ELOQUENT LECTURE BY REV. DR. CAMPBELL

"The Great War, its Challenge and Ultimate Issue" Discussed in Scholarly and Masterly Fashion. Contribution of $500 Presented to Red Cross by P.E.I. Orange Lodge.

Heartz Memorial Hall was filled to capacity last evening to hear Rev. Dr. G. M. Campbell's address. His Honour Mr Justice Hazard ably presided and at the close of the lecture tendered the lecturer the warmest thanks...

Justified, but admitting this, we also emphatically declare that the British nation was the first to recognize individual rights and liberties; at an enormous expenditure to give freedom to the African slave!

Therefore, with little fighting, with but little expenditure of money or blood, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, possessions and other colonies became part of the Empire. Britons seemed to take it as a matter of course that in the future, as in the past, they would exercise authority over subject peoples and continue to paint more of the world's map...

PARLIAMENTARY SENSATION BY NATIONALIST MEMBER

Mr. Paul Lamarche Defended Bourassa and Lavergne Declaring they were no more Traitors than their Former Leader Sir Wilfrid Laurier who had Expressed Similar Sentiments with Reference to Canada's Participation in Empire's Wars. He Opposed Extension of Parliament Declaring he would Resign if it were Granted.

OTTAWA, Feb. 1.—To-day's Parliamentary sensation was afforded by Paul Lamarche, member for Nicolet, who might be described as the last of the Nationalists as far as Ottawa is concerned. Lamarche opposed the Borden Government's policy and voted against Manitoba's boundary expansion. He is still regarded by Bourassa as one of his faithful followers.

He made a moderate plea to the people of Ontario for some solution of the present school agitation in that province. He said that rightly or wrongly there was a feeling in Quebec that the minority in Ontario was suffering an injustice. It was undoubtedly having a serious effect upon recruiting. He wound up, "For the sake of the cause, for the sake of reciprocity in Quebec, I plead with the people of Ontario to endeavour to put an end to this constant wrangling over the school question."

The final speech of the day came late at night from Hon. George P. Graham, who favoured the extension of Parliament, spoke earnestly of Canada's determination to do her part in the war and explained the operations of the company of which he is a director, the Canadian Forging Company. He also criticized the Government for not organizing Canadian manufacturers in munitions manufacture.

The chief interest for the day centred in the speech of Mr Paul Lamarche. He claimed that Bourassa and Lavergne stood for the principles Canada should not and should not give to Motherland without securing the consent of the people. This consent had not been given. He pleaded justification for his Nationalist leaders by a comparison with speeches of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir D. Richard Cartwright and Hon. F. D. Monk. They had not advocated rebellion, they had but claimed that military efforts should be restricted to home defence, quoting freely from Sir Wilfrid's speeches at the imperial conferences and in the House. He declared that the Opposition leaders should be extended to Bourassa and Lavergne, who had made no more "reasonable statements than their former leader. No one had declared Sir Wilfrid a traitor, nor should such a term be applied to Bourassa and Lavergne. Mr Monk, he said, enunciated the same principles and left the Conservative party in 1901, but was restored to grace by the victory of Drummond-Arthabaska. He had again left the Conservative party in 1912 when he disagreed with the Government's naval programme. The twenty men elected in 1911 in Quebec as Nationalists, he declared, had all enunciated the same principle as Bourassa. They were all equally guilty, and even if they had been traitors to the principles he saw no reason why Bourassa and Lavergne should now be shot for their consistency. Mr Lamarche made a bitter attack upon his former colleagues now supporting the Government.

FURTHER DETAILS OF ENGLAND AIR RAID

(Special to the Guardian.) LONDON, Feb. 1.—The enemy's statement last night says: The enemy's air attack covered a larger area than on any other occasion. Bombs were dropped in Norfolk, Suffolk, Lincolnshire, Leicestershire, Staffordshire and Derbyshire. The number is estimated at 220. Except on one point in Staffordshire the material damage was not considerable and in no case was military damage caused. No further casualties have been reported.

(Special to the Guardian.) BELLINGHAM, Feb. 1.—The German Admiral's report on the Zeppelin raid on England says incendiary bombs were dropped on and near Liverpool, Manchester, Nottingham, Sheffield and Great Yarmouth and violent fires occurred. All airships returned safely.

BOMBS DROPPED ON SALONKI

(Special to the Guardian.) LONDON, Feb. 1.—A despatch to Reuters says: "Bombs were dropped on Salonki, destroying the store of a Greek merchant and doing other damage."

THE W. S. HARKINS PLAYERS Score Another Big Success

Another crowded house greeted the W. S. Harkins Company in the Prince Edward Theatre last evening, when "Baby Mine," an exciting farce comedy, was admirably staged by the talented cast. The theatre was packed to the doors, and if the continuous roars of laughter, which filled the building indicated the opinion of the audience, the play was an unqualified success. It unquestionably provided considerable entertainment, the various roles being well portrayed. Zola Hardy and her credulous spouse, Alfred, find it difficult to get along together, the trouble being an incurable antipathy, on Zola's part, to anything in the shape of babies, and also an overweening fondness for lurchers—with a certain young man, whose identity Alfred cannot discover. Jimmy Jinks, the young man in question, is Alfred's best friend, and the way in which he and his wife endeavour to reconcile the other couple is irresistibly funny. Matters reaching a crisis in the domestic relations of the Hardy family, Alfred decides to leave with apparently enthusiastic approval, and the company can well claim to have made a "hit" with "Baby Mine." The parts were all well filled, the cast being as follows:— Zola (Mrs Alfred Hardy) Miss Margaret Lotus Jimmy Jinks, Mr Wm. J. Townsend Alfred Hardy, Mr Joseph Selman Johnston (Hardy's Clerk) Mr Jack Pendleton Aggie (Mrs Jinks) Miss Eugenie Dubois Maggie O'Flaherty Miss Dorothy Cheesmond Rosa Gatti, Miss Irene Gordon Finigan (an officer) Mr Albert Watterson Michael O'Flaherty Mr Erville Alderson Policeman, Mr Karl Knapp

This afternoon "Kick in" will be staged at matinee, and to-night's play will be "The Blindness of Virtue," a reputed success.

