Janet Gaynor In "3 Loves Has Nancy" At Prince Edward

Smartly dialogued, brimming with laughs, and offering finished and believable characterizations by such stellar performers as Janet Gaynor, Robert Montgomery and Franchot Tone, "Three Loves Has Nancy" opening today for two days at the Prince Edward Theatre as one of the most refreshing and original romantic comedies seen here in some time.

The story is that of a flippant novelist who gets into difficulties with a Broadway actress. In an endeavor to escape the overtures of the too eager admirer, he persuades his publisher to send him on a lecture tour of the South. Here he meets Nancy, a small-town girl who is invited to seek his help should she ever get into trouble in New York. He forgets all about her, only to find her waiting at the penthouse apartment he shares with his friend, the publisher, upon his return.

The ensuing complications provide some of the fastest and merriest comedy seen this season.

Janet Gaynor is excellent as the small-town girl who puts her trust in "Jesus" and the hands of her newly-found metropolitan friends. Montgomery plays the debonaire novelist to the hilt, and Tone is ideally cast as the somewhat bibulous publisher.

ST. JAMES CHURCH

A special service was held in St. James Church which was attended by Sea Rovers, Scouts, Cubs, Girl Guides and Brownies from St. James and other churches. The service was largely attended and an inspiring sermon delivered by the minister, Dr. R. Moorhead Legate. The full text is published elsewhere in this issue.

The music at the morning service included an anthem "The King of Love My Shepherd Is"—Shelley in which the solo parts were taken by Mrs. J. A. Lawson, Mrs. N. D. MacLean, and Mr. Charles MacKenzie. Mrs. H. S. Henderson gave a very beautiful rendition of Lindsay's "Come Unto Me."

At the evening service Dr. Legate preached from the text Philippians 2nd Chapter 5th verse "Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus. He humbled himself."

BAPTIST CHURCH

The morning sermon by the Rev. Harvey L. Denton B.D. was "The High Tower." The Ninety fourth Psalm strikes a very modern note. Many of the problems of the author's day resembled those of our day. Some time ago an American preacher took as his theme "Why Does Not God Intervene?" The Psalmist so long ago met the same question with "in the multitude of doubts Thy mercies comfort my heart," and with "But Jehovah is my High Tower." It was a high tower of escape, offering peace, contemplation, rest. But the High Tower was more than that, it was a vantage point from which one might see the whole instead of the smaller near problems, one could look backward and learn, he could look forward and see that the permanent values of the past are still permanent and one may wisely evaluate the present. The High Tower was a place of permanent hope in God. The Lord is my High Tower, my God is the Rock of my Hope.

The morning anthem was "Jesus, Lord of God Incarnate." Miss Vera H. M. Campbell sang effectively "Be Thou My Vision."

The evening sermon was "The Great Securities of Faith." The anthem of the evening "Sullivan's" was sung by Miss Vera H. M. Campbell. The Communion of the Lord's Supper was observed at this service.

Home After Sad Mission

Mr. John E. Jordan, of 114 Kent Street, Charlottetown, P. E. I. returned home from Amersburg, Mass., on the late train on Saturday evening, after attending the funeral of his youngest daughter, the late Mrs. Emily (Jordan) Rogers, who passed away at the Amersburg Hospital on Monday last. Mr. Jordan had previously made a trip to Amersburg, Mass., and returned early in May to see his daughter, who had successfully passed a serious operation, and was doing nicely. But on May 18th however, a telegram was received here that she was sinking rapidly and Mr. Jordan again made the long trip, wishing to be at her bedside, to say a fond good-bye. In case she might be called away, Mr. Rogers was born at East Orange, N. J. in 1910.

She is survived by a husband, and two children aged four and two years in addition to her father in this province.

Mr. Jordan's many friends extend to him, their sympathy in his sad bereavement.

MISS FRANCES E. A. JOHNSON

The death occurred in Charlottetown on May 11th, after a year's illness, of Miss Frances E. A. Johnson, eldest daughter of the late Dr. Hammond Johnson of Charlottetown.

Miss Johnson was a cultured and most estimable Christian lady, a member of a family that is well known and greatly esteemed throughout the province.

She was a member of the United Church and took a deep interest in its activities. She was devoted worker for the Queen Mary Guild and the Canadian Legion, and also for charitable and philanthropic organizations.

She leaves to mourn one brother, Col. H. D. Johnson, M. D., and one sister, Miss Mary Johnson, of Charlottetown.

SOUTH AFRICAN VETERANS—In connection with the Royal Visit it has been suggested that more attention should be given to the claims of one class of men who are entitled to recognition on the basis of patriotic service. These are the South African War Veterans, a number of whom have also served in the Great War. The list includes Charles Hynes, Walter Lane, James S. Walker, Ambrose Rodd, Laurence Gaudet, Frederic Wey, Fred Fuzze, Reginald Cox, William Cook, Jimmy Kennedy, C. F. Pooley, John Lawlor, Harry Hyde, Col. H. D. Johnson, and William Warren.

