WHEN CANADA WAS INVADED.

What is now happening in Cape Colony, and Natal happened long ago in Upper and Lower Canada—those provinces were invaded by an armed enemy. The two provinces had then a less population than Nova Scotia has now. Upper Canada had only 95,000, people and Lower Canada 355,000, the latter nearly all French. The United States with which we were at war, had a population of 8,000,000, or nearly twenty times as many as Canada. The war broke out in 1812, when Napoleon was in the zenith of his power and continued till 1814, before the conqueror of Europe was crushed at Waterloo. Britain had much else to do besides defending Canada in those days, but sent what forces she could spare.

The Canadian militiamen English and French, rallied to the defence of their homes, and before the war ended no foot of Canadian soil was held by the enemy, and the Anglo-Canadian armies were in possession of various posts in New York, Vermont and Michigan states. The battlefields were mainly near the border in one country or the other. It may be worth while to refresh the memories of our youthful readers with a few dates pertaining to the only time within the century past that Canada has been seriously invaded.

War was declared between Great Britain and the United States in the spring of 1812.

July 17. Mackinaw surrendered to the British.

July 18-20. U. S. troops repulsed at River Canard.

August 5. Tecumseh defeated U. S. troops at Brownstown.

August 16. Detroit surrendered by the Americans under Gen. Hull to Gen. Brock.

Sept. 16. U. S. troops repulsed at Presquile.

Nov. 10. Kingston bombarded by U. S. troops.

Nov. 20. U. S. troops repulsed at Odell own.

Nov. 28. U. S. troops repulsed near Fort Erie.

1813. Jan. 22. U. S. troops defeated at Frenchtown.

Feb. 6. Brockville raided by Americans.

Feb. 22. Ogdensburg, N. Y. taken by British.

May 5. U. S. troops defeated before Fort Meigs.

October 26. U. S. troops defeated at Chateaugay—3,000 Americans under Gen. Hampton by 400 French Canadian militia under Col de Salaberry.

Nov. 11. Defeat and rout of Gen. Wilkinson and Americans at Chrysler's Farm by Canadian militia under Col. Morrison.

Dec. 19. Fort Niagara captured by British.

Dec. 19. Lewiston destroyed by British.

Dec. 31. Black Rock captured by British.

1814, March 30. U. S. troops repulsed at Lacolle Mill.

May 6. Oswego, N. Y., captured by British.

July 19. Prairie du Chien surrendered to British.

July 25. U. S. troops defeated at Lundy's Lane.

August 12. U. S, troops defeated near Fort Erie.

Sept. 17. U. S. troops repulsed at Fort Erie.

Dec. 24. War terminated by treaty of Ghent.

To equip and transport 2,700 men was for Canada a greater achievement than for the United Kingdom to send out eight times that number. Britain has long been accustomed to that sort of thing. Canada never undertook the like before, and the call was both sudden and unexpected. That it was all done so quickly and so smoothly reflects the highest credit upon Hon Dr. Borden and the official staff of the Militia Department.
