STOCK.—Those who desire to purchase stock are invited to look at the breeding stock of the John R. Dinis Pedigreed Foxes Limited. This is an offer made by no other company. The directors are determined to have an open deal. Inferior stock is as bad, or even worse than watered stock and if after looking over the prospectus and the breeders selected by the directors you decide that one or the other is to be found in the John R. Dinis Pedigreed Foxes, Limited, you had better, for your peace of mind, remain out of all fox companies.

(From Yesterday's Evening Guardian) CORNWALL.—The Rev. Lemuel Ackland, B.A., who is with his wife and family, on a visit to their old home and friends, gave great pleasure to a very large congregation at Cornwall Methodist Church Sunday evening, July 27th. His willingness to help and the marked ability of his services were highly appreciated.

EXCELLENT SOLO.—The large congregation gathered in Cornwall Methodist Church Sunday morning, August 3rd, listened with profound appreciation to the singing of Mrs. Bower as she rendered clearly and sweetly Moore's charming sacred melody "Come Ye Disconsolate." This young lady is on a visit to her grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. John White, Cornwall, and her help in the musical portion of the services is always much appreciated.

SOME TALL WHEAT.—There has been considerable talk about tall grain in this province and elsewhere this season and a number of very fine samples of abnormal growth have been laid on the editor's table. The latest addition to this collection is a small lot of wheat stalks grown on the farm of Mr. Hugh A. McRae, Spring Brook, measuring 67 inches in length and an assurance attached that there are lots more of the same kind. The heads are splendidly filled and the sample is a remarkably fine one.
