Laymen Conduct Church Service

Laymen's Sunday was very fittingly observed in the Baptist Church last Sunday, when representatives of the Laymen's Association of the Church conducted the evening service. Mr. R. J. Rupert, led the service, while the Scripture Lesson was read by Mr. Louis H. Simmons. The prayers were offered by the Pastor, Rev. J. D. Davison. A large male choir, under the direction of the church organist, Mrs. Allison MacRae, led in spirited singing. Mr. Stirling Inman gave a very expressive rendering of "The Blind Ploughman."

The special speaker was Mr. Jas. A. McConnell, General Secretary of the Charlottetown Y. M. C. A., who delivered a very thoughtful and eloquent address on the subject, "The Christian Layman in Global Strategy." Mr. McConnell said in part:

"Our globe is gradually shrinking. We can no longer be indifferent toward unrest among nations across the world. In these times a battle waged in Asia is at our very gate. The strategy of the world can no longer be conceived in terms of isolated operations. The strategy of the major world powers has become a global strategy."

In the midst of this confusion of events stands the Christian Layman. He too must become a global strategist as he practices his faith. There are some things that the Christian Layman can do toward working out a Christian global strategy.

He should study world geography. Hitler continually studied the globe to further his evil plans. Christian leaders have studied and are studying the globe and as a result many world-wide Christian movements have been planned. The Christian Layman should study the world's people. As the frontiers of the world come closer all people are our neighbors and it is our duty to understand them.

He should study world affairs, for only with an understanding of history and events can we properly interpret motives. He should study the Christian Church and its spread and influence throughout the modern world. We should familiarize ourselves with the Churches' Missionary activities. The home base of our Missionary endeavours must be kept active. We often sing "Like a Mighty Army Moves the Church of God." No army can move without a stable home base. The Missionary outreach of our Church throughout the world must be well co-ordinated. The Communists claim to have a program and a remedy for the world's ills. We are not going to fight Communism, we will have to be more radical than the Communists are and from a better motive. Through the turmoil of the present we must develop a spiritual vision that can see in the years ahead, a Christian Soviet Russia arise out of a Communist Russia — a Christian world out of a materialistic pagan world — a genuinely Christian Canada — out of a lukewarm Christian Canada.

The lamp of Christian love must never be dimmed if we are in sincere search of a friendly peaceful world.

We as Christian Laymen must learn to think more and more in terms of world friendship."

The Tenderfoot knots, Annett Richard, Jean Gaudet, Velda Gaudet, Marie Gaudet, Teresa McPhee, Jean Skorry, Jean Arsenault and Florence Arsenault, Mrs. McTee hopes to have about 18 Guides in the Company and may be more with four Patrols. Good Guiding to you all in Tignish.

Overseas Guides
We have had a letter from Dominion H. Q. wherein it is stated that Guides in Australia, England, Scotland and the U. S. A. wish to correspond with Guides in Canada. Many of the English Guides are trying for the Queen's Guide Award and for this they are required to correspond with a Guide resident in another Commonwealth for twelve weeks. If you wish to help these Guides or to correspond with any others write to the Field Secretary, Mrs. F. S. Jenkins at 76 School St., Charlottetown, giving your full name, address, age, religion, country you wish to write, principal interest, and the language you wish it written. Please make certain that you send all the information as requested, check the list before mailing.

Beaverbrook Establishes Trust Fund At U.N.B.

MONTREAL, Nov. 11 — Lord Beaverbrook, Canadian-born British newspaper peer and Chancellor of the University of New Brunswick at Fredericton, has established a trust fund for the University. It was announced today. The Eastern Trust Company said $250,000 is held for the purpose of building a library or a hockey rink at Fredericton.

If the rink project is adopted by the trust, the announcement said, Lord Beaverbrook has agreed to furnish an additional $100,000. If neither project is undertaken within five years, the trust fund will then be paid to the University.

The trustees are the Eastern Trust Company, C.N. Elsette, trust company supervisor, and George Hunter, chartered accountant of Montreal. They have sole authority to decide all issues.

PURE BRED RAMS AVAILABLE

The attention of sheep owners is drawn to the availability for breeding purposes of high class graded ram lambs in this province.

Under the Federal-Provincial Ram Bonus Policy, rams may be secured on the following basis:

Ram Lambs	Price	Bonus to Purchaser	Net Cost
XXX	$25.00	$6.00	$19.00
XX	22.00	4.00	18.00

The purchaser will forward the price of the ram outlined in column two to the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Charlottetown, (Box 489). Later in the season the above bonus will be mailed to the purchaser from the Provincial Department of Agriculture. This leaves the net cost of such registered rams not much more than the market price of a grade ram of equal weight.

The system of selling lambs on rail grade is rapidly gaining ground. There is a feeling that in a short time all our lambs will be sold on a rail grade basis. On this basis the producer who is breeding a top grade product will receive the highest market value.

Place your order now for one of the bonus graded rams available in this province.

Girl Guide News

Girl Guiding has assuredly taken on a new lease of life all across Prince Edward Island. The 1st Tignish Company has re-started again with great hopes for a permanent position in the world of Guiding and we wish them good luck in all that they do. Mrs. Beth McRae a former Leader is Captain with Miss Claire Macdonald as Lieut. Both are very busy people indeed and for them to devote their limited periods of leisure to running a Guide Company is much to their credit and proves that the spirit of Guiding is well uppermost and lived up to in Tignish.
