Mr. D.O. Stewart. Referring to his visit to the Ohio National Fox Ranch and Mr. L.W. Hancock he goes on to say "Recognized as the "blitz" of Summerside—this fellow Hancock—just activity itself—is hard to catch up with. He publishes a monthly Fox Breeders magazine, is President of the Canadian National Silver Fox Breeders Assn., and looks after about 350 foxes of all types on his ranch as well."

"George A. Callbeck and T. D. Carruthers had just returned from the annual meeting of the Association at Montreal and having arrived in Summerside on Dominion Day I was informed that harness racing was the excitement of the day. Our friend George Callbeck was the presiding judge—an expert horseman too—between foxes and harness horses never a dull moment "I was very fortunate in having an interview with J. Walter Jones, Premier of the Island, a well-known fur man throughout Canada The Premier is a real land man and I was shown several farms he owns and runs, while driving around. B.B. Jones—Bus—as he is known (son of the Premier) is the real rancher and farmer—he is attending the fox ranch and also is going into standard and mutation mink—just keep an eye on the progress "Bus" will make during the next few years."

Many other prominent fox ranchers are mentioned in his accounts of his trip to the Island, including Lt.-Col. D.A. McKinnon whom he found "in his customary eloquent humor."—S

Lightning Destroys Barn Near Alberton

Fire believed to have been caused by an electric storm that was raging at the time destroyed a barn and the season's crop of hay belonging to Mr. Thomas E. Horne of Rosebank, near Alberton on Thursday night. Also lost were a horse some lambs, a truck wagon.

Mr. Horne and the family had gone to the exhibition at Charlottetown and when they returned at about 2 a.m. only the smouldering ruins of the barn remained. Two violent electrical storms accompanied by heavy showers of rain swept across the western section of the Province Thursday night extending as far as Mt. Pleasant. The first, which started about ten o'clock was the one which caused the fire.

Neighbors who saw the blaze gathered quickly and succeeded in saving the other barn which caught and the house.

P.E.I. Experimental Services Inspected By Dr. Archibald

Dr. E.S. Archibald, Director of Experimental Farm Services, and Mrs. Archibald, paid the Island a visit during the week.

The Experimental Station and Illustration Stations on which particular problems of immediate and post war concern are being studied, were visited.

At Long River, where a satisfactory start has already been made with soil conservation in the way of contour work, and the regrassing of steep slopes, Dr. Archibald talked over the many problems entailed with the operator, Mr. Johnstone.

It is planned to put the Long River hillsides under a long term soil conservation program and make the people aware of the losses they are yearly having from soil erosion. In too many places this has not been done until the soil has washed away to such a degree that remedial measures are sometimes hopeless. It is hoped that effective preventatives can be innovated in this Province in time.

At Rustico and Iona, where a forestry conservation and wood lot handling programme is being planned, Dr. Archibald was able to talk the problems of the work over with the operators and with the forestry party under the charge of Mr. G.C. Cunningham. It is planned to carry on the wood lot under a rotation scheme and to demonstrate that it is possible, after many years of judicious wood cutting, to have a better wood lot than when the work was started. Planned wood cutting has amply proved this in other Provinces The work is now being started on the Prince Edward Island illustration stations.

On the Alliston illustration station Dr. Archibald was keenly interested in the work of producing garden and field seed which has been strongly emphasized by the operator, Mr. Hicken. The young orchard, made up of single and double worked trees, was a credit to the operator.

Dr. Archibald was very pleased to find such favourable crops as were this year found everywhere in the Province.

Weekly Papers Hold Sessions

WINNIPEG, Aug. 18—(CP)—In the post-war world no nation can stand out alone from the rest and in the post-war era nations must co-operate to prevent new gangsterism and the pestilence of national power from bringing ruin to the world, said Percy Philip of Ottawa in an address here tonight.

The New York Times Canadian representative, speaking at the Canadian weekly newspapers association banquet, urged the peoples of the world not to fall out about the kind of house to build to preserve peace. To do so would betray those who have fought and suffered in this war for the mistakes made after the First Great War.

The failure of the League of Nations was the failure of all peoples, he said.

