FRESH air and exercise are often out of the question, with the result that many minor ailments frequently assert themselves. In such cases nature is unduly handicapped and needs assistance. The morning glass of water sparkling with a "dash" of ENO'S "Fruit Salt" is the sedentary worker's best friend—it keeps the system free from impurities in a perfectly natural way. Famous Swordsman Wounded In Duel

(Canadian Press)
PARIS, March 10.—Lucien Gaudin, generally regarded in France as the world's greatest swordsman, was wounded today in a duel with Armand Massard, Olympic champion at Antwerp in 1920. Massard's sword traversed the flesh of Gaudin's sword hand during their first passage at arms, and Gaudin was unable to continue. Massard recently asserted Gaudin had been picking "easy marks" to meet to avoid jeopardizing his great reputation and it is assumed this was responsible for the duel.

More Money For Drink Than Rent

(Canadian Press)
LONDON, March 10.—That most of the Clyde Bank families spent twice the amount they owed for rent, roughly £4094 annually on drink, betting and moving pictures, was evidence given before the Glasgow Rent Commission, appointed to investigate the whole question of notorious Clyde Bank tenants, by a merchant of the district today. Landlords in the district have for years been unable to collect any rents from their tenants.

British Still Losing Contracts

(Canadian Press)
LONDON, March 10.—British shipbuilders while still smarting under the loss of large contracts to German shipyards, have had salt rubbed into their wounds by the Newfoundland Government. Newfoundland has ordered a passenger steamer from a Dutch firm which in turn placed an order for casing with the Skoda Works of Czechoslovakia so this passenger ship will be thoroughly continental in construction. Not content with this however, the Newfoundland Government asked that a vessel be built under the survey of the British Board of Trade. The Board of Trade so far has seen the humor, but not the logic of this proposal.

GETTING WROSE

Nor is this the only disturbing thought. This year's first estimate for the National Railways is three millions worse than last year's. It is in the neighborhood of $60,000,000.

It is again a case of "Cheer up, the worst is yet to come." It certainly looks that way for the falling off in gross receipts has been great. Nor has there been a cut in operating charges in keeping with it. The only inference that can be drawn is that things on the whole are worse than last year by at least three millions. It would lead to a conclusion that the deficit this year is at least $67,000,000.

JUGGLING ESTIMATES

But whatever it is, the suspicion will not down that estimates being juggled to keep from the public the true financial position of the National Railways. Nor is it safe to speculate on expenditures of any kind if the estimates are to be exceeded by $8,000,000 in a single year.

But the row in the afternoon over the Canteen fund was one of the liveliest of the session. It appears that there are a couple of loose soldiers' funds in the Government's keeping and a lot of soldiers' rows in the immediate vicinity.

Last session, too, it will be remembered, the Government proposed to throw out that bill providing for an adjustment bureau which handles disputes over pensions, etc.

With the death of the bill in the Senate there was no money to carry on this work. The Government took $25,000 from another privately donated fund that is used to help distressed veterans, and the money who are technically deprived of help. It took it by Order-in-Council and handed it over to the Dominion Veterans' Alliance to carry on this adjustment work. It was to be paid back out of the Canteen Fund when authorized by Parliament.

CHARGES MADE

But there appeared to be a nigger in the woodpile somewhere. The Tories buzzed around Hon. Dr. Beaudry, who had the Canteen Bill in hand, demanding explanations. Hon. Arthur Meighen even went so far as to charge misappropriation of funds, while Hon. Dr. Manion hinted that the money had never reached the parties for whom it was intended.

The battle raged all afternoon and at the dinner hour the committee reported progress that more information might be brought.

STERS AND PIGS

At night it was agricultural estimates. As Hon. Geo. P. Graham remarked recently, "If we get through with everything else we always have a few pigs to eat." And with them, of course, comes Hon. W. R. Motherwell. That he appears to know less about his own department than anyone else in the House only adds to the amusement. Last night they got him going in how to feed steers and he had a royal time. The Progs wanted experimental farms run at a profit. And by the time the huclic Minister had proved that it couldn't be done it was well past midnight. Everybody was tired but the Minister. He spent a most enjoyable evening, trying the way, there is a rumor that Hon. J. A. Robb, acting Minister of Finance, may bring down his budget before the end of the fiscal year. This would have the obvious advantage of making the figures largely guesswork. If the same man who guesses the estimates is allowed to work on the budget the Government should be in a splendid position to report a surplus.

Railway Estimates Exceeded By Eight Million Dollars

OTTAWA, March 10.—The House ran to form yesterday. It spent the afternoon in violent altercation over $25,000 that through a rather devious route went to disabled soldiers.

And when the smoke settled the Government had quietly slipped in a select lot of "further supplementary estimates," which amount to $7,841,442. This means that during the past year the Government spent nearly eight millions of money over and above the amount estimated—money about which Parliament was never consulted.

Now the practice is not unusual but this amount is. And what makes it all the more interesting is that $7,500,000 of this amount went to the National Railways. This, of course, is in addition to the $35,500,000 originally slated for Sir Henry Thornton's net enterprise and brings the C. N. R. vote for 1924-25 up to $64,000,000.

Looking at it from another angle it brings the much heralded betterment of a year ago down a bit. Under the first developments it comes down to $11,000,000. Also it will be recalled that Hon. Arthur Meighen was able to explain away at least that amount of the alleged improvement.

