NAPLES, Italy, Jan. 20.—A light earthquake accompanied by loud explosive noises from Mount Vesuvius alarmed Naples tonight. Peculiar behavior caused uneasiness among the inhabitants, although no casualties or damage were reported. A series of loud explosions were heard from deep down in the volcano at exactly 11.19 p.m. At the same time an earthquake of perpendicular motion shook the city for four seconds. The volcano's crater, which always has been illuminated at night by internal fires, went dark. The earth shock was light, but together with the ominous sounds was sufficient to wake many of the inhabitants of the surrounding region. The Vesuvius observatory reported that the earthquake apparently had its epicenter under the mountain. No explanation for the disturbance was advanced other than whatever happened evidently was deep down in the volcano.

The pictures, he says, were later used on a two-dollar bill.

25 Per Cent Need Glasses

(Canadian Press)
TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 20.—One out of every four persons needs glasses, but only one in eight wears them, declared Dr. Charles Sheard of the Mayo Foundation, Rochester, Minn., addressing the Optometrical Association of Ontario convention here today. He strongly recommended compulsory inspection of children's eyes. Women with defective eyesight who hoped to get relief by using "eyeball lenses" without their beauty being marred are due for disappointment, Dr. Sheard said. He declared he had little or no faith in "contact lenses" and does not believe such lenses could be used successfully except in the case of an extremely abnormal ocular condition.

NO CONFERENCE AT LAUSANNE ON MONDAY

Guarded Announcement Indicates That Conference Has Been Postponed.

(By Philip H. Myring, Associated Press Staff Writer)
LONDON, Jan. 20.—(A.P.)—The government announced tonight in a foreign office statement that it was "evident" the Lausanne reparations conference could not begin next Monday, as originally had been planned. The announcement raised doubts among responsible commentators about whether the conference would be held at all, and on this point the official statement was extremely guarded. "The conversations which have been taking place between the governments chiefly concerned with the conference at Lausanne are not yet concluded and it is evident that the conference cannot be begun as early as next Monday, the date which had been provisionally arranged," the statement said. "Further conversations are now

THE SINO-JAP SITUATION

GENEVA, Switzerland, Jan. 20.—Reports that the Nanking Government contemplates invoking articles XV and XVI of the League covenant at the regular meeting of the League Council next Monday brought from authoritative quarters here today the comment that such a move might be blocked by technical and legal difficulties. The highest Chinese hope under article XV is to have the Manchurian dispute referred to the League Assembly. But this article provides that such a request shall be made "within fourteen days after the dispute is submitted to the council." The Manchurian issue was submitted to the council by China four months ago. As for article XVI, which provides for economic and military sanctions, action is based upon the hypothesis of a "resort to war" by one of the parties to the dispute. This involves a definition of war, and Japan denies waging war, but in that case she would be the offender under the covenant.

Is Acquitted On Charge Of Manslaughter

Trial Of Charles MacDonald Ends In Verdict Of Acquittal In Supreme Court.
Charles MacDonald was acquitted of the charge of manslaughter in the Supreme Court yesterday afternoon, the jury returning their verdict after an hour and twenty-five minutes deliberation. The Court resumed hearing of the case at 10.30 yesterday morning when Harry MacDonald, last witness for the defense, was cross-examined by the Crown. Witness stated he had been at the exhibition from 3 to 5 o'clock on the afternoon of Aug. 22. He had not been drinking that day. He and his brother went for a drive with Charles MacDonald; they left the market square about 7.30. Witness did not remember stopping or getting out of the car before the accident occurred. He remembered Forrest saying "What's that?" Charles (MacDonald), said "I think I hit someone." Witness denied that MacDonald said "I think I hit someone." When they returned to town they turned up by way of Gerald St. Witness got out at Wise's Store. He called at his sister's and then went down town. First he heard that boy was killed was at Police Station. Re-examined for the defense, witness stated that Charles MacDonald told him he was going home when they parted at Wise's corner.

Einstein Brings "Husband" And "Wife" Together

(Canadian Press)
PASADENA, Calif., Jan. 20.—The scientific mind of Dr. Albert Einstein, described by contemporary scientists as "the greatest thinker since Newton," has brought together a union of gravity and electro-magnetism. Dr. Einstein, in addressing a group of scientists at the California institute of technology yesterday said: "You see, we had the wife, electro-magnetism, and the husband, gravitation, but they were separate. Now we have them together and what could be more natural?" Dr. Einstein said he had worked out new mathematical equations by which gravitation and electro-magnetism are logically unified. This is considered an important link in his "unified field theory," which seeks to prove that there is but a similar background for all material activity in the universe. To complete the wholesale union of nature's forces, Dr. Einstein set out to show that gravitation and electricity are so closely welded that they may be considered theoretically as one and the same thing.

