

NYALS PINOL
Expectorant
A
PROVEN REMEDY
Nyals Pinol Expectorant is a Healing Remedy and gives prompt relief for Coughs, Colds and Bronchitis. Nyals Pinol is a reliable remedy for irritated conditions of the throat and other diseases of the respiratory organs.
Try Nyals Pinol Today.
SOLD BY
J. Ernest H. Worth
142 Prince Street Phone 82.

Classified Advertisements
One insertion 10c per line of 5 words
Three insertions 25c per line of 5 words
Four insertions 40c per line of 5 words
Eight insertions 75c per line of 5 words

For Sale
COWS NEWLY FRESHENED.
Guernsey and Jersey, Russell
Wentley, North River. 440-2-2-21.

Miscellaneous
WANTED - BOARDERS NEAR
P. W. College. Phone 375-3.
411-2-1-31

Male Help Wanted
FARM HELP WANTED—MAN OR
smart boy for balance of winter.
R. E. Connolly, Dunstaffnage.
437-2-2-31.

Wanted
WANTED - CARROTS, PARSnips, Beets and Cabbage. Also light pork. W. R. Dennis, 187 Great George Street. 466-2-3-31.

ALLEGED
(Continued from Page 1)
Exhausted from a five-day struggle with cold and hunger as he roamed through the bush country of eastern Manitoba, Hrech-koze was in a semi-crazed condition when police picked him up.
So far as is known he was without shelter from the time he disappeared in the early morning of last Friday until today.
Police said two young boys of Elma had identified him as the Sitar hired man.

DISARMAMENT
(Continued from Page 1)
protestations by the Council, the announcement came with especial force. The Japanese, said they welcomed it. Andre Tardieu, French Minister of War and acting chairman of the Council, added that it was the moral support of the League.
It sent a thrill around the great room packed with delegates of many nations and afterwards everyone questioned what the move meant.

DISARMAMENT
(Continued from Page 1)
Among the Canadian delegates announcement of Anglo-American co-operation was received with satisfaction as offering a means of restoring peace. Since their arrival at Geneva Sir George Perley, Minister without portfolio in the Dominion Government, and his colleagues of the Canadian delegation have been in close touch with the delegation of Great Britain and other members of the British Commonwealth. They have been kept informed of the latest developments.
Anglo-American co-operation on the Pacific is in line with Canada's national ideas. But discussions between the British and Canadian delegates, it is learned, have been rather to convey information than to determine a policy. The policy announced today was determined by them the two governments concerned.

DISARMAMENT
(Continued from Page 1)
After the meeting of the League Council the opening of the disarmament conference itself seemed lacking in dramatic appeal. And as one glanced over the great gathering of representatives of 60 nations the magnitude of the task before the meeting became obvious.
"Here," said Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, former British Foreign Secretary, who is President of the conference "are the chosen representatives of 1,700,000,000 people." Mr. Henderson was officially opening the conference. "The world wants disarmament," he proceeded.
"I refuse to contemplate even the possibility of failure. For, if we fail, no one can forestall the evil consequences that might ensue. But of this we may be certain, the world will again be in danger of falling back into the perilous competi-

DISARMAMENT
(Continued from Page 1)
tion of rapidly expanding armaments."
(By P. I. Lipsey, Jr., Associated Press Staff Correspondent)
GENEVA, Feb. 2. (A.P.)—Scattered earphones and loudspeakers carried the words of the Rt. Hon.
Arthur Henderson to his 2000 or more auditors at the opening of the world disarmament conference today. Every word of his hour-long opening speech was carried to the outside world, although there was a last minute postponement which held up proceedings an hour beyond schedule.
Spotlights brought out the speaker's rostrum in a well of clear light, while the rest of the house was dim. An enormous cloth was stretched across the upper auditorium for better acoustics. Behind it shone electric lights like stars in a blue heaven. The speaker rose in three tiers, on the topmost of which was Mr. Henderson. He read his speech through rimmed spectacles in a staid voice that he had been credited with of late. He recently underwent a serious illness.
The list of 530 delegates, however, gave no true picture of the strength of the delegations or of the men actually attending.
Japan, for instance, which was known to have the largest staff, nearly 100, made public the names of only four principal delegates, all of whom were present. Germany listed twenty delegates including Chancellor Bruening and other high officials who were not present.
Twenty names appeared on the United States list.