PLANTED BY KING EDWARD VII—A correspondent expresses regret that the programme of the Royal Visit does not include inspection of an historic tree on the farm now owned by Messrs Lincoln and Wendell Wood. The tree was planted in 1860 by the late King Edward VII. It is located on the lawn, and in excellent condition, being one of the largest trees on the island. The King (then Prince of Wales) and his party drove on horseback to the country, stopping at the Wood farm to enjoy the view of the city and surrounding country. The planting of the tree was not officially scheduled but it remains possibly the only reminder of this historic visitation.

LAD TO REST—The funeral of the late Mrs. Thomas H. White was held from their late residence, 57 Hillsboro Street yesterday afternoon where services were conducted by the Rev. PERSONALS

Mr. W. E. Enman arrived in the City from Halifax Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart MacLaren of Saint John, spent the week-end in the city, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Bruce, Water Street.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in St. James' Presbyterian Church, Charlottetown, at 10 o'clock Saturday morning when Miss Margaret Elizabeth Rogers, daughter of Lieut. Col. K. S. and Mrs. Rogers of Charlottetown, was united in marriage to Mr. Robert F. Large, of Sackville, N. B., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Large of Charlottetown.

The Rev. R. Moorhead Legate, D.D., pastor of the church performed the ceremony. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father was charming in a jacket-dress of aqua-turquoise lace, with a matching halo hat. She carried a large bouquet of tallisman roses. The couple was unattended.

The wedding march was played by Mrs. G. E. Full. Soft music was played throughout the ceremony.

Before the ceremony, the choir sang "O Perfect Love," and during the signing of the register Miss Marguerite Cudmore sang "Because."

Mr. Newton Large, brother of the groom, and Mr. Keith Morrow, acted as ushers.

Mrs. Rogers, the bride's mother was attired in a gown of blue crepe, with which she wore a large hat and a corsage of colored sweet peas.

The mother of the groom wore a mauve sheer dress, with a black fox fur and a large black hat. Her corsage was of sweet peas.

The floral decorations in the church consisted of lilies, roses and gladioli.

Following the church ceremony a buffet breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, where immediate relatives and personal friends of the bride and groom were received by the bride by Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. Large.

The house was beautifully decorated with flowers.

For her going-away costume, Mrs. Large chose a navy-blue tailored suit with navy accessories and a small hat.

The bride's young cousin will reside in Sackville, where Mr. Large is employed with the CBA radio station.

Timely Sermon Delivered By Rev. Dr. Legate

The text of the sermon delivered by the Rev. Moorhead Legate, D. D., on the occasion of the annual Boy Scout Church parade to St. James Church yesterday follows:

Psalm XXI
S. Matthew XXI

One would not need to guess very hard in order to find what is the thought that is uppermost in the minds of you boys and girls. I don't think I should be very far wrong if I said it is—the King and Queen are coming. Ten days from now the greatest sight that Prince Edward Island has ever seen is going to flash before our excited eyes, and it goes without saying that many of us, most of us, are eagerly counting the days and wishing that they would hurry more quickly than they are doing. I wonder whether we have tried to think out what the fourteenth day of June is really going to mean to us. Nearly all of you are citizens of the great British Empire, we have known all along that we have a King and Queen. Many a time we have joined in singing "God Save the King." We have seen so many pictures of Their Majesties that we know exactly what they look like. We have heard them speak over the radio. We have read about them in newspapers, magazines and books. But somehow, in spite of all that, they have seemed far away from us. But in ten days we are going to see them face to face, they are going to see us. And, from that moment, our thoughts about the King and Queen are going to be altogether different from what they have been. They are going to stop being make-believe and they are going to be so real to us that we shall be able to say proudly as long as we live "I have seen the King and Queen, and I have seen them." And that is the very thing that has brought them here. What I mean is this. The King lives in England, but he rules over the great British Empire of which Canada is a part. And he wants to know all his people, not only by reading about them and hearing about them, but by being with them, and letting them see him. He is the King of Canada. And we can imagine him thinking, I want to make myself known to all the men and women and boys and girls in Canada, so I must go across the sea and pay them a visit, so that I and they will get to know each other. And so His Majesty and the Queen have crossed the thousands of miles of sea, and have risked the dangers of the fogs and icebergs, and what is more touching still, have left their little daughters, the Princesses in England, where there has been such fear of war, all in order that they may show us what kind of a King and Queen we have, and may see for themselves what their people here in the great Dominion of Canada are like. We can never think too highly of that loving

