Tenders: Coun. Gay, chairman; Couns. Dougan, McKee.

Special Sports committee: Coun. Dougan, chairman; Couns. LePage, Rogers, MacKinnon.

The Council divided 3-3 on a standing vote over the chairmanship of the Police Committee, Couns. McKinnon, MacDonald and Gay supporting Coun. Butler, Couns. Dougan, McKee and LePage supporting Coun. Rogers. Mayor Blanchard's casting vote went in favor of Coun. Butler.

The Mayor had to give another casting vote on the question of the appointment of one of the Tax Appeal Board members. Coun. MacDonald moved, seconded by Coun. Dougan, that Alex A. McDonald and J.J. Hornby, former members of the Board, be appointed for the year 1944. Coun. Butler moved, seconded by Coun. MacKinnon, that the appointees be Alex. A. Henessey. The Council dividing 4-4 MacDonald and William on this issue, His Worship cast his vote in favor of Messrs. MacDonald and Hornby.

On motion of Coun. MacDonald, seconded by Coun. LePage, Morrell and Company were reappointed City Auditors for the year ending Dec. 31, 1944, at a salary of $800.

At the close of the meeting brief remarks were made by each member of the Council.

Fierce German Defence Of City Of Brunswick

84 Enemy Aircraft Shot Down To 37 Lost By Allies.

By Austin Bealmear

LONDON, Feb. 10 — (AP) — United States heavy bombers and long range fighters destroyed 84 German aircraft today during co-ordinated raids on the Nazi manufacturing city of Brunswick and the Gilze - Rijen airbase in the Netherlands from which 29 of the heavy bombers and eight of the fighters failed to return.

Fighters were credited by a United States Army communique with destroying 55 of the German interceptors which rose to challenge the raiders — a record for a single day — and bomber gunners accounted for at least 29 more.

Heavy bombers struck the new blow at Brunswick, an important German aircraft parts manufacturing city. The value the Germans put upon its defence was reflected in the communique announcement that the fighter opposition was heavy.

200-300 Fighters

A later official statement said the heavy bombers ran into "one of the fiercest defences the enemy has yet sent against them," and crew members estimated the Nazis had sent aloft between 200 and 300 fighters.

"You can say for me the back of the Luftwaffe definitely is not broken," declared Sgt. Jack Callahan of Medford, Mass., a radio-gunner. "There must have been 150 German planes near the target."

At the same time other American heavyweights blanketed the air base of Gilze-Rijen, the Netherlands, with explosives that kept a large segment of the German air force out of the battle, while R.A.F. Typhoon fighter-bombers and United States mediums lashed out at the Germans' anti-invasion installations in the Pas-De-Calais area of France.

Still Big Mystery

What these installations on the socalled "rocket coast" are is still one of the mysteries of the air war. A correspondent of the United States army newspaper stars and Stripes, however, quoted instructions to crew members making the raids "your bombs must get in there, we've got to smash those objectives at any cost, no matter what opposition they put up."

Murray Hbr. Soldier Reported Missing Is Back With His Unit

Pte. Frank Murdock, reported missing in Italy in December, has re-joined his unit, his mother, Mrs. Roland White of Murray Harbor has been informed. Pte. Murdock is serving with a highland regiment from Nova Scotia.

He is 19 years old and has been with the Canadian army for two years. He fought in Sicily and then went with his unit to the Italian mainland.

There were no details in messages received by the boy's mother. The news telling that he was missing came on December 17 while the message reporting him safe with his unit was received this week.

Pte. Murdock is a son of the late David Murdock. He has three full sisters, younger than himself, and several older half-sisters, including Mrs. N.D. MacLean and Mrs. J.E. Sterns, both of Charlottetown.

Extensive Storm In U. S. Mid-West

CHICAGO, Feb. 10 —(AP) — The most extensive snow storm of the winter whisked across the midwestern United States today under the impetus of gusty winds that churned up blizzards in some of the Prairie States.

The snow covered a broad stretch of territory that reached from Montana to Michigan, scaled up to 11 inches and drifted in roads in several sectors.