DISARMAMENT
(Continued from Page 1)
The women volunteered for service in motor corps similar to the units with the allies during the great war, and the men offered themselves to bear guns. The British placed a string of outposts running into Chinese territory along the western boundary of the settlement. The purpose of this move was to protect extensive property in that area.
The United States marines remained on duty along the Soochow creek, the other side of which was held by China. There was danger that if driven to retreat the Chinese might be forced to cross the river against the United States lines.
All the commanders of the foreign forces in the settlement protested to their consular officials that the Japanese garrison was infringing on sectors allotted to the British, Americans, and Italians.

DISARMAMENT
(Continued from Page 1)
Chapel started burning again last night during the bombardment. The Japanese declared they had won out in the exchange of shells: the Chinese command declared "we intend to drive the enemy out of Chinese territory."
Some of the Chinese line fell back at the conclusion of the exchange of fire. Japanese officers said their guns had been trained on strong defense works picked up by airmen who have made repeated scouting flights over the city.

DISARMAMENT
(Continued from Page 1)
British, United States, French and Italian troops, strung along the borders of the international settlement behind barbed wire entanglements and sand bag barricades, had orders to stop any attempt of the combatants to break through in case the big push developed. Thousands of refugees streamed through the passageways left in the barbed wire. Police estimated that more than 50,000 persons have taken refuge in the settlement since the Chapel fighting started. All forces in the settlement were closed, but the streets were jammed. Settlement authorities declared the food supply was sufficient for the present.
More than 3,000 foreign residents, both men and women, have been enrolled in various defense organizations.
Messrs. E. G. Geldorf, A. Lethbridge, H. K. Jones, M. F. Smith, R. M. Henderson and P. S. Folis, representing the General Motors Co. are guests at the Canadian National Hotel.

DISARMAMENT
(Continued from Page 1)
The speaker was disinclined to take Mr. Lansbury too seriously and his response to those members who protested also implied there was no necessity for his authority to be supported by the House at large. The general body of members indeed were not seriously indignant, for Mr. Lansbury had been charged with letting his feelings getting the better of his discretion
on former occasions.
"I have already said what I have to say," Mr. Speaker quietly reminded.
There was an interjection from the Prime Minister, that Mr. Lansbury himself had proved how useless would be a debate at the present time. Later, Mr. Lansbury submitted a motion of censure which the Speaker rejected as not being sufficiently definite, whereupon Mr.
Lansbury said he would raise the subject again on adjournment.
Prime Minister MacDonald informed the House the Government was ready to consider any proposals
the Cunard Steamship Company
might submit concerning the resumption of work upon the giant new vessel, the 534, on which work was stopped last December, on account of lack of funds. He was unable to undertake to give direct financial assistance, he added.
The Prime Minister, in answer to other questions, confirmed the fact the Government intended to take all private members' time during the present sitting, and that the tariff legislation would be introduced on Thursday.
Sir Bolton Eyles-Moncell, First
Lord of the Admiralty, amid a

DISARMAMENT
(Continued from Page 1)
The speaker was disinclined to take Mr. Lansbury too seriously
and his response to those members
who protested also implied there was no necessity for his authority to be supported by the House at large. The general body of members indeed were not seriously indignant, for Mr. Lansbury had been charged with letting his feelings
getting the better of his discretion
on former occasions.
"I have already said what I have to say," Mr. Speaker quietly reminded.
There was an interjection from
the Prime Minister, that Mr. Lansbury himself had proved how useless would be a debate at the present time. Later, Mr. Lansbury submitted a motion of censure which
the Speaker rejected as not being sufficiently definite, whereupon Mr.
Lansbury said he would raise the
subject again on adjournment.
Prime Minister MacDonald informed the House the Government
was ready to consider any proposals
the Cunard Steamship Company
might submit concerning the resumption of work upon the giant
new vessel, the 534, on which work
was stopped last December, on account of lack of funds. He was unable to undertake to give direct financial assistance, he added.
The Prime Minister, in answer
to other questions, confirmed the fact the Government intended to take all private members' time during the present sitting, and that
the tariff legislation would be introduced on Thursday.
Sir Bolton Eyles-Moncell, First
Lord of the Admiralty, amid a

