YESTERDAY IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

Good Progress Made in Clearing up Business Liberals in Subdued and Repentant Mood Hon. Mr. Crothers Reports Labor Conditions Good. Only Three Minor Disputes Since War Broke Out.

(From our own Reporter.)
OTTAWA, Feb. 26.—Parliament did not tend to increase the interest, as a sitting without politics is usually dull. But good progress was made in clearing up business.
A special committee to consider amendments to the Criminal Code was appointed; several Government Bills were given a fresh reading; the consent of the House to a re-enactment of the special emergency legislation of the August war session was secured; a score of private bills were given a third reading, and all of the estimates of the Labour Department and part of the Inland Revenue were voted.
That is a substantial day's work for any legislative body.
The Liberals were in rather chastened mood. It is an open secret that they are beginning to repent at leisure something said in haste during the Budget debate. They realise that their opposition to the Budget and their defiant challenge for an election have placed the onus on themselves if a contest should come.

Hon. Mr. Crothers informed the Liberals that labour conditions were good in Canada. He pointed with pride to the fact that there had been only three labour disputes since the war broke out, and they were of a minor character. He had appealed to employers and employees to remember that the country needed all its strength for the great struggle in which we are engaged, and he believed that the appeal had been favourably received. The revision of the Labour Act would be held over, he announced, until another session. Some amendments had been drafted, but would not be introduced under present conditions.
The Liberals in the Budget debate have been bitterly attacking the Government for not cutting down expenditures in public works. But Mayor Medrie Martin of Montreal, Liberal, to-night assailed the Government for not going ahead with all big works.

CANADIANS NOW IN FIGHTING LINE

(Special to the Guardian.)
MONTREAL, Feb. 26.—A London despatch to the Montreal Star says an officer of the Canadian contingent writing Sunday says: "We have been in the first line of trenches the past two days, and now have returned, billeted for 24 hours, back in the trenches to-night. The behaviour of the Canadians in the trenches was splendid. Our trenches were only 100 yards from the German shell fire, and the sniping was wicked, but our artillery and snipers were equal to the occasion. We came out with very slight casualties."
(Special to the Guardian.)
TORONTO, Feb. 26.—The Mail and Empire has the following despatch this morning from Northern France, Tuesday, via London, Feb. 25: "I am able to state definitely that the Canadian troops have been in action. They distinguished themselves with the utmost gallantry and steadiness and were under heavy shell and rifle fire for hours. The Infantry Brigade was first in action. Its casualties were not heavy. The regiment repulsed a determined attack. The machine gun section is doing good work but has had a number wounded. The rifles distinguished themselves."

LONDON, Feb. 25.—That the first contingent has already been in action, is evidenced by the fact that Private Jack Davis, No. 8,428, Second Battalion, First Brigade, reached the Queen's Canadian hospital at Shorncliffe last night. Davis, who belongs to Renfrew, Ont., is suffering from shrapnel wounds.

CABINET CONSIDERS IMPORTANT MATTERS

LONDON, Feb. 26.—An official statement by the Admiralty announces that all the outer forts of the Dardanelles have been reduced and operations are continued.
The American note, the contents of which remain a secret but which in general, seems to bring about an understanding regarding the terms prescribed by Germany, and the shipment of foodstuffs designed for the civilian population of belligerents was considered at a meeting of the cabinet today but thus far no intimation as to the official attitude towards it can be obtained.
The press and public opinion regarding the war is in a condition. She left St. Johns, but put back Feb. 7. Repairs were made and she left again Feb. 13. It is believed here that the steamer encountered ice and that the leak has been opened again. She has 200 passengers aboard.

EASTERN KING'S SEED FAIR YESTERDAY

The Eastern King's Seed Fair, held in Souris yesterday, was a decided success, despite the fact that the roads were in an almost impassible state, while the threatening appearance of the weather prevented a large number from coming to town.
The showing in all sections was splendid, and marked improvement was noticeable in potatoes, which, as the judges said, would win a prize at any fair.
The competition in wheat and barley was very keen, and although the quantity exhibited was not so large as last year, the quality of the seed excelled anything ever before exhibited in Souris.
The poultry was also a great success.
The fair was formally opened at St. Mary's Hall at 2 p.m. by His Worship Mayor Brennan, who in an appropriate speech welcomed the visitors to Souris.
Hon. Murdoch McKinnon followed, and in an excellent speech complimented the committee on the success of the fair and especially on the improvement in the quality of the exhibits. He thought that it would be a good idea to make Souris a centre for the farmers of that section of the county, from which all the agricultural work would branch out from.
He also referred to the agricultural education introduced by the Government in the schools, the number of inspectors having been increased. Many districts have begun school gardens, and hundreds of children are now interested in home projects. All these things will flourish if there is a suitable centre established. He concluded by saying that the Seed Fair is a co-operation, and the farmers of Eastern Kings have made a success of it. He expressed himself willing to help in all times in the future, as he was in the past.
Speeches were also made by Prof. Reid, Prof. Ross, Mr. Richard Creed and H. H. Acorn.
Hon. John McLean made an excellent speech, speaking of the war, and encouraged the farmers to subscribe towards the Patriotic Fund.

