

RUTH ETTING'S SORROW INTIMATES KNEW, WAS NOT ALL MAKE-BELIEVE

Ruth Etting... Show business regrets its sweetheart's unfortunate marital mixup.

BY PAUL HARRISON NEA Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD. — Broadway and Hollywood regret the unfortunate mixup in which petite Ruth Etting finds herself, for the blue-eyed, blond-haired prairie girl was... and still is... the sweetheart of show business.

Ruth Etting lifted herself to fame and fortune as a glamor girl who could do it all... sing, dance, act, and sew. Yes, sew, for her cleverness with a needle led to her first big break. She had the voice, figure, beauty, charm, and manner.

She apparently had every reason to be extremely happy, but intimates knew that the very opposite was the case... that even after her early struggle and with all her phenomenal success she was miserably unhappy.

Ruth Etting was adored by her friends principally because she didn't change while skyrocketing to glory and gold... and after attaining her goal. There never was anything temperamental about this girl who had every right to storm like other stars.

She remained the simple farm girl of David City, Neb., who in her rosy-cheeked teens danced in Chicago night clubs to pay her way through art school. She never said no in reply to a request for a benefit appearance.

She became the Nebraska Nightingale, but always looked, sang, and acted like a miss who rightfully belonged back in the David City church choir in which she once sang.

DISCOVERED BY PAUL ASH

As a young girl... dreaming of the excitement of a big city... Ruth Etting wanted to be a designer.

When she turned to Chicago hotspots to earn her art school tuition, she designed the costumes of the chorus and principals, too, and as a reward got her first opportunity to sing.

It was on the night she substituted for a headliner that Paul Ash, orchestra leader, master of ceremonies and maker of marquee names, heard her. His discerning ear was quick to get that plaintive something that comes straight from the heart and ends in a full-throated throbb. Ruth Etting sings a blues song as though her very life depended upon it.

Ash discovered her in 1924, and quickly had her on the air. She was in demand at moving picture palaces.

The late Flo Ziegfeld called her in 1926, when her first starring part on the stage was in "Whoopee" with Eddie Cantor.

SANG SIMPLE TUNES BEST

She resumed broadcasting in New York... soon was getting $1000 for an appearance. A headliner in musical comedy, she also could express herself with voice alone before the dead pan of the microphone. She made moving picture shorts. Her mellow voice recorded uncommonly well for phonograph purposes.

There was nothing tricky about her style of singing, which is why the public went for it in a large way. She was at her best in unaffected, sweet, and simple tunes to such an extent that she made hits of songs that were 20 years old... like "Shine On, Harvest Moon" which she did so well as the cigaret girl in the last Ziegfeld Follies.

As someone once remarked, it takes more than talent to sing sad songs. There has been enough sadness in Ruth Etting's life to make up the difference had there been any shortage of talent.

Captain Lost Life In Fall From Mast

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Nov. 17 (AP)—The Coastguard Cutter Thetis docked here today with the body of Sigvard Tollefson, captain of the Dragger Valencia, and his crew of three who escaped with their lives when the vessel sank Tuesday 26 miles southeast of the Nantucket lightship.

Captain Tollefson, 26, and the father of two small children, was killed in a fall from the mast after he had hoisted a distress signal, the survivors—Jack Knutson, George Jacobson and Nels Adland—reported.

The trio rowed for 24 hours with the body of their dead skipper to the lightship in near-freezing weather. The Thetis took them off early today.

Death Of Mrs. Guy Stewart On Wednesday

The many friends of Melba's wife of Mr. Guy Stewart of Bellevue, Southampton will learn with deep regret her passing at the Prince Edward Island Hospital early Wednesday morning after a long illness borne with patience and Christian fortitude.

The late Mrs. Stewart was a woman of lovely and intelligent personality, and will be missed in the community where she spent her useful life.

Born at Pownal, a daughter of the late James B. and Mrs. Jones, she leaves to mourn besides her sorrowing husband, one sister, Mrs. Conrad of Sussex, N. B., and four brothers, J. Walter Jones M. L. A., of Banbury, Lewiston, Fernald, Anson in British Columbia, Vernon in Sydney, Nova Scotia as well as numerous other relatives.

1-2 lower with sales of 1,250 tons. Refined was reduced 20 points ranging from 4.40 to 4.53.

For instant ease from chest colds, ordinary sore throats. RUB ON MINARD'S GREAT CANADIAN RUBBING LINIMENT

(By VICTOR EUBANK) (Associated Press Financial Writer) NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP)—The stock market after three dull sessions, put on a quiet rally today that lifted industrial favorites fractions to more than 3 points.

The rather sluggish nature of the day's proceedings was attributed partly to the desire of Wall Street to await details of the new Anglo-American trade treaty which was due to be signed late in the afternoon.

Analytical circles, also, were disposed to step softly because of the belief of some that a "correction" of the sharp upturn following the Munich peace could go a bit further.

Steels, Motors, Aircrafts, Rails and an assortment of specialties were in the front ranks. Utilities and Coppers held modest gains.

Prominent on the forward move were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, General Motors, Chrysler, Douglas Aircraft, Sperry, Boeing, United Aircraft, Du Pont, American Smelting, U. S. Rubber and Anaconda.

There was a handful of backward issues, including Eastman Kodak, Johns-Manville, Philip Morris, Pullman and American Telephone.

Stock Prices Close Firm In Montreal

MONTREAL, Nov. 17 (CP)—The stock market came out of its slump today, moving forward narrowly to close firm.

National Steel Car gained two to six as the feature of the rail equipments. Canadian Car followed with a gain of more than a point and C. P. R. gained fractionally.

In utilities, Brazilian, Gattineau and Montreal Power closed unchanged to fractionally higher. Shawinigan was off 1-8.

Papers moved with the trend. Price Brokers, St. Lawrence Corporation preferred and St. Lawrence paper preferred all fractionally higher. Steel of Canada was off slightly but Canada Com-
