Economic Distribution Big Question Before League

Will Discuss Plan For Providing Raw Materials For Germany.

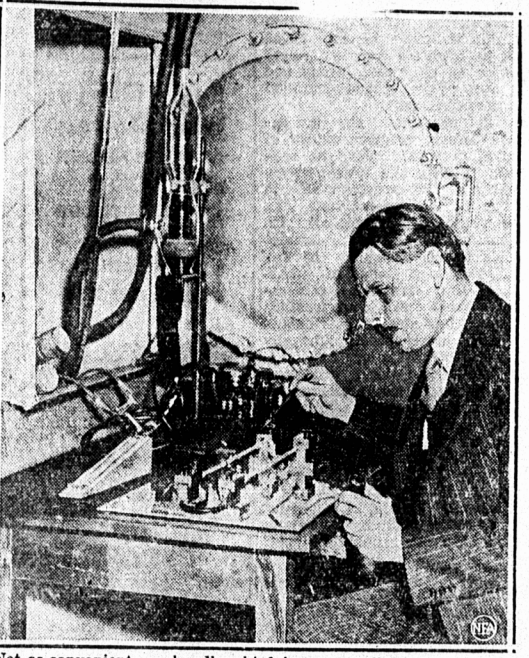

(By Joseph E. Sharkey Associated Press Foreign Staff)
GENEVA, Jan. 20.—The League of Nations Council will convene tomorrow to confront the problem of providing raw materials for Germany without restoring her war lost colonies.
The Council was expected to appoint a committee to explore the whole problem of raw materials to all nations, League circles said. The United States and Japan were said to be favorable to the idea.
The projected conference would include non-League members, Germany, however, even then might refuse to attend such discussion if it were held at Geneva, League observers believed, despite her insistence she must have more raw materials to speed economic rehabilitation.
Germany has looked with cool eye toward any League projects since she withdrew from membership in 1933 in a dispute over rearmament.

Turns Death Ray On Flu Germs

Not as convenient as a handkerchief, but more effective in battling colds is the apparatus set up at the Harvard School of Public Health to combat "flu" and common cold germs lurking in the air. When the presence of microbes is suspected, the apparatus "shoots" them with ultra-violet rays. W. F. Wells is checking equipment to determine how many germs actually die under the lethal weapon.

Battle Wages For Hill Outside Spanish Capital

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)
MADRID, Jan. 20.—(AP)—While snarling from insurgent artillery showered central parts of Madrid tonight, Government troops fortified their positions in the struggle for position of the geographical centre of Spain less than nine miles to the south.
About 30 persons were killed earlier in an aerial bombing of the capital.
Under cover of field pieces and machine guns Government forces dug in for the struggle over who is to hold "Angel Hill" or "Red Hill" as Madrid's defenders have named the promontory south of Madrid.
The Government forces held the

PHILLIPS CASE GOES TO JURY EARLY TODAY

Evidence Completed And Jury Addressed By Counsel Yesterday—Judge To Give Charge.

The Phillips manslaughter case was expected to go to the jury this morning when Supreme Court adjourned last evening. Evidence was concluded just before the noon recess yesterday and when court resumed Mr. J. J. Johnston, K.C., summed up the case for the defence and Attorney General Thane A. Campbell, K.C., for the Crown. His Lordship Mr. Justice Arsenault will charge the jury today when court meets at 10.30 a.m.
During the hearing, which opened on Monday, twenty-seven witnesses gave evidence, 16 for the Crown and 11 for the defence.
A summary of evidence heard yesterday follows:
Cornelius J. Campbell, attorney and barrister, told that on the Sunday night of May 17 Mr. Phillips drove him home and the brakes on the car were "all right." The brakes were used twice that night that he noticed and worked all right. He found that brakes on a '35 Ford, which he drove last year, became faulty when used on a long drive.
Dominic Doyle, Charlottetown police sergeant, testified he saw the accused on May 18 last. The witness was standing at the Capitol Theatre corner when Phillips came along and asked him to go to Mr. Stewart for a drive. The witness said he looked at his watch and said "it's too late, it's ten to eleven."

NO HOPE HELD FOR RECOVERY OF POPE PIUS

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)
VATICAN CITY, Jan. 20.—Physicians have given up all hope for the recovery of Pope Pius. Vatican sources said tonight, and added it no longer could be "disguised" that he was sinking.
The doctors, however, believed the 70-year-old Pontiff was in no immediate danger of death, these sources declared, unless his heart should give out suddenly. The heart has showed signs of new weakness.
Vatican informants pointed out the Holy Father's elder brother, Fermo Ratti, who died six years ago, suffered from troubles similar to the Holy Father's manifold ailments but lived more than a year after he was stricken.
The Pope was said in a reliable quarter to have "completely lost" the use of his legs, which were swollen and causing him great pain.
In addition, his heart action was reported weak and he breathed with difficulty. His condition was complicated by hardening of the arteries, asthma and varicose veins.

