Bebe Daniels Fast Comedy Pleases Thrills Audience

POULAR SCREEN STAR KEEPS PRINCE EDWARD SPECTATORS IN HIGH SPIRITS
"As amusing as she is beautiful" is the way one woman describes Bebe Daniels. This puts her comedy on a high plane indeed and, coming before Miss Daniels' admirer had seen "What a Night!", it shows that Bebe didn't have to make this convulsing comedy to establish her reputation.
If "What a Night!", which opened at the Prince Edward theatre yesterday, comes too late to add anything to the popular screen star's superlative reputation, it at least sustains it at the high point to which it has attained.
"What a Night!" is a fast moving comedy of newspaper life. It has all the excitement usually associated with a reporter's life worked into it and, in addition and without detracting from the absorbing melodrama, the charming, laughable incongruity introduced by Miss Daniels. There is a love story lightly told and pleasingly enacted.
Neil Hamilton, in the leading male role, is handsome and competent and William Austin, that inimitable "funny" man of the screen, has an unusual and mirth-provoking part as a male society editor.
The sequences of "What a Night!" are sure-fire for thrills and laughs and, in toto, excellent screen entertainment.
An added attraction is screen snapshots showing many favorite picture stars at work and play.

ADDRESSES ROTARIANS—Rev. J. S. Bonnell, Minister of St. Andrews Church, St. John, delivered a very forceful sermon, from the text "Can civilization be saved?" before the Rotary Club of St. John on the occasion of its attending the evening service of that Church on Sunday last in a body. Mr. Bonnell dealt with the principles of Jesus in international life, pointing out that we are witnessing, at the present time, a tremendous conflict between idealism and selfish material interests.

ISLANDER DEAD—A telegram from Victoria, B. C., conveying the sad news of the passing of another noble son of Prince Edward Island in the person of Elby E. Nicholson, was received a few days ago by Miss Flora E. Nicholson, Dundas, P. E. Island, sister of the deceased. The late Mr. Nicholson was born in Dundas, P. E. I., 58 years ago, a son of the late Donald and Margaret Nicholson of that place. He was a veteran of two wars, having enlisted in Greenwood, B. C., and went overseas with the first Canadian Contingent to South Africa, where he participated in many of the principal engagements of that war. During the Great War, he displayed a noble example of patriotism while although past the prime of life from a military point of view, he volunteered his services in defence of King and Empire and saw active service on the battlefields of France and Flanders. The surviving relatives, in addition to the above mentioned Flora E., on the old homestead at Dundas, P. E. Island, are Lemuel H., Vancouver, B.C., who was at his brother's bedside when he passed away; William J., Bridgetown, and Mrs. John Howlett, Annandale, in this Province.

"THE HISTORY OF ROTARY" was the subject of a splendid address given by Past District Governor W. S. Grant at the anniversary meeting of the Rotary Club held yesterday. At the conclusion of Rotarian Grant's excellent talk, a hearty vote of thanks was unanimously tendered. The tables were nicely decorated and the thanks of the club extended to caterer Mr. James Loneragan for the excellent birthday cake which was and pronounced good. Rotarians D. A. MacKinnon, W. C. S. McLure and Murray McNeill were welcomed back after considerable absence abroad. A hearty welcome was also tendered Judge H. L. Palmer on his elevation to that position. A special committee was appointed to look into the matter of bringing Mrs. Elsie McEwen, reader and impersonator to the city for a performance. The musical program was capably looked after by Mr. Ben Wagner, violinist and Miss Lillian Earle as accompanist.

Mr. R. S. Dove, well known commercial man arrived in the city last evening on his usual business trip in the interest of his firm. Mr. Dove plans to remain on the Island for the next few days.

