Principal's Report

Mr Chairman, Rev Fathers, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Again it is my duty and pleasure to give you a brief report of the activities of Queen Square School for the year 19481-49.

School opened on September 7th with an enrollment of 640 pupils This number increased slightly but was offset by pupils moving to other districts. It is most essential that pupils register in the opening day; and, I would remind parents that payments under the Family Allowance Act require at least 90 percent of attendance at school on the part of the pupil.

There was but one change of staff during the past year. Mr. Barlow, our Manual Training Instructor for the past ten years, has retired, and his place has been taken by Mr. John Danton. I need not stress the good work, by word and example, of that veteran instructor, Mr. Barlow. He has endeared himself to each and all of his former pupils; and, his active and lively interest in all phases of school work, has made his lifelong contribution to the education of our youth an outstanding one.

Mr. Danton, whose training has been similar to that of Mr. Barlow has fitted in exceptionally well with the staff and pupils, and his work in the Manual Training Department is proving out to be of the highest calibre. Your attention is directed to the splendid display of work done by our pupils under the supervision of Mr. Danton.

The school continued to use a series of films during the year. We are indebted to the National Film Board for the use of many interesting educational films; and to Mr. John Martin, Supervisor and his assisstant Mr. Stanley MacInnis for their many courtesies shown We are planning an even more extensive use of this type of visual education during the coming year

We continued to use the educational broadcasts, and the pupils and teachers are making considerable use of the programs broadcast twice daily.

The main part of our programme at school—the scholastic work—has been well carried on. It must be stressed that the habit of study is one that must be learned and then fostered by the watchful guidance of parents as well as teachers. Too often we have a let-down in home supervision as the pupil reaches the higher grades, for, in many instances, the parents feel they are unable to check the accuracy of such home work. This a mistaken idea. The parent who methodically checks the nightly lessons, or merely aits to see the work is done, is doing invaluable work. Remember this, our system of school curriculum requires homework every night, and no parent should be put off by the pupil with the excuse there is nothing to do. Close liaison with the teacher is vital always, and if this is carried out consistently the pupil soon realizes there is no chance of shirking sometimes irksome tasks, that will reap untold benefits in the future. If this practice were carried out in all cases, we would not have boys leaving school without, at least, the foundations of education that are so necessary in this competitive world. As in the old proverb "stop the beginnings", it is much easier to curb the tendency to laziness in the earlier grades, rather than try to cure it in the senior years.

The usual Armistice program was conducted, and our guest speaker for the occasion was Lt.-Col. J. D. Stewart, D.S.O., who delivered an inspiring address. During the year we also had addresses from men prominent in many walks of life such as: King Clancy, N.H.L. referee, Mr. Hornstein, weather man, Mr. Cannon, Entomologist at the Dominion Experimental Station, Mr. Cheverie of the Unemployment Insurance Commission, Hon. Eugene Cullen, Speaker of the Provincial Legislature, and Dr. L. W. Shaw, speaking on Newfoundland. On these occasions the senior pupils take their turn acting as Chairman, etc. We consider this an important part of their training.

The usual Health Service was capably carried out by Miss Ruth Ross, R. N., and Miss Mary MacNutt, R.N. Physical handicaps were spotted out, and steps taken to remedy them. Early in the year an eye screening test was held by the teachers with beneficial results.

All classes are members of the Junior Red Cross and many activities in connection with this important phase of Red Cross were carried out.

Several courses in First Aid were held, and instruction given in Artificial Respiration, etc.

In the field of Athletics our boys, both senior and junior, carried but, under the supervision of the teachers, a wholesome program of activity. The various teams in Football, Hockey and Baseball continue to give a good account of themselves, and thereby learn, in a practical way, the proper development of a spirit of fair play and team cooperation.

Cadet work was carried out at the usual high standard, the instructional work of high educational value, carried on after school hours, provide an outlet for much of the surplus energy of our cadets. Courses in First Aid, Signalling, Physical Drill, Rifle Shooting, Map Reading, were held.

The Annual Retreat for the senior pupils was conducted at St. Dunstan's College by Rev. Dr. McMahon. We consider the inculcation of religious training during these school years a matter of prime importance and we are indebted to Dr. McMahon and the Redemptorist Fathers for their aid and cooperation in this most necessary phase of the education of our youth.

To the donors of prizes who have so generously given such tangible proof of their interest in our school we offer sincere thanks. This incentive to greater effort on the part of the boys, adds much to the interest in the various subjects taught.

To the senior pupils who are graduating at this time, I extend on behalf of the staff, best wishes. We sincerely hope that the lessons taught in the academic and moral field will stand you in good stead in the years that lie ahead.

To the members of the staff, who have consistently and without exception, upheld the reputation of this school for cooperation and whole-hearted effort for the betterment of the pupils, I extend sincere thanks. I trust that the well earned holiday will be thoroughly enjoyed.

I wish to thank the Charlottetown School Board for their continued interest in the work of the schools; and refer especially to a generous and timely increase in remuneration.

Before closing, I wish to refer to the matter of Juvenile Delinquency. It must be emphasized that out of this school of 650 pupils a mere half dozen are mostly responsible for these acts of delinquency which have been publicized so much during the past year. It is also noted that these boys are usually found in Grades IV to VI, and important it is to know that these same boys are, for the most part, models of good behaviour and deportment while in school. It would appear then, that much of the responsibility for this unseemly behaviour lies within the home. It is a well-known fact that parents who supervise their children's studies, and their out of school recreation, starting in Grade I, have little or no trouble to continue throughout the school years. However, we evidently have some dereliction from duty on the part of some parents, which leads to so-called juvenile delinquency. This problem is a grave one and deserves the conscientious consideration of all concerned.

In conclusion I wish to thank the parents in general who have so well maintained their interest in, and support of, the many phases of our school work.

I wish all a most pleasant and happy vacation.
