Chautauqua

JULY 10th TO 17th

Scene from "Applesauce"

Kind Words Value To Be Proved At Chautauqua

Kind words, whether you mean them or not, make the world a happier place to run about in. At least that's the idea to be garnered from Barry Conners' comedy, "Applesauce," soon to be presented here for the first time on Chautauqua.

The play, another illumination on a supposedly typical American home, does not burn any brighter in its material make-up. Pa rasps, ma squawks—and the battle is on. Daughter has her beaus, so that's something that must be settled. There are lots of good comedy gags. The action is sure fire for laughs.

In the foreground always is the character of Bill McAllister who can easily claim flesh and blood relationship to Aubrey Piper. He's an enterprising young loafer, paradoxical as it may seem, who specializes in good nature, compliments every one he meets in a profuse manner and is generally possessed of a glib line of soothing patter that no one can keep up with or have any patience to combat.

The plot revolves about his manœuvers in courtship and matrimony. First of all, Bill's ready tongue convinces the almost successful suitor of the girl Bill loves that marital strife would be an unbearable burden and then he turns around and cheerfully assumes that burden himself after the other fellow runs out. He softens Hazel's father's anger, and this is remarkable in view of the fact that that individual does not want to be softened. Finally, Bill lulls his suspicious uncle into supporting him and his wife. A clever piece of work, indeed, without lifting up a hand to do it. The play is reported to be well cast, adequately costumed and in every way a first class production. 406.

Lobster Fishermen Receive Replies to Their Request

Mr. H. H. Cox, of Morell, chairman of the meeting of lobster packers and fishermen which was held in Charlottetown on the 22nd June, has received the following letters in reply to the telegram sent to Ottawa containing a resolution passed at the meeting asking for a fall season this year.

Letters were received from Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, Messrs R. H. Jenkins, M. P., A. E. MacLean, M. P., J. A. Messervey, M. P., and J. A. MacDonald, M. P.

From the Minister,
Hon. P. J. A. Cardin

Office of the Minister of Marine and Fisheries of Canada
Ottawa, June 25th, 1926

Dear Mr. Cox:

Your telegram of the 22nd instant, intimating that at a meeting of the lobster fishermen and packers representing the north side of Prince Edward Island it was resolved, owing to the small pack this year, to ask for a fall fishing season extending from the middle of August to September 20th, has been received and carefully considered.

It is to be regretted that the pack up to the time of your meeting is a small one. It must not be forgotten, however, that we recently extended the present season for ten days, and as there remained almost two weeks of what is likely to be fine fishing weather after the date of your meeting, the pack will probably be considerably augumented before the end of the extended season.

Your section of the coast is, as you know, included in the district which covers the whole south shore of the Gulf excepting the part of Northumberland Strait where fishing takes place in the fall. Your request, therefore, cannot be considered apart from what the district as a whole may have to say in the matter. And as there is a strong feeling throughout the district that the granting of a fall season in addition to a spring one in the same year would while giving temporary relief to some, hasten the very evident decline in this fishery, the Department cannot see its way clear to further extend this year's fishing season.

Believe me, dear Mr. Cox,
Yours very truly,
P. J. A. CARDIN.

From R. H. Jenkins, M. P.
Ottawa, June 23, 1926.

Mr. H. H. Cox,
Morell, P. E. I.

Dear Mr. Cox:

This will acknowledge your telegram today reading as follows:

"At a large meeting held here today of lobster packers and fishermen representing the North side of Prince Edward Island. The following resolution was passed by practically a unanimous vote after a lengthy discussion: "Resolved that owing to the exceptionally small pack this year, resulting in serious financial loss to packers and fishermen, and in view of the strong demand for canned lobsters, the Government be asked to grant a fall season for 1926 to extend from August 15th to September 20th, further resolved that it is our opinion that a fall season will tend to eliminate illegal fishing and that the extension already granted to July 5th will be of little or no value in remedying the situation.

It was decided to forward petitions if asked for.

I shall present the matter at once to the Department for their consideration.

Yours sincerely,
R. H. JENKINS.

From A. E. MacLean, M. P.
Ottawa, June 24th, 1926.

H. H. Cox, Esq.,
Morell, P. E. I.

Dear Sir:

I received your telegram containing the resolution passed at the meeting of lobster packers and fishermen, held in Charlottetown recently, and have forwarded this to the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, as you have requested.

On account of the ten days' extension being already granted, I am afraid that it will be difficult to convince the Department that it would be in the interest of all concerned to have another season, as I often heard them state the year they granted a second season it was very detrimental to the lobster fishing industry.

However, I am passing your resolution along to the Department, and may say that a second season would no doubt be welcomed by the fishermen of Prince County, which I have the honor to represent.

Yours truly,
A. E. MacLEAN.

From Mr. J. A. Messervey, M. P.

Ottawa, June 23rd, 1926

H. H. Cox, Esq.
Morell, P. E. I.

My Dear Mr. Cox:

I was pleased to get your telegram, and you can feel assured I will do everything I can for the fishermen in your locality. I understand the question thoroughly. I received your telegram at eight o'clock and at 8.30 it was in the Minister's hands. I will let you know the result as quickly as they decide what is best to be done, but as you know, I am in the opposition and it is pretty hard for one to do much unless you are in the Government. However, I will do everything I can for you.

With kindest personal regards.

Yours very truly,
J. A. MESSERVEY.

