"SALADA" TEA

These days the evil Influenza germ is apt to be flying around. Guard against him. Build up your vitality by eating plenty of good nourishing food—and MILTONIZE!

Before and after meals, at bed-time, mix a little Milton in water. Clean your teeth (natural or false) with it. Gargle your throat. Milton will rout out and slay the germs in your mouth and throat instantly and at the same time will freshen up your mouth delightfully and make your breath clear and sweet. . . . Indeed, Milton is an antiseptic that by actual test of medical and dental experts will arrest and prevent Pyorrbas.

And Milton, though it kills germs in a twinkling, is harmless to you . . . quite safe! No one in your home can possibly come to harm from Milton. It won't poison, burn or stain them. Practically every family in Great Britain knows, uses and swears by Milton. British doctors and dentists prescribe and use it daily. They wouldn't be without Milton . . . and neither will you, once you bring it into your home.

Obtainable from all druggists, 35c, 65c or $1. . . . When you read the booklet packed with your bottle you'll know we speak the truth when we say that Milton is marvelous.

If your dealer can't supply you, order direct.

ONLY vapors can reach colds direct. That's why Vicks brings such quick relief.

When rubbed on at bedtime it is vaporized by the body heat and breathed right into the air passages and lungs; at the same time it stimulates the skin like a poultice.

I HOPE MAGGIE IS ASLEEP. I'M TOO TIRED TO LISTEN TO A LONG LECTURE TO-NIGHT. I DIDN'T KNOW IT WUZ SO LATE.
 COME HERE—WHAT DO YOU MEAN BY COMING IN AT THIS HOUR?
 OH MAGGIE DON'T SCOLD. I'VE JUST BEEN PLAYIN' POOL WITH THE BOYS—I WOULDN'T SAY ANYTHING TO DECEIVE YOU.
 NO MATTER WHAT YOU DO OR SAY YOU COULDN'T DECEIVE ME.
 AH—MAGGIE ME DARLIN'—YOU KNOW I'D GIVE ME VERY LIFE FOR YOU.
 WELL—JUDGING FROM THE LIFE YOU LEAD—I BELIEVE THAT.

Lloyds Will Not Take Chances On Trans-Atlantic Hop

LONDON, March 28. — Lloyds will insure against almost any calamity which may befall human kind, but it is not willing to take any chances on the three Germans who are marking time at Dublin in preparation for a dash for Mitchell Field. "No odds" was the reply to an enquiry at Lloyds for the betting rates on the success of the proposed Junkers flight of Baron Von Huenefeld and his associates. Lloyds will insure against twins and triplets, and almost anything else under the sun, but there is too much uncertainty even for Lloyds for western flights over the foggy, icy, storm-swept reach between the Irish coast and the Grand Banks.

New Regulations Governing Oil Law

(Special to the Guardian) MEXICO CITY, March 28. — Through the efforts of the United States Ambassador, Dwight W. Morrow, the ten year controversy between the governments of Mexico and the United States on the oil question seems to be ended by the signing today by President Calles, of new regulations governing the oil law. These it is thought will remove the cause of complaints that the law is retroactive and confiscatory as applied to United States oil rights acquired before May 1, 1927, when the new constitution nationalized the mineral lands of Mexico.

The regulations are the outcome of conferences extending over several months between Ambassador Morrow, President Calles and Luis Morones, Minister of Industry and Commerce. They declare in effect that oil titles that were valid before 1917 are valid in perpetuity. This removes the constitution of 50 years confirmatory of titles for rights prior to 1917, which the United States Government considered confiscatory. The new regulations also define more liberally than the previous law the precise "positive acts" or physical works upon lands necessary for retention of title and the mineral rights thereon.

IN MEMORIAM

CHARLES RAMSAY FOLLARD

Died at Kensington, on March 24th, 1928, Charles Ramsay Follard. He was born at Port Hill in 1834, the son of Henry Follard. He lived his early life in Tyne Valley, and was married to Emma F. Wallace. The issue of the union was one son, J. Wesley, and three daughters, Lyola May, wife of John Cotton Jr., Emma Cella, wife of Albert Davidson, New York, and Bertha, wife of George Davidson. He lived almost his whole life at Tyne Valley, but in recent years he was most kindly cared for by his children in Kensington and Clinton. A brief funeral service was held at the home of his son, Wesley, Kensington, on Saturday afternoon conducted by Rev. Dr. Saint and Rev. G. Ayers.

The remains were then conveyed by train to Port Hill accompanied by his relatives to the old home where he was born. The service there was conducted by Rev. Mr. Brown. Interment took place in the Tyne Valley Cemetery.

The pall bearers were: Reginald Birch, David Ramsay, Fred Dennis, John Cameron, John Strangman and Charles Strangman. The Hymns sung at the services were: "Rock of Ages", "Jesus Lover of My Soul." His memory will live in the recollection of his friends.—Com.

GOOD YEAR WINGFOOT HEELS

Here are photographs of a new type of home architecture coming into being in the United States, as a result of the vogue of the motor car. The finest homes are located in Portland, Oregon, and San Francisco, and are typical of many thousands of others. It will be noticed that the ground floors are entirely devoted to garage accommodation, while the family live on the second floor and up. Even very expensive homes are now being built in this way.
