DOUBTS STABILITY IN MODERN SCIENCE

WASHINGTON, May 6.—Modern science may be no more likely to endure than that of the ancient Greeks, predicts Prof. Arthur H. Compton, of Chicago, winner of the 1927 Nobel prize for physics.

He advanced the view here last night that Greek science failed in its fight with Plato and Socrates because it started out "by promising to help men to live better, and did not succeed." By inference he predicted a similar fate for present-day science.

"Is a girl smoking and listening to jazz from a loud speaker what the great electrical pioneers have been working for?" he asked.

An X-ray machine which permits the technician to see in three dimensions instead of two was announced by Dr. Kenneth S. Cole, Columbia University.

BOY HERO CHARMS PEGGY ANN HOOVER

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The most wonderful man that Peggy Ann Hoover, aged six, ever met is Bryan Hoover, 13.

With awe-struck eyes she watched him today as he played "The Lonesome Cowboy," and "Turkey in the Straw" on the harmonica. When it came time for President Hoover to go to work, she took Bryan's hand in one of hers and the president's in the other and marched them both off to the executive offices.

The President and Mrs. Hoover have remarked that never has Peggy been so quiet as since Unlitch had been a White House guest. They are thinking of keeping him here as a disciplinary measure for Peggy Ann.

Peggy Ann has been Bryan's hostess. After breakfast she took him out to the White House kennels to feed the dogs. They got to talking about the West, particularly the section of Colorado where Bryan distinguished himself in his efforts to rescue 17

BRITISH EGG MARKET

In the current issue of the foreign egg market report the Poultry Division of the Dominion Department of Agriculture indicates that Great Britain at the present time is importing upwards of 4,840,000 dozen eggs per week. Denmark, the Netherlands and Poland are the largest contributors to this huge volume of exports; other countries include the Irish Free State, Belgium, Finland, France, Germany, Italy, Sweden, China and Egypt. Canada is not, at the present time, listed as a consigning country although a market which imports such huge quantities of eggs should hold some opportunity for Canadian producers.

Y. BOWLING

In the final game for the championship of the Commercial League Messrs. R. T. Holman, Ltd., team won from Messrs. Prowse Bros. team. The game was packed full of thrills and the large gathering of the fair sex from Holman's did much to encourage their boys. The lusty cheers of the ladies could be heard above the shouts of encouragement among team members.

Good natured banter from both teams tended to keep the boys keyed up to the highest pitch and to watch every ball delivered.

It is difficult to mention any names above the others but Percy McInnis and Capt. Wes. Whitlock led Prowse Bros. in high scoring while Ray Johnson and Harry McCallum led the winning team of Holman's.

Percy McInnis emerged champion of the league with a total pinfall for three games of 2144 or an average of 238.

Ray Johnson came next winning the high three of the series '81 or an average of 222.

The following is the standing of the ten players who rolled in the series:

FIRE PREVENTION

The education of girls and boys in the science of fire prevention is safeguarding Canada's natural resources and created wealth from destruction from unnecessary fires stressed by George F. Lewis, deputy fire marshal of Ontario, in his report as chairman of the National Fire Protection Association. Mr. Lewis is Canadian director of the Association, which is holding its 35th annual meeting at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, May 11th to 14th inclusive.

Greed animates the acts of the incendiaries, declares Mr. Lewis, in speaking of arson. The incendiaries cannot control the ravages of fire once he has touched the match. Thus unscrupulous criminals extort millions every year from the public and get away with it.

In urging legislatures to pass the "Model Arson Law" drafted by a committee of fire marshals, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce featured a resolution eleven years ago which is applicable to present day conditions. It is, in part, as follows:

"At a time when economy and conservation of our resources must be paramount, in order that every effort may have its full influence toward increasing production, it becomes the immediate duty of each person, each association to put an end to preventable waste through fire loss."

The Model Arson Law has been adopted by 27 states. The legislatures of 10 others are now considering it. This is in strong contrast to the conditions which obtain in Canada where the section of the Criminal Code covering arson belongs to a by-gone age.

"The penalty prescribed for arson is life imprisonment," Mr. Lewis asserts, "and it is difficult and hardly reasonable to expect a jury to bring in a verdict of 'guilty' no matter how conclusive the evidence, when the loss or damage is only a few thousand dollars and the penalty prescribed is imprisonment for life."

"The varying degrees of arson and incendiarism should be classified and the penalties meted to fit the crime. With such an amendment to the Canadian Criminal Code, conviction could be obtained where now the guilty parties are liable to go unpunished."

"It is the public who pay for this criminality. The insurance companies are simply the collecting agencies for comparatively small sums which they in turn hand over to the incendiaries in large amounts."
