Summerside Fittingly Observes Coronation

Special Church Services Held. Colorful Parade From Armouries To The High School Where Patriotic Speeches Were Delivered.

Brilliant sunshine favoured P. E. I. for yesterday's ceremonies. At Summerside all was in readiness early in the morning for the great occasion. The Post Office, Armouries and town buildings were hidden behind a flare of Union Jacks and bunting, and at night lights, flashing red, white and blue, twinkled in many of the windows. The ceremonies were fittingly opened with services in St. Paul's and St. Mary's Churches. At St. Paul's at 8 o'clock solemn high mass was celebrated by Rt. Rev. Mgr. G. J. MacLellan, V. G., who afterwards preached an inspiring sermon on the text "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and unto God the things which are His." After the mass a prayer for His Majesty King George VI was offered up after which the "Te Deum" was sung. The service concluded with the National Anthem.

In St. Mary's Church there was a choral celebration of the Holy Eucharist. Ven. Archdeacon C. De W. White, D.D. was the celebrant assisted by Mr. Andrew Fitzcarron. Processional hymns were sung during the service by the choir. At ten o'clock the parade assembled at the Armouries and marched through the gaily dressed streets headed by a color party of P. E. I. Highlanders to the High School which was dressed in its best with the school colours and Union Jacks. In the parade were the Police, War Veterans, the Band playing stirring music, Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, Nurses, Mayor, Councillors and school children, wearing the medals and carrying flags.

A most impressive service was carried out in the Auditorium which was filled to capacity. Mayor Robinson presided. On the platform were members of the clergy, members of the government, school board and distinguished ladies and gentlemen. The stage was draped in Red, White and Blue. At the commencement the Coronation Prayer was offered by Rev. L. E. G. Davies, followed by a selection from the band. Mayor Robinson in a few remarks welcomed the citizens and spoke kind words of greeting to the school children. In speaking of the coronation at Westminster Abbey, the Mayor said, "that the now have much more significance for us as we are free and equal partners in the great Commonwealth of the British Empire". He spoke with pride of the new Queen that she is the first Queen of Scotland to be crowned in the Abbey for 400 years. In conclusion he asked that all pray for Their Majesties for help and visitors who attended church services watched a military parade, heard the King's speech and saw a sham battle and fireworks. The weather was ideal.

SANT JOHN—This city had the noisiest celebrations since Armistice Day, 1918. The day opened with impromptu salutes by citizens discharging giant firecrackers. Focal point of observances was the Barrack Green where 2,500 school children gathered and heard the royal salute fired. Factory operators and ship captains added to the din by ordering whistles blown. Balls were held last night and citizens were entertained to open air concerts.

MONTREAL—The greatest peace-time military display in the province's history featured Quebec's celebration, in every city militia units paraded while thousands attended church services. The attack battery at Quebec roared a royal salute that was echoed by guns across the province. High above Montreal, on Mount Royal, the Royal Standard was broken out of the guns boomed.

OTTAWA—Toronto's great parkion preceded to Queen's Park where the royal salute and feuded-upte were fired. Great War veterans of 100 units planted oaks in a new park near the exhibition grounds to be known as Coronation Park. Fireworks displays were included on the program.

CALGARY—Citizens of this foothills metropolis attended a solemn service of homage at Victoria Park seeing the city's greatest peace-time military parade. In other cities similar observances were held.

VICTORIA—Premier Pattullo of British Columbia rushed to three cities to attend Coronation observances. He attended ceremonies

Meeting Of Summerside Town Council

The regular meeting of the Summerside Town Council was held on Monday evening. After the reading of the minutes by the Clerk, Nell E. Durant the Town bills were presented and approved. Paid bills $1556.92; unpaid bills $1284.37; Electric Light paid bills $1284.37; Electric Light unpaid bills $315.40. Several letters were read and received by the Council, including one from the School Board, which was left in the hands of the Mayor and Finance Committee.

Requests from several parties for concrete sidewalks were: one from Mr. Harold Gaudet for a walk on the south side of First Street, which runs down the side of the theatre and for which Mr. Gaudet offers to pay one half the cost. Another from the stewards of Trinity United Church asking for a concrete walk on the north side of the church. They also agreed to pay half the cost.

A motion was made authorizing to have these requests granted. A request from A. E. Brennan to have certain repairs done at the air port, was replied to that these matters have been attended to. In the requisition for supplies for the Fire Department was two brass adaptors, which would enable the use of other fire hose other than the local hose should a serious fire occur at any time.

QUEENS WHARF
A letter from the Recorder, E. H. Strong, K. C., stated that the sale to the Irving Oil Co., of Queens Wharf which had been decided to the Town of Summerside in 1876 by the Provincial government, was duly authorized and final arrangements could now be completed. Mayor Robinson stated that the Town Council will protect the rights of citizens when the transfer of the wharf to the company is made. Coun. MacKay also stated that there was no intention of doing away with citizens rights as had been suggested in a report of the Marine Committee at a recent meeting of the Board of Trade. A petition from prominent citizens for a Town set of scales was asked to be considered by the Property Committee.

A motion was passed to accede to a request from the Board of Trade to grant a sum not exceeding forty dollars for advertising in a tourist booklet.

WATER STREET
Another matter that came up was the decision of the Council to widen Water Street as well as to narrow it to prevent traffic. It was decided to set back the curb some distance to make the desired change. The Street Committee was authorized to give the work to the Warren Paving Co.