Schools were closed in Omaha and Lincoln, Neb., and in a number of rural districts in northwestern Iowa and South Dakota. Roads were blocked in Northern Kansas, and highway travel was impeded in Nebraska and the Dakotas.

The fall was the heaviest of the season in many regions and came in the wake of a protracted drought that was relieved only by widespread showers and flurries of snow last month. The snow provided a protective cover for winter wheat and will replenish subsoil moisture needed for the spring planting.

The storm was a forerunner of a cold wave. Forecasters predicted temperatures ranging from five to 25 below zero in Minnesota, zero to 1 below in Wisconsin, zero to 10 below in Iowa, zero to 15 above in Illinois, and approximately five above in Chicago.

Alberta Legislature Opened Yesterday

EDMONTON, Feb. 10—(CP)—Legislation dealing with war and post-war programs including establishment of a department of public welfare and power commission, was forecast today in the speech from the Throne at the opening of Alberta's fifth wartime legislature. The speech was read by Lieutenant-Governor J.C. Bowen.

The opening marked the first time Premier E.C. Manning had faced the legislature as leader of the government.

Other legislation forecast provided free hospital care for maternity patients, "bona-fide residents of the province," and regulation of gas and oil in Turner Valley and elsewhere in the province "so as to eliminate gas wastage" and "to prevent monopoly control."

Throne Speech Debate Ended Last Night

OTTAWA, Feb. 10—(CP) —The address in reply to the Throne Speech tonight was adopted in the House of Commons.

This is how the House voted in its four divisions tonight.

Sub-amendment to address in reply by J. S. Roy (Ind-Gaspe)—defeated 178 to 7.

Sub-amendment by Dr. Pierre Gauthier (BP—Portneuf) — Defeated 171 to 7.

Amendment by Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative House leader —defeated 126 to 50.

Adoption of address in reply — approved 146 to 21.

OTTAWA, Feb. 10 — (C P) — Stands taken by the C. C. F. on Canada's declaration of war and on defence preparations before hostilities began were debated in the Commons today, in an explosive echo of the controversy which sprung up yesterday over prolongation of the life of the Saskatchewan legislature.

M. J. Coldwell, C. C. F. leader, —answering an earlier speech by Agriculture Minister Gardiner — said he would place the record of the C. C. F. on war issues against that of any other party.

To this Resources Minister Crerar replied: "If my friend's policy had been adopted by this country at that time (September, 1939), Canada would have done nothing in hleping to win this terrible war."

When the House opened Prime Minister MacKenzie King announced the new labor code will be tabled early next week and that, after consultation with labor organizations, the government intends to make some amendments to the much criticized wartime wage control order. He also mentioned "Easter season" as a probable time for the proposed Dominion Provincial conference.

Air Minister Power told the House Rt. Hon. Harold Balfour, British undersecretary for air, is in Ottawa for negotiations looking toward better conditions of service for R. C. A. F. men overseas. He said the air force is retiring senior officers to make way for men who have came up through the ranks and seen fighting in this war

The Throne Speech debate appeared to have dropped back to its early placid tone as J. A. Marshall (ND—Camrose) talked of Social Security and its implications for freedom of the individual and E. E. Perley (PC—Qu'Appelle) spoke of farm prices.

Then Mr. Coldwell took the floor. He expressed irritation at the Agriculture Minister's speech last night suggesting CCF supporters were "National Socialists."

Mr. Gardiner had been answering Rev. T. C. Douglas, member for Weyburn and Saskatchewan CCF leader who said the Federal Government should intervene if a Saskatchewan election were further postponed.

Mr. Gardiner, Mr. Coldwell said, was alarmed because his "machine" in Saskatchewan is not working. In the Humboldt federal by-election in September — Joseph Burton, CCF candidate, was elected—the Minister had been in charge. Federal Government officials had used Government cars at public expense.

"No more devastating machine" existed in any democratic country,

Says St. Lawrence Protected In 1943

QUEBEC, Feb. 10—(CP) — Members of the Quebec legislature today were told by Onesime Gagnon (UN-Matane) that "not one ship was torpedoed in the lower region of the St. Lawrence River" in 1943 and that the "lower St. Lawrence region is much more protected than before."

