Again We Delight the City with Charming Ideas In Autumnal Millinery

In a city of homes, like Charlottetown, the community becomes keenly critical, and shows preference to the store that offers the most approved styles. Season after season the initial millinery showing meets, here, with great attendance, greater approval, and enormously greater business. This autumn's showing is a comprehensive display of all approved ideas in modern headwear—imported models—beautiful designs developed in our own workrooms, untrimmed shapes, children's headwear, and trimming materials. Expressions of approval from all the great crowd who have come today we cordially invite your attendance.