DISARMAMENT
(Continued from Page 1)
The speaker was disinclined to take Mr. Lansbury too seriously
and his response to those members
who protested also implied there was no necessity for his authority to be supported by the House at large. The general body of members indeed were not seriously indignant, for Mr. Lansbury had been charged with letting his feelings
getting the better of his discretion
on former occasions.
"I have already said what I have to say," Mr. Speaker quietly reminded.
There was an interjection from
the Prime Minister, that Mr. Lansbury himself had proved how useless would be a debate at the present time. Later, Mr. Lansbury submitted a motion of censure which
the Speaker rejected as not being sufficiently definite, whereupon Mr.
Lansbury said he would raise the
subject again on adjournment.
Prime Minister MacDonald informed the House the Government
was ready to consider any proposals
the Cunard Steamship Company
might submit concerning the resumption of work upon the giant
new vessel, the 534, on which work
was stopped last December, on account of lack of funds. He was unable to undertake to give direct financial assistance, he added.
The Prime Minister, in answer
to other questions, confirmed the fact the Government intended to take all private members' time during the present sitting, and that
the tariff legislation would be introduced on Thursday.
Sir Bolton Eyles-Moncell, First
Lord of the Admiralty, amid a

DISARMAMENT
(Continued from Page 1)
The speaker was disinclined to take Mr. Lansbury too seriously
and his response to those members
who protested also implied there was no necessity for his authority to be supported by the House at large. The general body of members indeed were not seriously indignant, for Mr. Lansbury had been charged with letting his feelings
getting the better of his discretion
on former occasions.
"I have already said what I have to say," Mr. Speaker quietly reminded.
There was an interjection from
the Prime Minister, that Mr. Lansbury himself had proved how useless would be a debate at the present time. Later, Mr. Lansbury submitted a motion of censure which
the Speaker rejected as not being sufficiently definite, whereupon Mr.
Lansbury said he would raise the
subject again on adjournment.
Prime Minister MacDonald informed the House the Government
was ready to consider any proposals
the Cunard Steamship Company
might submit concerning the resumption of work upon the giant
new vessel, the 534, on which work
was stopped last December, on account of lack of funds. He was unable to undertake to give direct financial assistance, he added.
The Prime Minister, in answer
to other questions, confirmed the fact the Government intended to take all private members' time during the present sitting, and that
the tariff legislation would be introduced on Thursday.
Sir Bolton Eyles-Moncell, First
Lord of the Admiralty, amid a

DISARMAMENT
(Continued from Page 1)
The speaker was disinclined to take Mr. Lansbury too seriously
and his response to those members
who protested also implied there was no necessity for his authority to be supported by the House at large. The general body of members indeed were not seriously indignant, for Mr. Lansbury had been charged with letting his feelings
getting the better of his discretion
on former occasions.
"I have already said what I have to say," Mr. Speaker quietly reminded.
There was an interjection from
the Prime Minister, that Mr. Lansbury himself had proved how useless would be a debate at the present time. Later, Mr. Lansbury submitted a motion of censure which
the Speaker rejected as not being sufficiently definite, whereupon Mr.
Lansbury said he would raise the
subject again on adjournment.
Prime Minister MacDonald informed the House the Government
was ready to consider any proposals
the Cunard Steamship Company
might submit concerning the resumption of work upon the giant
new vessel, the 534, on which work
was stopped last December, on account of lack of funds. He was unable to undertake to give direct financial assistance, he added.
The Prime Minister, in answer
to other questions, confirmed the fact the Government intended to take all private members' time during the present sitting, and that
the tariff legislation would be introduced on Thursday.
Sir Bolton Eyles-Moncell, First
Lord of the Admiralty, amid a

CENTRAL GUARDIAN Trinity United Church

WEDNESDAY
3.30—Women's Missionary Society, regular monthly meeting—Annual dues—Report of Presbyterial—Hertz Memorial Hall.
7.30—Mission Band, regular meeting—Social Hall.
7.30—Prayer Service—Visitors welcome—Subject the Disarmament Conference—Hertz Memorial Hall.
8.30—Session, regular monthly meeting—Hertz Memorial Hall. 462-2-3-11.

