Rebels Send Warning of Attack

(Canadian Press) JERUSALEM, Jan. 29.—Damascus bankers have received letters warning them that Syrian rebels plan to make another attack on the city shortly and advising them to take steps to insure security of their families. Insurgents have cut the railway from Damascus to Hama and also have interrupted service between Hama and Aleppo.

Purchases Large Timber Properties

(Canadian Press) CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—The International Harvester Co. announced today its acquisition of valuable timber, water power sites, and pulpwood properties in British Columbia. The purchase includes quantities of fir and other saw timber sufficient for the company's large timber requirements for many years. The purchase price was indicated as approximately $6,000,000.

Place Names of Prince Edward Island

Pownall; bay, point and settlement with post office, lot 49. Pownall, 1765. After John Pownall, secretary to the Board of Trade and Plantations, 1768-61. Later secretary of state. Thomas Pownall (1723-1806), governor of Massachusetts, was a younger brother.

Prevost; cove and point, lot 28. Holland, 1765. After Major General Augustin Prevost (1723-86). Born at Geneva, August 22, 1723. A French family long settled in Switzerland, he was educated as a soldier and fought against the French at Fontenoy, where he was wounded. Upon January 9, 1765, he was promoted Lt. Colonel March 20, 1761, took the battalion to the West Indies, in 1780 having served 22 years in North America and the West Indies. General Prevost returned to England and purchased the estate of Greenhill Grove, near Barnet, where he died, leaving three sons and two daughters. His eldest son subsequently became Governor General of Canada and was created a baronet. See Augustin cove. Sometimes misspelled Prevost.

Priest; pond, lot 446. The name antedates 1833, and probably was named after Priest (later Bishop) McEachran, La. 1862. In 1862, the name was changed to Priest Pond. The name is a corruption of "prime," the first or south point of the compass. On the island is a point called "Pte au Sud ou de Prime." Also reefs. Holland also shows Prim village, lot 57. Wejowick meaning "Beside the flowing current," is the Micmac Indian name of point. Prim, Prim Island is Micmac, meaning "little island."

Primrose; settlement, lot 54. A post office July 1, 1896, to May, 1899. Re-opened, it was again closed September 18, 1915.

Prince Edward; island. In 1534 Jacques Cartier sailed along the north shore of the island, rounding North cape and preceding some distance along the western shore, without realizing that it was other than part of the mainland. The first mention of the island is in Champlain's work entitled "Des Sauvages," printed in Paris, 1603, where "Isle de Sainct Jean" is given as about thirty or thirty-five leagues long and about six leagues from the land to the south (quelque tiente ou trente-cinq lieues de long et de quelque six lieues de la terre du sud). The sign of Prince Edward Island, On Champlain's first map made in 1611, it is not shown. In that of 1612 it appears as a small round island marked "Isle St. Jean" and his last map it is clearly and correctly shown. In the 1632 edition of his voyage Champlain mentions being informed in 1623 by a pilot that the Basques had seized one of his vessels and taken it to a port they had found on "Isle St. Jean." The name St. Jean in its English form St. John, was retained after British occupation of the island. However in 1780 confusion caused by the resemblance of the name to St. John's city, Newfoundland, and St. John city, New Brunswick, had led Governor Patterson to propose that it be changed to New Ireland, and an act was passed for the purpose July 17, 1780, but disallowed the reason given being that the name of New Ireland was already appropriated. In November, 1798, an act with a suspending clause was passed by the provincial legislature to change the name to Prince Edward, after the Duke of

Kent, father of Queen Victoria, say was head of family of nine at undated plan by George Wright, 1799, receipt of the order in council to that effect being acknowledged by Gov. Fanning on June 13 1799 on which day the name appears to have been first used in official despatches from the governor. Epagwitek, meaning "at rest on the water," is the Micmac name. Pownall; settlement, with post office, Prince county, Holland, 1765. After George Augustus Frederick, Prince of Wales, afterwards George IV (1762-1830). "Captain Holland named it Pownall but never reached more than a plan on paper." Prospect Hill; settlement, lot 47. Lake, 1863. Punchbowl; pond, lot 21. Wright and Cundall, 1874. Devils Punchbowl is another name. Quagmire; river, lot 14. See Ellis. Quinn; brook, lot 13. Quins on Meacham, 1880, which shows John Quinn, settler. Raasay; settlement, lot 60. There was a post office of this name, or rather Raasa, in 1855. A Scottish settlement. After Raasay Island, Hebrides, Invernesshire, Scotland, New Melville. Ram; island, Malpeque bay. See Grover. Ram; island, North port. Campmeque harbour. Refer to Elizabeth. Ramsay; creek, lot 13. Meacham, 1880. Plan, has Montgomery after Hugh Montgomery, Widow Ram-

Old Dutch assures Healthful Cleanliness

Always clean the kitchen sink with Old Dutch. The soft, flat, flaky particles remove all the grease or dirt, visible or invisible, leaving it spotlessly clean and sanitary. Won't scratch or injure the hands. Save time, labor and money all through the kitchen with Old Dutch.

cross roads immediately in front of Richard Cumberland. Refer to the Red house with a stake driven through his body; where he still lies without a sign of even the stake to mark the spot. Red Point; settlement, lot 46. Lake, 1863. The point referred to is Hervey point which is sometimes known as Red point. Rensselaer Road; school district, lot 23. Reynolds; island, Murray Harbour. See Herring. Rice; point, lot 65, and cove, lot 29. Holland, 1765. After Rt. Hon. George Rice (1724-1779), lord commissioner of Trade and Plantations 1761-70. Meacham atlas calls the point St. Peters. Rice cove is a chart name. The Indian name of Rice point is Segunakadech, meaning "little ground nut-place." George Rice was the son of Edward Rice of Newton, Carmarthen-shire, M. P. for that county in 1722. He matriculated at Christ Church, Oxford, on January 26, 1742, at the age of 17, but took no degree and devoted himself to politics and local affairs. At the general election of 1754 he was returned, after a contest, for the county of Carmarthen and retained it until his death in 1779. He was also Mayor of Carmarthen in 1767. He married Cecil, daughter of William, 1st Earl Talbot, Lord Steward of the Royal household. On March 21, 1761, he accepted office under the Duke of Newcastle as a lord commissioner of the Board of Trade and Foreign Plantations, holding the post until April, 1770, when he was appointed treasurer of the King's chamber and a member of the Privy Council. Rice, who bore a high character, died in office August 3, 1779, aged 55. (Dictionary of National Biography.) Richmond; point, lot 28. Holland 1765. Its proximity to Cumberland cove suggests it commemorates

AVOIDED AN OPERATION

Mrs. Dayman Gives Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the Credit

Colborne, Ontario.—"When I was first married I was very thin and weak. The doctor said I was weak and would never be able to have a child, but I did, and from the time my baby came I suffered all the time. The doctor and I took medicine. Life became a burden, and doctors said an operation could help me, but my husband was opposed to that. I had seen Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine advertised, so I told my husband that I thought I would try it, and that I might get some relief, if not a cure. I had not taken one bottle when I could feel it helping me. I took five bottles and had better health. Now I have three girls and a boy and have done my work up to continuing. I am now at the Change of Life and owe my good health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I take a bottle when I think I need it." —Mrs. SUSAN DAYMAN, R. R. No. 5, Colborne, Ontario.