English Public Indifferent To Possible Air Attacks

BY THOMAS T. CHAMPION
LONDON, Jan. 20.—(CP Cable)—The English public remains apathetic to the possibility of attack from the air.
It was announced today that in Sheffield—an armaments manufacturing centre that probably would be one of the earliest enemy targets in the event of hostilities—a call for 1,000 volunteers for training as ambulance workers for such an emergency had produced less than 100 applicants.
Colonel Henry Barnby, superintending precautions in towns bordering the River Medway in Kent, announced appeals for recruits had

Father In Quadruple Tragedy Said Native Of This Province.

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)
FORT ST. JOHN, B. C., Jan. 20.—Murder and suicide was the verdict returned here today by a Coroner's jury inquiring into the deaths of Stephen A. Delorie, his wife and their two children at their homestead at Taylor, near this Peace River town.
The jury decided the 30-year-old wife, Nora; the six-year-old son, Stephen Eugene; and the two-year-old daughter, Stella Fay, died from wounds inflicted last Monday by the husband and father. The latter "came to his death from a wound: self-inflicted," the verdict said.
Delorie died Monday evening, several hours after a neighbor found the razor-shaved bodies of Mrs. Delorie and the two children on one bed in the homestead, and Delorie near death from throat cuts on another.
Delorie was born at Montague Bridge, P. E. I., in 1901.
Delorie, previously reported to have come west in 1928, was married in Regina in 1926. It was never believed, unlikely he was the brother of Earl Delroy of Halifax, who said his brother, Arthur Joseph, left Halifax in 1928 to "settle somewhere in the west."

Fox Breeders In Closing Sessions

Dr. A. A. Lockhart, Summerside, Elected President—Constitutional Amendments Agreed To.

Dr. A. A. Lockhart of Summerside, P. E. I., was elected president of the Canadian National Silver Fox Breeders' Association at a directors meeting last night which brought to a close the two-day 17th annual convention. Mr. L. T. Leeman, Salisbury, N. B., was the retiring president.
Other officers chosen were: Vice President, Mr. C. C. Akor, M. L. A., Kensington, P. E. I.; Secretary, Mr. C. H. MacCallum (re-elected) Summerside, P. E. I.; Executive, (including president and vice president), Mr. Charles Fremont, K. C., Quebec City; Mr. L. T. Leeman, Salisbury, N. B. and Mr. Harry Tidmarsh, Charlottetown.
Mr. George A. Callbeck, Summerside, P. E. I., was re-elected head of the marketing department while Major A. S. Robertson, Mermaid, P. E. I., was appointed chairman of the fur committee.
Lengthy Discussion
All morning and afternoon yesterday the Association members were engaged in a seemingly endless discussion of constitutional amendments. Chiefly of a minor nature, the amendments provoked frequent sharp clashes of opinion. They were divided into two categories—those fyled by Mr. Charles Fremont, K. C., on behalf of the constitution committee appointed last October, and a still longer series of some ten closely printed pages of suggested changes, fyled by Captain John L. Read, Borden.
The doughty Captain was on his feet for the most part of the day, arguing, explaining, pleading, defending, rebutting; steering his motions for amendment through the troubled waters of the debate with the same tireless energy that has brought the car ferry into port after many a stormy passage. He did not always carry his point; but there are few articles in the Association's re-drafted constitution, from A to Z, which do not bear the imprint of his persistent efforts.
It was 7 o'clock last evening before the exhausted disputants reached the final stage of agreeing to the change in toto, called it a day, and went to supper.
Among the more important amendments adopted were the following:
Reduction in annual membership fee from $5 to $3, in registration fees from $2, $3, and $5, respectively to $1, $2, and $4, and in advanced registration fee from $5 to $2.50, with retroactive effect, in the case of membership fee, from Jan. 1, 1936.
Rules of eligibility changed by eliminating the proviso that a standard silver fox must be born in "a registered ranch."
Final date for fying report of litter with the Livestock Records changed from Aug. 31 to Sept. 31 in each year.

COLD WAVE CRACKS DOWN ON CANADA

(By The Canadian Press)
Cold gripped the Maritimes and the Prairies yesterday, and sleet and snow whipped across Ontario, as winter threatened to toss some mid-January weather into Canada's weather pot.
Frigid winds crept into the Maritimes with New Brunswick experiencing colder weather. The mercury hovered around zero in this province and also in Nova Scotia where there was a 45-degree drop from the previous day's reading. Prince Edward Island reported weather fair and cold with sharp temperature drops.
Although cold moderated somewhat in Alberta and Manitoba, Saskatchewan temperatures clung far below zero and even on the Pacific Coast unusual cold prevailed, with 10 above reported in Vancouver.
50-Below Recorded
North Battleford, Sask., was stung by 50-below blasts while Saskatoon residents shivered as they watched the mercury slip to 30 under the zero. At Regina it was only five degrees warmer.
Autos slipped and skidded over highways in Ontario as the sleet turned roads in glassy stretches. Telephone and telegraph wires were weighted down by the clinging sleet which disrupted communication in some parts of the province. A nine-ton tractor truck and trailer were marooned in the River Canard as a result of a slide off the icy road near McGregor, 13 miles from the Windsor. Hugh Humphrey leaped from the cab just as the truck left the road.
