and Prince County

—This column is reserved for news of local interest but advertising of a newsy nature may be inserted at 2 cents a word strictly payable in advance.

—S. S. DELIA CALLS AT SUMMERSIDE—The S. S. Delia, from the Great Lakes, called at Summerside on Wednesday and left two carloads of freight. She left immediately after unloading and it is understood her next call will be Halifax, N. S. S.

—FISHERMEN LOSE SMELT NETS—A number of fishermen lost their smelt nets during the heavy gales which prevailed on Wednesday. Several in Summerside lost in the vicinity of $50.00 worth of nets. A large quantity of driftwood came into Summerside harbour during the gale, among it being a number of spruce logs. S.

FIREMEN'S DANCE—A very successful dance sponsored by the Charlottetown Fire Department was held last evening in the Fire Hall and was largely attended. The hall was tastefully decorated for the occasion. Refreshments were served and dancing continued till a late hour. The chaperones were Mrs. Angus MacEachern, Mrs. James Walker and Mrs. Walter Perry.

—HALLOWE'EN PARTY—The ladies of the New Annan Institute gave a Hallowe'en party on Wednesday evening. A number of friends from Summerside and other places were present. The party was held at the home of Miss Olive Dalziel, which was artistically decorated with Hallowe'en ornaments, owls, witches and black cats giving the rooms a very spooky appearance. Contests and games were held and prizes suitable for the occasion presented to the winners. Music was furnished by Mr. Allie McNeill, J. Dalziel, Miss Dalziel and Mrs. Clark. Refreshments were served, a feature being two large cakes decorated in orange and black, and surmounted by two black cats. Hidden in the mysteries of the interior were fortune favours, which made plenty of fun for the guests. A vote of thanks was extended to Miss Dalziel for her hospitality. S.

—CONDITION UNCHANGED—Mr. McEntee and Mr. Duffy, who both met with injuries to their spines in two different accidents recently, are resting comfortably and their condition is reported as unchanged. S.

—GIVEN SUSPENDED SENTENCE—In the Summerside Police court on Thursday morning a drunk was given a suspended sentence. S.

—Walter Rogerson, son of Mr. Earle Rogerson of Summerside, is progressing favourably from his recent operation for appendicitis in the Prince County Hospital. S.

—Mr. Fred McArthur, son of Artemas McArthur of Enmore, who recently had his leg amputated in the Prince County Hospital, is doing as well as can be expected. S.

MOOSE SEASON OPENS

MONCTON, N.B. Oct. 26—Commencing Friday last and continuing until November 20th bull moose with six points and up on the antlers will be busy dodging hunter's bullets in the New Brunswick woods. Several moose have been encountered on the highways for the past month back and reports reaching the Fish and Game Department of the Canadian National Railways would indicate that guides expect there will be some good heads taken this season, numbers of fine specimens having been seen at various places throughout the province. Deer are reported plentiful. The season opened October 1st and closes November 30th. Bear are also reported plentiful.

Several moose and deer are reported falling to hunters in Nova Scotia, the season having opened in that province on October 10th. It closes October 31st.

WHAT A MOUTH!

The dinner had been excellent, but the guest was still hungry.

"Won't you have something more?" inquired his hostess.

"Just another mouthful," said the guest politely.

"Henry," directed the hostess, "fill Mr. Brown's plate."

Forest Insect Activities

"In the reduction of the original forest, insect life has played a very prominent role, and one that has become increasingly important during recent times," said Dr. J. M. Swaine, Associate Dominion Entomologist, in the annual address to the Entomological Society of America. "It is however, only one phase of forest insect activity. Insects which are considered 'primary' enemies feed upon some part of the living tree and are potentially destructive. Most of the primary species cause little actual injury beyond an occasional severe pruning; some are notoriously destructive and periodically occur in great outbreaks, whilst other species, usually of little or no economic importance, suddenly appear in widespread infestations.

"A second great category of forest insects includes 'secondary' enemies, since they attack only dying or dead trees or wood products. In so far as commercial values are concerned, some of these species cause a vast amount of loss—sawyer beetles and others in fire-killed timber and saw logs, and in log buildings, for example, or powder post beetles in stored wood products. In so far as the health and well-being of the forest is concerned, however, the 'secondary' species are of importance chiefly as scavengers and are either beneficial or neutral in their effect on forest development.

"It is probable that the activities of many 'secondary' species are extremely beneficial to the forest in hastening the death of over-mature and weakened trees and thus liberating the young growth, and also in accelerating the destruction of the debris on the forest floor. It is obvious that the destruction of the debris is essential to the health and natural development of the forest, particularly in facilitating the growth of seedlings and in providing plant food and a moisture-retaining layer of duff over the forest floor. The most impressive effect of insect activities in the forest is the destruction of timber, wrought by great epidemics of the 'primary' species."

NO BRAINS

A visitor walking in a mining district came upon an old man turning a windlass at the top of a shaft.

It was a very hot day, but the old man had thrown aside his hat, and the sunshine was streaming upon his bare head.

"If you expose your head to the sun in that way," said the traveller, "your brain will be injured."
