(Canadian Press)
Bobby Feller scored his fifth victory of the American League season at New York yesterday, although he needed help in the ninth as Cleveland Indians downed the Yankees 5-3.

Indians belted their former teammate, Allie Reynolds, out of the box in a three-run eighth inning rally to nip the Bronx Bombers.

Philadelphia Athletics swept a doubleheader from the tall-end St. Louis Browns, winning the second game 5-2 on three unearned runs after Denny Galehouse handed out a base on balls with the bases loaded in the ninth inning to give A's the first game 4-3, after Sam Chapman had knotted the count.

Two-run rallies in the ninth inning of both games gave Chicago White Sox a double win over the Senators at Washington.

A doubleheader at Boston between Detroit and the Red Sox was rained out.

Reynolds, who came to the Yankees last fall in a trade for second baseman Flash Gordon, kept pace with Feller for seven innings at New York with the score tied 1-1.

Then Indians rookie first baseman Ed Robinson broke the deadlock in the eighth with his first home run. The Tribe added two more runs in that frame to send Reynolds to the showers.

Gordon, who had a perfect day at bat with three hits and two walks, homered in the ninth off Joe Page.

Feller, who fanned six and walked six, got into trouble in the sixth when he walked a man with the bases loaded for Yankees' first run, and again in the ninth, when he forced in another run and Steve Gromek pitched a home run.

Philadelphia's win raised them to sixth place, just one-half game behind New York and Chicago, tied in fourth.

Jeff Flores, relieving Phil Marchiondo in the opener, gained credit for his first win of the season. Russ Christopher was the winner in the second game, as the A's pushed across three runs in the eighth on a double, single, two walks and two errors.

At Washington, Orval Grove gained credit for his first win in the second game as the Sox staged some smart baseball to score their two in the ninth on a walk, a pair of singles and a fly.

Thurman Tucker's double in the final inning of the opener scored a pair of runs to give Earl Harriot the decision.

Horses Suspended

BOSTON, May 18—Spokesmen for Suffolk Downs and the Massachusetts Racing Commission announced Saturday that State Police chemists had reported "an analysis of the fluid (urine) taken from a horse identified as Sun Flame, winner of the second race on Thursday, May 15 1947, shows that a stimulant of the nature of benzadrine has been found."

Track stewards ruled that, pending the outcome of a hearing to be given trainer W. E. Collins and groom John Himmelreich, May 20, "all horses owned by or under the control of W. E. Collins are hereby suspended."

Eight Forest Fires Burn In Nova Scotia

HALIFAX, May 18—(CP)—Eight forest fires in five counties of Nova Scotia burned over hundreds of acres of woodland during the week-end. Rain tonight checked their advance to some extent.

Probably the least serious fire but the one that caused most concern was across the harbor from Halifax. A small brush fire three miles from the naval magazine sent Halifaxians scurrying for telephones to determine whether there was any danger of it reaching the huge ammunition dump. The blaze was brought under control after a stiff fight.

It was one of four fires in Halifax County. Two others were near the coast, at Sheet Harbor and Chesetcook, and the fourth in the Musquodoboit area north of Halifax. Forest rangers have been battling all of them since early today.

ESTEVAN, Sask.—(CP)—When chief of police Harvey took a long pull at his pipe in the office just treated with cyanide to dispel a horde of ants, he was put out of action for two weeks with irritated lungs previously weakened by a bout with pneumonia.

Wilkin Wins Match Race At Halifax

HALIFAX, May 18—(CP)—The bay pacer, Wilkin, owned by C.J. (Charlie) Craig of Halifax, won the match race for a $500 side purse on the North Commons track Saturday from Ernie Gray's gallant campaigner Sully. It was the last meet on the Commons for this season.

The challenge race which attracted the largest crowd ever to witness a race card over the spacious track was a disappointing affair. Marred first by a false start when a bystander cried "go" the race received further detractions when Sully broke his hoppers in the opening heat leaving Wilkin to pace home at ease.

The two horses sped under the wire in a close finish in the second and deciding heat.

The Class A race, won by Dolly Direct in straight heats, gave onlookers their biggest thrill. The three mares in the event made it a close fight to the wire in every heat.

"Twa" Wins California Jumping Frog Contest

ANGELS CAMP, Calif., May 18—(AP)—A frog by the name of "Twa" won the historic Calaveras County jumping contest today with a mark of 14 feet, four inches, and wound up one jump away from the frying pan.