Mr. Gagnon made the statement while moving that the correspondence relative to "transportation facilities, means of communication as well as to military defensive and protective measures respecting the counties of Bonaventure, Gaspe-north, Gaspe-south, Magdalen islands and Matane" be tabled, which was carried unanimously.

The Matane member said that the people "laughed" at the Union nationale party in 1942 when it asked for better protection of the lower St. Lawrence region against the sinking of ships but that federal authorities "saw eye to eye" with his party when they organized the defence of the Gaspe Peninsula.

Commons Briefs

OTTAWA, Feb. 10—(CP) — Surveys are under way to determine surpluses of war materials and equipment, Munitions Minister Howe said in a report on activities of War assets corp. Ltd., and the crown assets allocation committee—established Nov. 29 to dispose of the nations war assets—tabled today in the Commons.

An agreement between Canada and the United States for American construction of eight landing strips along the Alaskan military highway was tabled. The United States note said the strips "will result in the highway's greater usefulness."

Public interest in the work of the Commons reconstruction committee has been greater than expected. The committee chairman J. G. Turgeon (L-Caribou) recommended that another 500 copies of the committee's fourth report be printed to meet the demand.

Hon. R.B. Hanson (P.C.-York-Sunbury) asked whether agreement has been reached between Canada and the United States on a new treaty for the extradition of criminals.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King said he would tell the House tomorrow what position the discussions have reached.

Moscow Warns Budapest Next

LONDON, Feb. 10—(CP) — The Moscow radio warned tonight that Budapest is next on the Russians' bombing list and asserted it would "share the fate of Helsinki" if Hungary continues to fight.

The broadcast, recorded here by the Soviet Monitor, added: "The Germans are unable to protect their own cities and cannot help their satellites."

Gov't To Amend Wage-Control Order

OTTAWA, Feb. 11 — (CP) — Prime Minister Mackenzie King today told the commons that the Government proposes to amend the new wage-control order and that it will make public early next week a labor code on compulsory collective bargaining.

Mr. King made his statement on these labor matters at the opening of the House sitting. In the galleries were a number of Labor Union officials who came to Ottawa today to canvass members of Parliament for support in protesting the wage order.

Speaking of the labor code, the Prime Minister said consultations with the provinces and labor organizations had been completed.

"Many representations" had been made to the Government by members of Parliament, labor organizations and others regarding the wage order. The Standard Railway Brotherhoods had presented their views on the order and the Canadian Congress of Labor would meet the Government tomorrow. Meetings would be held shortly with the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada and the Canadian Catholic Confederation of Labor. He invited these organizations to express their views on the order.

Republican Gives 5-Plank Platform

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 — (AP) — Ohio's governor John W. Bricker, appearing in Washington for the first time as a Republican presidential candidate, tonight laid down a five plank platform which he said would root out "absolutism" and "restore order and sanity" in government.

Bricker unfolded his views on domestic issues in a speech prepared for a Lincoln Day dinner Ohio Republicans turned into a boom for the three time governor.

He recommended:—

1. Return to "balanced budget" federal financing.

2. Establishment of "responsible cabinet government" by eliminating "Czars" and super imposed agencies.

3. Simplified tax laws that remain stable, lower federal taxes "as soon as possible" after the war ends.

4. Assurances that state and local governments have autonomy.

5. A clear cut government labor policy defined by a "fair" law and "just enforcement" of that law, including a prohibition on wartime strikes.

Bricker contrasted the Republican Party as "Liberal" with the new deal as "reactionary."

Bricker said he is confident the Republicans will win the 1944 election and added that he is "more interested" in that—defeating the new deal philosophy — than in being president.

The Republicans, he said, have many leaders he would be proud to support for the presidency while "the new deal has only one candidate."

Bricker praised labor as "loyal" and with management responsible for "one of the brightest pages" in United States history. But, he said, "no group or union should be permitted to strike in wartime.

"The United States should take her place in a co-operative organization among sovereign nations after this war," he said. "We want no super government, no central world authority over us. An international co-operative organization whatever precise form it may take can solve the problems which lead to war and fulfill the hopes of our people for a peaceful and better world."