ALLIES AGREE ON GERMAN REPRISALS

(Special to the Guardian.)
LONDON, Feb. 26.—France, Russia, Britain, Serbia and Belgium are said by an English official to be in accord as to reprisals to be made on Germany, Austria and Turkey, in retaliation for the German submarine campaign. Britain was in conference with her Allies concerning reprisals, making informal representations looking to the discrimination of submarine activity and the admission of foodstuffs to Germany for civil population.
While it can be authoritatively stated that the nature of the reprisals has not been agreed upon absolutely as yet, Britain and her Allies have decided upon the main points, which probably will be announced Monday by Premier Asquith, in a statement for the press simultaneously.
Walter Hines Page, American Ambassador from the United States to Britain, and the British Foreign Office have refrained from discussing the terms of the American note, but the Foreign Office has intimated that a probable statement by Premier Asquith on Monday will not be a direct answer to the American note, but a long promised elucidation of an intimation made by Sir Edward Grey, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, officers and other Cabinet Ministers, that reprisals against Germany would doubtless be necessary. There is every reason to believe that Britain fully intends to make all foodstuffs for Germany absolutely contraband, thus cutting off the movement of snips to German ports and making export trade by sea impossible.
Great interest is being shown by the British press and public in the probable treatment of cotton under the new system of reprisals. The belief seems to be general that cotton and food all will be absolutely contraband. British officials are now persuaded, they state, that several ships which at first were reported as having been destroyed by mines were victims of submarines.

CLYDE STRIKERS ARE ORDERED TO WORK

(Special to the Guardian.)
LONDON, Feb. 26.—Hon. Sir George Asquith, chief industrial commissioner for the Government, sent a peremptory order to-day to 10,000 shipyard engineers on strike on the Clyde that they must resume work Monday, as important munitions of war are being required by the army and navy and being held up. The strikers demand an increase in wages of 4 cents an hour.

U. S. COAST GUARD SHIP REPORTED OVERDUE

(Special to the Guardian.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—The coastguard ship, Seneca, is reported late to-day by wireless via Cape Race. She was conveying the steamer Mongolian into Halifax and that steamer was leaking badly. When the Mongolian, which is in command of Capt. Hatley, arrived at St. John's, Feb. 3, it was reported that she was in a bad condition. She left St. John's, but put back Feb. 7. Repairs were made and she left again Feb. 13. It is believed here that the steamer encountered ice and that the leak has been opened again. She has 200 passengers aboard.

GERMANY IS NOT LACKING FOOD

LONDON, Feb. 26.—A despatch to the Post from Bern says:
"All Germany's war food regulations, which are so strict, and other arrangements are not due to a real scarcity of food, but for a pretext to induce charitable Americans to feed the Belgians and the French to feed their people, in the portion of France occupied by Germany."
LONDON, Feb. 26.—A despatch to the Post from Bern says:
"All Germany's war food regulations, which are so strict, and other arrangements are not due to a real scarcity of food, but for a pretext to induce charitable Americans to feed the Belgians and the French to feed their people, in the portion of France occupied by Germany."

A DEFICIT OF $200,000 FACES THE GOVERNMENT OF NOVA SCOTIA

HALIFAX, Feb. 25.—A $200,000 deficit is what the province faces. The estimated total revenue for the year was $1,997,311. The revenue actually received was $1,855,457. The amount expended was $2,098,000, leaving the province in the hole to the extent of $213,000.