REASSURING NEWS—Mrs. J. W. Stewart of Cumberland Street, has received a cablegram from her sister, Mrs. Capt. L. I. Ball (nee Jennie Gates) of Shanghai, China, stating that they were all well.

FUNERAL SERVICES—The funeral of A. E. Dewar was held from his late residence, 86 Fitzroy Street, Sunday afternoon to the People's Cemetery. The pall bearers were: Messrs. Chas. H. Chandler, Leonard McKay, Harry Williams, John B. McFadyen, Herbert Blatch, and H. Stevenson. Services at the house and grave were conducted by Rev. W. L. Outhouse.

VIOLIN RECITAL—The second of a series of violin recitals took place at the home of Miss Kathleen Hornby, Saturday afternoon by a few of the junior pupils. Following is the programme: 1. The Babbling Brook—Helen Farquharson; 2. Lullaby—Franklin—Charles O'Brien; 3. Song of the Sea Shell—Krogman—Gorden Carver; 4. Daisies and Lilies—Greenwald—Helen Lawson; 5. (a) The Robin's Lullaby—Krogman—(b) The Merry Bobolink—Krogman—Roy McKenize; 6. (a) Meditation—Bach—Gounod—(b) Song to the Evening Star—Wagner—Ralph Rayner; 7. Simple Awe—Thorne—Justin Jordan.

BIRTHS
MATHESON—On Feb. 1 in the Prince County Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Matheson, Emerald, a son.
MACDONALD—At the Robinson Memorial Hospital, Boston, Mass., on Jan. 23, 1932, to Mr. and Mrs. A. J. MacDonald (nee Matilda Campbell) a daughter.
HOLMES—At the Charlottetown Hospital on Feb. 1st, to Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Holmes (Margaret Nicholson) a son.

DEATHS
McCAULL—At Freetown, January 31, 1932, William McCaull, aged 76 years. Funeral Thursday at 2 o'clock to Peoples Cemetery.
DUNN—In Summerside, P. E. I., on February 2nd, 1932, Thomas Dunn, age 75 years.
GRANT—At her residence, 297 Kent St., Charlottetown, on Tuesday morning, February 2nd, 1932, Mrs. Annie H. Grant. Funeral Thursday, private.

DUNN—At Summerside, Feb. 2nd 1932, Thomas Dunn, age 75 years. Funeral from his late residence Thursday morning to Vernon River cemetery.

IN MEMORIAM
In memory of my dear Mother, Mrs. George Ward, who died February 3rd, 1931.
No one knows how much I miss you No one knows the bitter pain I have suffered since I lost you Life has never been the same.
In my heart your memory lingers Sweetly, tender, fond and true, There's not a day dear Mother That I do not think of you.
Friends may think I have forgot you When at times they see me smile But they little know the sorrow That my smiles hide all the while.
Inserted by her Daughter Mrs. Ida Delaney.
477-2-3-11.

IN MEMORIAM
1928 - YOSTON - 1932
In memory of my Father
WILLIAM H. YOSTON
Died February 3rd, 1932
Sadly missed, but not forgotten by his son Walter F. N. Yoston.
461-2-3-11.

N. D. MacLean
UNDERTAKER
EMBALMER
Charlottetown and North Wilshire
Phone 149

Regular Monthly Meeting C. W. L.

