When contributing clothes to the Red Cross drive last autumn, the Marie players in the L.O.O.F. had a note and a few days ago received an answer from a lady in Poland. Following is the letter received by Miss Dicks.

Lucyana, Apr. 6, 1946

Madam:—I desire to testify my thankfulness for the present which I have received. The dress is a great help for me. I hold an office, and have two children, 12 and 8 years old. From my husband I have no knowledge since 1939. We all who have received the gifts from America, are very grateful. The gifts have been a great help to us. The greater part of us have lost all. I do not dare to beg more, but a letter from you would make me very glad.

Yours,

Stanislawa Krzywicka, Poland.

BOILING FISH

Flavor of broiled fish is much enhanced by brushing it with melted butter combined with lemon juice before broiling as well as once or twice while it is cooking. Besides adding a certain flavor, the butter will hasten the broiling of the fish and give it an appetizing golden brown color without cooking it so long that it becomes dry and tough. Slices of fillets of fish may stick to the broiler rack and be difficult to remove without breaking. Brushing on the underside with softened butter before placing them on the broiler will help to remedy this. It should not be necessary to turn sliced fish during broiling unless it is unusually thick.

When you meet two or three friends and all stop to talk, don't block the sidewalk so that no one can pass without going off the walk.

The PAPERS were talking about PEARY

But FOLKS were talking about this GRAND NEW FLAVOR!

1. Morning papers filled with news of Peary's explorations to the North Pole appeared at breakfast tables about the time folks first thrilled to this gloriously different Grape-Nuts flavor.

2. And now, when the North Pole is no longer news, folks are finding a bigger thrill than ever in that healthy, nutty-tasting flavor in Post's GRAPE-NUTS FLAKES as well as Post's Grape-Nuts.

3. Peary would have praised sky-high the nourishment in Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes: carbohydrate for energy; protein for muscle; phosphorus for teeth and bones; iron for the blood; and other food essentials.

4. Two grains — not just one — give you that Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes goodness. Wheat and malted barley are specially blended, baked and coated in a golden brown for appetizing crispness and remarkably easy digestion. Get Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes at your grocer's. Enjoy them also in those grand recipes you'll find on the package.