RUSSIANS CLAIM ANOTHER VICTORY

(Special to the Guardian.)
PETROGRAD, Feb. 26.—The following official statement was given out to-night: "According to supplementary information our successes in the Przasnysz region (Northern Russia Poland) during Feb. 24, 25, and the night of Feb. 25, were extremely important. The Russians courageously shattered the resistance of the Germans with rifle and bayonet, and progressed vigorously. The enemy is retiring along the whole front, abandoning prisoners, cannon, machine guns and commissariat.
"Our success was supported by the self-denying work of our armoured motor cars, which poured the machine guns into the Germans at constantly decreasing distances, in some instances only a few score yards. The enemy's losses were great. Up to the present it has been ascertained that during Feb. 24 and 25 we captured thirty officers, 2,000 men, seven cannon, eleven machine guns, a huge quantity of equipment and commissariat supplies."
LONDON, Feb. 26.—The continued progress which the French are making in Champagne district, and the pressure which the Allies, without a moment's delay, are being declared to be bringing to bear on the German line in the west have, according to news received from Holland, induced the Germans to make another effort in the west before the Allied forces reach their maximum strength. By day and night, Dutch newspapers say, big motor cars loaded with German soldiers are hurrying through Belgium to the western front, and troops which have been sent to Northern Belgium are going back to the trenches. The fact that some of the troops are passing through Belgium from the eastern front suggests to military observers that the Germans have decided they are able to hold the Russians in their present positions while carrying out a new offensive in the west. The silence of the German General Staff, which to-day simply said there are no changes on either front, is taken in London as confirmation that some big movement is under way. It is declared the Allies are displaying no uneasiness. They believe that the softness of the ground must prove a great disadvantage to the Germans and although the Hungarian troops are not yet ready, that they will be able to repel any new attack.
During the last couple of days the British slightly improved their positions in the region of La Bassee while the French report further progress by the troops in the vicinity of Perthes and Argonne and repeated success by the artillery in destroying German guns and trenches.
In the East the big battle along the Russian front which follows the river almost the whole way from the Carpathians to the Baltic, is undecided. The same is true of battles in the Carpathians and Bukovina. Petrograd despatches, however, claim the Russians are more than holding their own in North and Central Poland and that in the Carpathians they are making such a steady advance that not only the Hungarian but the Austrian armies fighting in Bukovina are threatened.
No further news has reached London of the bombardment of the Dardanelles by the allied fleet but it is believed the warships will now continue their attack on the straits and, having destroyed the outer fortifications the entrance to the waterway is being cleared of mines preparatory to attacking the inner forts. One effect of the preliminary success of the Allies in the Dardanelles was the dropping of the price of wheat at several points on the Liverpool exchange.

THE REAL DOG SAUSAGE.

(Special to the Guardian.)
COPENHAGEN, Feb. 25.—The German government is expected soon to increase food restrictions. It is expected that there will soon be meat and potato cards as well as bread cards for all classes. The government is also increasing its restrictions on food and drink in public restaurants. German agents are buying dogs of all kinds in West Jutland from farmers and peasants. These, it is said, are being made into sausages for human consumption, principally among the German population.

(Special to the Guardian.)
SARNIA, Ont., Feb. 26.—A fact not generally known is that Countess Zeppelin, wife of the inventor of the great aircraft, was a Canadian girl. Countess Zeppelin is the daughter of the late W. H. MacGregor, and was born in the village of Wyoming, Lambton county, in 1875, going at an early age with her father to live in Austria.

(Special to the Guardian.)
LONDON, Feb. 26.—The Evening News publishes a despatch from Rotterdam saying that owing to shortage of food German authorities have ordered the expulsion of 500 Chinese. A strong Netherlands police force has been sent to the frontier to prevent these men from entering Dutch territory. Complications are expected, the correspondent declares.

FRENCH OFFICIAL

(Special to the Guardian.)
PARIS, Feb. 26.—The War Office gave out the following statement this afternoon: "The Belgian army repulsed a German attack, also gained 100 metres on La Bassée road. German artillery displayed considerable activity in the Aisne Valley. Our batteries reduced it to silence in the afternoon. In Champagne our progress continues. We won some ground in a wood north-west of Perthes and north of Mesnilles Hurles. Engagement continues in the valley of the Meuse. At Jumelles Dorns we destroyed some machine gun shelters and wrecked trenches. We made fresh progress in the Bois Brule, forest of Apremont. The Germans were driven from several communication passages between trenches. They were subjected to heavy losses, abandoning the field and numerous accoutrements and weapons."

