BOMB FOUND NEAR NEW YORK BRIDGE

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—An employe of the street cleaning department discovered a bomb wrapped in a newspaper in a heap of rubbish on a city scow near the Brooklyn anchorage of the Williamsburg bridge today. With the bomb were two packages of powder used for their lights with instructions for their use printed in German which translated reads: Light this if coast is clear, and "Light this if there is danger."

Expert Eye Testing

Our experience in vision testing coupled with the best optical parlor in Kings County, enables us to correct your eye troubles with scientific accuracy.

Eye strain is the direct cause of many ills. At first signs of eye strain the eyes should be examined and if glasses are needed, they should at once be worn.

We use the same methods and instruments as the leading eye specialists in larger Cities. You will find in our parlor such instruments as the Electric Operated Ophthalmometer, Ski-Optometer and the Retinoscope.

Come in and be convinced that we can give you the best service obtainable and at moderate prices.

LETTER OF SYMPATHY.

Letter of sympathy to Mrs. John S. McLeod.—We the Officers and members of Calvin L.O.L. No. 1127, Bradabane, beg leave to sympathize with you in the death of your loving husband. We mingle our sorrow with yours and shed as a tribute to his memory a tear of sympathy with those he had left behind. But we ask you to take comfort that all trials are sent by our Heavenly father in love and that all things work together for good to them that love the Lord, and may the God of comfort and consolation strengthen you in your trying hour and enable you to say Thy will oh God not mine be done.

Signed in behalf of the above lodge Roderick McKay, Angus Gillis.

SURPRISE PARTY AND PRESENTATION

A very pleasant surprise party took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Walker, North River, where a goodly number of their friends from the surrounding districts called on them to bid them farewell preparatory to their departure for Charlottetown where they intend residing in the future. Shortly after their arrival the gathering were called to order and a neatly worded address was read by Miss Lovett Collins while Mr. Frank MacArthur made the presentation. The following is the address: Mr. and Mrs. John Walker and Family.

We your neighbors and friends have learned with regret of your intended departure from the community in which you have spent so many happy and useful years, and taking up your residence in Charlottetown. Your active interest in the social welfare of the community and the help you have always given to every movement calculated to bring happiness to your friends and neighbors makes your departure at this time a distinct loss to us all.

Before taking your departure we ask you to accept these small souvenirs which we hope will help you to remember your old friends and keep alive through the years to come the pleasant relations that have characterized your residence in North River.

Signed on behalf of your neighbors and friends.

The above address was accompanied by the presentation of a handsome clock to Mr. and Mrs. Walker and a valuable fountain pen to their son Gnr. Neil D. Walker who recently returned from the front where he had served three years, taking part in many of the heaviest engagements of the War. Mr. and Mrs. Walker and son, Gnr. Neil D. Walker although taken by surprise each made a fitting reply. The evening was whittled away in music and song.

REFUGEE HIDDEN IN CELLAR THREE YEARS IS DISCOVERED IN THE RECLAIMED AREA

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Nov. 27.—Among the most interesting of the refugees found by the British in the area recaptured this week's drive was a man of military age who had hidden in a cellar for three years to escape the Germans, and had been fed by his wife with extra ration of food allowed her because she had a baby. This man is 35 years old, and in the ordinary course would have been arrested and sent to a prison camp as soon as the Germans entered the town. He did not wish to leave his wife and baby and so hid in a secret place in the cellar, thereby making himself liable to the death penalty if detected. German officers came to live in his house, and daily he heard them tramping about above him. In accordance with the custom this house and all others were searched every little while to see if anyone was concealed, but the Germans never discovered his hiding place. Each day, while the officers were away, his wife smuggled his little store of food and water to him. When the British entered the town he wife after making sure that they were indeed British, went home and brought out her husband, who had his first glimpse of the outside world since August, 1914. It was a queer fact that the Germans were to have searched the house again the day the British captured the town. This refugee seemed to be in fair health, notwithstanding his confinement, but his nerves were badly shattered and he wept continually to-day as his story was being related. He was clinging to a bag containing several hundred francs which he had carried with him into his cave.

SAYS RUSSIANS ARE WEARY OF FIGHTING. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—The reign of the Bolsheviks in Russia will be short when a man strong enough to lead appears, in the opinion of Count Ilay Tolstol, second son of the late Count Leo Tolstol, who is on his way to New York. "I have just returned from a tour of Russia," he said. "The Maxim's will not remain in power long. In Moscow the sentiment is against their tactics, and Moscow represents the best thought in Russia. It is impossible to say whether Russia will again become a factor in the war, but this is sure—the people, both in the country and in the cities, are weary of fighting. It is only a question of whether they prefer war or German domination."
