Enjoyable Concert Given In Honor Of R.A.F. Instructors

A most enjoyable concert in honour of the members of the School of General Recognizance, R.A.F., now billeted at the Charlottetown Airport, was given at the airport last night by the Charlottetown Male Chorus with the Community Band and assisting artists. The entertainment was sponsored by the City and Provincial Governments, under the chairmanship of His Worship Mayor Holman who later "handed over" to Capt. T. E. E. Robins, president of the Male Chorus, who acted as master of ceremonies for the remainder of the evening.

Members of the Provincial Government, the City Council and other prominent citizens were present and were welcomed at the air training school by the commanding officer, Wing Commander E. A. Blake, M.M., and the Adjutant, Flight Lieut. C. C. Hirst, the latter being well known in this country as the former secretary of the Aviation League of Canada and the founder of the Model Aircraft League of Canada.

The entertainment opened in the recreation hall of the school with an Overture by the Community Band, led by Bandmaster Thomas McFarlane.

Brief addresses of welcome to the overseas airmen, (who are not here as trainees but as full-fledged instructors,) were then given by Mayor Holman, Hon. J. P. McIntyre, Acting Premier, His Honour Lieutenant Governor LePare, and Mr. J.F. Leightizer, president of the Canadian Legion, a former Regimental Sergeant Major. Replies were made by Flight Commander Blake and Sgt. Major Armstrong, R.A.F., both of whom tendered thanks, on behalf of themselves and their unit, for the hospitality received in Charlottetown, and to the people of the Province generally for the warm reception accorded them on such short notice.

The visiting air instructors themselves contributed the program which followed by participating enthusiastically in a singsong led by Sgt. Maj. Arthur Bruce, of the Canadian Legion, and by solos and duets by Air Craftsmen Coaley, and MacLean, and Corporal Haskell, R A. F.

The following selections by the Charlottetown Male Chorus were given under the direction of Mr John Inch, Mus. Bach., with Mr. Albert Blanchard as accompanist: "Let the Hills Resound" (Richards), "O, My Love's Like a Red, Red Rose" (Houldsworth) with the solo part taken by City Councillor J. E. Sterns; "Silent Night" (Grueber), "The Christmas Song," (Adam), "Steal Away" (Negro Spiritual) "Ethiopian Romanze" (Heyser), "Old Man Noah" (Chanty); "Home on the Range" (Guion-Riegger); with Sgt. Maj. Arthur Bruce as soloist; "Deep River" (Burleigh); "The Song of the Jolly Roger" (Candish) and "The Old Road" (Scott).

The Community Band selections included a medley of "Songs from England," "Marches", and other stirring tunes, which also were warmly applauded.

Other features of the program included a trumpet solo, "Roses in Picardy" by Bandsman William Albert; a reading, "The Cremation of Sam Magee," by George Beers; an entertaining soprano solo, "All Ashore," by "Miss" Jimmy Power, and a duet by "The Cackling Sisters," Messrs. Taylor and LeClair of the Male Chorus, who also appeared in feminine attire; solos by Captain Robins and two step-dancing numbers by Master Gallant, which were warmly encored.

The entertainment concluded with the National Anthem.

Among the air training instructors now in camp are many who have seen active service in the present war, and have given an excellent account of themselves.

Eire to become More dependent On U. K. economy

LONDON, Jan. 2—(CP) —Imposition of a licensing system on Eire exports, announced yesterday by the ministry of economic warfare, was viewed here today as adding a finishing touch to Eire's economic dependency on the country with which it refused to cooperate in prosecution of the war.

The ministry said that, beginning Jan. 22, exporters in Eire must procure navicerts (British cargo certificates) for shipments to several European neutrals, Soviet Russia, French West Africa and certain smaller territories. The United States is excepted.

Britain already has started rationing Eire imports with restrictions on cattle, feed, fertilizer and other supplies Eire is mainly dependent on British shipping arrangements both for importing and exporting, and her money is tied up with the Bank of England.

The Eire pound is payable in London, and Eire bankers are careful to prevent clients circumventing British defence regulations conserving foreign exchange.

Under the navicert system, Eire can export to neutrals only when and what Britain sees fit. If they have a surplus of hogs, for instance, and want to sell them to Russia, Britain can prevent it if she takes the view that the ultimate destination might be Germany.

