LAVAL DRAGGED

led to his expulsion. Defence counsel Albert Naud said that Jacques Baraduc and Jean Jaffry would appear at a preliminary hearing on Oct. 10.

The procedure smart developed on Oct. 4 when the C.C.P. (Cape Breton South) tried to precipitate a debate on the Ford strike at the House. Speaker Gaspard Fautoux ruled that the question was not urgent and a long argument developed on the adjournment.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner got the House to agree to speeding up preliminaries so that he could table the bill to accept the United Nations food and agriculture organization. Canada, host to the organization at Quebec on Oct. 16, is one of the countries which had not yet officially agreed to it.

Mr. Gardiner also said that he had been informed officially that it would be necessary to lower the British rationing of the present supplies than now were in sight because available. Canada, therefore, has agreed to accept the shipments by 6,000 (tons) in October and November.

Later, the Hon. MacKinnon announced the Federal Government has decided to lift the 14-bushel per acre limitation on wheat exports for the present crop year. The action probably will mean an additional 15,000,000 bushels of wheat for export.

During discussion on the veterans' charter committee, Mr. MacKinnon, in reply to opposition suggestion that the committee should be enlarged to 14 members in the House, said that large committees were unwieldy.

Mr. Knowles said the difference between 60 and 84 was not sufficiently great to bar 14 veterans from membership on the committee.

Col. Brooks said all 84 veterans should be on the committee, or, if not, the committee should be enlarged to 14 members in the House.

A few weeks ago a soldier in his constituency who was the Military Medal and had shrapnel in his kidney went to the military hospital in Quebec.

With a very heavy demand for fertilizers in Canada, the United States, and from European countries, which must increase food production in order to overcome the serious shortages, the supply is being rationed.

Mr. Poullot, "That is not the way to treat our returning veterans." At the Riviere du Loup office of the Department of Agriculture, there were no forms for veterans applying for gratuity to fill out. District headquarters in Quebec insisted that a letter be sent to Quebec each time a form was required.

"We have the most abominable bureaucracy at the military headquarters in Quebec city... I don't want the veterans of my country to suffer from the stupidity of the Hon. Minister of Agriculture."

There were too many "swivel chair heroes" still at headquarters, said Mr. Poullot. They should be sent home at once. They were trying to keep the war going because they had never been able to earn a living except in the army.

King Hazen (P.C.—Saint John-Albert) said returned men should have their own hospitals. Those suffering from nervous disorders should not be put in provincial mental hospitals.

Horton-Parkman Wedding

The marriage of Miss Adelle Ernestine Parkman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Parkman of Summerside, P.E.I., to Mr. William Manu Horton, son of Mr. and Mrs. W.B. Horton of Kentville, N.S., took place at one o'clock yesterday in St. Mary's Anglican Church, Summerside. Archdeacon G.R. Harrison officiated.

A profusion of cut flowers decorated the church for the occasion.

Given away by her father, the bride looked very lovely in a floor-length gown of white brocade tulle and beading, held in place with a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of Better Times roses. Her maid of honor and sister of the bride, Mrs. George T. Clarke, wore a floor-length gown of aqua sheer with jewel cap to match and carried Columbia roses.

Mr. Hubert Hall of Summerside was best man and the ushers were Mr. Maurice Turner, Mr. Frank Cameron, cousins of the bride, and Mrs. Robert Shaw presided at the organ and Miss Dorothy Wyatt sang "I'll Be Home for You" during the signing of the register.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at Muberry Lodge. Receiving the bride party were the mother of the bride wearing fuchsia crepe with sequin trim and a corsage of Queen Elizabeth roses. The bride's train was wearing brown crepe with beige trim and a corsage of Gloria roses. Mrs. Mary Mill and Mrs. C. B. Green, aunts of the bride, poured, while Mrs. Brenton Rankin, Mrs. Charles Hubley and Mrs. J. W. Rankin, bridesmaids, were assisted by their mothers in receiving guests. The mother of the groom wore a gown of orchid print, with black and white. The groom's mother was attired in a gown of navy blue trimmed with light blue and both mothers wore rose corsages.

During the afternoon the couple left on a wedding trip to New Hampshire and the Cape.

The bride is a graduate of Natick High school and has been employed in the payroll department of the Robert Gair Co. The groom graduated from Natick High School and is employed by the New England Postery Service, Inc., as a line foreman.

(The bride is one of seven daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pincou, the former Lucy Blanchard of Rustico Parish, who taught school twenty years ago in P. E. Island.)

Coffey-Pineau Nuptials

NATICK, Mass., Sept. 4.—At a doubling ceremony, at St. Patrick's church, Saturday morning, at 9 o'clock, Miss Gertrude E. Pincou daughter of Miss and Mrs. Louis A. Pineau, of 40 Washington street, became the bride of James H. Coffey, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Coffey of Warren road, South Natick.

The nuptial mass was celebrated by Rev. Thomas E. Sweeney with Miss Margaret Nugent, as soloist.

