The last issue of the Montreal Daily Star contains a long interview with R. V. A. E. Burke, in which the latter very strongly places the claims of this Province on the Dominion before the Star's readers.

In Grace Church last night Rev. Edwin Smith entertained his audience with a capital lecture on Holiday Rambles in Great Britain and British Columbia. All the beauties of a visit to the Old Home Country were faithfully described and vividly illustrated by the lecturer.

This biography of a box of smelts was given in these columns a few days ago, to show the rapidity with which freight moves from this Province to the outside world. That the same break-neck speed is maintained with reference to goods coming to the Province may be inferred from the fact that two pieces of furniture shipped from Megawick, Que., on November 3, 1906, were received by Brace, McKay & Co., Summerside, January 25, 1907.

The death of the late Wm. Wyatt of this city which occurred on Sunday, did not afford time for the publication of much more than an announcement of the event. He was a son of the late Joseph Wyatt, of Oxfordshire, England, who came to this country nearly a century ago. Mr. Wyatt was born in Whitney Hill, Dunstable, and resided in Charlottetown for over half a century.

There is a hint in this which will no doubt meet with the hearty approval of the "dyspepsia brigade" in Charlottetown, whose plain cooks might be improved by some such treatment. The Local Council of Women of Halifax have arranged for a series of free cooking classes to be conducted under the direction of Miss B. Priest, teacher of Domestic Science at the Halifax Ladies' College.

Occasionally Charlottetown reporters run across pompous humbugs in high places, but in larger cities, these supercilious people sometimes make it hard for the newspaper man. Once in a while, however, the reporter scores as in this manner: Richard Harding Davis was talking about the life of a reporter. "A hard life it is," said he; "it is a life that taxes all energies. I don't care how great a genius a man might be, how resourceful, how persevering, how alert, all these qualities would be brought in play if the man turned reporter and on many a good story he would still fall down at that. Reporters are often snubbed. There is a stupid type of man that likes to snub them. Such a man, a bank president once tried to snub my friend, Jimmy Patterson. The bank had gone up through a defalcation and Jimmy went to interview its head. But its head was crusty. Heretofore he had been interviewed by the arm and led him toward the door. "Young man," he said, "I always make it a rule to mind my own business. 'Were you doing that,' said Jimmy, 'when the cashier made his haul?'"

A SUGGESTION OF RARE VALUE. A diseased condition of the surface of the air passages causes bad breath, but more commonly emanates from indigestion or an impure condition of the blood. Thousands of cases prove that Dr. Hamilton's Pills through their specific action on the secretory and eliminative organs, not only cure bad breath, but so thoroughly purify the system that anything suggestive of blood or digestive troubles is impossible. Through Dr. Hamilton's Pills the skin grows rosy and clear, activity of the body and mind increases, and abounding health is established, sold every where in 25c boxes.

The window in the front of the Mark Wright Establishing Store presents a very pleasing and artistic appearance. The display consists of a grand array of curtains which is suspended from the electric lights above and ably draped. The whole is the work of George Mungford.

Only a full-sized audience assembled in St. James' Hall last night to hear the interesting lecture and to see the splendid views accompanying the same. Those who had the pleasure of hearing the lecturer, Major A. A. Bartlett, followed him interestedly as he took them into all the details of the wonderful city of Venice from the year 800 until modern times. Barely has lecture teamed with so many interesting facts, or been more satisfactorily illustrated.

Commander Spain of Ottawa will get his divorce which these courts committed to refer to him last year. Last session he failed to prove to the satisfaction of the committee the relations of his wife with Captain Salmon, which was denied by both Mrs. Spain and the correspondent. During the interview the commander has had systematic espionage kept on the parties in New York, and has offered what seems to be conclusive evidence that his wife and Captain Salmon have been living together in a New York apartment house as man and wife. Moreover Mrs. Spain has this year put in no defence, so the evidence goes uncontradicted. All the parties are well known in this province, where former Capt. and Mrs. Spain used to come in connection with the Dominion Fisheries Service, and Capt. Salmon was for a year a member of the staff of the surveying steamer Galvane.