Economic pressure has been added to the press campaign criticizing Eire's refusal to turn over her ports to the Royal Navy, which would use them as advance Atlantic bases in the anti-submarine and anti-raider campaign.

Some section of British opinion have been advocating that Eire be "cut adrift" completely if the ports are not handed over. Eamon De Valera, Prime Minister, contends that handing over the ports would put Eire in the war and subject her to Axis bombing, for which she lacks defence.

Britain still A Democracy, Air Chief says

OTTAWA, Jan. 2.—(CP) —While war conditions have led the British people to give up some of their cherished liberties, it is erroneous to conclude that Great Britain is no longer a democracy, Air Chief Marshal Sir Hugh Dowding said today in a speech to the Canadian Club. Among his listeners were the Governor-General and Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

"There is all the difference in the world between a voluntary surrender of liberties in order that the war may be prosecuted successfully and the restrictions and hardships imposed on a reluctant people by a dictator and his mermidons," he said.

He made the remark in discussing the spirit of the British people and conditions of living in the air raid zone. Some persons, he said, felt there was little difference between conditions in Great Britain and those in Germany, and the Germans had described Prime Minister Churchill as a dictator.

"I would say Mr. Churchill is the true interpreter of the nation and its wishes," he said. "Far from the German view that he is a dictator imposing his will on the people, it is the iron will of the nation which is imposed on Mr. Churchill. The nation would not permit him to weaken even if he wished to."

Currencies

NEW YORK, Jan. 2—(CP)—The Canadian dollar dropped 1-16 of a cent to a discount of 14 1-16 per cent in terms of the United States dollar in the foreign market today. (Ottawa Foreign Exchange Control Board rate 9.09—9.91 per cent discount.) The small supply of "free" exchange has made the Canadian money susceptible to sharp swings.

The free pound sterling was unchanged at $4.03 3-4 while the free Argentine peso and the Hong Kong dollar rose a little. The Swiss franc was shaded downward.

DID YOU TAKE A LAXATIVE TODAY?

Do you really know why constipation is so harmful?

You probably know that constipation sets up poisons in the large intestine or colon. But do you know that these poisons seep through the walls of the colon and infect the bloodstream? They set up toxic accumulations in kidneys and liver and are contributing causes of rheumatic pains, sciatica and backache.

Most laxatives only act in the colon. Kruschen does more. It is the laxative with a double action. Besides ridding the colon of stagnating waste matter, Kruschen's mineral salts have a diuretic action. They flush the kidneys, help to clear the bloodstream of all poisonous matter, and so protect your whole system from that form of infection.

You can get Kruschen from all drug stores. Prices 75c and 25c.

TWO INCHES OF SNOW. —Two inches of fresh snowfall and colder weather greeted Prince Edward Islanders yesterday. The temperature was steady at about 10 degrees below freezing while a brisk northwest wind kicked up the freshly fallen snow into swirling drifts. MENTAL PATIENT LOCATED— A mental patient was tracked for six miles in the Kelly's Cross district yesterday and last night by Royal Canadian Mounted Police before he was finally run to earth. The patient, a man weighing 225 pounds escaped yesterday prior to his removal to Falconwood Hospital. Mounted Police were called to assist in the search. The patient, clad in a light overcoat and not much else, on his bare feet and with no covering on his head or hands was not located until he had travelled over miles of territory, sometimes on the main road and sometimes in thick scrub bush and across fields. He was taken to Falconwood Hospital early today. Medical authorities said he apparently suffered no ill effects from exposure.

ANOTHE MENINGITIS CASE REPORTED— Another case of spinal meningitis has made its appearance, this time at St. Peter's Harbour. A seven-year old schoolboy from that district was taken to the Prince Edward Island Hospital yesterday when it was discovered that he was ill with the disease. The boy has been unwell for the past week but the case was not diagnosed as meningitis for certain until yesterday. His chances for recovery are good, it was learned last night. The boy had been ill with measles in December but had been able to return to school before the Christmas holidays. It is believed, however, that this weakened his resistance and left him a target for meningitis. This is the sixth case reported since early in December. Two fatalities in the province have occurred from the disease since its outbreak.

CONTINUE ADVANCE

ATHENS, Jan. 2.—(AP)—Despite bad weather and stiffening Italian resistance, Greek troops in the northern sector of the Albanian battlefront were said tonight to be continuing their advance.

A Greek general headquarters communique said merely that there had been successful local action and added that a number of prisoners and machine-guns were captured.