Attending the couple were Miss Corneille Pineau, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and her bridesmaids who also acted as ushers were Miss Nina Pineau, a sister of the bride, and Miss Mary Coffey, a sister of the groom.

The best man was Frank Jess of South Natick, a cousin of the groom.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a traditional white wedding gown with a satin bodice and a train-length silk marquisette skirt, and wore a coronet headdress and a finger-tip veil. Her bouquet was of white gardenias and stephanotis, with an orchid corsage for a centerpiece.

Following the ceremony a gown which was a duplicate of the bride's in aqua, and she carried red dahlias and tallgrass roses. The bridesmaids wore peach-colored gowns, and their bouquets were of peach-colored gladioli.

Following the wedding breakfast a reception was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Reiss, Leach lane, South Natick, the bridal party held a reception in Natick, where they were assisted by their mothers in receiving guests. The mother of the groom wore a gown of orchid print, with black and white. The groom's mother was attired in a gown of navy blue trimmed with light blue and both mothers wore rose corsages.

During the afternoon the couple left on a wedding trip to New Hampshire and the Cape.

The bride is a graduate of Natick High school and has been employed in the payroll department of the Robert Gair Co. The groom graduated from Natick High School and is employed by the New England Postery Service, Inc., as a line foreman.

Storekeeper At Tignish Passes

Mr. Peter J. Bernard, veteran business man, died yesterday. He had been ill only a few weeks. Mr. Bernard operated a small confectionery store here. Earlier he and a brother had conducted a tin smithing business. He discontinued the work and moved to Sydney, N.S., where he remained until about ten years ago when he returned here.

He is survived by his wife, the former Agnes Tobin of Sydney. Funeral arrangements had not been completed last night.

SEEK DETAILS

Edward Island will benefit from the half-hour reduction.

Last year a return showed 1,013 persons as being on Federal Government payrolls in Prince Edward Island, but this number was increased by appointments to the family allowances branch of the Department of Health and Welfare.

Transport Minister Lionel Chevrier in filing a return to a question asked by M.J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, informed the Commons that Canada had not taken steps to enforce the eight hour day as it applies to merchant seamen sailing on inland and coastal waters.

"The working hours on inland and coastal ships are at present fixed by agreements between the ship owners and the employees," Mr. Chevrier's answer read.

It was asked by Labor Minister Humphrey Mitchell that the hours of work and manning (sea) convention as drafted in 1936 by the International Labor Office, had not been ratified by Canada.

URGES EFFICIENT AIR MINISTER

The fleet air arm added weight to speculation that the Canadian Navy will develop and train its own air crews for the two carriers.

Warrior and Magnificent—it is just commissioning. Up to the international air force, has had to depend on British-trained air crews.

Gen. Crerar paid tribute to McGill graduates in this regard in the interesting disclosure that three Canadian field commanders had been educated at the Montreal university.

These were Gen. McNaughton, his predecessor in command of the 1st Army Division, the Dominion commander of the 1st Division in Italy and now commander of the Occupation Force in Germany and Maj.-Gen. Harry Foster, who commanded the 4th Armored Division in Northwest Europe.

The principal food commodities which have never been rationed during the war in Canada, the United States, and Britain are poultry, fresh fish, bread and flour, potatoes, fresh vegetables, and fresh fruit, except citrus fruits.

The Agriculture Department Home Economics says the old fashioned way of roasting meat in a hot oven and cooking it at a high temperature shrinks it and reduces the number of servings. To get the maximum amount from a roast, keep the oven at a moderate temperature, 325 degrees Fahrenheit to 350 degrees Fahrenheit, throughout the entire cooking period.

Cook uncovered, fat side up. Do not add water. Add fat to lean roasts, and baste occasionally. Place rolled or flat roasts on a rack. Turn roasts every half hour.

Dredge the roast with flour and season it before cooking if you like. Cooking times vary with the meat, weight, thickness, shape of roast, and proportion of bone to fat. Use a reliable timetable for various kinds of meat, taking into consideration these factors and try to get the cooking time exactly right.

Let the cooked roast stand in a warm place for a short time. This makes for more economical carving.

Thrashing Injury to Oil Flax Seed

From evidence of investigations carried out at the Dominion Laboratory in long run, says the paper, and published in "Scientific Agriculture," it would appear that the result of the evidence in widespread in Western Canada and that, unless the seed is properly treated, lowered germination is the result. However, other evidence indicates that usually the lowered germination is seldom followed by reduced yields.

The principal factor for this situation seems to be the ability of flax plants in thin stands to branch freely. In a thin stand of plants, the production of seed bolls may be as great per unit area as in a denser stand where the individual plants are crowded together.

In consequence, when two plots of flax differ in density of stand, because one was sown with sound seed and the other with seed damaged by thrashing or fungicide or reduced kernel maturation, the difference in stand is not necessarily accompanied by a difference in yield.

A secondary factor seems to be the tendency of farmers to sow oil flax seed at a rate high enough to offset low germination of the seed. On this account, when good seed, or seed that has been improved by seed treatment, is sown at the rate of ordinary more plants than can be properly nurtured are produced. Owing to severe competition the plants which are individually the best would if they were more widely spaced, and consequently, the yield is not likely to be any greater than from poorer seed sown at the same rate.