At least that was the fate Twa's owner, 16-year-old Merlin Fisher, indicated he had in mind for his frog. The Stockton boy explained that most of the contestants dine on their entrees as soon as the jumping matches are over, frogs' legs being the delicacy they are.

Fisher's winner this year jumped two feet short of the record, set in 1944 by another Fisher entry, Maggie, who leaped 16 feet, 4 inches before, presumably, going the way of all Calaveras frogs.

Thousands gathered among the live oak trees in 95 degree heat to pay homage to Mark Twain's story of the jumping frog. One entrant, "Miss Wurlitzer," was flown from Watsonville, Calif., and dropped by a silken parachute. The frog hopped happily from a can cushioned by a wet rag but Miss Wurlitzer didn't make the finals.

BACTERIOLOGICAL

Other Countries

The report gives the work on bacterial warfare of scientists in eight countries prior to 1942. Not one German was in this list, apparently because German biological war science went under secrecy long before the war. The countries are Poland, France, Italy, Czechoslovakia, Morocco, Belgium, Great Britain and the United States.

This study is announced as the first step by the scientific workers to educate the public on what bacteriological war can do. It says there are no possibilities at present for international control like those for atom bomb.

Even small powers and innocent-looking legitimate medical laboratories can fashion the kind of weapons described in the report.

Airplanes are considered the best disease spreaders. Air-borne infections, that people get by breathing, are the top menaces. Water and food-borne diseases are not considered as likely to succeed. Topping the favored war diseases are typhus, or rabbit fever, not the common form, but one that spreads in air and causes pneumonia; pneumonic plague, which is the lung form of black death and spreads by air and melloidosis, a glanders-like disease, now rare, which attacks the lungs.

Melloidosis is a rare disease, with only 83 known cases up to 1942. Only two lived. During the war there were a few fatal cases on Guam.

Yellow fever comes into the war picture in a new guise. Normally mosquitoes spread yellow jack and getting rid of the insects stops the disease. But the study says that in 1931 there were cases spread in a laboratory without mosquitoes, and that this discovery was never followed up.

Not Too Promising

Botulinous poisoning is not too promising. This is the poison, one ounce of which could kill 180,000,000 persons and which made a sensation last summer when the chemical warfare service said it had found a way to mass-produce the poison.

To be so deadly, it has to be inoculated by needle. Also there is a toxin that given in advance would protect human beings.

Anthrax, which kills quickly like blood poisoning, rates well. This germ is tough, lives a long time and only a few are needed to kill. Anthrax could be scattered by shell fragments or sown on the earth. There is an animal vaccine but it is not known whether man can be successfully vaccinated. Pottacosis is said to be possibly one of the most useful war diseases, because large amounts of the virus that causes it can be obtained. Vaccination may be possible.

Soviet Press, Radio In New Campaign

MOSCOW, May 18—(AP)—The Soviet press and radio have gone into high gear against what is viewed here as a growing United States campaign against Communism.

FOX HUNTING TITLE

EDWARD M., seven-year-old brown gelding owned by Mrs. B.H. Griswold, III, won the $600 Gloucester Fox Hunters Plate, a 3 1/2-mile timber test, in 6:29 3/5 Saturday at the tragedy-marked spring meeting of the Rose Tree Fox Hunting Club.

A crowd of 10,000 spectators saw two horses killed in the Rose Tree novice brush race as Migah, owned by William L. Disston, dropped dead going to the post. A short time after the race got under way, Royal Tryster, A. John J. Hays entry, broke its neck on the 10th jump and had to be destroyed.

PLANS TRIP ACROSS CANADA

LONDON, May 18—(CP)—Planning to cycle across Canada, Michael Bradley, a professional singer, and Alfred Griffiths, a store manager, both of London, left here for Montreal by plane Saturday night.

That the Communist and capitalist systems can live side by side in one world, Prime Minister Stalin voiced that viewpoint in his recent interview with Republican leader Harold E. Stassen, and the press now is using it diligently.

The Russians are sensitive to President Truman's program of aid in the form of dollars for Greece and Turkey. They appear also to be convinced that the United States is dangling dollars before the governments of France, Italy and Iran, to mention a few. The Moscow radio Saturday carried a report that the Netherlands is in bad financial shape and is weighing the possibilities of an American loan.

It seems to be the opinion here that the United States will welcome all such applications and in making loans will stipulate provisions "beneficial" as the Russians put it, to the United States and aimed against the Soviet Union.
