Canadian Legion Annual Meeting

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS
Following is the report for the year submitted by Mr. Arthur G. Bruce, President:

Comrades, we have arrived at the close of another year in so far as our Charlottetown Branch is concerned, and I would like to touch lightly on our activities for that period of time. We have a large increase in membership, as I think the returned men realize that it is the one organization which looks after their interests, and where they can meet in comradeship, so near to that enjoyed while serving in the Great War.

Our membership is over 350, but we should have many more and I trust that each member will bring along another to join the branch.

We have paid out $433.75 in relief for the year, and I can assure you that every case was thoroughly investigated. Our thanks are due to Comrade William McLaren, chairman of this committee and his workers.

The mortgage on our building has been reduced to $1500 and in the matter of a few years, this debt should be wiped out, when we shall be able to reduce our fees and give more relief. During the year, we have received splendid donations for our relief work, from the ladies of the I. O. D. E., and the Pythian Sisters. Our thanks are due these ladies for their help. Last Armistice, we had the largest parade in our history and I hope it will be surpassed this year.

We also had a very successful Poppy Sale and Play. We are grateful to the citizens of Charlottetown and every one who helped to make these affairs such a success.

Our thanks are due to the committee who had charge of the Motor Show, the proceeds of which were used to instal a radio in our rooms for the use of the members, which I am sure, we all enjoy. I wish also to express our appreciation to the committee who had charge of the Circus held this year, which was quite a help financially. Our three regular Dances were quite a success, and were well patronized. We have to thank the Provincial Government, and also Dr. Robertson, for the use of the Prince of Wales College Hall.

You will all be pleased to know that a branch of the B. E. S. L. has been started in Souris, during the past year.

I wish to thank the members of the Executive Council for their hearty cooperation and hard work, and also Comrade Sherren, who has worked so hard in the interests of this branch and of every returned man.

Our Employment Committee has been very active and has placed numerous comrades in positions. Our thanks cannot be too strongly expressed to the members of the Ladies Auxiliary, for the way they have worked and the help they have given.

We broadcast over Station CFCY on two occasions when Comrades Charles Thompson and William Cheverle gave some interesting papers on the work and aims of the Legion, and as a result we have received a number of applications for membership from the Magdalen Islands. We extend our thanks to Comrade Keith Rogers for the privilege of broadcasting over CFCY and also to the press for much publicity.

Our thanks are due to the Band for their splendid music and also to Comrade Charles Hines, for his kindness in helping us on so many occasions.

To those who are left to mourn our Comrades, who have gone to the Great Beyond, we extend our sincere sympathy.

Our Comrade Norman Lowther is to be congratulated on receiving the appointment of Soldiers Advocate for this Province.

During the Winter our monthly meetings were well attended and proved interesting to all; we had some excellent addresses and I would like to see the same plan carried out in the future. This year has been a busy one in Legion circles. Too much credit cannot be given to the members of our Dominion Command, for the way they have handled the returned men's problems and the fruits of their labors are shown in the amendments to the Pensions Act.

In our Dominion President, Colonel L. R. LaFliche, we have a man of outstanding ability, who has ever the interests of returned men at heart. And now, in closing, Comrades, I would like to ask that each member will work hard for the betterment of our Charlottetown Branch and the Legion as a whole.

Gloria And Hank Facing A Divorce Laud Each Other

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Oct. 24.—Gloria Swanson's long heralded suit for divorce from the Marquis Henri de la Palaise "Hank" Coudraye was on file here today.

The screen star's attorney filed the suit, charging "wilful and malicious desertion." Confirming statements made at the time the question of divorce was broached, the Marquis said he would not contest the action.

The couple were married in Paris, January 23, 1925, and separated a year ago, the complaint stated. The first public intimation that Miss Swanson and her titled husband had reached the parting of their ways came in August this year when the Marquis came to Hollywood from Europe and stayed alone at a hotel. At that time both said they had decided to live apart and Miss Swanson intimated she was considering filing a suit for divorce.

The couple has no children and heart.

And now, in closing, Comrades, I would like to ask that each member will work hard for the betterment of our Charlottetown Branch and the Legion as a whole.

Miss Swanson did not ask for alimony. There is no community property, the divorce petition said.

Both principals professed admiration for the other. "We will always be good friends," the actress said. "I like Henri and I appreciate his difficulties in being married to me. I am so devoted to my career that my first interests are naturally in my screen work."

The Marquis said that he still had a "very high regard" for Miss Swanson. "I wish her every happiness in the world," he said, "and if it is a divorce she wants she may have it if the court will give her one."

THE GREEN CLOAK

a demonstration of the possibilities of hypnotism as I had ever seen. The doctor called in Jane Perkins' memory to act as the girl's interpreter.

"What is the man's name," the doctor asked, "the man who sent you?" Her answer was two words that sounded like "Osa Enns." I saw that for a moment it puzzled the doctor as much as it did me. But the next moment, evidently, he understood, for his face lighted rather grimly.

"You came away, did you, without the thing he sent you to get?" She nodded.

"And you hadn't been told to kill the old man? You didn't mean to kill him when you stole into the house?"

She answered with a deep-throated guttural, even to my ears, unmistakably in the negative.

She flung her head back, her eyes blazed defiance and from her lips poured forth a torrent of speech.

"Stop!" said the doctor if you can understand English, you can talk it, too. Speak in the same language I am speaking in, and tell why you killed him."

"I was sworn to kill him." The words came thickly, slowly clumsily, for tongue and lips were finding difficulty with them, but they were clearly and quite intelligibly English.

I saw the doctor's face light up at the sound of them, for it was the completion of the most interesting experiment he had ever tried. The girl was still submerged completely, in her wild, primitive, under-self.

She was no more Jane Perkins than as if she had occupied another body altogether, and yet, by the strange hypnotic power of suggestion, the doctor was compelling her to use Jan Perkins' knowledge of English to talk with.

"Who swore you to such an oath?" he asked.

"My mother when she was dying. It was a vengeance. He had murdered my father. He murdered him before I was born."

"If it happened before you were born," said the doctor quickly, "then unless you know beforehand that Henry Morgan was the man you were sworn to murder, how did you know it when you found him in the house?"

Out of the front of her house she pulled a little chamouis-skin bag which hung about her neck by a fine gold chain.

"By this," she said, "I had been taught to him, the murderer. My mother kept it and gave it to me so that I could know him."