"Blindfold" At The Capitol

Is it possible that your next door neighbor is a crook—or that your favorite physician and musician are leading "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" existences?
Quite, in both cases! If you care to see this interesting angle worked out in a thrilling Fox film production, step down to the Capitol theatre today and see "Blindfold."
"Blindfold," by Charles Francis Coe, has more than the theme and the work of the excellent cast to recommend it—for Charles Klein, the director, has broken all film traditions in his ingenious treatment of the story. He interprets mental action by visual means.
He does it with an agile camera. To tell how would give secrets away—but don't fall to see for yourself.
The chief acting role goes to Lois Moran, and it is one that thoroughly tests her versatility. George O'Brien plays opposite in a sympathetic role, that of a colorful and conscientious copper.
A surprise also is in store for the fans of that sterling actor Earle Foxe. His role is a mental one, as the neurologist, Dr. Simmons. Without doubt it is Earle Foxe's best to date and is the climax of an acting ambition—to be a great character actor.
That charming little senorita from Madrid, Maria Alba, handles the role of a fair innamorata, with the necessary fire, speed and feminine appeal. She's a new Latin Clara Bow, and much can be expected of her.
Don Terry, another Fox "find," plays the role of Buddy Brower. He is quite easy on the eyes and his work reveals potential star material. Fritz Feld also has a part.

Annual Meeting

Well! After a quarter of a century and longer (28 years) as a member and officer in the Royal Edward Chapter, I.O.D.E., I, too, feel inclined to ask the same question—"What kind of life is this we have been living" all these years?

Has the time, energy and strain been with the efforts put forth in helping keep alive this small branch of a great organization? Might not the same forces have been utilized or expended to greater advantage in other directions?
Be that as it may, it occurs to me just here, that a careful analysis of the order is required to give a clear and conscientious answer, so that we may not deceive ourselves by mere sophistry. If you all would carefully read your Echoes, page 3, you would now be spared the boredom of having the aims and objects brought before you, but let me here quote them once more:

1. To stimulate and give expression to the sentiment of patriotism which binds the women and children of the Empire around the Throne and person of their Gracious and Beloved Sovereign.
2. To supply and foster a bond of union amongst the daughters and children of the Empire.
3. To provide an efficient organization by which prompt and united action may be taken by the women and children of the Empire when such action may be desired.
4. To promote in the Motherland and in the Dominions the study of the history of the Empire and of current Imperial questions; to celebrate patriotic anniversaries to cherish the memory of brave and heroic deeds and last resting places of our heroes and heroines, especially such as are in distant and solitary places; to erect memorial stones on spots that have become sacred to the Nation, either through great struggles for freedom, battles against ignorance, or events of heroic and patriotic self-sacrifice.
5. To care for the widows and orphans and dependents of British soldiers or sailors and heroes during war, in time of peace, or under sickness, accident, or reverses of fortune.
6. The attaining of any analogous object.
7. Members are pledged to promote unity between the Motherland, the sister Dominions, and themselves; to promote loyalty to King and Country; to forward every good work for the betterment of their country and people; to assist in the progress of art and literature; to draw women's influence to the bettering of all things connected with our great Empire and to instill into the youth of their country patriotism in its fullest sense.