The regular monthly meeting of the C. W. L. was held for the first time in the quarters generously placed at their disposal by the Knights of Columbus.
There was a good attendance and the meeting was presided over by the President, Mrs. F. J. Casey. The usual routine of business was carried on, reports of different offices and convocations showing no decrease in their activities.
The Treasurer, Mrs. H. F. McPhee, gave an interesting report of her department, and although all returns are not yet in from the chicken supper so successfully conducted on the 21st ult., a goodly sum has been realized, and the finances are in good condition.
A letter was read from Dr. H. D. Johnston re the recent Thanksgiving Fund Collection, showing that our canvassers collected about one seventh of the total amount.
A letter from His Grace Archbishop Jas. McGuigan, of Regina, thanking the League for the splendid donation of $100.00 for relief work was also read.
A letter from the Knights of Columbus offering the use of their Hall to carry on the different branches of work was read and enthusiastically received.
A letter from Mgr. Blair, President of the Catholic Church Extension Society, thanking the League for used vestments and altar supplies, was read. These vestments were received from Mgr. Chaisson of Rustico, and thanks are extended to him for the donation.
The Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. F. Murray, was directed to send a letter of thanks to the K. of C. accepting their generous offer, also to Messrs. Wm. Flynn, A. McInnis, W. O. Davey and Jas. Loneragan, and to the Sisters of the Charlottetown Hospital, for their valuable assistance given at the "icken supper."
Rev. Dr. G. J. McLellan of Summerside, has graciously accepted our invitation to give his lecture on the Holy Land in Rochford Hall next Friday evening. A musical program had also been arranged. It is hoped that many will avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing Dr. McLellan.
Upon completion of business meeting was adjourned.

ACTING MINISTER—During Hon. Mr. MacNeill's illness the Premier is acting as Minister of Public Works.
THIS IS B. I. S. SOCIAL evening. The usual Auction Forty Fives and old time dancing. Cards start at 8.20 p. m. sharp. 480-11

COVEHEAD-UNION ROAD—United Church services for Sunday, Feb. 7, are West Covehead, 11 a.m.; Union Road 3 p.m.; Sunday School, 2 p.m.; Covehead Road, 7 p.m.

IN PREPARATION for the Paardeberg anniversary the South African War veterans are meeting this evening in the Legion Room at 8 o'clock.

FIREMEN CALLED—About 6 o'clock last evening the firemen were called out by a still alarm for a fire fire at the residence of Mr. J. D. Jenkins, corner of Prince and Euston Streets. There was no damage.

TO TRAIN AS NURSE—Miss Lucy Coady, who resigned her position as teacher of New Haven School, has entered the Charlottetown Training School for nurses. All wish her success in her chosen profession.

YESTERDAY'S MARKETS—There was a poor attendance at the market yesterday. Hay sold for 55c, straw 40c, oats 35c, turnips 12c, potatoes 15c to 20c, butter 27c eggs 30c, chickens 70c to $1.00 cranberries 3 lb. 25c, apples 8c and 12c dozen.

P. S. S. LITERARY CLUB—Mr H. H. Shaw, Chief Superintendent of Education, spoke to the Prince Street School Literary Club yesterday on "The Stars in their Courses," by Sir James Jeans. Mr. Shaw's talk proved most interesting and delightful and gave all present a glimpse into the thrilling world of modern astronomy. Afternoon tea was served by the staff to their guests after the address.

JAPANESE
(Continued from Page 1)
ed with rifles and machine guns. These strong points, it was explained, were put out in preparation for the expected Chinese major offensive. Meanwhile, it was reported the international settlement defense council composed of the military commanders of the various foreign troops, here had handed the Japanese authorities a protest against independent military action within the settlement.
It is understood the settlement municipal council had demanded the restoration of the municipal government in Hongkong, where the Japanese military have assumed an ostentatious control, throwing out of year all the normal government machinery.
Chapel started burning again last night during the bombardment. The Japanese declared they had won out in the exchange of shells: the Chinese command declared "we intend to drive the enemy out of Chinese territory."
Some of the Chinese line fell back at the conclusion of the exchange of fire. Japanese officers said their guns had been trained on strong defense works picked up by airmen who have made repeated scouting flights over the city.