WAR SUMMARY

(Special to the Guardian.) LONDON, Feb. 1.—Fifty-four persons killed and sixty-seven injured was the result of the raid of German airships over Norfolk, Suffolk, Derbyshire, Leicestershire, Staffordshire and Lincolnshire Monday night, according to an official report of the British Government. In all 220 bombs were dropped from the aircraft, and considerable material damage was done. Berlin reports that all the airships returned safely to their base.

Except for a German infantry attack north-east of Arras, which was checked by a fusillade of hand grenades thrown by the French, artillery duels and bombardment have predominated on the western front. A single infantry attack near Monte Rombo, where the Italians repulsed the Austrians is the most important operation, aside from the usual artillery action, reported from the Austro-Italian front.

ROUMANIAN TROOPS NOW UNDER ARMS

(Special to the Guardian.) PETROGRAD, Feb. 1.—In connection with the negotiations alleged to be proceeding between Greece and Roumania and the report that Roumania is ready to form an anti-Bulgarian alliance, it is stated here that four fifths of the Roumanian troops are under arms and the main Roumanian forces concentrated on Bulgarian and Hungarian frontiers while troops on the Russian frontier have not been increased. Roumania continues to make difficulties for the Central Powers with regard to the purchase of grain which has been increased had the British authorities who are buying large quantities and driving up the price. With the purpose of exerting pressure on Roumania, Austro-German troops are concentrating on the Danube. It is announced the Turkish Government has ordered the evacuation of Erzerum.

BRITISH MINES BLOCK THE BALTIC

WASHINGTON, January 31.—Great Britain is sowing mines so thickly at the entrance to the Baltic sea that it is now practically impossible except to vessels under the guidance of official pilots. RECORD INCREASE IN CANADA'S REVENUE

Increase for January More than Hundred per cent. From April to January Total Receipts Show 36 Millions Increase over Same Period Last Year.

(Special to the Guardian.) OTTAWA, Feb. 1.—The Dominion Revenue from customs in January amounted to $10,097,235 an increase of $5,068,027 or more than one hundred per cent. for the ten months of the fiscal year. The customs collections amounted to $81,815,539 an increase of $17,947,112. These figures, which were issued to-day, confirmed the expectation that the special war taxation would be sufficient to bring the revenues up to the required total. The financial statement for the Dominion from the beginning of the present fiscal year, namely April 1, 1915 to January 31st 1916, shows an increase in revenues from all sources of no less a sum than $30, million as compared with the same period of the previous year. On the other hand the statement shows that the expenditure on ordinary account has been reduced by $11,700,000 and the capital expenditure by the sum of $6,900,000 over those of the same period of the preceding year. Apart from the war expenditure the increase in revenue on the one hand and the decrease of expenditure on the other show improvement in the financial position as compared with the previous year of $48,700,000 of the increase in revenue $17, million is due to customs $3,500,000 to Post-office $6, million to railways and from special war taxes $2,300,000.

FURTHER SUCCESSES IN KAMERUNS

(Special to the Guardian.) LONDON, Feb. 1.—Successes for the British and French forces operating in Kameruns, German Colony, western equatorial Africa, are announced in an official statement here to-day. Further inland West Africa states a french column under Lieut. Col. Faucon, occupied Ebolowa (South-west Kamerun) on 18th January after slight resistance, while a British column under Major Coles engaged the enemy at Elabo, 20 miles north-east driving back the enemy and taking thirteen German prisoners. No British casualties are reported. Lieut. Col. Hayward arriving at Elabo on 24th immediately took up pursuit of the enemy capturing Mafaha, 17 miles south. He reports he had 22 casualties and was advancing on Nkan. The same day the enemy were driven from Ngat by the French who had fourteen casualties.

General Dobell, telegraphing on Jan. 25th, stated that he received information that the Kamerun Coast line itself was cleared of the enemy. A report from Balta on the Spanish Coast states there were over 700 Germans on the Spanish Frontier. Many deserters from the enemy surrendered to the British and French. Fully armed. On the 26th a company of Belgian troops arrived at Jaunde from duty on the French lines of communication.

(Special to the Guardian.) LONDON, Feb. 1.—The satisfactory report of the British forces in East Africa came to-day in an official statement from General Smith-Dorrien, commander of the British troops in that territory. He says: "God progress is being made with the branch line from Voi Station on the Uganda Railway. The line, which had been carried as far as Mbuyuni, 15 miles east of Tavita, British East Africa, beyond Maktav, has not yet reached Serengeti camp, which was taken by British forces on Jan. 24th. With the exception of Longido and Serengeti, the enemy's activity is sensibly diminished."

INDIAN TROOPS AT MESOPOTAMIA
