COMPULSORY MILITARY TRAINING

In our correspondence column recently there has been a discussion on compulsory military training. This is a subject that is engaging the attention not only of Canadians, but the people of the Mother land and the other self-governing dominions.

In New Zealand, South Africa and Australia compulsory service is now in force. It is the more interesting to find it adopted in Australia, as there they have Woman's suffrage and a labour party government, a combination popularly supposed to be anti-military in sentiment.

In our Saturday's issue, Mr. George W. H. Beers claimed that compulsory military training would tend to improve the behaviour of our youths in public, improve them physically, and tend to their mental advancement.

Mr. Tiddmarsh's recommendation to establish proper curing rooms in suitable places along the coast, and so ensure a reliable and continuous market for the fishermen, will appeal to all as the natural solution of the question.

Mr. Tiddmarsh's suggestion for its development has in it the ring of common sense. The thing now is to apply it. This can be done only in the manner we have indicated—formulate the plan, make it reasonably clear that such an establishment or a ring of such establishments along the whole coast under one management, would yield a reasonable return for the capital invested and the capital will flow in as readily as it has done in the fox business.

OUR FISHERIES.

In the excellent address delivered by Mr. W. F. Tiddmarsh before the Charlottetown Board of Trade Friday evening, and reported in The Guardian Saturday morning, as well as in the discussion which followed, there are many points which cannot be too strongly emphasized.

AERIAL NAVIGATION

Regulations have been issued by the British Home Office dealing with aerial navigation under the Aerial Navigation Acts of 1911 and 1913.

A good spring tonic is Rexall Beef Wine and Iron, a preparation that puts vim into your system, strengthens bones, muscles and sinews and adds years to your life.

Minister of Defence of the Commonwealth, states that he has received a large number of letters from every state and most of the large country towns from gentlemen personally unknown to him voluntarily testifying to the improvement in the general behaviour of the youths and to their increased smartness and better work.

This is the result of some three years' operation of the compulsory Training Act in Australia and speaks for itself. In Scotland though there is no compulsion, military training is provided for in all public schools, to which are attached cadet corps for the purpose. Here we are not ready for compulsory military service, but there is nothing to prevent us devising a scheme for the formation of cadet corps in connection with our higher grade schools and colleges.

HALIFAX RABBI CHARGED WITH CRUELTY TO ANIMAL.

HALIFAX, N. S., April 3.—The Hebrew Rabbi for Halifax Abraham Levitt, a Russian, was before the city stipendiary yesterday summoned for causing a heifer to endure unnecessary pain and suffering while being slaughtered.

The prosecution is at the instance of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and it is stated to be the first of its kind in America. Inspector Williams spoke of a heifer having its throat cut by the Rabbi and struggling, kicking and gasping for fourteen minutes afterwards.

STORM PLAYS HAVOC WITH LOBSTERS ON NEW ENGLAND COAST.

BOSTON, April 3.—Gales "down east" have caused a shortage in the lobster supply, with a jump in the price. Not a single crustacean was offered in the wholesale market of the city Wednesday, and demands from restaurants could not be filled. The last consignment, a small one, was sold to a New York concern a few days ago for 75 cents a pound. The normal price is about 25 cents.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. R. JENKINS.

In loving memory of Ida Louise Melkie, Charlottetown, entered into rest on April 5th, 1909, "Jesu's Lives! Henceforth is death but the gate of life immortal." At Dundas, March 25th, 1913, at the age of sixty-one years after a protracted illness, borne with great patience and resignation to the Divine Will Appellone Webster, the beloved wife of Mr. Richard Jenkins leaving a family of six to mourn, William and Artemas of Bath, Maine; John and Joseph, with two daughters Miss Rebecca and Clara at home, besides a very large circle of friends, who will ever miss the genial, kind and sympathetic soul, who has gone to her reward! No wayfarer man or stranger was ever allowed to pass her door, without partaking of her hospitality. Love and mutual respect and kindness pervaded her home. To her disconsolate husband is tendered sympathy.

Rev. M. N. McLeod conducted the services and a large concourse of people followed the remains to their last resting-place. Out of a life ever mournful, Out of a land very lonely, Where in bleak exile, we roam; Into a joy land, above us, Where there's a Father to love us, Into our home—"Sweet Home."—Comm.

MRS. PATRICK DOWLING.

The death occurred at Nine Mile Creek on Dec. 10th, 1912, of Mrs. Patrick Dowling, leaving to mourn a sorrowing husband and a family of seven children, the youngest but two years old. Her illness was of less than a year's duration, but through it all she bore it with cheerfulness. She was an affectionate wife and mother, a kind, obliging neighbor and was beloved by all her friends for her inoffensive nature and cheerful disposition. She was formerly Miss Maggie Egan of Cornwall, P. E. I. The funeral was to South Shore R. C. Cemetery. (Patrol and Examiner please copy.)