Laval defended himself alone after the three lawyers, appointed by the court to defend him, withdrew in protest.

It was thus that forced the first suspension, half an hour after court opened.

Arguments and recriminations were heard until Laval, a German victor, shouted: "I am a Frenchman! I am a patriot, and I will prove it!"

Pandemonium broke loose as jurors, judges and prosecutor. Moments later, Laval shouted to shout Laval down. Judge Mongibeauf finally suspended the session.

With a very heavy demand for fertilizers in Canada, the United States, and from European countries, which must increase food production in order to overcome the serious shortages, the supply is being rationed.

The Experts Say

BY HELEN BANNERMAN Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Oct. 1.—(CP)—It is the steady, even pace, usually slow in the long run, says the Health Department's Nutrition Division, and recalls the bare and the torrid. This is especially true of foods needed for good health—for eating the right foods only one day a week does you about as much good as having religion only on Sundays.

For example, Canada's food rules require that a citrus fruit or some other foods supplying vitamin C be eaten every day. The reason for this is that vitamin C cannot be stored by the body to any extent, so that if you eat a large quantity a few days a week, the surplus goes to waste and eventually your body is short of this necessary vitamin.

Recent experiments, which may achieve positive progress by next year, however, are being carried out to see whether or not the vitamin is connected with a lack of vitamin C or faulty utilization of it.

At this time of year, the Vitamin C foods to include in the daily diet are tomatoes, citrus fruits, potatoes and vegetables such as cabbage, brussels sprouts and cauliflower.

Skill in handling foods is developed these days with meat rationing drawing upon the resourcefulness of all food preparers, because rationing calls not only for careful buying but also for proper cooking.

Y.M.C.A. MEN BUSINESS MEETING

The regular weekly meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Men's Club was held last night with the president, Hasen Wigmore in the chair. A great deal of routine business was transacted and plans made for the coming year.

Mr. James McConnell introduced Mr. Lorne Story and Mr. John MacInnis, primus and pro primus of the newly formed Phalanx Club of the Y.M.C.A. Also present as a guest was Mr. Nelson MacDew, national boys' work secretary of the Y.M.C.A. who spoke briefly and was enthusiastically applauded. After the meeting the Y.M.C.A. men went to the Charlottetown Alleys for bowling.

PATIENTS ENTERTAINED

Last evening, a group of talented entertainers visited the patients at the Sanatorium and provided them with step dancing, music and songs. The performance was held in the reception room where a number of patients gathered. Those who were unable to be present heard it through the public address system.

The concert was arranged by Mr. Hughie Trainor who sang and also acted as master of ceremonies. Mrs. J. Douglas, accompanist for the evening. Those taking part in the program were as follows: Hughie Trainor, Jimmy Power, Art Douglas, guitar soloist, Mrs. Mary Arsenault, tap dancer, Helen MacDonald, soloist. Mrs. J. E. Humphrey Mitchell, Mrs. Arthur Weatherly and Mrs. Arthur Murray soloists. At the close of the performance, the entertainers were thanked on behalf of the patients by Mr. Fred Howes.

won't be known definitely until the Government has before it a "blueprint" of the nature and extent of any commitments that we may have under international or regional security agreements.

Here is the Minister's picture of the post-war R.C.A.F. organization: The regular force will be made up of squadrons based at strategic points in the Dominion and corresponds to the militia units of the army. These squadrons will provide opportunities for young men to qualify for their wings or to secure training in their groundcrew trades.

The regular force is awaiting announcement of its final size and shape. An interim force of unspecified strength and composition for two years to provide personnel for the occupation force of about 10,000 ground crews and the home establishment.

It also will be used as a proving ground for personnel for the R.C.A.F. established a division of research and development which will explore the new field of atomic energy and experiment in the sphere of cold weather operations. A radio wave propagation unit has been established to find a means of combating the black-out peculiar to Canada so that contact may be maintained at all times on all wireless frequencies.

It was decided that no decision had yet been reached as to the employment of women in the permanent force.

Washington Spotlight

BY C.R. BLACKBURN WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—(CP)—Time was when Washington was the capital where news was more readily obtainable than anywhere else in the world.

Some of the old timers among the army of domestic and foreign correspondents here now are wondering if this news centre is losing its claim to that distinction.

No one could charge President Truman with being unfriendly to the correspondents. He is cordial with them and everyone else who meets him.

But it is true that one of his first acts was to abandon the system, started and made famous by President Roosevelt, of meeting the press at scheduled times twice a week.

When War Secretary Stimson resigned his successor, Robert Patterson, once announced that he would call in the press only when he had something to say. Mr. Stimson met the press every Thursday morning.

The same is true of the treasury. When Secretary Henry Morgenthau resigned his successor, Fred M. Vinson, at once shied away from regular sessions with the newspapermen which were a part of the routine all through the 12-year regime of "Harry the Moose."

The President calls the news gatherers frequently but it is not
