Garbage Problem, Fire Hazards Discussed At Town Council Meeting

The disgraceful condition of the Summerside waterfront from the dumping of garbage and consideration of certain properties branded as fire hazards were the main items before the regular monthly meeting of the Summerside Town Council last evening.

Councillor Wedge brought up the matter of waterfront conditions. He said: "It is in a disgraceful condition, having become a common dumping ground for everybody's refuse. Places in the harbour are a solid mass of tin cans, etc., and it has gotten to the point when something will have to be done about it. We have a sanitary engineer on the Island now and perhaps he might have some suggestions. The Fisheries Department recently had men here making tests and although the bacteria they were testing for are not disease causing they found a large percentage of them present. I don't want to cause any alarm as these bacteria are not dangerous but if conditions are suitable for one kind of bacteria to live others will live there too. The sooner that land is made available for dumping the better it will be for us all."

Reports Cases of Typhoid
Councillor Wedge revealed that there have been seven cases of typhoid in Summerside in the past month. Typhoid is a thing of the past and it must be coming from somewhere.

Mayor Arnett said that there is no doubt but that action must be taken. Mr. Sharpe, the sanitary engineer, was here this week, he said, and approved of certain pieces of land as suitable for a dumping ground. He suggested to Councillor Schurman, chairman of the property committee, that action be taken immediately to purchase some land. Then, the Mayor said, a by-law can be put through prohibiting people from dumping on the waterfront.

The clerk said that the harbour master should do something about it as it comes under his control. He should take some action to have this condition remedied.

Mayor Arnett said that it will soon be necessary to have a garbage disposal system with a proper incinerator.

Alleged Fire Hazards
The clerk read a letter from the secretary of the Fire Department stating that several properties in the Town are fire risks and suggesting that the police take some action. The properties mentioned are the Dominion Hotel property, the old skating rink, and oil waste at the East end of town.

Mayor Arnett and Councillor Schurman suggested it is up to the Fire Chief as the representative of the Fire Marshall.

Councillor Gorrill said that when permission was given the oil companies to build in the town it was with the stipulation that their properties be kept in good repair. The Irving Oil Company tanks are rusty and the property of poor appearance, he said.

The clerk read a letter written to the Irving Oil Company on July 17, to which no reply has been received, pointing out that the company should take steps to safeguard its property. The letter referred to a recent grass fire in the vicinity of the company's tanks caused by the burning of waste oil and said that a trench should be dug around the property and pointed out that other oil company properties are close by.

Mayor Arnett said that the Town deserved the courtesy of a reply and stated that the property is in an unsightly condition. He asked the Clerk to wire the company asking for an immediate reply.

Councillor Gorrill said, "Considering all the money we give them we deserve a reply."

Petitions Received
Petitions were received for sidewalk on Ottawa Street North and on Hawthorne Avenue North and were filed for later action. Councillor Wedge said that most of the cement on hand had been used up and he did not think it would be possible to obtain any more.

As the result of requests received, a motion was passed that parking meters be installed on Water Street North from the Clifton Hotel to the Allan Jenkins property and on Spring Street by the inson; Miss Trevor sings "Moanin' Low" off-key, minus any accompaniment; Miss Bacall stares Robinson down, and Barrymore delivers many of the most potent lines from "A Wheelchair."
