HUMOR IN THE FAMILY.
Good humor is rightly reckoned a most valuable aid to happy home life. An equally good and useful faculty is a sense of humor, or the capacity to have a little amusement along with the humdrum cares and work of life. We all know how it brightens up things generally to have a lively, witty companion who sees the ridiculous points of things, and who can turn an annoyance into an occasion for laughter. It does a great deal better to laugh over some domestic mishap than to cry or scold over them. Many homes and lives are dull because they are allowed to become so deeply impressed with a sense of the cares and responsibilities of life as not to recognize its bright, especially its mirthful side. Into such a household, good, but dull, the advent of a witty, humorous friend is like sunshine on a cloudy day. While it is oppressive to hear persons constantly striving to say witty or funny things, it is comfortable, seeing what a brightener a little mirth is to make an effort to have some at home. It is well to turn off an impatient question sometimes and regard it from a humorous point of view, instead of becoming irritated about it.

"Wife, what is the reason I can never find a clean shirt?" exclaimed a good, but rather impatient husband, after rummaging all through the wrong drawer. His wife looked at him steadily for a moment, half inclined to be provoked, then, with a comical look, she said: "I never could guess you'd find a clean shirt, but I'm glad to hear you've found one. It's a good one, and so what might have been an occasion for unkind feelings and hard words became just the contrary. It's through the little vein of humor that cropped out to the surface."

Some children have a peculiar faculty for giving a humorous turn to things when they are reproved. It is just as well, oftentimes to laugh things off as to scold them. Let laughter be better than tears. Let us have a little more of it at home.

ducts, charging himself the wages of an expert.
This has kept prices of farm products at their present low level.
Yes, brother farmers, we do need more business methods in farming, it will show us where we are at and we will know what price to sell our products at to give us a reasonable profit.
There are men who have made farming pay and are as well off financially as many city business men, perhaps better, as bankers and lawyers who are in position to know will tell you.
But what rigorous economy those little boards represent, economy that left no room for the comforts of life and if put into practice by a city man would land him on easy street before the farmer was out of debt. Trusting you will again allow me space.
I remain, etc.,
