ALLIED TROOPS LIKE STONE WALLS WITHSTOOD FURIOUS ONSLAUGHT BY THE KAISER'S FORCES

They Literally Annihilated the Masses of German Soldiers Hurled Against Them. British and French Troops Made Four Counter Attacks with an Irresistible Rush, Scores of Germans Surrendering. The German Effort to Cut Through to Northern French Cities has Failed. But the Battle is Still in Progress.

(Special to the Guardian.) PARIS, April 26.—A despatch received today from St. Omer says after recovering from the first terrific attack of the German hosts, the Allied troops stood their ground like stone walls, literally annihilating the masses of German soldiers who were hurled forward. At the first sign of wavering in the German attack the British and French troops opened a counter-attack. This was followed by another and a third and fourth. The German line broke, no living man over the rest of Europe is awaiting the outcome with undisciplined anxiety. Even the news that the allied fleet and army commenced an attack on the Dardanelles and that troops are advancing against Turkish encampments which a few days ago would have aroused enthusiasm, received only passing attention in the face of the stakes in the balance in the battle being fought across the English Channel.

(Special to the Guardian.) LONDON, April 26.—The tremendous battle begun by the German attack on the allied front around Ypres in the Plains of Flanders continues to rage with the fiercest of fury. The British and French troops are awaiting the outcome with undisciplined anxiety. Even the news that the allied fleet and army commenced an attack on the Dardanelles and that troops are advancing against Turkish encampments which a few days ago would have aroused enthusiasm, received only passing attention in the face of the stakes in the balance in the battle being fought across the English Channel.

(Special to the Guardian.) CHICAGO, April 26.—James Maher, National Supreme Director of the Knights of Columbus, is dead. (Special to the Guardian.) VIENNA, April 26.—An official statement by the War Office to-night is as follows:—In the Carpathians at East Prussia fighting continues. We captured yesterday a new strategic point south-east of Kozioukwa, taking several officers and more than 1,000 men prisoners. The Russians made counter-attacks on heights of Ostry in the east. These were repulsed with heavy losses. Two Russian battalions were almost completely annihilated and 100 prisoners were taken. Our troops pursuing enemy occupied 26 Russian trenches and captured much material. Russians before Uzzok have retreated.

KITCHENER APPEALS FOR MORE MUNITIONS

(Special to the Guardian.) LONDON, April 26.—Lord Kitchener today issued another appeal to the employees of the Vickers Works to make munitions of war at full pressure. The battle of Flanders has caused enormous expenditures of ammunition.

BRITISH BUDGET ON MAY FOURTH

(Special to the Guardian.) LONDON, April 26.—That Lloyd George will announce the annual Budget on May 4, was announced today. On Wednesday he will make his promised statement on the drink question.

SILLY GERMAN YARN.

(Special to the Guardian.) PORTLAND Ore., April 26.—Headed for the Atlantic coast of Canada is a German squadron bent on bombarding important cities and fortifications there, according to a letter received today, by Captain Carl Brauch, master of the German barque Dalsk, interned here since July 23rd, from a friend who is a deck officer in the German navy.

(Special to the Guardian.) PARIS, April 26.—The German press, basing its claim on so-called losses of the French army, says in a semi-official communication issued to-night that during the winter 30,000 French, which is the strength of an army corps, were put out of action in a single section of Argonne. It was stated also that a second French army corps which defended this part of the front disappeared after being almost entirely annihilated. It is true that the second army corps at the end of the winter was withdrawn from Argonne, but the Germans faced it in Champagne, and to this corps is due a large part of the credit for French success on the Perthes-Beausjour front.

SAYS ALL BELGIUM MUST NOW BE HELD.

(Special to the Guardian.) BERLIN, April 26.—"The pen of the diplomat must not spoil what the sword has so well achieved," proclaimed Councillor Passache, Liberal leader and Vice-President of the Reichstag, in discussing suggested terms of peace here today. He declared that Germany could never return land which was so thickly drenched with German blood. His speech was in direct contrast to recent suggestions that Germany might be willing to call the great world conflict a draw, and was the first direct utterance for territorial acquisition made by a prominent German official in several weeks.