In the northern sector, a government spokesman said conditions had "not completely stopped our troops from pushing their lines forward, crushing stiff enemy resistance and occupying some villages."

On other parts of the front, the spokesman said, "operations in the last few days were hampered by bad weather, above all torrential rains and stormy winds."

Celebrate Golden Wedding

MR. AND MRS. C. H. POOLE

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Poole of Lower Montague are today receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the celebration of their golden wedding anniversary. Both are enjoying the best of health and look forward to many more years of wedded life.

On January 3, 1891, the couple were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. Mr. Roulston at Murray Harbour North Presbyterian church. They began their married life at Sturgeon, where Mr. Poole, in partnership with his brother, the late Mr. W. L. Poole, of Montague, who passed away a short time ago, operated a woollen mill. Four years later Mr. and Mrs. Poole went to Massachusetts, U.S.A., where they remained for several years. On return to this province Mr. Poole took over the old homestead of his father, the late Mr John T. Poole at Lower Montague, where he still resides. Here he conducted a farm and mill.

Many tourists who visited this province in the past 18 years will remember with pleasure their stay at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Poole in Lower Montague. Mrs. Poole, better known as "Aunt Ett," operates a first-class tourist home and remembers with pride the year 1928 when she won the beautiful trophy donated by Ex-Governor Frank Heartz for having made the most improvement in the appearance of her home.

Mrs. Poole before her marriage was Etta Thompson of Montague. The couple has two daughters, Martha, 97 Upper Prince Street, Charlottetown, and Bessie, at home.

Attention Farmers Near Ch'Town

This changeable weather is hard on Turnips. Watch your cellars and pits. We are noticing some waste.

We can use each week about seven to eight thousand bags of Turnips. We are buying at prevailing market price, both purple top and bronze top, and, providing it is possible for our trucks to reach your farm, we are willing to haul same.

Do not look for a big price on Turnips with Potatoes so low, and remember, it is more profitable for you to sell all of your Turnips that are in storage than to regrade and sell only part of them later on at a higher price. Keep in touch with the office.

them. Some pilots found the particular objective which they had been detailed to attack so thoroughly ablaze that rather than waste their bombs on buildings already gutted, they sought other factories or dockyards in the city."

The news service said official reports of the raid broke into "exceptional eloquence" and described it as much worse than the attack on Mannheim, submarine building centre raided for seven hours on Dec. 17.

Pilots who attacked the food mills reported eight large fires broke out and eventually came together "in one great conflagration" visible as they crossed the Netherlands frontier on the way home.

At several shipbuilding yards where warships, especially submarines, were under construction, the bulletin said the raiders scored repeated hits with heavy explosive and incendiary bombs.

"On two of these yards nothing could be seen but a sheet of fire so brilliant and of such uniform intensity that bursts of high explosive bombs could not be distinguished among the flames.

"The Atlas shipbuilding yards also were ablaze and a whole line of warehouses beside the number two harbor was alight."

One pilot who splashed bombs into the blazing airplane factory reported six explosions followed. Flushing, Ostend and Brest were also attacked.

ATTACK IS

The mines which fell at Enniskerry, County Wicklow, were said by experts to be of the German magnetic variety used early in the war before Britain devised a defence system against them.

They were carried to earth by parachutes of emerald-green silk, also of German manufacture.

The government information bureau said the army engineers would destroy the mines Friday and warned residents within a three-mile radius to open their windows. Residents for a half-mile about have been moved out of their homes.

In the five-hour bombing Wednesday night and Thursday morning, the department of defence listed these localities as struck: Dueek, five bombs, and Julianstown, three bombs. Both towns are near Drogheda, centre of the Irish cattle industry supplying Liverpool.

Rathdown Park, Terenure, a Dublin suburb, two bombs; two houses smashed, several damaged; seven persons trapped in wreckage, but rescued; several persons injured.

A fortified road in the Laverna Grove area of the same district, two bombs which fell in waste ground; some houses damaged.

Knockroe, number of bombs not stated.

The old Curragh (County Kildare) racecourse—now Irish army headquarters—three high explosive bombs and a large number of incendiaries, the only damage reported in this being to a hay stack.

The Enniskerry-Kilmacanogue district, County Wicklow, number of bombs not stated.

It was suggested in some unofficial quarters that the raiding planes were German craft repulsed from an attack on Liverpool, 150 miles eastward across the Irish Sea.