A motion was passed asking Messrs. R. T. Holman and Braco MacKay to remove their gas tanks from Water Street as they would interfere with the widening of the street.

TAX ON BICYCLES
A new bye law passed with regard to bicycles. A registration fee of 50 cents would in future be imposed on all owners of bicycles operating them in the Town of Summerside.

No one would be allowed to drive a bicycle within the town unless duly licensed and registered. In addition lights or reflectors must be placed on the rear and front of machines, and further no owner shall drive his bicycle on a public foot path. Anyone violating the regulations will have their license suspended and a fine imposed not exceeding $5.00 or ten days in jail. Not more than one person may ride on a bicycle at one time.

POLICE REPORT
The Police report showed ten convictions for drunkenness; two

KING ENTERS

shout: "God Save the King," echoed around the world and was taken up wherever the British flag was flying.

Despite threatening skies of the early morning, the day was fair for the most part, although rain fell as the procession made the return trip to Buckingham Palace.

MAGNIFICENT SETTING
Nature and human ingenuity had transformed the route into a magnificent setting for the pageant of Empire. The King, a regal figure in his crimson and gold royal robes of state with heavy Empire trimmings, looked calm and confident. The Queen, although slightly pale, presented a beautiful and stately picture in her royal robes. Both acknowledged the constant acclaim of their subjects with smiles and frequent waves of the hand.

East met West in the cavalcade of Coronation, reflecting the solidarity, splendor and extent of the Empire. On every hand there was colour—gleaming breastplates, flying plumes, pikes, halberds. Staccato rhythm of the drums and the flourish of trumpets and fifes supplied an added touch.

The cream of the home and overseas services escorted the Royal procession and scores of thousands cheered the display. A particularly rousing reception greeted the Royal Canadian Mounted Police detail which flanked the coach carrying Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada.

MILITARY DISPLAY
Prominent in the military contingents from every corner of the Empire was the Canadian group of about 350 men under the command of Colonel J. E. L. Straight. The Royal Canadian Mounted Police, in their scarlet tunics and wide-brimmed hats, contrasted with the khaki uniform of the regular militia detachments, the light blue of the Royal Canadian Air Force group and the dark blue jackets and leather leggings of the Naval detachment.

Broadcasts Thanks
Rain fell as the Monarchs left the Abbey in early afternoon, but the crowd stuck it out and there were cheers and shouts at every turn of the long route homeward, where King George in the evening broadcast to the Empire his thanks to his subjects.

The King's broadcast was accompanied by messages of tribute and homage by the Prime Ministers. Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada declared the Coronation with its significance "as wide as the seven seas" expressed "the unity of the nations of the British Commonwealth secured by their free political institutions, their free association with one another and their common allegiance to the crown."

Declaring he thought there was only one way to make an impression of the day's activities, Prime Minister Baldwin urged his listeners to dedicate themselves to service of their fellow—"a service of our lives, as we know will be the service of our King and Queen."

While Their Majesties were appearing on the palace balcony to smiling and waving, though previously it had been announced they would not appear again.

The Scottish-born Queen remained alone this time for a few moments after the King re-entered the palace.

Still again they appeared as the excited throng shouted for another glimpse of the Sovereign and his Consort. It was 10:30 when they emerged to say a good night to the crowd that gave a great cheer and doffed hats.

From the palace it was announced the King "was not unduly tired" by his arduous day. Still the crowd was not satisfied. Hoarse and soaked by rain, they piled cheer atop cheer until finally, just 10 minutes short of midnight, the King and Queen again appeared.

The crowd would not take even this good night seriously but police broadcast there would be no more appearance and finally the throng melted away to seek rest or other diversion.

Streets Thronged
Heavy rain, that held off most of the day, fell during the afternoon and evening but entirely failed to affect the enthusiasm of the throngs that filled all streets singing, dancing, tossing confetti and climbing statues. Bobbies looked on tolerantly.

Reverly in night clubs, hotels and homes continued into the night, although noticeably not so gay as last night. Everybody seemed a bit weary after the long hours of sitting or standing watching the great pageant of Empire that unrolled over some 10 miles of streets and filled the grey, historic Abbey.

Rain began just as the King and Queen left the vaulted Abbey, where 7,700 bejeweled and rich-robed peers and peeresses lords and members of Parliament, visiting royalty, envoys of Britain's Dominions and of foreign governments watched the centuries-old ceremony of Coronation, the placing of the crown which Edward renounced for love. The climax came at 12:30 p.m.

Crowning Ceremony
The Venerable Archbishop of Canterbury stepped before the altar and took into his hands the crown of St. Edward.

He intoned in prayer: "O God the crown of the faithful; bless we beseech thee and sanctify this thy servant George our King; and as thou dost this day set a crown of pure gold upon his head, so enrich his royal heart with Thine abundant grace, and crown him with all princely virtues through the King eternal Jesus Christ our Lord."

As he placed the crown upon the King's bowed head there was a great shout, "God Save the King." Trumpets sounded. Guns in the Tower of London boomed. The crowded thousands outside took up the cry.

As radio and cable carried the word around the world through Britain's far flung domain, other cannon roared and other crowds echoed the shout.

Of the teeming thousands gathered along the processional route more than 7,000 fainted, mainly from exhaustion. It was the greatest crush London has known.

A girl fell down an elevator shaft and was killed. A youth was killed fighting in the crowd for a vantage point. An elderly man was reported killed in the crush.
