BRIDAL COUPLE WELCOMED On Wednesday evening of December 29th., the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hyde of Meadow Bank was enlivened by the gathering together of friends and neighbors to do honor to their son, Elmer and his bride. To the strains of a wedding march the young couple were escorted to places of honor by Mrs. Sterling Clow and Mr. Dingwell McFadyen, a nicely worded address was read by Miss Hazel Boyle and a purse of money presented by Mr. Steward Drake. In a few well chosen words Elmer on behalf of his bride and himself thanked them for their kindness and extended a hearty invitation to one and all to visit them. All assembled and joined in singing For They Are Jolly Good Fellows. A bountiful lunch was then served by the young ladies assisted by Mrs. Hyde. The remainder of the evening was spent in games and a jolly sing-song with Miss Mildred Hyde at the piano brought a very pleasant evening to a close.

IN MEMORIAM

MILES MacINNES

The following is a clipping from a Calgary paper announcing the death and funeral of Mr. Miles MacInnes, a former Prince Edward Islander:

Funeral services were held last Saturday in the Park Memorial Chapel and Queen's Park Cemetery, Calgary, for a prominent Acme business man, Mr. Miles MacInnes, for years manager of the S. Dattner store, who died suddenly on December 1st. Rev. C. L. Pewell conducted the services and the pall bearers were: J. W. McCulloch, J. W. Redekopp, R. N. Wisdom, R. J. Fowler, A. J. Purvis and S. Dattner.

Mr. MacInnes had been a resident of Acme for sixteen years during which time he had taken a very prominent place in community affairs, being, at the time of his death, President of the Acme branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society, Chairman of the National War Finance Committee - Acme Unit, Secretary of the Cigarette Fund.

He was Immediated Past Master of the Masonic Lodge, a prominent member of the Elks Lodge and a faithful member of the United Church choir. He was auditor for both the village and the municipality.

Mr. MacInnes was born in Valleyfield, P.E.I., in 1878. Before coming to Acme he had resided at Vegreville and Black Diamond in Alberta and several points in B. C.

He is survived by his wife in Acme; a daughter Mrs. Mary MacInnis, Richmond, California; two brothers, Angus and Alex, both in California, and two grandchildren. Their only son was killed overseas recently. They have many relatives on Prince Edward Island.

Stage Door Canteen in New York is still inviolate to servicemen. None of the feminine members of the armed services are allowed inside.

Quebec Papers Urges Claims Of Acadian To P. E. I. Senatorship

The appointment of an Acadian Senator for Prince Edward Island, in succession to the late Senator McArthur is being strongly urged in a number of Quebec newspapers at the present time, particular emphasis being placed on the qualifications of Prof. J. H. Blanchard, of Prince of Wales College, in this connection. The following excerpts will be read with much interest here.

Mr. Leandre LeGresley, in the Voix d'Evangeline (French language Weekly, published in Moncton) is asking that the Acadians of Prince Edward Island should be represented in the Canadian Senate, recalls that the smallest Canadian province has 15,000 citizens of the French language, i.e., one-sixth of the population. Since Prince Edward Island's entry into Confederation, only one Acadian, Mr. Joseph Arsenault had been a member of the Upper Chamber; from 1895 to 1897.

L'Action Catholique reproduces in part the article written by Mr. LeGresley, adds editorial comment by Mr. Georges-Henri Dagneau:

"As the Acadians are in a minority in each of the counties of Prince Edward Island, they will never succeed in electing one of their race to the Commons. Moreover, because of them the population of Prince County is Catholic in majority. Just the same for 45 years there has never been a Catholic M.P. Might it not be time to repair these oversights and these negligences? Mr. Le Gresley then takes the case of all the Acadians of the three Maritimes provinces: 'Since Confederation, there have been only seven Acadian senators. All of them, with the exception of Senator Onesiphore Turgeon, more than ninety years of age, were appointed by Conservative Governments: Messrs Girroir and Robichaud for Nova Scotia; Mr. Arsenault from 1895 to 1897 for Prince Edward Island; Messrs. Poirier, Bourque, and Leger for New Brunswick. Of sixteen senators appointed since Confederation to represent the Island, not a single Acadian was appointed by a Liberal government; of some two score senators appointed for New Brunswick since Confederation only one was appointed by a Liberal Government; of some forty senators named to represent Nova Scotia, since Confederation, not a single Acadian has been appointed by a Liberal Government. And the Senate, according to the Liberals, has to protect minorities! That is fine democracy! concludes Mr. Le Gresley, who adds: "It will never do, all the same, for those of our soldiers who come back to us to get the idea that their sacrifices for justice have been of no use. (And to say that the Acadians are recognized for voting "rouge"! Indeed. Canada does its share in protecting refugees and exiles from Europe, that is a fine thing to do. Should it not also be concerned somewhat with its own citizens?"

Prof. Blanchard's Claims

Le Devoir (Montreal, Bloc Populaire, 19,500 circulation) adopts the same attitude, gives its portrait of the man it would like to see in the Senate: Mr. Henri Blanchard:

"The man whose appointment we want is one of the most outstanding personalities, not only among the Acadians, but of the whole Island. For many years, he has held a responsible post in the provincial educational system. He has taught men like the former Prime Minister Thane Campbell whose friendship he has furthermore retained. He is not only a French historian, of some note, he is also vice-president of the Author's Association (English section) of the Island. He enjoys the general esteem in all walks of life. He is one of those whose advice is sought by the Government of the Province.

"Without doubt, Mr. J. Henri Blanchard is first and foremost an Acadian — the kind of Acadian who has done and still does things for his own people more than can be supposed. But if at last the Government decides to give to the French minority a special representative, is it not fair that such a representative should embody in the most striking way the sentiment and aspirations of that minority?

"Mr. Blanchard has never played politics. Is that a necessary qualification for a seat in the Senate? And would it not be appropriate on the other hand to give the names from time to time of other men in the dignified assembly who have stood apart from the hurly-burly of political strife? Nonetheless, those who are fussy about this can perhaps remember that Mr. Blanchard's father was for some twenty years a Liberal member in the Island's Legislative Assembly. The son is therefore without the original sin."