Mr. Philip suggested editors keep before their readers some conception of the diabolical inventions mankind has made and scare people into getting together and keeping the peace.

Dr. I.A. Macdonald executive director of the Manitoba cancer relief and research institute, advocated greater publicity about cancer. The death rate from cancer could be reduced 40 to 50 per cent if the public knew more about it, he said.

Military Medal For Former Borden Man

In a recent list of those who received decorations for gallantry in the Allied invasion of France appears the name Private Raymond Joseph Noonan, a native of Borden. He received the Military Medal.

Pte. Noonan, M. M., Canadian Infantry Corps, was born at Borden, on March 27, 1917. He was employed as a labourer before joining the Armed Forces and lived at Borden. He enlisted as a private June 19, 1940 and was posted overseas on July 18, 1941. His wife, Dorothy Jean Noonan, is his next-of-kin, her address being c.o. Wm. Halford, Grand Lake, Sydney N. S.

His citation reads: "This soldier is a member of anti-tank platoon and on June 7, 1944 his detachment was hurriedly dug in immediately north of Buron. Whilst in their slit trenches they came under machine gun fire from a tank and from the ground. The standing grain did not provide a field of fire.

Noonan immediately stood up in the open and opened fire with a Bren gun. This caused the tank to withdraw slightly which enabled the detachment to bring the gun into action when it reappeared, and to destroy it. "B" company at this time received orders to withdraw on the carriers and Pte. Noonan maintained his exposed position for another ten minutes, giving covering fire which enabled the guns to come out of action and "B" company to get on the carriers. Only when all were ready to move did Pte. Noonan cease fire. Pte. Noonan's initiative and disregard for personal safety undoubtedly provided the means of getting a large number of his comrades out of a difficult position."

Islanders In Double Wedding At Halifax

St. David's Presbyterian Church Halifax, was the scene of an interesting double wedding Wednesday when Rev. A. Farraday united in marriage Rhoda McClure, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard McClure, Murray Harbor North, P. E. I., to William Hayes, R. C. N. V. R. son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hayes Hamilton, Ontario; and Alma Lois Bowles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Malcolm Bowles, Dover, P. E. I. to Walter MacLeod, R. C. N. V. R., son of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm MacLeod, High Bank, P. E. I.

The couples were unattended.

Both brides wore gowns fashioned on similar lines of floor length white chiffon with long full sleeves. Their long veils were held in place by coronets and they carried bouquets of mixed roses.

A small reception was held following the ceremony at the home of Mrs. Catherine Lomas, 23 Inglis Street for the immediate friends of the couples.

Both Mr. and Mrs. MacLeod and Mr and Mrs. Hayes will live in Halifax.

S'Side Man Awarded U. S. Service Cross

As reported in yesterday's Guardian Acting Sgt. J. H. McInnis has been awarded the U. S. Distinguished Service Cross

Sgt. John Hillard McInnis, was born at Summerside, P. E. I., Dec. 19, 1921, and was employed at Toronto, Ont., at the time of his enlistment. He joined the Canadian Active Army on July 21, 1941. A member of a mixed U. S.-Canadian Battalion, he proceeded Overseas on Oct. 27, 1943, and has served in the Mediterranean theatre of war. His mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Heckbert, who resides at Indian River, P. E. I., is his next-of-kin.

The citation reads:—

"On the night of February 9, 1944, near Borgo Podgora, Italy, the advance of Sergeant McInnis' Company on a strongly defended town was held up by a well concealed enemy machine gun. Sgt. McInnis, a leading scout, rushed back to the leading elements of his Company and secured an automatic rifle. Accompanied by another soldier, he crawled across flat, open ground to a point within a few yards of the position. Unable to stop the two soldiers by fire, the enemy gunner threw a hand grenade, wounding Sgt. McInnis' companion. Sgt. McInnis leaped to his feet, charged the machine gun nest, firing as he ran, and killed all three German crew members. During this same action Sgt. McInnis aided in the evacuation of a wounded officer by litter. The litter party suddenly was subjected to a heavy enemy artillery barrage. Sgt. McInnis remained with the wounded officer in an exposed position throughout the barrage, shielding the officer with his own body. The intrepidity and unselfish devotion to duty displayed by Sgt. McInnis reflected highest credit upon himself and the Allied Forces."

by American, British, Canadian and Polish forces.

