Laws Are Alike For High and Low

TORONTO, Dec. 12.—Judge Widdifield, of the County Court here, in dismissing an appeal today by Charles Carr against a police court conviction and a sentence of seven days' imprisonment for being intoxicated while driving an automobile, said: "I cannot help the accused because his standing in society or in business circles may make the punishment serious or degrading. Canada's Position On Unpaid Taxes

Much Better Than That of Either the United States or Great Britain. Apropos of criticisms that have been made as a result of the Royal Commission on the Government's collections of the business profits tax, the following comparative figures of the collection of business profits taxes in Canada, Great Britain and the United States are illuminating:

Canada—Assessments, 1917 and 1918, accounting periods, $34,000,000; amount unpaid, $149,631. Assessments, 1919, accounting period, $28,500,000, amount unpaid not in excess of $1,650,000.

United States—According to statements in American financial journals, and undoubtedly authoritative, outstanding income taxes and excess profits taxes assessed, but unpaid amount to $600,000,000.

Great Britain—"In his budget speech last year Mr. Chamberlain estimated that on March 31 last he would have £400,000,000 (two billion dollars) of excess profits duties arrears to collect." Finance and Commerce (Feb. 1921).

Thus Canada's collection of business profits and income taxes is more efficient, more thorough and more complete than collections of similar taxes in either the United States or Great Britain; this despite the much greater experience that Britain has had in the collection of this kind of taxation. Canada is short a little over a million; the United States, six hundred million; England two billions.

Reconciliation Effected By Irish Peace Terms

Viscount Morley and the Earl of Dunraven Approve Premier Lloyd George and Will Move and Second Treaty Ratification.

LONDON, Dec. 13.—Of the remarkable episodes which followed swiftly one upon the other, through the past few crowded days of Irish history, there will be none more interesting than the reappearance and perhaps last appearance of Viscount Morley of Blackburn as a public figure, coupled with one of the rare entrances of Earl Dunraven into the House of Lords. These veterans who will move and second the ratification of the Irish treaty are eighty-three and eighty-four years of age respectively. John Morley was one of the pioneers of Home Rule in Gladstone's campaigns, and served two terms as Secretary for Ireland. Lord Dunraven is one of the great Irish landlords, has advocated Dominion Government in the last stages of the Irish agitation.

Suitor to See Girl Needs a Passport

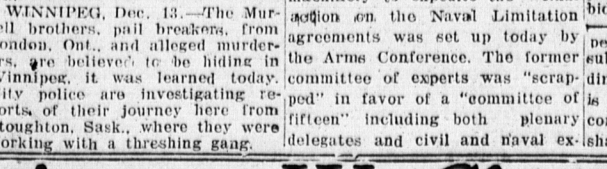

PARIS, Dec. 13.—How many Americans would suffer without a passport in this situation which demanded that they obtain a passport every time they wanted to pass an evening with their best girl only a few blocks away? This is what is happening daily in Tschchen, through which the boundary line between Poland and Czechoslovakia now passes, according to complaints that have reached the chancelleries of several of the great Powers, and which may yet result in shifting the frontier line to suit the requirements of the divided cities.

Will Guard the Prince of Wales

LONDON, Dec. 11.—A Reuter cable from Lucknow, India, says that Lucknow gave the prince of Wales a guard of honor from the usual official reception and the inspection of the troops by the Prince a procession was formed by a strong escort of the 10tht. Queens Lancers. The scene was really remarkable. A strike had been proclaimed by the Indian laborers to the European quarters the whole demeanor of the natives was one of friendly curiosity. Evidently the action of the Indian government in taking steps to put an end to intimidation by the extremists was pleasing to the native mind and who loves patriotism. Strike orders have in the past been obeyed, it is believed, more from fear than conviction. Obvious precautions were taken to prevent a recurrence of what happened at Bombay when the Prince was there but proved to be quite unnecessary.

Floods Doing Heavy Damage in Washington

SEATTLE, W.N., Dec. 12.—Ten persons are known to have been killed, a number of others injured and heavy property damage has been done by railroad accidents and landslides caused by the worst flood Western Washington has known in years. Heavy rains starting Saturday and continuing to the present, have sent rivers out of their banks, washed out bridges, torn through railroad embankments and interrupted rail and wire communication in many directions. Weather bureau officials held out no hope for relief for tomorrow, the forecast being for further heavy rains. The precipitation at Tacoma from Saturday morning to today measures five inches. Inundations of a large area was feared as a result of a jam of flotsam behind wreckage of a North-western Pacific train in Miller River, and workmen were busily trying to remove the wreckage before the river was dammed up enough to crash through the jam suddenly and send a dangerous flow of water to overflow nearby farm lands. Two lives were lost when the train plunged through the bridge, weakened by the floods.

Mr. Meighen is understood to have notified the Premier-elect that the old government will be ready to resign as soon as the new is prepared to take up the reins.
