Will Try Germans By Courts - Martial

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) BAYONNE, Jan. 6.—The Spanish consulate here announced tonight that all Germans captured by the Socialist forces on the Basque front in Northern Spain will be tried by courts-martial and may be sentenced to death before firing squads.

The only German held by the Basques now, said a consulate spokesman, is an airman captured after the Fascist air raid on Bilbao yesterday.

"He is awaiting trial, and if sentenced to death will be shot," the spokesman said, adding that reports captured Germans would be garrotted were "absurd."

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. R. HORNE

Friends throughout the Province will learn with regret of the passing of Mrs. R. Horne, whose death occurred at her home in Westville, December 19th, 1936; after a short illness. Mrs. Horne was the mother of Mrs. John Spencer Malpeque Road, Charlottetown.

The funeral took place on Tuesday, December 22nd 1936 and was the largest seen in that community for some time.

Rev. Mr. Todd of the Anglican Church spoke of her as the "Radiant Morn".

Mr. John George McKenzie sang "The Old Rugged Cross".

The choir of St. Bees Anglican Church attended in a body, there was a representative from every walk in life and hundreds called at the home to pay tribute to one they knew so well.

The floral tributes were many.

MRS. JAMES H. MALONE

By the death of Mrs. Helen Malone, on December 30, 1936, St. Joseph's parish has lost one of its most amiable, Christian and industrious members. She was always in the forefront of those ladies who were called on to do any work in the interests of the parish and most solicitous in the success of every movement to better parochial conditions.

The deceased who was a native of Kinkora, was 69 years of age, and since her marriage to Mr. James H. Malone, she has been to him a kind and thrifty helpmate, a model wife, and most essential, a model Catholic never absent, when able to be present at the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass.

Besides her bereaved husband she is survived by one brother, Isadore Smith, Souris, and two sisters, Mrs. J. J. McCarty, Fort Augustus and Mrs. P. J. Murphy, Boston, Mass.

Her funeral took place to Kelly's Cross Church on January 2, 1937, where a Requiem High Mass was sung by the pastor, Rev. J. C. Pitre who also performed the last rites in the adjoining cemetery.

The pall bearers were: Peter Greenan, Anthony Malone, Peter Toole, Ambrose Monaghan, Ephraim Malone and Wallace McGuigan.

Requiem aeternam dona eis, Domine, et lux perpetua eis luceat.

MRS. WELLINGTON F. BURNS

The death occurred at her home 77 Upper Prince Street on December 16, 1936 of Lillian Lavinia, widow of the late Wellington F. Burns in her 67th year. The late Mrs. Burns was a daughter of the late Benj. C. Mutch and the late Elizabeth Bishop of Summerside, P. E. I. She had been in failing health for some time, yet when the end came it was unexpected.

She was of a congenial disposition and ever ready to lend a helping hand in time of need. Truly it could be said of her to know her was to love her.

She was a member of the Charlottetown Baptist Church. The funeral which was held from her home was largely attended and was conducted by the Rev. H. L. Denton, who spoke very comforting words from the 14th Chapter of John. Rev. Carlisle Webster assisted with prayer. Miss Vera Malcolm Mrs. Campbell sang beautifully. Abide With Me, one of the deceased favorites. The floral tributes were many and beautiful.

She leaves to mourn and cherish the memory of a kind and loving mother and sister, her five children, namely: Aihol W. Warren, Arthur E. Winnifred M. Pearl L. All of the City; also her two grandsons Lemuel and Allan also of this City; three sisters and four brothers Mrs. J. H. Johnston, Summerside, P. E. I.; Mrs. A. P. Aitken, Edmonton Alta.; Mrs. W. A. Gay, Wollaston, Mass.; William in Haverhill, Mass.; Oliver in Malden, Mass.; Albert in Pennsylvania and George in Liverpool, Eng. Mrs. Burns was the first break in a family of eight. She was laid to rest in the Peoples Cemetery by the remains of her husband who predeceased her six years ago.

Sealing Fleet Commodore Retires

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Jan. 6.—When the Newfoundland sealing fleet steams out of St. John's harbor next spring on the annual foray to the north in search of the "main patch," Captain Abram Kean, O.B.E., will not lead the way. The 80-year-old Commodore has retired.

Known as "Jowler," the highest honor a sealer can have bestowed upon him, by the daring Newfoundlanders who come into the city from the outports to board vessels during the sealing period, Captain Kean has been master of a vessel for 47 consecutive years.

Two years ago, on his 63rd voyage, the Commodore brought his total kill up to 1,007,119 seals. Many springs saw Captain Kean's vessel come back to port "log-loaded"—unable to find room for another seal.

Having sailed in search of patches of the sea animals in the old wooden walls and the most modern steamships, the Commodore's colors flew at the masthead of the vessel came the ice-searched fleet, including the Terra Nova, Ungava, Neptune, Caribou, Imogene, Eagle, Thetis and Ranger.

Going to sea as a lad of 3 years, the famous Newfoundland rose to the position of minister of fisheries for the island. The late King George V made him a Member of the Order of the British Empire in tribute to his becoming a "millionaire in seals."

Finds Underwear Red Streamlined

BOSTON, Jan. 6.—Word is received that a western knitting mill is offering flannel underwear for men this season in the flaming hue of those in which brave fire laddies used to gallop to the rescue in the days of yesteryear.

But even red flannel underwear must give concessions to the demands of the high-speed age, says The Transcript. We are informed that the red flannels, 1936 model are up-to-date streamlined versions of the old. The shirts have quarter-length sleeves and the drawers, instead of descending to give the ankles a soft embrace when blow the wintry winds, come only to the knees.

Here is a straw in the wind—a backward step, which paradoxically is forward. A return to red flannels hangs nicely upon what Daniel Frohman, dean of American theatrical producers, said the other day. Mr. Frohman says the stage soon is to slough off its slimy skin of sex and sin and revert to the romantic school of a generation or more ago.

Love is still the dominant theme of it, Mr. Frohman avers. Life will be sweeter when the Thespian art has been purified. Those will be the days (or nights) when gentlemen theatre-goers will find their highest emotions stirred by the triumph of chivalry and virtue in the prickly warmth of the streamlined red flannel underwear.