Ottawa, June 24, 1926

H. H. Cox, Esq.,
Morell, P. E. I.

Dear Mr. Cox:

I have your telegram with regard to a fall lobster season, and if it is the unanimous wish of the people in King's County, I will, of course, do all I can do to support their demands. I will endeavour to see the Departmental officials today and let you know what their ideas are on this question. My own opinion is that they will be previous conversations they are opposed to it, as I gather from anxious to close the late season in the western part of the Straits of Northumberland. However, I will advise you later as to their attitude.

Yours very truly,
J. A. MacDONALD.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. JAS. SEMPLE

Mrs. James Semple died at her home in New Glasgow, on the 30th May last. The deceased was a daughter of the late James Donald of Park Corner, New London. Born July, 1834, she had almost reached her ninety-second birthday.

In July, 1863, she was united in marriage to the late James Semple. To this union a family of five were born, four sons and one daughter. After a happy period of twelve years, her husband after a few days illness died of blood poisoning, leaving her with this young family, the eldest being ten years old and the youngest a babe of a few weeks.

With true courage and being possessed with more than ordinary business ability, with the aid of hired help she was able to continue her farm operations successfully until her eldest sons were able to assist her.

During her life Mrs. Semple was not without her trials and sorrows which she was able to bear with Christian fortitude.

Her only daughter after a brief illness died at the age of thirteen.

A few years later her third son Russell who was engaged in the blacksmith business in Charlottetown, took suddenly ill and lived only a few days, being 21 years of age at the time of his death. Her eldest son Hammond after an illness of some time, died at the age of thirty years.

After his death she lived with her son Edward, or "Eddie" as he was generally called, until three years ago, after a few weeks illness he died on the 26th June.

Her only remaining son John, who had been in business in Chilliwack, B. C., for about twenty years having been notified of his brother's illness hastened home arriving shortly after he had passed away. Seeing his mother's feebleness he felt it his duty to remain and take care of her while she lived.

Mrs. Semple was a kind neighbor always willing to help any good cause and no one was ever let go away hungry.

She and her family were held in the highest esteem by all who had the pleasure of their acquaintance.

She was a life long member of the Presbyterian Church, always ready to help to the best of her ability.

The funeral services were conducted by her pastor, the Rev. E. M. Aitken, assisted by his brother, Mr. Aitken delivered a very impressive discourse.

There remains to mourn one son and two sisters, Mrs James Offer of Charlottetown and Mrs. William C. McNeill of Hunter River, the latter having been with her for the last four weeks before her death.

The pall bearers were her six nephews, William Orr, Townsend McNeill, Watson Semple, Allan Moffatt Tyndal Semple, Alva McNeill.

Address And Presentation

TO MR. LOUIS DOUGAN

On Monday evening last the Altar and Choir boys of St. Dunstan's Cathedral gathered in the Assembly Hall to bid farewell to Mr. Louis Dougan, who for seventeen years has been a valued Altar boy and who also for several years past assisted at all important ceremonies as an assistant master of ceremonies.

Rev. P. Walsh, Spiritual Director, occupied the chair and enjoyable solos were delivered by three of the choir boys, Messrs. Pius Callaghan, Wm. McIntyre and Arthur Moran.

Mr. Dougan, accompanied by Very Rev. Jas. McGuigan, V. G. who has been visiting his home here, left on the following morning for Edmonton where "Louis" will enter the University there to take up his theological studies.

An address and purse of gold was presented to Mr. Dougan who in his usual modest manner made a suitable reply.

Cheers were then given for the guest of honor who individually said good bye to his friends.

The following is the address:

To Mr. Louis Dougan:

With much regret we learn you are to leave us, on the morrow, to take up your abode in Western Canada. You will be missed by many but assurely none will so truly feel your departure as the Altar and Choir boys of St. Dunstan's Cathedral parish, especially the Altar boys.

Those among us, who have served at the Altar with you longest, know well that from your early boyhood you evinced a serving aptitude for serving at God's Altar. We feel safe in saying that no Altar boy of St. Dunstan's ever became so proficient as you in all the ceremonies of our Cathedral. Certainly none ever have taken such delight and pride in beautifying and decorating the Altars and Sanctuary of our Church.

We placed entire confidence in you, and well knew that, when elaborate ceremonies were being put on, Louis would be on hand, even if it were only some evening devotion which required the assistance of the Altar boys, we absolutely knew that "Louis" would be there and manage and direct.

Faithful and punctual, modest and diligent, zealous, yet patient, you indeed were a model for us, and an incentive for others to become members of the Altar and Choir boys of St. Dunstan's.

Your place is hard to fill and we lament your going. But we know, dear friend, that you are going only to obey the dictates of a true conscience, and to do the bidding of One who is beckoning you to ascend further in the service of God's Altar, which you so well respected and loved as an Altar boy.

We hope that we all shall strive to imitate your example, and that the memory of you and your excellent conduct will ever be an inspiration for us to become more efficient.

We would like to say, "Louis remain with us!" But no! we must cheer and encourage, and so on this, the eve of your departure, we all wish you God speed. We ask you to accept this little gift as a remembrance of our appreciation of you, your diligent service and of your kindly efforts in our behalf, and also as a token of our good wishes for your success in your future career.

Signed on behalf of the Altar and Choir Boys.

Charlottetown,
June 28th, 1926.

MEMORIES

Round me at twilight comes stealing,
Shadows of days that are gone,
Dreams of the old light revealing,
Memories of love's golden dawn.

Sunlight may teach me forgetting,
Moonlight brings thoughts that are new,
Twilight brings sighs and regretting,
Moonlight means sweet dreams of you.

Memories! Memories, dreams of love so true,
O'er the sea of memory I'm drifting back to you,
Childhood days, wildwood days,
Among the birds and bees,
You left me alone, but still you're my own,
In my beautiful memories.