War Situation Last Night

By Kirke L. Simpson, Associated Press War Analyst

At the moment when it is straining every manpower resource, the Nazi high command is confronted with the indicated loss of at least 15 front-line divisions in Russia and the probable entrapment or complete rout of as many more.

That represents a potential loss of 500,000 men and the actual total could run far above that figure. Auxiliary units outside the divisional organizations are unquestionably also snared by the Russians in the Cherkasy and Nikopol pockets in the southern Ukraine, beyond hope of relief. Just how many German combat and supply troops are in peril in the fast-closing Krivoi Rog sack or even larger Luga-Volkhov trap being clamped shut by the Russians on the Baltic flank of the battle line simultaneously is not indicated.

Moscow advices have drawn a clear picture of those two closed traps in the lower Ukraine, even identified the German combat units in the Cherkasy pocket as all first-line divisions. Their plight is so grave that surrender of the remnants of the Nazi force is to be expected at any moment.

Last reports from the army of Stalingrad veterans which recaptured Nikopol and cut off five or more enemy divisions northeast of the Dnieper bank city placed its spearheads aimed at Nikolaev well west of Poltolovo, south of Krivoi Rog, and within 30 miles or less of the Nikolaev-Znamenka railroad over which the German troops in the Krivoi Rog sector must escape if they escape at all.

Russian forces of the 2nd Ukrainian army are already astride that railroad northwest of Krivoi Rog about midway between that place and Russian-held Kirovograd. A junction of the three forces in the region of Novi Bug would seal the fate of all Nazi troops still northeast and east of that point.

The situation of the Germans on the Baltic flank is no less grave. It now seems that as expected the Russian drive into Estonia across the Narva Isthmus has been suspended in favor of closing the Luga-Volkhov trap by a converging of the Leningrad and Volkhov armies on Luga, cutting the last escape route to Pskov.

When and if those two red armies meet all Nazi forces still scattered between the Luga and the Volkhov would be doomed.

Big Disaster For Nazis Nears Climax In Russia

Wake Island Raided

PEARL HARBOR, Feb. 10—(AP) —The 12th raid of the war on Wake Island, 2,000 miles west of here, and continuing attacks by United States warships and planes on unidentified Japanese-held Atolls in the Marshall Islands were announced today by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, supreme Allied Pacific commander.

The new blows in the Marshalls carried the sustained assaults of Japanese positions through Thursday, the fourth consecutive day of the post-invasion campaign to clear that Archipelago of the enemy.

Saint John Returns To Standard Time Feb. 26

SAINT JOHN, N. B, Feb. 10 — (CP) — The City Council confirmed today that Saint John will go on daylight saving time at midnight Feb. 26 after observing standard time for four months.

LONDON, Feb. 10 —(AP) — Russian troops have cut off several German groups from the main remnants of 10 crack Axis divisions trapped around Korsum in the Dnieper River Bend, and are "wiping them out," Moscow announced tonight in a communique foreshadowing the climax of the biggest single Nazi disaster since Stalingrad.

Associated Press Moscow dispatches said the exhausted Germans, once estimated at more than 100,000 men, are being captured at an increasingly high rate but also are dying under the hammering of massed Russian artillery laying down a cross-fire on the Germans within the constricted ring.

The midnight communique, recorded by the Soviet radio Monitor from a broadcast, said the Germans had lost 10 more junkers tri-engined transport planes and four fighters in trying to supply the doomed men.

Enemy After Victory At All Costs

By Edward Kennedy

ALGIERS, Feb. 10 — (A P) — Superior German forces slashed with rising power at the entire 30 mile perimeter of the Allied beachhead near Rome in the past 24 hours, probing for a weak point against which they might throw men and armor in an all-out assault on British and United States troops who have been fighting almost continually for 16 days.

"In order to try to give the blitzed and war weary German people their first big victory since Marshal's Rommel's last desert drive, Hitler is throwing the book at the beachhead," wrote Kenneth Dixon of the Associated Press.

