Save the Forests
Day at West Kent

Yesterday afternoon a "Save the Forests" programme was carried out by the pupils of West Kent School assembled in their spacious hall. The programme was opened with the singing of "O Canada" by the entire school, after which Robert Inman recited a beautiful poem entitled "Trees".

The chairman, Principal Johnson after commending to the pupils the project to be presented by the main speaker of the afternoon called upon Mr. C. Gavin Duffy to address the school.

In his remarks, Mr. Duffy pointed out that although Prince Edward Island cannot boast of any great forests, yet even here it is very necessary for us to take all precautions to preserve the trees and groves of our fair island. The speaker traced the despoiling of the forests from the time of our earliest settlers who, in order to make clearings and roads were forced to sacrifice the groves of maples and stately pines. In that day we possessed such an abundance of trees that the loss was not of such great importance to the country as it is now, and yet today the loss through carelessness exhibited by campers, hunters, and smokers, far exceeds the necessary loss in the early days of our history. Each boy and girl should plant at least two trees each year in order that reforestation may be completed to the necessary extent as quickly as possible.

Mr. Duffy told the pupils that Prince Edward Island is the beauty spot of Canada, not surpassed in beauty by any part of the world, and rivals in this respect the famous Lakes of Killarney. This is our heritage, and while we are enjoying the full that which cost us so little it is our duty to assist in perpetuating to future generations the unexcelled beauty of our landscape, and the easiest and best way to accomplish this is to plant trees.

Easter Rattenbury then read "The Bird's Lullaby" by Pauline Johnson. This was greatly appreciated by the school.

After some further remarks by the chairman the programme was brought to a close by singing the "National Anthem."

AMONG THE CHURCHES

On Tuesday night the senior group of the Methodist C. G. I. Y. very enjoyable social in Heart Memorial Hall. The gathering numbered more than a hundred persons and a very pleasant evening was spent in games and contests concluding with the serving of refreshments. A much enjoyed feature of the program was a singing under the leadership of Mr. W. E. Bentley.

The Tuxis boys of the Methodist Church held a very enjoyable social on Monday evening.

At the regular supper meeting of St. James' C. G. I. Y. this week the theme taken up was "Out of Doors". A questionnaire, on the subject of "Good Sportsmanship" was prepared and much interest was taken in the discussion which was led by Jean Grant and Margaret Wood.

The congregation of St. James' Church is now planning for the celebration of the hundredth anniversary of their church. The commemorative services are to be held during the last week in June.

The regular weekly meeting of the Young Ladies Guild of the Baptist Church was held on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Albert Baker.

The annual Self Denial Campaign of the Salvation Army opened in this city this week and is already meeting with encouraging success.

The regular weekly meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E. of Zion Presbyterian Church met Monday evening with Mr. Reginald Johnson in the chair. The subject for the night was Young People and Life Service Investment." A number of the members took part. For the benefit of the new members, Mr. Ross read the excellent report which had been published along with the Y. P. S. C. E. group photo in "The Pathfinder."

Ex-Scout Marr's New Adventure

LONDON, April 22.—Mr. J. W. S. Marr, M. A., B.Sc. left Aberdeen yesterday morning on his way to join the British Columbian expedition, Algarisson, in a daring effort to plant the Union Jack on the North Pole. It was a quiet send-off, welcome to a quiet but fussy.

On September 22, 1921, a big, brawny, resolute-looking boy—he was then little more than 14—left Aberdeen Railway Station for London to set out on an adventure such as had never before fallen to the lot of one so young. The youth was Patrol Leader J. W. S. Marr, of the 1st Aberdeen Troop of Boy Scouts, and he slipped away quietly to attain, water, world-wide fame as cabin boy aboard the Quest during her voyage to the Antarctic. So well did he acquire himself upon a hazardous and exacting voyage that Sir Ernest Shackleton, the leader of the expedition, declared shortly before his death that "Marr is splendid."

Yesterday in equally unostentatious fashion, ex-Patrol Leader Marr left Aberdeen. Now grown to manhood, being 23 years of age, he is bound upon an even more venturesome and daring expedition—to sail with the young British Columbian explorer, Algarisson, who is to endeavour to reach the North Pole, flying the latter stages in a dirigible.

Marr's studies since his return from the South Polar regions have been directed to equip him further and more usefully to pursue his life's ambition of conducting exploration work, and he is proceeding with the Algarisson expedition as assistant biologist.

THE WIFE PREACHER

A planter asked a colored preacher what subjects he usually preached on in his labors among his people.

"Oh, different subjects," said the preacher. "Sometimes Ah preaches on love, sometimes on baptism, sometimes on heaven, and 'sich subjects."

"Why don't you preach occasionally on a close by chicken-stealing?"

"Well, Ah tell yo', boss, when Ah preaches on dem subjects hit allers throws a kind of coldness over de meetin'."