ROTARY DANCE AND BRIDGE—An enjoyable bridge and dance was held last evening in the Canadian National Hotel under the auspices of the Rotary Club. The dances including balloon dances, moonlight dances, etc., lasted from 9.30 to 1.30. About 100 couples were in attendance. The chaperones were Mrs. J. J. Hornby, Mrs. Alfred Pickard and Mrs. T. W. L. Prowse. Bridge was indulged in from 10 to 11.30. The prize winners are as follows: Ladies: 1st, Mrs. O. D. MacGregor; 2nd, Mrs. J. Austin Trainor; consolation, Miss M. Powner. Gentlemen: 1st, Mr. R. L. Cotton; 2nd, Mr. John E. Cameron; consolation, Mr. J. M. Murley. A buffet supper was served. Music was supplied by the Canadian National Orchestra under the direction of Miss Kathleen Hornby.

PERSONALS
Mr. Percy Barlow, Marshfield has returned from a short holiday visit to friends in Halifax.
Mrs. Rhude of Montague, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. T. Gordon Tree of Charlottetown.

50,000 TAKE REFUGE
British, United States, French and Italian troops, strung along the borders of the international settlement behind barbed wire entanglements and sand bag barricades, had orders to stop any attempt of the combatants to break through in case the big push developed. Thousands of refugees streamed through the passageways left in the barbed wire. Police estimated that more than 50,000 persons have taken refuge in the settlement since the Chapel fighting started. All forces in the settlement were closed, but the streets were jammed. Settlement authorities declared the food supply was sufficient for the present.
More than 3,000 foreign residents, both men and women, have been enrolled in various defense organizations.
Messrs. E. G. Geldorf, A. Lethbridge, H. K. Jones, M. F. Smith, R. M. Henderson and P. S. Folis, representing the General Motors Co. are guests at the Canadian National Hotel.

CHARGES OF BRUTALITY
Charges of brutality were made against the Japanese. One such charge was that bluejackets had bayoneted a 16 year old Chinese boy who picked up a rock and gestured as though he intended to throw it at a Japanese patrol. Chinese municipal officials said any move to restore peace in the far east without infringing upon the Sovereignty and dignity of China would be welcomed. It was forecast that China would return a blanket acceptance to the offer of the co-operating powers of proposals to end hostilities.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 2—The United States navy was advised tonight that 36 Americans would evacuate Nanking.

Trawler Safe
BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 2.—The fishing trawler Patrick J. O'Hara, reported disabled Sunday is safe and proceeding to Boston under her own power with a jury rigged rudder, coast guard headquarters announced shortly after noon.
The cutter Mojave, which since yesterday had been searching Georges' Banks for the disabled craft, radioed it had come upon the O'Hara at the southeast edge of the banks, approximately 300 miles from Boston. The O'Hara was in no danger, the Mojave reported.

FLYERS
(Continued from Page 1)
Friday if Dickens arrives on schedule. His flight to Aklavik about 60 miles south of Canada's arctic shore will take him almost 1,500 miles along the wandering course of the mighty MacKenzie River, by way of Forts Resolution, Simpson and Norman.
Inspector E. A. Eames, of "G" division, Royal Canadian Mounted Police Arctic patrol, will direct the bombing according to official word given out here today. Dynamite bombs, already used in a vain attempt to rout Johnson from the snow bound cabin from which he later vanished, will be fashioned at Aklavik for the aerial attack.
A trapper army, summoned from the area surrounding Aklavik by a radio appeal, is gathering for a concerted attack on the little stronghold where Johnson is now believed trapped by three guarding mounties. It was in a rush by police on the semi-circular parapet that Constable Millen dropped fatally wounded by the gun of the bush-crazed trapper.
Johnson is believed surrounded in the bleak hill country 30 miles up the Rat River from Arctic Red River, about 60 miles south of Aklavik. He was cornered after he had fled from his cabin near Arctic Red River, which had been besieged for 15 hours by Mounties in 50 below zero weather. Johnson disappeared when the police were forced to return to headquarters for supplies and to avoid death by freezing.
First move against the lone trapper, who came to Arctic Red River from the Yukon last fall with his pockets bulging with gold, came on the complaint of Indians that their traps were being stolen. Constable A. W. King was wounded by Johnson as he advanced to the door of the isolated hut. After King was pushed by dog-team to Aklavik, packs of Mounties returned to his cabin, set siege to it, and then were forced to withdraw by hunger and cold.
Capt. May, who was awarded the McKee trophy two years ago for the most valuable contribution of the year to aviation in Canada, has been a pioneer along the air-mail routes which extend to the Arctic shore. Both he and Dickens were prominent for their daring flights in connection with the search for the party of Col. C. D. H. MacAlpine, lost on the bleak north shore for two months two years ago.