Pastoral Letter Extols Visit of Their Majesties

The following letter, concerning their thinking of Their Majesties to Prince Edward Island was read yesterday in all churches of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Charlottetown. Signed by His Excellency Right Rev. J. A. O'Sullivan, Bishop of Charlottetown it was addressed "to the Reverend Clergy, Religious Sisters and faithful laity of the Diocese of Charlottetown." The text was as follows:

"Dear Brethren:

"Within a few days it will be the happy privilege of this historic Province to welcome for a brief interlude its capital, our beloved Sovereign, King George the Sixth, and his fair young wife, Queen Elizabeth. Everybody looks forward with the greatest joy to this unique event, the like of which may never be witnessed again. It is scarcely necessary for me to urge priests and people, if at all possible, to be in Charlottetown on that momentous occasion, and to gather in its streets to acclaim Their Majesties, towards whom we proudly affirm, we cherish the very highest sentiments of personal love and patriotic loyalty. As the route of procession happens to pass our residence and cathedral, the officials in charge of the proceedings have reserved the main steps of St. Dunstan's Basilica for coupled children and the children of the orphanages, with those in charge and for Religious Sisters. Knowing the wishes of every parish to share in the public rejoicings, I direct that the National Anthem be sung after the parish Mass in all our churches on Sunday, June 11th, and we have endeavored, as best we could, to incorporate your sentiments by incorporating the titles of all parishes in the decorations displayed upon the episcopal residence, as a symbol of our united welcome.

"You must be followed with the deepest interest and satisfaction every incident of the royal tour, from coast to coast of Canada, and back again to these old Atlantic provinces where sturdy pioneers in the distant past, first conceived the noble plans of our national greatness. This long and trying journey of Their Majesties has been a veritable march of triumph not to be gauged merely from the grandeur of their welcome, which undoubtedly was very remarkable, but rather from the universal admiration and unending applause which everywhere greeted their evident cordiality to all classes of people, their simplicity and modesty of demeanor, their felicity of sentiments expressed in all public utterances, and their genuine heroism to be among their Canadian subjects. Peace, we are told, has its victories, no less renowned than War, and the truth of this old-fashioned adage has been demonstrated very clearly by our King and Queen. They came among us not to celebrate any new conquests of territory, but on a mission of peace and good-will. They came. They saw. They conquered! The portals of all hearts, even the least sentimental, have opened wide to welcome them, and we trust, their names henceforth, will be engrained therein in lasting honor and benediction. It is earnestly to resolve, and that courage, and that interest in us which the King and Queen have shown in this great journey which they have undertaken, not for their own pleasure, but for our good. And surely Canada has appreciated it all. What a thunderous welcome they are getting everywhere they go and Canada has gone wild with joy in greeting its King and Queen.

SWEET CAPORAL CIGARETTES

"Boy... watch my smoke!"
"Watch mine—it's a Sweet Cap!"

Now this visit of the King and Queen is not simply a joy-ride for them and us—it is much more than that. We are all going to be benefited and blest by this that the King and Queen have done for us. We are going to learn more clearly what an honour and privilege it is to be citizens, not only of our own beloved Canada, but of the glorious Empire on which the King and Queen are seated. We see more clearly how good God has been to us in setting such a King and Queen as we have upon the Throne of our Empire. We are going to feel that we are doing a real thing, praying a real prayer, when we stand up and sing "God Save the King." We are going to be higher, nobler, prouder, better men and women in the eyes of the world because the King has visited us.

What a King and what a Queen we have! The King—a handsome, courtly, dignified, thoughtful, considerate for others, English gentleman; and the Queen—a sweet, simple, beautiful Scottish lady who has won the love and admiration of everybody who has seen her! And our boys and girls have a special interest in this visit of Their Majesties, because they are both of them, a very deep and real interest in God has seen them. You boys all know about how the King organized boys camps and joined heartily in all the games and pranks and tricks that happen in a boys camp. And as for the Queen, we know how she spends much of her time in England visiting children's homes and hospitals; and how deeply interested she is in the Girl Guide movement, of which the Royal Princesses are both members. Yes, the biggest day of all the days for us is the day the King and Queen come to Charlottetown.

Now if I stopped my address at this point I should be leaving out the most important part of my message to you. Nearly all of you will feel there is something more to be said. We are met here this morning not only to ask God's blessing on King George and Queen Elizabeth, but we are met here in God's house to worship the King of Kings and Lord of Lords, and to ask His blessing upon us. Did you follow carefully—I hope you did—the story which I read from St. Matthew's Gospel just now? Let me try and tell you what that story means. We have been talking about King George's entry into Charlottetown. Let us try and picture to ourselves the entry of another King, and a greater King, into the city of Jerusalem. King George comes here to see his subjects and to bring them a message of love and peace. Two thousand years ago there came to our world the King who is above all Kings, the Lord, the Blessed Saviour Jesus Christ, the Son of God.

King George will come into our city and pass through our midst with the welcoming cheers of men, women and children ringing from all lips, cheers and salutations
