The residents of Vernon River Bridge and the country round are regretting the departure of Dr. Hodgerson who has recently left for Hunter River to take up the medical practice of the late Dr. Crawford. The Doctor who was gold medalist of his graduating class ranks as one of the leading practitioners of this province. His skill and success in critical cases and his untiring devotion to his profession in all seasons and all kinds of weather won for him the gratitude of the sick and the esteem and admiration of those in the enjoyment of health. The people of Hunter River are most fortunate in securing the services of a physician and surgeon so pre-eminently qualified as Dr. Hodgerson. Mrs. Hodgerson will also be greatly missed in social and musical circles. Her many accomplishments, and especially a willingness to devote rare talents as a pianist and vocalist to all deserving causes made for her a host of appreciative friends. That Dr. and Mrs. Hodgerson may have every happiness and success in their new home is the wish of every one with whom they associated.

Benj. P. Brady and family, Cumberland St., city, will have the heartfelt sympathy of their many friends in the death of his son Arthur, which sad event took place at his home at five o'clock yesterday morning. The deceased passed away very suddenly, having been up as usual daily until the day before his death. He had been employed for the past year as night foreman in the staff of The Guardian and worked up to a week previous to his death when he was compelled to resign until he regained his strength. As a young lad the deceased was employed in The Guardian and resigned in 1904 to enter the R. C. R. Garrison at Halifax. At the expiration of his term of service there he went to Toronto and London, Ont., where he, for some time, was engaged in his trade as a printer. He then re-entered the R. C. P. and was detailed in the detachment which was sent to Glace Bay to maintain order at the time of the strike. Here he contracted chronic bronchitis, from the effects of which he passed away yesterday. On his return to Halifax he entered Hospital and was discharged as improved. He passed examinations qualifying as a sergeant before returning to this city where he took the position held at his death. Arthur was a young man especially beloved in his family and highly respected by his many intimate acquaintances who will experience more than the ordinary pang of regret at his untimely death. He was one who was possessed of that rare tact of being able to maintain discipline among those under him without engendering ill feeling and this was one factor which tended to make him one of the most popular and efficient employees. He leaves to mourn his father, and the following brothers and sisters—William, London, Ont., on his way home; Mrs. E. Barlow, George, James, Katy, Amy, Lucy, Wallie and Fred, in this city. To all of these The Guardian tenders sincere sympathy.

Rev. William Harrison, pastor of Grace Church, left yesterday morning for Sackville to attend a meeting of the Board of Regents of Sackville College.
