"STATION WHY" ENJOYED BY AUDIENCE

"Station WHY" presented last evening in Hearts Memorial Hall, under the direction of Mrs. A. J. Houle, assisted by Mr. Stuart Dickson, was the most unique and withal, one of the most enjoyable entertainments presented in Charlottetown for some time.

The entertainment took the form of a play, in which was presented a radio programme, sponsored by the "Modernistic Society." Under any circumstances the numbers given would have more than satisfied a concert audience, but the element of the unusual, the quaint and striking costumes, and fine stage arrangements, made additional contributions to the success of the production.

Following were the numbers of the programme:
Theme Song.
Orchestra.
Reading—Mrs. Henry.
Violin Solo—Thelma Teed.
Reading—Mrs. Robert Acorn.
Instrumental Music—Scotty Armstrong.
Vocal Solo—"Jingle Bells"—Mrs. N. D. McLean.

DEATH CLAIMS Russ Woolner

FAIRFIELD, California, January 20.—Following several weeks' illness Mr. Edwin Russ Woolner, 63, one of the most popular residents of Suisun valley, passed away at his home near Fairfield this morning at 8.30 o'clock.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the W. C. Hansen funeral home in Suisun, and interment will be in the family plot in the Rockville cemetery.

Decades known to scores of friends as Russ Woolner, had been suffering from rheumatism and double pneumonia for the past six weeks. More than a week ago his physicians abandoned hope for his recovery, but Woolner put up a valiant battle and several days ago showed signs of improvement sufficient to revive hopes that he might recover.

Early this morning however, he took a sudden turn for the worse and passed away at 8.30 o'clock with members of his immediate family at his bedside.

Woolner was born August 22, 1870 on the old Woolner ranch in Suisun valley that is known today as the Mortenson ranch. He had lived his entire life in the valley and has scores of friends throughout this section of Suisun county whose sympathy is extended to the bereaved.

Woolner was the son of the late Ben F. Woolner and Mrs. Flora Woolner of Suisun who is 88 years of age and survives her son.

On October 5, 1922 deceased was united in marriage to Miss Minnie Marshall of Suisun valley. From this union three children were born all of whom survive. They are two sons and a daughter, Herbert Woolner, Marshall Woolner, and Mrs. Ernest Locke, all residents of the community. The widow, Mrs. Minnie M. Woolner, and one brother, Ben F. Woolner, an attorney of Oakland, also survive.

LATE RALLY IN NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

(By John L. Cooley, Associated Press Financial Writer)

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Markets strengthened today after they had absorbed a carry-over of yesterday's selling. Stocks rallied vigorously in the last hour and although there were some declines left at the close the net change for the averages was half a point gain.

Shares went through a couple of selling flurries before deciding to turn about; at the worst leaders were off fractions to a couple of points or so, but on each reaction there was a marked tendency to lessen and the late rally was one of the day's most active periods. Transactions amounted to $217,550 shares.

Cotton finished with a flourish of strength and wheat more than got back its forenoon setback. Speculative bonds recovered with stocks. Foreign exchange dealings saw French francs and sterling higher, the latter being quoted above $5.

When the market reversed itself, several stocks appeared to be enjoying strong sponsorship. U. S. Smelting soared half a dozen points and closed near the high. American Can was another favorite, up more than two, while Allied Chemical gained 3/4. Union Pacific, whose directors voted a regular dividend was up as much. American Smelting, Dia Pont, Howe Sound, Montgomery Ward and S. Pipe were other leaders. Sugars came forward in advance of the President's message which advocated that the staple be made a basic commodity and proposed placing it on the free list. U. S. Steel, General Motors, Sears Roebuck and New York Central improved moderately. Utilities lagged a bit.

General news from Paris may have found some reflections here. French bonds were strong. The Bank of France, which lost nearly 200,000,000 francs in gold in the week ended Feb. 2, or before the heavy rains got under way, jumped its discount rate to three percent from 2 1/2. This was regarded as a conventional step, taken with a view to hardening the Paris money market and make it more attractive to funds which the ultimate effect will, of course, remain to be seen.

General Motors sales to consumers in January were less than half those of a year ago, although double December's. The decrease, it was explained, does not reflect current demand for cars, but rather was incident to their getting into new model production. Sales to dealers last month were about four times those of January. The Automobile Chamber of Commerce estimated last month's output for all companies, including Ford, at 150,000 units, a 18 percent jump over December, and a 16 percent increase over last year.

This week's federal reserve statements show a reduction of about $800,000 in total discounts and a shrinkage of open market bill purchases. The system dropped its "gold held abroad item" which is now included in the figures on monetary gold stocks of the United States.

Brokers loans were up $8,000,000, a modest appreciation in view of speculative activity during the period covered. New York member banks loans for "own account" were up $10,000,000, but those for account of others' dropped $2,000,000.

Loans and investments of local member banks decreased $22,000,000 net. Holdings of other than U. S. Government securities were up $40,000,000, though the aggregate portfolio of federal issues was up $64,000,000. Commercial loans sagged $27,000,000 and accommodations on securities, dipped $19,000,000.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. JOSEPH MCCABE

A pall of gloom was cast over Iona and surrounding districts by the passing away on Jan. 13th of Mrs. Joseph McCabe, at the comparatively early age of sixty four years.

The deceased, who was taken ill about a year ago and underwent two operations in that space of time, bore the crosses which God saw fit to place upon her with Christian patience and wholehearted resignation to His Holy Will, and He, in His kindness and mercy, relieved her of her sufferings when, in the morning of the above mentioned date He called her spirit from its mortal body and brought to close a life well spent in His vineyard.

Born in Greenfield, her maiden name being Annie Cairns, she received her education at Prince of Wales College and on the completion of her studies there spent several years teaching in various parts of the province. On her marriage she took up her residence at Iona where she passed the remaining years of her life. Her loss will be felt both at home and in the community. A faithful wife and a loving mother, her influence was always for good, of the example which she set, one of charity and kindness in the hour of trial won for her the esteem and affection of a large number of people; a fact attested to by the number of Mass Cards, Spiritual Bouquets, letters of sympathy, etc. received by her family from far and wide.

During her illness she was attended by her pastor, Rev. Fr. McCarthy, who administered to her the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church and was also present to console and strengthen her in her dying moments.

Her funeral, which despite the almost impassable state of the roads was largely attended, took place at St. Michael's Church, Iona, where Requiem High Mass was celebrated by her nephew, Rev. Wm. McCabe, of Sturgeon, who also conducted the services at the grave. Also present in the sanctuary were: Fr. Joseph Rooney, Fr. Michael Rooney, Fr. Charles McCarthy and Fr. P. D. McGuigan. The pall-bearers were: John Connolly, Joseph Mooney, Joseph Roche, John Rooney, Joseph Griffin and Peter McKenna.

—TURNIPS—

It is nothing unusual to find Turnips which have cost the same price here selling in Boston at a spread of thirty cents per bag due to irregular quality and poor grading. It has always seemed to me that some improved method could be adopted whereby those having good quality Turnips could be paid the extra price. I have developed a plan which will restrict loading at a few stations to a limited number of good growers who are acceptable to each other. It is not a consigning deal at all, but a system which will assure you the full premium in price which better quality commands. If you are interested call and see me.
