Shirley Temple In 'Little Miss Marker' At Prince Edward

Bringing to life the famous characters in Damon Runyon's celebrated "Colliers" story, "Little Miss Marker," Adolphe Menjou, Dorothy Dell, Charles Bickford and Shirley Temple, together with a host of other talented players, are featured in the Paramount film version of "Little Miss Marker," which opens at the Prince Edward Theatre last night.

Runyon, who knows the behind-scenes Broadway of today, with its grafters and grafts, its "molls" and its "mugs," as few other living writers, has written a charming and delightful story, and a great cast of players has made a thrilling production of it; full of laughs, tears and delightful surprises.

The picture tells how Menjou, embittered, friendless and stung, is forced to adopt a little girl originally left with him as security for a bet. As time goes on the curly-headed little tot teaches him how to be a tender and loving, stimulates him to win back his self-respect and honor.

In a startling rapid-fire climax she sacrifices a fortune to save the child from death and win the love of Dorothy Dell, whom he had been worshipping at a distance for years.

ARCHBISHOP I. O. STRENGER BURIED

WINNIPEG, Nov. 5.—In the quiet of a Cathedral cemetery, far from the icy Arctic wastes to which he had taken the word of God, the Most Rev. Isaac O. Stringer was buried.

An autumn-chilled sun shone through bare trees upon a bowed assembly of the foremost in Church and State this afternoon as His Grace, the Archbishop of Rupert's Land was committed to his grave in the Cathedral of the Holy Trinity in Ottawa, Ontario.

The peaceful quiet of his last resting place belied the rigorous life of sacrifice and hardship the archbishop had led.

Jessie Matthews At Capitol

"There Goes The Bride," the Gainsborough-British Lion success which Albert de Courville directed, and in which Jessie Matthews makes an amazingly successful screen debut, is so rich in amusing sequences that it is difficult to say which is the funniest. There are many who will be tickled by the "thrift" of the pearl necklace of the hostess. The general belief is that the theft is just a prank on the part of the more high-spirited guests. Very well, then, the lights shall be lowered, and the culprit shall have an opportunity of replacing the jewels on the salver. Lights are lowered, it again. Not only is the necklace not replaced, but the salver has disappeared, too! Then there is that delightful interlude in which an aggrieved ex-fiance (Carol Goodner) approaches the magistrate and charges Annette Marquand (Jessie Matthews) with stealing her fiancé. The magistrate is courteous, but firm. "Madam," he says, "stealing a fiancé isn't a crime! That's a woman's business!" "There Goes The Bride" is Jessie Matthews' first starring role in British pictures.

The "Daily Mail" describes her as "A sensation." The "Evening News" as "A sparkling addition to the world's great film stars." Mrs. C. A. Lejeune, of the "Observer," says the picture might well be titled "Here Comes The Star!" Owen Nares plays opposite Miss Matthews in a role for which he is ideally suited.

Mount Allison

Announcement was made at the meeting of the Federated Council held in the Board Room of the Memorial Library on Tuesday, October 30 that the new Hunton Scholarship had been definitely completed.

With Mrs. H. M. Wood, Vice-Chairman of the Council, presiding, reports from various Societies and committees were received.

The outstanding report of the day was made by Mr. C. C. Avar, Chairman of the Finance Committee who stated that the Sidney Walker Hunton Scholarship had been oversubscribed. This statement was received with great enthusiasm. Mr. Avar announced that the total sum of ten thousand dollars was invested in the 5 percent guarantee investment certificate with the Central Trust Company of Moncton, N. B. The Hunton scholarship committee has been appointed which will study the uses of this scholarship and make a report at the May meeting of the Federated Council. The creation of this scholarship is something that has caught the fancy of former students of Mount Allison everywhere. A very large number participated in the building up of this popular scholarship. The scroll with all the names of those who had a part in the scholarship is in the possession of Professor Henson at the present time. Mr. Avar further announced that the project before the Federated Council is the furnishing of rooms in the new Academy. Local Societies are urged to cooperate in this as the name of the local Society furnishing a room is inscribed on a plaque on the door.

Mr. Avar further stated that the Finance Committee was working on a project that will prove to be one of the most popular undertakings on the part of the former students of Mount Allison. The Federated Council is looking forward to the announcement of this new project with a great deal of anticipation. The project will culminate in 1937.

Among out of town people attending the Council were Mr. E. R. Macdonald, Saint John, Mr. C. H. Black, Charlottetown, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hewson, Amherst, Rev. and Mrs. M. S. Linton, Salisbury, Rev. E. A committee is to be appointed to deal with all the implications of this very important matter of amalgamation.

FAMILY OF FOUR BURNED TO DEATH

HULL, Que. Nov. 5.—(CP)—The funeral of Mrs. Jean Campbell, and her two young children, Denise and Jean, who met swift death early on Saturday morning when flames roared through their flat in La Caisse Populaire Building here, will take place tomorrow.