So, in looking over the history of this Chapter we older members feel a justifiable pride and satisfaction in knowing we have "Ever Loyally" striven to do our part by maintaining the high standard of fostering a personal and nationalism between the Motherland and Canada.
It takes time, Ladies, to work out the problems that have from time to time presented themselves to the Order, but the past year has been one more fruitful of greater unity and understanding between the Empire and the Dominions, thus emphasizing number seven (7) of the charter; in the promoting of unity, by the organized visits of the British school boys and girls, and the Parliamentary Empire visitors last summer, and which were found to be so successful that similar visits are to be carried out by which Canada will again play Host to 160 young Australian boys from 16 to 18, who will make a tour of the Dominion and the United States in April.
But here, I note that Prince Edward Island is not included in this itinerary, a matter to be regretted, for only a short time ago a party touring Canada and feted sumptuously in each province, after seeing "The Island," extolled its beauty and prosperity, exclaiming, "But, say! You have kept the very best part of the Dominion to the last."
Therefore, when the big and worthwhile affairs are being mooted—these educational and patriotic ventures are being arranged—it is our duty and privilege, though it means work and effort, to take an intelligent interest in any and all schemes that tend to the "betterment of our country."
Ten years of the eighteen pledged to the Educational War Memorial have passed, and this Chapter being among the first to complete its allotment, we may breathe more freely, and now, perhaps, undertake some schemes of local interest, but never forgetting our obligations to the Order when IT assumes any national or Empire responsibility.
That very live subject Immigration is of paramount interest to this Dominion, and we "Daughters" are being called upon to help in its development. The Secretary's report will show some of our activities along that line, but how much more we may do towards Canadianizing our new settlers and making them feel at home—our midst, for after all it is the personal touch that tells, therefore I would suggest that all of you who can might often visit them and show a kindly interest in their homes and children, but, by all means, avoid anything approaching pampering or lowering their independence—by instituting the dole system into our midst.

Let us continue to send our magazines, books and papers and give a helping hand when necessary by a personal friendliness.
During the interim between the South African and Great World Wars, this Chapter was largely concerned with local affairs, and tried to rouse interest in having a Mortuary Chapel, and Receiving Vault, and establishing a Home for Aged Ladies, but nothing practical has yet resulted from our efforts, but I do not despair of these being accomplished in time; as the Exchange Bureau suggested by Mr. Malone. These, with the projected Hospitals, are pressing needs, and, with a few earnest, active and capable workers these will take form some day.

Number seven (7) of the charter—(I remind myself of Old Polonius in his soliloquy re Hamlet and Ophelia, where he says "Still harping on my daughter." So I am "still harping on the charter!") Number seven is perhaps the most impressive in this whole Act of Incorporation for it embraces so much—May I please read it again? "Members are pledged to promote unity between the Motherland and Dominions and themselves; to promote loyalty to King and Country; to forward every good work for the betterment of country and people, to assist in the progress of art and literature; to draw women's influence to the bettering of all things connected with our great Empire and to instill into the youth of their Country patriotism in its fullest sense." And are not these the very things for which we have been striving? Is not this Patriotism of the highest order and may it not, Ladies, be in part an answer to the question, "What kind of Life is this We Lead?"
These efforts may lead us far afield and into devious ways, and the lions in the pathway very formidable, but remember, your smallest efforts are never in vain.
Much time may be spent in seeking to have the Bliss Carmens, the Roberts, et al their conferees come to our shores, the Charlotte Whittons with their banners re Child Welfare, the Red Cross with dear Miss Wilson in her efforts at nagers among the children and schools and the elimination of T. B. C., but our Educational efforts, in fact, our efforts in all lines have been unquestionably productive of much good in the community.
In truth, I sometimes feel like saying with Napoleon, (and this is another quotation from the calendar) The word "Impossible" is not, (or should not be) in our vocabulary"; for, with such a band of workers, this Chapter should accomplish great and wonderful things in the future, but we look to you younger members to take up the torch from failing hands and carry on.
Months ago, I urged that you do what might be called pioneer work regarding the acquiring of the Market Building for a Centre in which to house the Library, Museum, Art Gallery, Rest Rooms, Women's Exchange Bureau, Board Rooms for meetings, and the upper Hall still be preserved for large gatherings. Since then, other schemes for a Library and Gallery are being considered and planned, but they do not, or should not, interfere with the Market Building being converted into a Memorial Harris Hall in memory of its designer, the late Mr. William Harris, and having the objectionable features of a Market place removed from the very centre of this beautiful city.
The day is past for using that very finest business section for such offensive uses as displaying cow-hides, boxed swine, hay, potatoes, and all their concomitant bad and obnoxious swills in the heart and business section of this fine city. Don't be dismayed or discouraged by these words or outlook, for the day is coming when you will wonder that such an unsanitary building has been tolerated so long. Public opinion and other organizations will back up any scheme that is for the betterment of people and country! so, look to it ladies, and consider if this may not be your work in the coming years!
In the past, or primarily, our work was "To cherish the memory of brave and heroic deeds—(the Sarah Maxwells); the last resting places of our heroes and heroines, especially those in distant and solitary places—(The South African Graves Fund); the erection of Memorial Stones (The Soldiers' Monuments); to assist in art (The Miss Turners); and literature and since our young people shown to Canada their ability to compete and take first place in the Essays—(Miss?) and art, etc, I want to urge that they compete in the Short Story and Play Competitions. A post card to our Provincial Educational Secretary, Mrs. J. A. MacMillan is all that is necessary to gain the necessary information. Would any one forego these advantages and contact with the larger life? I fully realize the Home and Family ties are a woman's first duty and consideration, but these outside interests keep us in touch with this progressive age, and to this end I would urge the young people of Charlottetown to take advantage of these opportunities offered by the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire.