FLYERS
(Continued from Page 1)
The speaker was disinclined to take Mr. Lansbury too seriously and his response to those members who protested also implied there was no necessity for his authority to be supported by the House at large. The general body of members indeed were not seriously indignant, for Mr. Lansbury had been charged with letting his feelings getting the better of his discretion on former occasions.
"I have already said what I have to say," Mr. Speaker quietly reminded.
There was an interjection from the Prime Minister, that Mr. Lansbury himself had proved how useless would be a debate at the present time. Later, Mr. Lansbury submitted a motion of censure which the Speaker rejected as not being sufficiently definite, whereupon Mr. Lansbury said he would raise the subject again on adjournment.
Prime Minister MacDonald informed the House the Government was ready to consider any proposals the Cunard Steamship Company might submit concerning the resumption of work upon the giant new vessel, the 534, on which work was stopped last December, on account of lack of funds. He was unable to undertake to give direct financial assistance, he added.
The Prime Minister, in answer to other questions, confirmed the fact the Government intended to take all private members' time during the present sitting, and that the tariff legislation would be introduced on Thursday.
Sir Bolton Eyles-Moncell, First Lord of the Admiralty, amid a

FLYERS
(Continued from Page 1)
The speaker was disinclined to take Mr. Lansbury too seriously and his response to those members who protested also implied there was no necessity for his authority to be supported by the House at large. The general body of members indeed were not seriously indignant, for Mr. Lansbury had been charged with letting his feelings getting the better of his discretion on former occasions.
"I have already said what I have to say," Mr. Speaker quietly reminded.
There was an interjection from the Prime Minister, that Mr. Lansbury himself had proved how useless would be a debate at the present time. Later, Mr. Lansbury submitted a motion of censure which the Speaker rejected as not being sufficiently definite, whereupon Mr. Lansbury said he would raise the subject again on adjournment.
Prime Minister MacDonald informed the House the Government was ready to consider any proposals the Cunard Steamship Company might submit concerning the resumption of work upon the giant new vessel, the 534, on which work was stopped last December, on account of lack of funds. He was unable to undertake to give direct financial assistance, he added.
The Prime Minister, in answer to other questions, confirmed the fact the Government intended to take all private members' time during the present sitting, and that the tariff legislation would be introduced on Thursday.
Sir Bolton Eyles-Moncell, First Lord of the Admiralty, amid a for rich ^{ness} of FLAVOR MORSE'S

orange pekoe TEA is supreme

BRITISH HOUSE
(Continued from Page 1)

From many parts of the House cheers expressed satisfaction at the information vouchsafed by the Foreign Secretary. But the House was not unanimous. Rt. Hon. George Lansbury, leader of the Labor party rose to ask the Prime Minister to grant the opportunity for further discussion on the matter.
Prime Minister MacDonald quickly rose and said "at this moment it would be most inopportune to have a debate which might do infinite harm and could not possibly do any good."
The grey-haired opposition leader, amidst signs of restiveness in the general body of the house, again rose.
"The world ought to recognize," Mr. Lansbury said, "the Japanese Government has been engaged in a piece of international piracy." Loud cries of "withdraw" came from the Conservative benches. Capt. the Rt. Hon. E. A. Fitzroy, Speaker of the House, very calmly said: "The Right Honorable member must remember he is talking about a friendly power."
More cries of "withdraw" and "sit down" filled the chamber.
"I have not the slightest intention of withdrawing, and I am not going to sit down," persisted Mr. Lansbury. "In this House the Soviet Government, which is as friendly as any other government, has been denounced over and over again."
Some members still made noisy protests, with E. R. Winterton demanding a formal withdrawal and Sir William Davison asking Mr. Speaker if such assertions were not an abuse of the question period.

