J. Warren and Mrs Newsom, Crapaud, are spending a few days in the City, the guests of W. B. and Mrs. Robertson.

The report that Mr Venning's cheese factory at Tryon had been sold to the Crapaud Creamery Co is without foundation.

Alderman L. B. McMurdo, managing director of The Advocate, Newcastle, N. B., and formerly of Alberton, was in Moncton on Tuesday on business.

The many friends of Robert Stewart, Highfield, who is undergoing treatment at the P. E. Island Hospital will be pleased to know that he is improving nicely.

On Monday evening, February 7th, Rev. J. J. Macdonald held another of those successful socials for which his home has long been famous. The evening's entertainment was begun with a short program of vocal and instrumental music, including vocal solos by Rev. J. C. McLean, Rev. P. P. Arsenault and W. P. O'Rohaghan. Then followed a choice literary treat in the form of a very able address upon farming as a profession by Rev. A. McAlary, of Hope River. For about three quarters of an hour the reverend gentleman delighted the audience with eloquent and inspiring words, as he showed the dignity of farming as a profession, its many advantages and the entire dependence of all other professions upon farming, the most ancient and honorable of all professions. He pointed out the necessity of farmers taking more pride in their life work and the value of a good education, explaining fully how cultured and broad-minded men make the most successful farmers. At the close of the address a vote of thanks was moved by P. J. Smith and seconded by Dr. W. McMillan and Rev. J. C. McLean, and unanimously tendered the lecturer. The next was a very interesting part of the programme, being the sale of baskets, which were auctioned in Henry Crossman's well known style. After this the young people enjoyed a dance for a couple of hours. The net proceeds of the evening amounted to $140.00.