THE WINTER STEAMERS ARE DOING WELL

With the mails arriving regularly, travellers going and coming unfettered, and with all, almost, during the present week, there is a general impression that the steamers, Stanley and Minto, are having a picnic this winter. A passenger who crossed the other day by the Stanley informs the Guardian that it has been quite another thing than a picnic. During the present week were made an almost continuous difficulty. On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the Strait was full of ice. While crossing on Monday the Stanley in the course of a serious fight with packed ice had her steering gear carried away. Temporary repairs were made and she once more tackled the enemy, only to have the steering gear again carried away. Repairs were effected a second time, and she docked at Pictou about midnight. Here she discharged a full cargo, took on another, coated up and watered her, and returned at 3.30 a.m. Tuesday, arriving at Georgetown at 6.25 p.m. On Wednesday at 7 a.m. she left for Pictou, where she arrived at 4.55 p.m., having sufficient time to complete repairs to her steering gear. The fact that the Stanley succeeded in crossing at all on these three days, with the Straits packed with ice and her steering gear in such a condition that she was able to back but slowly in her ice fighting, is to her credit and that of her captain and officers and crew. It will be remembered that the Stanley is now no chicken, this being her 27th year in a service that has been invariably difficult. She has somewhat less power than the Minto, 2,400 horse power against the latter's 2,900 horse power and heavier bulk, but she has been able to keep up her end of the game as successfully as her sister ship. The passenger above referred to is loud in his praise of the Stanley, her captain, officers, engineer and assistant engineer, each of whom knew what to do and when to do it in emergencies. The public, both at home and travelling, who receive their mails or reach their destination without mishap, are apt to attribute the good service of both these ships to the extraordinarily mild weather, but in the midst of winters there are ice packs to negotiate, and to do this successfully requires the utmost skill, as well as the staunch and able steamers, and these they have on and in the Stanley and Minto.

THE WHOLE PLACE A VAST CEMETERY

Still Grey Figures Lying in Rows Together or Singly or in Twos or Threes. Such is the Description by an Eye-Witness of the Scenes Around Ypres Where Allies are Holding Off the Enemy.

(Special to the Guardian.)
LONDON, Feb. 26.—"All the ground near the front line is ploughed up with shells and furrowed with the remains of old trenches and graves. The whole place is a vast cemetery, in which our trenches and those of the enemy wind in every direction."
This statement is made by the British official "eye witness" at the front, in a despatch describing the recent battles south-east of Ypres and of the country in which the armies are fighting.
"In a sheltered spot," he continues, "there is a little graveyard, where some of our own have been buried. Their graves have been carefully marked and a rough square of bricks has been placed around them. In front of the trenches German bodies still lie thick."
"At one point of the brick fields recently some thirty men tried to rush our line. At their head was a young German officer, who came on gallantly waving his sword. He almost reached the barbed wire and then fell dead, and he lies there yet with his sword in his hand and all his thirty men about him, as if swept by a withering blast, and it is the same all along the front in this quarter."
"Everywhere still grey figures can be seen lying, sometimes several rows together and sometimes singly or in twos and threes."
"This description might serve, with a few minor alterations, for many of the localities along our front, where the fighting has centred around some wood, a village or line of trenches. It is as if each had been swept by a withering blast, before which every object, whether a work of nature or of man, has crumbled in ruins, or become twisted and deformed, and even the very ground itself looks as if it had been shaken by a violent convulsion of nature."
"To the south of Ypres, at Comines Canal," says the witness, "the ground, although there are some enclosures, is comparatively open. To the north of it, however, there are many woods that have become a tangle of fallen trees, interposed with craters. To add to the hardships of such fighting, the troops have been attacking on ground in which the men sink up to their knees in mud."

GERMANS TO PAY FOR ITALIAN NEUTRALITY

ROME, Feb. 25.—Close observers in Rome of the political situation declare that since the readiness of Italy to join in the war has become apparent, the insistence of Germany upon her continued neutrality has grown stronger. It is declared, in a reliable quarter, that Prince Von Buelow, the German ambassador to Italy, has summarised the Italian situation to his government substantially as follows: "Italy has spent nearly two million lire ($400,000,000) in war preparations since the outbreak of hostilities, consequently action on her part is daily becoming more imperative. Furthermore, for internal reasons, all political parties are asking the government to obtain, as a result of diplomatic negotiation or through the use of the Italian army and navy, the fulfilment of the aspirations of the nation, particularly in return for the heavy sacrifices already made."
Germany urged Austria-Hungary strongly to cede to Italy her Italian province of Trieste and a portion of the istria peninsula, with the idea of keeping Italy neutral at the present time and enlisting her favour for the future. It has been asserted in Rome that Austria must be induced to accede to his views concerning territorial concession to Italy, else he would resign his post.