MRS. JOHN STONE.

On the 30th March, Sunday the spirit of Mrs. John Stone, Cornwall, formerly Miss Marie McCallum, ascended to be forever with the Lord whom she loved and humbly and willingly served. For about two years past she had been more or less laid aside by illness and for her it was "sweet release". It is occasionally said of some persons "they had not an enemy" in the world and this was emphatically true of the deceased lady. She lived in the affection of those who were nearest and dearest and in the goodwill and respect of the neighbors generally. She had in an unstinted measure the care and attention of her husband and children especially of her daughter Memie. Her pastor Rev. George Orman visited her from time to time was much blessed in her company and valued the privilege and was much edified to witness the cheerfulness and resignation manifested, the husband confidence, she reposed in her Father God and Saviour Jesus Christ. When in health and able to attend she greatly prized the ordinances of religion not on the Sabbath day merely but during the week. She was a life member of the W. M. S. and greatly interested in its work. The last tokens of respect were paid to her on Tuesday afternoon, April 1st when a large number gathered in the neighborhood of 50 vehicles besides those walking. Her body was laid to rest in the Cornwall Cemetery alongside the House of God she loved so well.

ENJOYABLE EVENING.

(From Saturday's Evening Guardian) The musical committee of the first Methodist Church entertained the choir and officers of the church in the Hearts Memorial Hall last evening. Col. F. S. Moore, chairman of the musical committee presided. The chairman and Rev. J. Heaney, the Pastor, in their addresses spoke of the high reputation the First Methodist Church Choir had always enjoyed and assured them that the musical committee and officers of the church were always ready to give them hearty co-operation.

ENJOYABLE EVENING.

The following program was most acceptably rendered, including several encores, after which refreshments were served: Pianoforte Duet—Mr. Thompson and Mr. Dennis; Address—Col. F. S. Moore; Duet Vocal—Miss Bremner and Mrs. F. H. Beer; Reading—Mr. R. C. Goff; Song—Miss Jennie Hood; Solo Piano—Mr. Albert Dennis; Address—Rev. J. Heaney; Song—The Englishman, Mr. F. H. Beer; Reading—Mr. S. F. Hodgson; Song—Mr. W. Rowe; Song—Philosophy, Miss Bremner. A vote of thanks was tendered to Col. Moore and Mr. James Paton who were instrumental in providing the enjoyable evening.

Magnificent Carpet Selections

One can hardly realize the extensive range of carpets, squares, rugs, matting and linoleums carried by us, until they visit our brightly lighted carpet department situated on the second floor which is in charge of thoroughly competent men who have their stock off by heart, as the saying is, and give useful and helpful hints on the buying and laying of same.

Showing Of Squares Magnificent

As squares are used all the year around decision must be made carefully and with an eye to beauty. This can easily be done where there are very effective patterns shown in Wilton squares, real Persian pattern, axminster, velvet, Brussels, tapestry, Scotch or Union squares.

Some have handsome Medallion centres, plain or flowered centres with beautifully designed border and all at prices within the range of Charlottetown wages.

Hearth Rugs Surpassingly Nice

The hearth rugs are surpassingly nice and can be had in all desired sizes from the small door mat up. In great demand are the straw mats and a complete assortment is shown in pretty colors, 9 x 10 all seamed with border $2.25, while the mats come in two sizes 25 and 33 cents.

Carpet Array Unsurpassed

In carpets the array is unsurpassed and splendid designs are shown in Brussels from 90c to $1.75 per yard, wiltons $1.00 to $2.25, Axminsters $2.25 to $4.50, with borders to match making a complete and handsome room. In stair carpets the patterns are most distinctive, rich Brussels from $1 up and Tanestries from 45c up with, of course, the usual cheaper grades always stocked.

Lovely Patterns In Oilcloths

In oilcloths and linoleums some lovely patterns are shown. For borderings of 2 inch plank, hard wood pattern there are several widths 18, 22 and 27 inches while the squares can also be had two yards wide, cut any width. The flowered and conventional designs on the oilcloths are to be had to suit any room at a moderate price.

Dainty Lace Curtains And Muslins

The daintiest lace curtains, muslins, madras and nets possible to procure are ready for selection. The curtains come in coffee, ecra and white ranging in price from 50c to $1.00 per pair, while the muslins sell from 15c to 60c per yard.