THE MARKETS

(Canadian Press)
MONTREAL, March 10.—Dominion Live Stock for sale on the two markets amounted to 140 cattle, 63 sheep, 468 hogs, and 945 calves. One load of real good northwest steers averaging a little over 1,250 pounds were sold late yesterday for $50, but receipts today were mostly common dairy type cows and canners. The few sales were made at steady prices. Calves made up the bulk of the trading and sales ranged from 800 to 950 for straight lots in common and medium stockers. A few better ones were picked out at 1000 and a half dozen real good ones brought 1100 bulk of sales ranged from 850 to 925. Sheep sold from 650 to 725. The ruling price for good quality of suitable weight was 1350 poorer quality lots sold from 1200 to 1325 select lots yesterday for a top of 1425, sows 1100.

ded as a nation of farmers, and therefore with little to do with the sea. That the farm does bulk largely in our life is true, but for many a long day a large amount of our wealth has been bound up with the ocean.

Little more than half a century ago we stood fourth in shipping among the peoples of the world, and today our sea-borne interests amount to the immense sum of eight hundred million dollars, or nearly one hundred dollars per head of our population.

Standing by ourselves, and having as it is the case, but a single torpedo boat destroyer on either coast, we should be powerless in event of war. Our shipping would disappear from the ocean. But that would not be the only disaster. Throughout the whole country there would be results we dare hardly imagine. Our industries would cease; business would be at a standstill; men would be idle in the streets, and our very farmers, dependent as they are on export trade, would have no market for their produce.

Altogether we are spending on national defence two million dollars less than we did before the war. The dollar is only one-third now what it was then, so that our Army and Navy receive only a small sum compared with what formerly went to maintain them. Our naval defence costs only fourteen cents per head of our population, and though our naval service is managed with the utmost economy and efficiency, it is of no effect in face of the enormous value of our shipping.

It is but simple prudence—the prudence that has marked every people that has risen to greatness, that would lead us to provide for our security on the sea.

It will be a shock to many to learn that the Imperial Navy can no longer be relied on for the defence of Canada. Admiral Field made it clear that Britain could not continue to maintain, by herself, a Navy large enough to command the eighty thousand miles of trade routes involved in the Empire. The Dominions failed to help then during war, Britain must first look to herself, and the outer portions of the Empire must shift for themselves. We are called upon to face stern facts of the future, and one fact we therefore cannot ignore, is that we must share the burden of Empire or stand alone to front the world.

The argument that we can depend on the protection of the United States may be dismissed as unworthy of a self-respecting nation. We cannot separate ourselves from our own past. We have enjoyed the shelter of the Union Jack. We are the inheritors of all its glorious traditions. The lands over which it floats are combined in a great League of Nations that has stood the test of time. It has fronted the world and remained secure, and its security has ever made for peace.

The League carries on a steady propaganda throughout the country to awaken all our people to our dependence on the sea. With the mixed population we have this is no small task, and it is one that entails a large expenditure. But such work must be done; for the chief obstacle of our people realizing the importance of our marine interests is simply want of knowledge.

The League's motto is—"Canadian products carried in Canadian ships, manned by Canadian seamen." This cannot be done without some opportunity being offered our lads to learn seamanship. And the League has instructors who provide sea cadets with a sufficient knowledge of seamanship to have them accepted on board oceangoing vessels.

The League also provides pensions and relief for seamen and their dependents who have suffered in the war. There is not a single case of this kind that has come under the notice of the League that has not been assisted. It was due to the efforts of the League that the Reparation Commission in Canada was appointed so that the claims of Canadian seamen who were injured in the war might be obtained from Germany.

Necessity has compelled the League to carry on, in a new country such as ours, little or no property exists for men depending on the sea. From its very first days the League found itself forced to take up one thing after another for the benefit of our sailors and the advancement of our marine interests. It has duties placed on it that cannot be cast aside, for it stands up as an organization whose work is essential to the building up and maintaining of our national life. It cherishes and perpetuates all the splendid traditions of the sea from the foundation of the greatness of our country and Empire, and on which our security and prosperity depend.

I will now refer to some of our local activities.

During the past summer the Division Division entertained the Officers and men of the warships that visited this port, and for the success of their efforts were gratefully indebted to the Royal Edward of the British Empire, is sufficient Chairman of the Entertainment Committee, Mr. F. R. Hertz, (now Lieutenant Governor Hertz, and automatically one of the patrons of the Navy League of Canada).

The Navigation School carried on by this Division at Charlottetown had a satisfactory year in 1924, under the instruction of Captain M. C. Altonby, R. N. It is evident, however, that this school, which gives such a splendid opportunity for a free Nautical Education, is not sufficiently known, or there would be a much larger attendance. It is only through the support and generosity of the Ontario Division that we have been able to continue the School.

The Navy League has been glad of an opportunity to co-operate with the Charlottetown Yacht Club which is doing so much to revive interest on the water front. The Yacht Club make their headquarters in the League Building and hold their regular meetings here.

Again at Christmas last year the Ladies of the Ontario Division sent us gifts, consisting of about fifty bags, sweaters and socks for all sailors laid off in port. An entertainment in charge of Mr. David Bethune was carried out, and a very happy time spent on Christmas afternoon. The thoughtfulness and generosity of the Ontario Division, needless to say, was greatly appreciated by the Sailors, as well as the Officials of this Division.

The Membership Committee under the chairmanship of Mr. S. A. McLeod has been quite active, and will have an increase in membership of over one hundred per cent to report in 1925. It is gratifying to know that the efforts put forth in this direction during the past year or two are now bearing fruit. We had at one time a membership of over one thousand in Prince Edward Island, and if we had such a membership today, the local division would be self-supporting. It is to be hoped that as the aims and objects of the League become better known, our membership will continue to grow. The official magazine "The Sailor" is alone well worth the small membership fee.

Our Institute is well equipped for entertainment of all kinds, and is in charge of Mr. John Hearn, a returned sailor, who is prepared to give satisfactory service at all times.

Respectfully submitted
J. O. HYNDMAN, President
