Red Wings Square Series By 3-2 Victory Over Boston Bruins Last Night

BOSTON, March 27 (AP)—Detroit Red Wings, thanks to a weird goal scored with less than three minutes to play, squared their National Hockey League play-off series by beating Boston Bruins 3-2 tonight before a sell-out 15,000 crowd at the Boston garden.

The Bruins played without a goalie during the last 30 seconds but their six-man attack made little impression on the then confident Red Wings.