To our Educational Secretaries we owe a deep sense of gratitude for their loyal and untiring work in their educational and patriotic endeavours of the order. Long may the same interest be maintained in the schools for to them we must look for results.
I would remind those who may have the business on hand to be alert and have the prize Christmas Card for 1929-30 in our city for early sale. I understand this prize is to be divided this year because of equal merit of two competitors. A number of the last year's competitive cards were bought by firms in Toronto, and will be on the market this year.
Last June I had the privilege of attending the annual T. B. C. Meeting and hearing Dr. Creelman on this subject.
That this Chapter has already contributed $200.00 dollars, out of its very small revenue, towards the Sanitarium Fund shows its interest and zeal in this praiseworthy object. But with this and the new P. E. I. Hospital to be built, there will be need for all the enthusiasm and workers we can muster.
In closing I would express my sincere thanks to you, one and all, for your patience and kindly forbearance, and to you officers for cordial co-operation through an unusually trying year. To you new members we extend our cordial greetings, hoping you will take kindly to your new responsibilities, and do all you can to help along the work of this wonderful order and thus show in due time "The Kind of Life We Live"—or are trying to live.
Respectfully submitted,
LOUISE B. McCREADY
Regent of the Royal Edward Chapter, I. O. D. E.

SECRETARY'S REPORT

Twenty-Eighth Annual Report—1929
Madame Regent and Ladies:
I have the honor to present the twenty-eighth annual report of the Royal Edward Chapter, Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire.
During the year there have been held regular meetings, one special meeting and 5 executive meetings. The average attendance at regular meetings has been 17, and out of a membership of 90, 34 members have not been present at any meeting during the year.
Our delegate to the Meeting of the National Chapter held this year at Trinity College, Toronto, was Mrs. Kenneth Campbell of St. John, N. B. who also represented the New Brunswick Chapter. Mrs. Campbell's report, which was read at the October regular meeting, proved to be of exceptional interest, giving a detailed account of the discussions on questions of vital interest to members of the Order. The report of the delegate was enlarged on by the remarks from a member of the Chapter, Mrs. H. J. Palmer, who was able to provide an interesting personal touch in her reports of the many social and business functions she was able to attend during the week of meetings.
The reports of the convenors of committees will bring you detailed accounts of the work of the Chapter, but a general review of our activities may also prove pleasant and profitable.
Our revenue is as you know derived from 3 main sources—members' fees after the per capita to Head Office has been paid, the Alexandra Rose Sale, which brought in this year $273.43 and the Trafalgar Day Tea and Sale of Work, $178.44. Sometimes our Chapter undertakes other money making schemes, but this year has not been a particularly active one. When you pause to consider the multiplicity of the demands upon this Chapter for contributions of money in all manner of worthy causes, it is essential that members bear in mind