From the yellow, glittering wheat fields and from woods and villages in the gap rose column after column of smoke from masses of burning German vehicles. It was a sweeping panorama of devastation.

Canadian artillery in the valley ahead was firing steadily. Stripped to the waist in the hot summer sun, the gunners were having a field day like the 'pilots. They had the Germans on the run and were hitting them with everything they had.

I walked back to an airfield from which Typhoon squadrons were flying and talked to some of the pilots who had taken part in the attack which shattered German panzers at Mortain recently, but who found this a bigger show.

PO. Ronald Sullivan, Campbellton, N. B., said: "It's a massacre down there. Our planes are beating everything in sight. The Germans are running like the devil from their trucks when we dive on them. Trucks and tanks are blowing up."

FUNERAL AT COVEHEAD — The funeral of the late Miss Mary L. Thomas was held yesterday afternoon at West Covehead. Following a short service at the home of her mother, Mrs. Francis Thomas, funeral services were held in the West Covehead United Church, conducted by Rev. T.M. Wilson, who was assisted by Prof. John Hughes, a personal friend of the family and a member of the faculty at McGill University. Prof Hughes is president of the Welsh Society of Canada and at the service he offered prayer in the Welsh language. The pallbearers were: Malcolm McLaughlin, Allison MacMillan, Eric MacMillan, Leith MacMillan, Erith Hughes, Benson Auld. Burial was in the West Covehead Cemetery. Miss Thomas, a civil servant, was drowned at Ottawa earlier this week. She came to Canada with her family from Wales about 14 years ago.

POWELL — JENKINS — The Summerside Presbyterian Church was the scene of a lovely wedding on Wednesday evening, August 16th at 7 p. m. when Rev. C. Carnegy united in marriage Olive Mae Jenkins of Summerside and Cecil Powell, Edmonton Alberta. The bride was lovely in a floor length gown of white sheer with floor length veil. She carried a large bouquet of talisman roses. The bride's attendant, Roena Jenkins, her sister, wore a blue satin gown, with head dress of pink roses and carried a bouquet of matching roses. Best man for the occasion was Philip Patenaude. After the ceremony the bridal party proceeded to the home of Mrs. W. E. Jenkins the bride's mother, who received, wearing a costume of Delph blue with a corsage of red roses. For travelling the bride wore a cocoa brown suit with matching accessories. The bride and groom will spend their honeymoon making a tour of numerous places on the mainland. They will be gone approximately a week and will return to Summerside to take up residence. Among a number of out of town guests at the wedding were the bride's aunt, Mrs. John MacDougall and her son Jackie, Douglas Carsons and Carl Hanlon, first cousin of the bride, all of Halifax —S.

Leading Wren Thelma C. Doyle and L.C. Robert J. Carmichael of Halifax, left on return Wednesday after spending 12 days with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Doyle of this city.

Mrs. Hec Murrey of Trenton is visiting Mrs. Samuel Clow, Water St., City.

In Memoriam

Friends will learn with regret of the unexpected passing of Mrs. J. F. McGuigan in the Charlottetown Hospital Thursday night. While on her way home she was seized with a weak turn and was immediately taken to the hospital where she died an hour later.

The late Mrs. McGuigan was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Robin. She received her education at Notre Dame Academy from where she graduated. An accomplished musician, she was also seen many times on the Amateur theatrical stage where she gave freely of her talents in aid of many worthy causes.

She was married in 1906 to Mr. J. F. McGuigan, who is left to mourn with the following family: three sons, Eddie employed with his father in Reliance Garage; Ernie, serving in England with the Airforce and Arthur who recently returned from Overseas following a serious accident, and two daughters, Catherine, in the Office of S. P. Paoli and Mrs. James Maloney who is at present a patient in the Charlottetown Hospital. One brother Mr. P. V. Robin retired C. N. R. Clerk also survives.

The funeral will be held on Monday morning.

