

GRUESOME SIGHT AT CHERRY MINE

Fire About Quenched and Bodies Being Brought up. Bereaved Ones Circle About Pit Mouth in Deep Grief.

Special to The Guardian.
CHERRY, Ill., November 19—The St. Paul mine is almost conquered. The inspectors and geological experts have succeeded in clearing the shafts of the burning mine and the men and miners penetrated to the fathom depths of the galleries to fight the smouldering fire in the coal veins.

The recovery and identification of the dead bodies is now going on. The bodies of two men and a boy were brought to the surface. Four other bodies were dragged from the debris of the second gallery. About 75 other bodies were seen by the fire-fighters, but because the blaze is not entirely quenched the bodies are for the present beyond reach.

Grief-stricken men, women and children formed a great circle about the pit mouth from the mine. Many turned away, unable to endure the sobs and cries of the bereaved wives and mothers.

BRUCE McDOUGALL'S CONVICTION UPHOLD

Supreme Court of New Brunswick Confirms the Judgment of the Trial Court. Prisoner to Receive Sentence Next Tuesday. Some Time Already Served.

Special to The Guardian.
FREDERICTON, November 19—The Supreme Court today delivered judgment in a number of cases.

The Court was unanimous in opinion that the conviction in the case of the King vs Bruce McDougall, which had been reserved on certain grounds must stand.

On motion of the prisoner's counsel during the trial, the Crown presenting, the trial judge instructed the jury to find a verdict of "not guilty" on the counts imputing a knowledge that the items published were libelous.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty on the Bullock, Macrae, Kay and obscenity counts and disagreed on the Frink and Mullin counts.

It is unlikely that the Crown will prosecute McDougall on the Frink and Mullin counts.

McDougall will be sentenced in St John on Tuesday next.

The time between conviction and sentence which has been spent in jail by McDougall, will be taken into consideration and the sentence will commence from the day of conviction.

JESUS HAS SAID "COME UNTO ME"

Dr. Elliott Delivered a Beautiful Message From a Text Containing These Well Known Biblical Words.

Again the King's Business service, attracted the multitude last evening and the First Methodist Church was filled with an audience eager to hear the gospel, message by word and song. After the congregation had assembled Rev Mr Harrison offered prayer and before Dr. Elliott appeared Rev. Geo. E. Ross announced that an opportunity would be given at the service to signify by cards distributed the amount of free-will offering each desired to make.

He explained that Dr. Elliott had come without any guarantee of remuneration whatsoever except that during the last three days of the mission a free-will offering might be made to him by all who wished so to do and that this offering would be made through a special committee appointed from the various churches associated in the services.

Dr. Elliott chose as his text Matthew 11:28 "Come unto me ye that labor and I will give you rest." He spoke with impressive power on Christ's message to laboring people who very vividly he portrayed home life contrasting two homes in one of which Christ was honored and kindness and tenderness found expression on the part of all; and another devoid of the sweetening and sanctifying influences of the Spirit of Jesus in their regular work.

Sometimes we hear sinners say that they have been driven to sin because of the too-religious atmosphere of their early home life. The statement is utterly false. The strict attention to religious obligations in early life has saved thousands from going to perdition. One of the strongest bulwarks of our Canadian life is the conscience possessed for right and God.

Christ calls us all not to find our rest of heart and conscience in a theory or a doctrine on a beautiful conception but in Himself. Many a person tries to hide sin from God and strives hard to forget wrong by plunging into pleasure or pre-occupation in one form or another but nothing can give rest and peace of conscience but coming to God in Christ and down the burden of our life at the foot of Calvary. Mr. Natzger sang as a solo "Just as I am with- out one plea" and in the quiet of the moments succeeding many signified their desire to come to Christ who alone can give the peace every human heart craves.

At the close of the service Dr. Elliott met all Sunday School officers and teachers and conferred with them in making first Sunday a special day in the life of the church.

SENATOR LANDRY DENIES REPORT

OTTAWA, Nov. 18

On a question of privilege in the Senate yesterday Senator Landry called attention to a report in the Montreal Herald from Quebec, published November 10, which credited him with having created a scene at Spencerwood, at a luncheon given by the Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec, by resenting having been placed below Judge Langelier at the table. Senator Landry read some correspondence.

A letter from the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Quebec Legislative Council showed the question of precedence between a senator and the deputy lieutenant-governor had been raised by Senator Landry in connection with the opening of the Legislature, and that the question had been referred to a committee for decision. Before accepting the invitation to the Lieutenant-Governor's luncheon Senator Landry wrote the Lieutenant-Governor's A. D. C. pointing out that Judge Langelier was not entitled to rank as Chief Justice nor as Deputy Governor, for there was no such position in his opinion, and asking if he as Senator would be placed before Judge Langelier. Senator Landry received a reply that there would be no change in precedence, but that as in the past, each guest would be given the place to which the Lieutenant-Governor believed him entitled.

Senator Landry said that he had no doubt it had been expected he would refuse to attend the function, but he believed it his duty to attend and had written accepting and intimating that he expected to be placed before Judge Langelier. Accordingly he went to Spencerwood and found that his name was not on the table plan. He called the attention of the A. D. C. to this, and that official offered to give him the place of Judge Routhier. He did not want to displace Judge Routhier and he did not want his place, he said, to be taken by another senator.