Suggest Increase In Postal Rates

(Canadian Press)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 20.—(A.P.)—An increase in postal rates to meet a prospective $150,000,000 deficit in United States post office revenues was recommended today by Postmaster General Brown. He appeared before the House of Representatives Ways and Means Committee to explain the administration's request for increased postal revenues to help balance the Government's budget. Brown recommended that the first class postal rates be increased from two to three cents an ounce and estimated this would bring in $100,000,000 additional revenue. Brown said he favored a slight advance in second class rates. The Postmaster General also recommended increases in registered mail fees, insurance rates on parcel post, money order fees, and fourth class mail rates.

DEPRESSION Ground Rolled LIFTING IN As If In Waves

Another Slight Tremor Last Night Followed Monday's Night Of Terror In Lima, Peru—One Killed And Few Injured.

(Associated Press)
LIMA, Peru, Jan. 20.—Inhabitants of Lima, severely shaken last night by an earthquake, felt a lighter tremor tonight, the third in two days. The shock tonight came at 6.15 p.m. The newspaper El Comercio reported that one person was killed in the crumbling of a house at Huacho in last night's quake, which rolled the ground as if in waves and frightened the people of Lima. Only two were reported seriously injured here, although 58 persons received treatment at first aid stations for heart attacks and nervous shocks. Buildings were cracked and windows broken by the underground disturbance, which was felt strongly at Huaraz, Pisco, Canete, Ica and other nearby towns.

SENTENCED TO HANG

HULL, Que., Jan. 20.—(By the Canadian Press)—Without a trace of fear, and smiling as the jury was formally polled, Austin Cassidy, charged with a murder committed more than a year ago, today heard the death sentence pronounced upon him for a second time. April 8th was fixed as the date of execution. Before Chief Justice R. A. E. Greenhields and an assize court jury, Cassidy had stood trial for three days for the slaying of Bertram Marshall, prominent young Ottawa athlete, in Hull on the night of October 15, 1930. Forty-seven minutes after the jury retired, the solemn return was made to the court room packed with more than 900 spectators and a verdict of "guilty" delivered. Cassidy was permitted to make a statement, during which he pleaded the execution date be made "as soon as possible," and then, donning the black cap, the Chief Justice sentenced him. As sentence was pronounced, Mrs. Mary Cassidy, mother of the prisoner, who had stoutly defended him during his trial, collapsed and was taken from the court room. Cassidy, near collapse earlier in the day, did not flinch. It was his second trial. At the first he was convicted and sentenced to hang, but an immediate appeal was made, and a new trial granted.

Is Worth Less Than A Million

(Canadian Press)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 20.—President Hoover's private fortune was estimated at less than a million dollars in the House yesterday by Representative Wood of Indiana, the chairman of the Republican National Congressional committee. Wood is ranking Republican member of the House appropriations committee. He opened the debate on the Agriculture Department's $175,000,000 supply bill for the next fiscal year with a demand for a reduction in salaries of government employees. Asked by representative Shannon, Democrat, Missouri, whether President Hoover would approve a reduction in his salary and what was the extent of the chief executive's private fortune, Wood answered: "He has made a lot of money, but he has given it away. My information, from a reliable source, is that the President today is not worth a million dollars."

WILL PROTEST THE ARREST OF GANDHI

BOMBAY, India, Jan. 20.—(Canadian and Associated Press Cables)—The Merchants' Organization, comprising representatives of markets and exchanges that have been closed for 16 days, tonight laid plans for a mass meeting tomorrow to protest the arrest of Mahatma Gandhi, Nationalist leader, and ordinances directed against the Nationalist civil disobedience campaign. The meeting, if held, would violate the Government ordinances forbidding gatherings of more than five persons. The attitude of the authorities towards the proposed meeting was not made known. Statistics from "authoritative sources" were published purporting to reveal the effect of the Nationalist boycott against British goods. They show Japan has shipped nearly 15,000,000 yards of cloth to India in one month, compared with less than 3,000,000 yards shipped by concerns in Great Britain during the same period. Two sixteen year old girl students from the University of Bengal went to trial today before a special tribunal in Calcutta, charged with the murder of Magistrate C. G. B. Stevens who was shot to death a month ago. Both pleaded not guilty. A British police sergeant was stabbed in the head at Dacca by an unidentified assailant who stole his revolver and fled. Two suspects were arrested. When a crowd attempted to seize several prisoners in Gorakhpur police fired two rounds of buckshot without wounding anyone. Sen Gupto, former Mayor of Calcutta and a prominent Nationalist, was arrested today as he stepped off an Italian ship. No specific charge was lodged against him.