VISITORS' DAY WEST KENT SCHOOL

Yesterday was "Visitors' Day" at West Kent School, Charlottetown, when a large number of parents and others interested had an opportunity of acquainting themselves with the excellent work of the pupils and the splendid condition of the school. From 9 to 11 a.m. the regular class work was conducted and the visitors had the pleasure of witnessing some very fine and creditable examples of penmanship and drawing and other specimens of school work, which reflected in no uncertain measure the thorough, efficient and above all, correct training which the scholars are receiving in the various rooms. At 11 o'clock visitors and pupils repaired to the spacious and comfortable hall of the building and, the assembly seated on benches arranged in terrace form, an interesting programme, consisting of speeches and a demonstration of physical drill, was carried through. Mr. T. C. James, a member of the School Board, acting as chairman. The pupils sang a splendid selection of songs, which delighted their auditors and compelled well merited applause; while a group of boys, under the direction of Mr. Yeo, one of the teachers, went through a number of physical evolutions, to the tune of music supplied by Professor Thompson. Mr. Yeo is a highly capable instructor and his efficiency was evidenced in the splendid performance to which the audience were treated. He spares no pains in his effort to bring his class up to a high standard, and although the boys who took part in the drill had but a short practice they acquitted themselves in a manner that would do credit to others who had undergone a full course of instruction. In the singing, Stewart Ross sang the solos in "We'll never let the Old Flag Fall." The chairman next called on the Superintendent of Education, Mr. R. H. Campbell, to speak. He congratulated the Principal (Mr. Johnson) and Vice-Principal (Mr. Campbell), as well as the teachers and pupils, on the fine performance which they had given and referred particularly to the singing, on which he commended them in very complimentary terms. In this regard he did not overlook Professor Thompson, who has done a great deal to improve singing at West Kent. Mr. Campbell also remarked on the increasing interest which was evidently being taken by the pupils in the school. This spirit of enthusiasm in the school, he said, was very encouraging, and he hoped that every boy would do all he could, by living a honest, manly life, and always acting the gentleman, to uphold the honour of West Kent School and of the province. He reminded them that in the present war a great many of the Islanders who had enlisted were "old boys" of West Kent, and suggested that a list of the names of the young men might be prepared and hung up in the school, so that it might serve as an incentive to the boys now attending the school to do their best in every one of the most important schools in the province. (This remark was greeted with applause on the part of the pupils.) He explained that "visitors' day" was required by the School Act, in order that parents and school trustees might see how the teachers were carrying on their work. He hoped that an increasing number of parents would take advantage of this opportunity each year. There was a larger attendance yesterday than he had seen on any previous visitors' day. The chairman then called on Mr. Harold Cross, Secretary of the Y.M.C.A., who congratulated the Principal and teachers on the splendid work of the pupils. This was his first visit to a school in Prince Edward Island, and while he had come from a part of Canada where it was thought there were good schools, he had to admit that the sample of work he had seen that morning had impressed him considerably and made him feel that there were very good schools in the province. He fully endorsed the sentiments of the Superintendent as to the duty of the boys in fostering the school spirit. Many fellows did not appreciate the benefits of the school until it was too late, and he urged on the pupils to take advantage of their youth and make the most they could of their time. They should aim at keeping school life clean and honest, and upon as high a plane as possible. He paid a warm tribute to Mr. Yeo on the excellent training which, he said, it was evident the boys had received in physical drill. In connection with the singing, he thought that there could not be too much of that. Singing in the school should be encouraged as much as possible. Dr. Ayers also expressed his pleasure at being present, and remarked on the excellence of the programme. Mr. James said he felt the morning had been a most successful one and he announced to the pupils that there would be a half-holiday. The event was brought to a close by the singing of "O Canada," the Island Hymn and the National Anthem.

ODDFELLOWS 96TH ANNIVERSARY

The ninety-sixth anniversary of the Independent Order of Oddfellows was fittingly observed by the members of the order, who attended in large numbers a re-union and smoker in their splendidly appointed quarters on Richmond Street last night. Mr. J. M. Murray, District Deputy Grand Master, occupied the chair, and in a few opening remarks reviewed the work for the last year. Throughout the world the order has met with an unusual measure of success, and the Charlottetown Lodges have had their full share of the same. A nicely balanced musical programme was rendered, consisting of vocal solos by Bros. Cosh, Robbins and Wellner, a violin solo by Bro. Campbell and readings by Bros. Rev. Geo. Taylor and D. Edgar Shaw. Addresses followed by Bros. Whear, McLaughlin, Rev. J. W. Whitehead, J. J. Mackinnon, W. F. Tidmarsh and others, which were enthusiastically received.

On behalf of Wildey and St. Lawrence Lodges, the chairman then presented the following brothers with veteran's jewels, all having attained twenty-five years' continuous membership in their respective lodges:— St. Lawrence Lodge.—Bros. W. F. Tidmarsh, A. H. Parker, D. A. Bruce, H. S. Coffin and George T. Lavars.

Wildey Lodge.—Bros. John McLeod, Malcolm N. Nelson, G. A. B. Macdonald and W. C. Turner.

Refreshments were then served, followed by the usual smoker. At the close of the evening's work, fitting remarks were made regarding the brothers who are absent on military duty, and the brothers present joined heartily in singing Auld Lang Syne in honour of those who are serving with the colours. This was followed by God Save the Queen, which brought to a close the most enthusiastic and largely attended meeting the order has held in Charlottetown for a number of years.

NURSE RICHARDSON NOT DEAD.

OTTAWA, April 22.—A cable was received by the Militia Department that there was no truth in the story that Miss Richardson of the Canadian nursing staff in England, was dead. She has been ill, but is convalescent. Miss Richardson's entire attention was given to the nursing of a daughter of the late Judge Richardson, and a sister-in-law of General Macdonald, Quarter-master General.