THE MARKETS

(Canadian Press)

MONTREAL, April 23.—There was some demand from foreign business for Canadian grain here today and sales of a few loads of oats were reported for Montreal, but apart from this the market was quiet. New York exporters were in the market for No 2 and No 3 Canadian western oats on spot, but as there were none offering their wares could not be filled. Sales of No 1 white and No 2 white were made at one cent and one-half over the Winnipeg. May option of No 1 white was inactive, but prices were unchanged. The local flour situation was without any new feature to report. Prices being steady for spring wheat grades, but the volume of business in all directions was reported small on account of the continued limited demand for supplies. The trade in winter wheat flour was also slow owing to the fact that buyers show no disposition to speculate for future requirements and in consequence sales were confined to broken lots. The tone of the market was steady. A very firm feeling continues to prevail in the market for milled on account of the rather small supplies available on spot for which there is a good demand for local and country accounts prices, however, did not show any further change. The trade in standard grades of rolled oats was dull but prices were firm. The volume of business in eggs was moderate sized and the trade was very firm. A fairly active trade was reported for a shade stronger. A feature of the cheese trade was the demand that developed from foreign buyers and a fairly active business was done. The undertone of the market was easy with western No 1 white and No 2 white cheese quoted at 19.24 cents per pound, and No 2 grades at 17.34 cents per pound. The market is reported to be flooded with Quebec 20 pound cheese and sales were made at 16 to 17 cents per pound.

Slipped Away Quietly

Mr. Marr has been made a fuss of. He confided to friends that in facing the great gatherings in Montreal, which saw him receive the "double cap" and gave the distinguished young man such a splendid ovation, he had "the wind-up" in an unprecedented way. In that he should slip quietly away to take up his forthcoming adventurous journey, his wish was gained yesterday when he received his home at 62 Hamilton Place with his mother and sister in a taxi containing part of his kit, and made his way to the carriage on the 9.50 train for London, practically unnoticed. The few minutes which remained, he spent in receiving relatives (his father had taken farewell of him earlier in the morning before setting out for business), and as the train steamed out of the station leaned from his carriage window waving a cheery adieu.

After meeting the other members of the expedition party at Falmouth, Mr. Marr will accompany them to the Mersey, whence Algarisson's ship will sail to the starting-off point north of Spitzbergen.

The young explorer, when he left yesterday at short notice, stated that he had no definite details of the expedition's plans so far. He was wearing what he regards as a lucky mascot—the wristlet watch which the City Scouts presented him on his return from the Shackleton expedition.

Another memento of that journey which he carries with him is a copy of "Hamewith's" which he received from the author, Mr. Charles Murray, who met and welcomed him at Cape Town three years ago. Mr. Marr can entertain a company by reciting in the "broadest" Doric some of "Hamewith's" gems of verse.

He expressed himself as being very proud of the fact that the Albatross was named after him, and he is glad to present him with one of the best specimens of this hardy and sagacious breed to accompany him on his trip. Mr. Marr is all the more pleased since the mascot which he will take with him when he sails—in of the same breed as was Sir Ernest Shackleton's trusty hound which voyaged with the Quest.

THE TUNE IN

(By 9-AK)

The Correct "Hook-Up"

One Sunday morning, Mr. Gray felt an urge to do a bit of carpentering in connection with his ceiling in the rear of his garage. The good neighbors next door were safely off to church, he got out his tools and had a busy time. When the new shelf was screwed up, the grid-leak overhauled, and all the connections tightened, he turned up the rheostat and twiddled the dials. From the loud speaker came a solemn, ministerial voice.

"Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy!"—Mrs. J. W. Swain.

The broadcasting of the Orchestral Society's Concert was carried successfully, notwithstanding the fact that only the instrumental music went on the air. Of course there was some disappointment that the vocal number was not broadcast, but the excellent transmission of the orchestral selections made up in some measure for the long waits between numbers.

Radio plays have a distinct technique of their own and as the radio audience depends entirely on the sense of hearing, many devices are used to produce sound effects that will assist the imagination of the radio audience and help them to visualize the scene.

For this reason plays cannot be successfully broadcast from the stage, although grand opera and concerts have often been broadcast direct from the theatre.

Radio plays have been a regular feature at Station WGY for over three years and have taken well with the radio audience. This studio has its own cast of players, who have successfully put over such plays as "The Wolf," "The Garden of Allah," "The Green Goddess," "The Storm," "Madame X," "The Sign of the Cross" as well as numerous others.

The elimination of static interference is a problem that radio engineers have been working on for the past quarter of a century. Although they have not yet discovered any feasible means to successfully combat this one great bugaboo of radio, doubtless some method will be evolved in the not too distant future.

Shorter one-wire aerials and loop aerials help to cut out static as well as other interference and have been found to be both practical and efficient.

Don't tempt fate by charging your battery while operating your receiving set. Walkman people who have tried it but only once, as they made it a rather expensive experiment.