In Memoriam

MRS. PERCY CROZIER

The Angel of Death visited the home of Mr. Percy Crozier and family and claimed for its own their own sweet mother and wife Hilda.

Mrs. Crozier's death came as a great shock and will be widely mourned by all her friends and relatives in Montreal and New Carslile as well as the Island.

Mrs. Crozier suffered for some time with a very lengthy illness and bore it with great faith for a speedy recovery but despite all medical aid and attention she peacefully passed away at the Prince Edward Island Hospital on Monday, August 14th at the early age of 49 years.

She leaves to mourn besides a sorrowing and heart broken husband, two sons Hancel of the R.C.N.V.R., and George at home.

The funeral took place from the Cutliffe Funeral Home at 1 o'clock Wednesday, August 16th. Services conducted by the Rev. Mr. White who also officiated at the grave. (Montreal Daily Star please copy.)

Card of Thanks

Mr. Percy Crozier and Family wish to express their grateful appreciation and thanks to their neighbours and friends for their many acts of kindness also to those who sent flowers, messages of sympathy, letters and telegrams during their recent sad bereavement. 8-19-1i.

takers for the awarding of prizes had to be cancelled. Officials of the Association expressed regret at being unable to carry out this interesting part of each year's program but the winners were presented with their prizes in the secretary's office by President, Colonel D. A. MacKinnon. The ribbons, as soon as ready, will be forwarded to the owners of the winning horses.

Reference was made yesterday to the keen competition in cattle and horses.

Poultry Exhibit

Of the poultry exhibits Mr. F. G. Ward, who acted as judge, had this to say:

"The poultry this year are definitely of better quality than in 1943. The entries exhibited were greater and competition was much keener. In one class of Plymouth Barred Rocks there were three ties. This occurred in other instances as well and close judging was necessary to break the ties.

"One particularly fine pen of breeding birds was that of Mr. Donald MacDonald of Glenfinnan. This pen was Barred Plymouth Rocks. Another outstanding pen was that of Mrs. J. Easton of Wiltshire. Both would have been a credit to any poultry exhibition. These pens both showed that Prince Edward Island breeders are able to produce breeding stock equal to that from any other province.

"The New Hampshire exhibit showed marked improvement over the previous year and in time I have no doubt that we will have on P. E. I. a very fine group of New Hampshire breeders.

"There was a very fine exhibit of Australorps. The competition in this class was also very keen. The A. O. V. class another year should be divided into two classes: 1. Standard Breeds, and 2. Cross Breeds. Judging of Cross Breeds against Standard Breeds is practically impossible.

"There was the usual exhibit of ducks and geese.

"The egg exhibit was small as usual but there is room for much improvement in the quality of the eggs shown. Producers should get away from the idea that color is the only consideration in judging eggs. Size of egg together with quality are definitely important. Color is the least factor. It is hoped sometime in the future that a real exhibit of eggs in competition may be a yearly feature of the exhibition."

Sheep and Swine

In the Oxford Downs breed of sheep, W. A. Jenkins of Verna had the champion male and George L. Boswell the champion female.

Among the swine, Yorkshire breed, the Montague Shipping Club had the champion junior boar with S. C. Stewart and Son, Dunstaffnage, having the champion senior boar and the grand champion as well.

Almon Boswell, Marshfield, had the champion Yorkshire junior sow, S. C. Stewart the champion senior sow, while Duncan H. Coffin and sons, Souris, had the grand champion sow.

appearance the news reels gave him when he broadcast from San Diego July 20, accepting nomination for a fourth term.

In a voice so low that twice reporters in the rear asked him to repeat, the President said:

1. He most certainly is going to confer with Prime Minister Churchill again — and soon. He spelled the last word.

2. Americans should seriously consider the idea of establishing a post-war system of one year's semi-military training for young men aged 17 to 23, if only for the physical, mental and disciplinary value of such training.

3. There is general but not detailed agreement with Britain and Russia on the necessity of occupying Germany and Japan with Allied forces even if they surrender before being invaded.

4. Nothing is to be done about combining the army and navy under one head until after the war.

5. The chain of airports through northwest Canada to Alaska has an important future and he anticipates no difficulty with the Canadian government in making agreements on their joint use.