The speaker was disinclined to take Mr. Lansbury too seriously and his response to those members who protested also implied there was no necessity for his authority to be supported by the House at large. The general body of members indeed were not seriously indignant, for Mr. Lansbury had been charged with letting his feelings getting the better of his discretion on former occasions.
"I have already said what I have to say," Mr. Speaker quietly reminded.
There was an interjection from the Prime Minister, that Mr. Lansbury himself had proved how useless would be a debate at the present time. Later, Mr. Lansbury submitted a motion of censure which the Speaker rejected as not being sufficiently definite, whereupon Mr. Lansbury said he would raise the subject again on adjournment.
Prime Minister MacDonald informed the House the Government was ready to consider any proposals the Cunard Steamship Company might submit concerning the resumption of work upon the giant new vessel, the 534, on which work was stopped last December, on account of lack of funds. He was unable to undertake to give direct financial assistance, he added.
The Prime Minister, in answer to other questions, confirmed the fact the Government intended to take all private members' time during the present sitting, and that the tariff legislation would be introduced on Thursday.
Sir Bolton Eyles-Moncell, First Lord of the Admiralty, amid a

WESTERN GUARDIAN
—STOCK NOTE—Ada Vale Pietje, 202.648, owned by Wm. M. Stavert, Bedouque, has recently qualified in the 365 day division of the Canadian Record of Performance. Commencing her test at 2 years, 46 days, she produced 9,576 pounds milk, 373 pounds fat or 466 pounds butter, giving her the creditable average test of 3.89.

DANCE—N. C. M. B. A.—An enjoyable whist and dance was held in the C. M. B. A. Hall, Summerside, on Monday evening. Ten tables were in play. The prize winners were Ladies first, Miss Zella Perry, con, Miss Evelyn Gallant. Gents, first, Mr. Joseph R. Charles, con, Mr. Reggie Gallant. A dance followed the card party.—S.

CURLING—At the Curling Rink, Summerside, on Monday evening, the first round of a series of matches to be played for a bag of flour donated by Messrs R. T. Holman was played. The prize winners were Ladies first, Miss Zella Perry, con, Miss Evelyn Gallant. Gents, first, Mr. Joseph R. Charles, con, Mr. Reggie Gallant. A dance followed the card party.—S.

HOUSEHOLD MEDICINE—They that are acquainted with the sterling properties of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil in the treatment of many ailments would not be without it in the house. It is truly a household medicine and it is effective in dealing with many ordinary complaints. It is an inexpensive medicine. So, keep it at hand, as the call for it may come most unexpectedly.

THE RUSS
PRINCE STREET
"A Nice Place to Stay"
One of the most popular HOTELS in the province and on the finest locality in the City. We serve as fine a MEAL as can be had. Our ROOMS are beautifully lighted, fitted with running water—hot and cold.
Our rates are moderate and $3.50 per day.
WEEKLY RATES ON APPLICATION.
Major D. A. Macdonald, Owner

RUSS HOTEL
Dr. and Mrs. Gaulton, Quebec, Miss John Adamson, St. Peter's Bay, Rev. John G. McKie, Souris, Rev. Geo. C. M. Fraser, Elmira, J. J. Campbell, Vernon River, George G. Graham, Murray Harbor North, Mr. J. A. Dewar, New Perth, Mr. B. Trowsdale, Crapaud, Major Carstairs, Charlottetown, Rev. Mr. Fras-Lund, Tryon, Rev. J. A. Nicholson, Elfersle, Rev. A. F. Barker, O'Leary, Rev. H. S. Bishop, Cavendish, Rev. laud.

RUSS HOTEL
Dr. and Mrs. Gaulton, Quebec, Miss John Adamson, St. Peter's Bay, Rev. John G. McKie, Souris, Rev. Geo. C. M. Fraser, Elmira, J. J. Campbell, Vernon River, George G. Graham, Murray Harbor North, Mr. J. A. Dewar, New Perth, Mr. B. Trowsdale, Crapaud, Major Carstairs, Charlottetown, Rev. Mr. Fras-Lund, Tryon, Rev. J. A. Nicholson, Elfersle, Rev. A. F. Barker, O'Leary, Rev. H. S. Bishop