He had not created a scene but merely left after giving the A. D. C. a letter to the Lieutenant-Governor, declining the invitation because his rank as a senator had not been recognized. He had not taken this stand for personal reasons, but to maintain the rights of the Senate.

Sir Richard Cartwright said he was sorry Senator Landry had lost his dinner. He would have the question of precedence investigated.

FOR THOUGHTFUL PEOPLE.

The reason why so many become chronic sufferers from stomach troubles and nervous disorders is because they depend on drugs that contain alcohol and Narcotics which occasionally give temporary relief. If drugs of this kind cured what need of their continuous use? Why they fail to reach the source of trouble viz: the plexus-gastric nerve, which alone gives power to the stomach to digest food. When the nervous system is run down from overwork or worry, the pneumogastric nerve suffers its share of the general ability. Then the stomach fails to perform its functions. When rightly used, Sterling Bitters reaches the source of the trouble and makes a cure that will last. It builds up the nerves, strengthens the stomach, dispels indigestion, constipation, gasses and dyspepsia. The heart does its work without pressure or flutter; the appetite becomes good and you sleep well. You build up rapidly and become the personification of robust vitality. Don't let your ills become chronic but get Sterling Bitters, the pure health giving remedy that has done so much for sufferers in our midst. Sold by F. McQuinn, 42 Queen Street, opposite Auld Bros. WOMAN LAWYER WINS LEGACY FOR CLIENT

NEW YORK, Nov. 18

Mrs. Sophia Mayer, the first woman lawyer to cross the ocean on a law case, won for her client a legacy of $100,000, and for herself an enviable name as a counsellor. She has just returned from Tarnow, Austria, where she went in the interest of Herman Ehrenhaft, a poor tailor with a large family, who formerly lived in this city, but who has recently made his home in Cleveland, O.

By the death of an aunt, Mrs. Julia Pivensky, widow of an Austrian nobleman, Ehrenhaft became heir to one-third of an estate valued at about $300,000 and it became necessary for him to be represented at the adjustment of the estate in the Austrian court of inheritance. Mrs. Mayer, who is a graduate of New York university law school, class of 1905, went at once to Vienna, where she had some difficulty in obtaining recognition because of her sex.

This difficulty was overcome, and at Tarnow she so cleverly presented the case in the interest of her client that the matter was soon settled and his share of the estate placed to his credit in the orphans' bank connected with the court.

MONEY BLOWN OUT WINDOW

MILLINOCKET, Me. Nov. 18

The interior of the bank of the Millinocket Trust Company was wrecked and the acting cashier, E. H. Gowen, of Reading, Mass., burned by an explosion of acetylene gas in the basement this afternoon.

The bank is a new building that it occupies exclusively, and is lighted by gas from the town plant. It is supposed that a leaking pipe caused an accumulation in the basement, and when Mr. Gowen went there to attend to the heater the explosion followed from a spark. The force was terrible blowing out all the windows upsetting the desks and furniture and sweeping checks, books, papers, several hundred dollars in currency on the cashier's desk into the street. All but about $30 was recovered, the rest having been lost in a general scramble by small boys.

Mr. Gowen was thrown down and badly shaken up. He was burned about the face and hands, but not seriously. The noise of the explosion created intense excitement, to which a report that the bank had been dynamited was added.

FIREMAN DEAD ENGINEER DYING

FORT WILLIAM, November 18

David Vance was instantly killed and J. J. Schurman is lying at McKellar hospital with a fractured skull and not expected to live, as the result of a wreck on the Grand Trunk Pacific railway yesterday morning. The accident occurred at Crest, a small village 21 miles west of Fort William. While the train was going down the hill at Crest, running at a high rate of speed, a fat car with caboose and engine, left the rails and plunged head first down the embankment.

Engineer Sheridan, at the throttle was unable to jump from the locomotive in time and he was thrown from the side of the tender to the ground, alighting on his head. His skull was fractured and it is also thought he received internal injuries. The fireman, however, jumped and did not receive a scratch.

David Vance, brakeman, was the sole occupant of the caboose and was thrown among the ruins. His skull was fractured and his body terribly mangled and he died instantly. The engine was not under control and was apparently running at too high a rate of speed approaching the station.

DILLON MAY YET ESCAPE GALLOWS

MONTREAL, November 18

John Dillon, the murderer of Constable Shea, who was to have been hanged tomorrow morning, was this afternoon granted a stay of execution until December 3rd, by Judge Tremblay in the court of the King's bench. The reprieve was given by the court after all applications for clemency at Ottawa had failed. A last fight was put up by Dillon's counsel in a stay of execution on the ground that there were facts which had not been brought out as to his condition of mind, and that the doctors which convicted him had unanimously signed a petition for commutation of his sentence. It was alleged by his counsel that Dillon is now an imbecile of 65 years, and not fit candidate for the gallows. The stay was granted by Judge Tremblay in order that an investigation as to his mental condition may be made but it is not now thought that he will be hanged. This will prove a disappointment to several hundred people late today from Ottawa that all such cases must be cancelled and no one but newspaper representatives and who had secured tickets to witness the execution tomorrow morning with instructions had been received by other privileged classes admit to the legal stigma.