Today hundreds of Ottawa and Hull citizens visited La Caisse Populaire of Notre Dame Parish, the scene of the fire which took four lives in a few brief minutes, according to friends called at the home of Arthur Manseau, where the bodies were taken from the morgue to pay their last respects to the victims of the tragedy.

Investigation of the gutted building by the fire chief Emilie Bond today confirmed the conclusions of Deputy Chief A. Audette that spontaneous combustion in a box of oily rags in the cellar was the cause of the blaze.

(C. P. The five surviving crew members, held in custody by Royal Canadian Mounted Police on suspicion of liquor smuggling tonight told of events that led up to the wrecking of their ship the rocks in one of the worst storms in the history of the Gulf. The Captain and a sailor were drowned.

The men are Louis Tillard, Maurice Tillard and Paul Ruel, all of St. Pierre and Miquelon, and Stanley Beck and Jim Danley, of New England. The St. Pierre was a small schooner from St. Pierre and Miquelon.

No word has been heard of the St. Pierre's missing crew since they were believed to have gone down with the wreck. The bodies of the five crew members and Captain.

Vote To End Mine Strike

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Nov. 4.—United anthracite miners voted today to end the three-day strike punctuated by open conflict between United Mine Workers and members of the younger union who sought to close colliers in the Nanticoke area.

Several shots were fired yesterday in the most serious of the battles, but no one was seriously injured in that clash or the fights of the preceding two days.

The Nanticoke police committee of the union rescinded its strike call after an all-night meeting. Thomas Maloney, president of the new union, assured the miners their plea for reinstatement of five Susquehanna colliery employees would be carried to court.

Milk In The School Lunch

If a child must carry his or her lunch to school it should be carefully planned for, after all, it is one of the three meals of the day and should, therefore, provide its share of food requirements. Milk should be included in some form in every child's lunch to avoid a daily shortage of the food so necessary for the growing girl and boy. The milk may be carried in a screw-top jar or thermos bottle, or it may be more convenient to have a supply of milk delivered each day to the school. When making a milk pudding for the members of the family who are at home for the noon-day meal, it is an easy matter to set a serving aside in a small glass jar for the next day's school lunch box. Wherever possible, particularly during the winter months, arrangements should be made to provide one hot dish at school to supplement the cold foods brought from home. Many milk dishes such as cream soups, cocoa, cream vegetables, cereals, eggs or meat are easily prepared, cost little, and will add materially to the nourishment and satisfaction derived from the school lunch.

RUSSIAN GOLD Feud Ended

MOSCOW, Nov. 5.—(CP)—The long feud between a group of British investors and the Russian government over the rich Lena goldfields was adjusted in an agreement signed here today.

The settlement was reached by the soviet's chief concession committee and Arthur Marshall, representing Lena Goldfields, Ltd. The Tass (Russian) News Agency reported that "all disputed questions had been regulated" in negotiations which had been under way three weeks.

No announcement was made as to the sum which Russia presumably agreed to pay the British Corporation, or of the manner in which former owners were to be reimbursed. But the mere fact that an agreement was effected was believed vitally important by British interests. It was believed the settlement would stimulate revival of Anglo-Russian trade. Great Britain already has displaced Germany as the largest exporter to Russia.

Mt'l. Police Uncover Second Still

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) MONTREAL, Nov. 4.—Dismantling of a still reported as capable of a daily output of from 600 to 1,000 gallons of alcohol per day was proceeding tonight following a raid by Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

The still was seized last night. It was going full blast when the constables made the seizure and the two operators on the premises arrested. Over 100 gallons of alcohol ready for shipment and six vials each containing 1,500 gallons of mash were seized.

This was the second successful raid conducted by the "Mounties" last week. Wednesday seizure was of a still in a downtown lot and equipment capable of producing 500 or 600 gallons of alcohol a day. Hundreds of gallons of distilled alcohol were confiscated.

Liner Returning To Ship-Breaker

(By The Canadian Press) LONDON, Nov. 4.—The Canadian Pacific liner, Empress of France which for the past three years has been lying in the Fairfield basin at Cowan, is to be removed to the Dalnair Shipyard to be broken up. Rather curiously this vessel, at the Alstair, was built at Dalnair by Beardmore in 1913, so that she will be broken up in the shipyard where she was built. She has a gross tonnage of 15,500 and in her day was one of the most noted of liners, carrying more than 16,000 passengers. During the War the Empress of France was flagship to the patrol between the Shetlands and Iceland, and intercepted and examined no fewer than 15,000 ships.

It is understood that the price for the ship for breaking up purposes was about $150,000. There was keen competition for her from Japanese buyers. Three other large British liners—the Baltic, Lapland and Albertic—which have been sold as scrap during the past two years, were broken up in Japan.