Germans Use Veterans

Allied pilots say the German airmen over the beachhead are the toughest yet seen in the Mediterranean theatre, Dixon wrote, and they are in greater numbers than previously met over Italy.

The German ground troops, too, are powerful, including the 26th Panzer Division, veterans of Russia. They are willing to spend many lives to gain a little ground, he noted.

To combat the German thrusts, Homer Bigart, New York Herald Tribune correspondent, told how British gunners used a "timed crash" of artillery fire this morning against the Germans who had seized a little hilltop village overlooking the Allied positions along the northern sector.

The salvoes from many cannon, falling into the little community less than 100 acres in extent, equalled a sudden heavy bombing raid, Bigart said.

The quickly prepared bombardment was designed to save endangered British units worn out by days of bitter fighting.

At Six Points

The Germans smashed at the beachhead at six points Wednesday with their fiercest attack aimed at British positions north and west of Carroceto (Aprilia), 10 miles due north of Anzio.

All attacks were fought off without serious loss of ground, but an Allied spokesman acknowledged that the beachhead as a whole was on the defensive for the present.

It was disclosed that for several crucial hours last Thursday thous-

Restore Control To Badoglio

NAPLES, Feb. 10— (AP) — The Allies tonight restored to Marshal Pietro Badoglio's government the administrative authority over southern Italy, including Sicily and Sardinia, but on condition that all officials be of Allied sympathies and that the Allies have no commitments to the Badoglio-King Victor Emmanuel regime after the capture of Rome.

Thus the Allies are not bound to support the present Italian administration and have taken note of Badoglio's pledge to surrender his powers to another government if Italians so desire after Rome is freed.

Pope's Summer Home Bombed

LONDON, Feb. 10 —(CP) —The Vatican radio said tonight that Castel Gandolfo, the Pope's summer residence near the Anzio Bridgehead in Italy, had been bombed for the third time.

"Other Vatican property also was bombed," the Vatican said, quoting the newspaper Osservatore Romano, in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press. Another listening post said the Vatican radio reported the latest bombing of the Papal summer residence occurred today.

Castel Gandolfo is 15 miles from Vatican City and 25 miles inland from Anzio.

The latest attack caused "damage and casualties," the Vatican radio said.

The broadcast did not identify the raiders but indicated the Pope would protest.

Striking Nurses Go Back To Work

COLUMBUS, Ga., Feb. 10—(AP) —Family protests on top of a grim warning that they might be certified to federal authorities as "deserters" broke a sit-down strike of 96 student nurses at the Columbus City Hospital late today.

Some 200 patients were left unattended when the students quit at 7 A. M. Retired graduate nurses and Red Cross aides were called in and shortly after noon Superintendent Harris Smith said the institution was "fully staffed."

Spokesmen for the girls, requesting anonymity, said they did not receive the pay and uniforms given Nursing Corps Cadets. Members of the corps receive from $15 to $30 a month while in training and maintenance expenses for the first nine months of their training period.

TORONTO, Feb. 10 — (CP) — From their beds in hospital here tonight persons injured in a train wreck at MacTier early today told how one man died in the crash as he stopped to light a cigaret from another and how soldiers formed first aid squads to carry the injured from the wreckage.

A porter, was killed and 20 other persons, 13 of them passengers, hurt when the second section of the Canadian Pacific Railways fast transcontimental train crashed into the rear end of the first section of the Flyer as it stood in the MacTier station early today.

Passengers said the first section was beginning to move when the locomotive struck. They told how injured, trapped in all the sleeping compartments of the train, were rescued by soldiers who broke train windows and removed the hurt from the wreckage.

Carroll Allan, sister of Toronto newspaperman Ralph Allen, said an R. C. A. F. bandaged a cut in her leg after she was jammed against the end of a sleeper.

MacTier is a divisional point on the Canadian Pacific Railway in the Muskoka district of Ontario. Engine and train crews on the long run through northern Ontario to Manitoba are changed there.

A statement from the Canadian Pacific Railway said there would be no interruption of service as a result of the wreck. It did not give details of damage to the trains but said the accident, which occurred at 5.02 a. m., is under investigation.

U. N. B. President Offered New Job?
