MR. BARBOUR REPLIES TO MR. BENTLEY

Sir,—I notice in the Guardian this morning that Mr. W. E. Bentley is reported as having stated at Eldon that I wished to have a prosecution called off against a certain Hotel in Charlottetown. On being satisfied that I did not have sufficient evidence to convict on the charge laid I decided not to proceed with this case. In doing this, I confess, I did not take Mr. Bentley's advice.

In regard to the Chairman and members of the Prohibition Commission who held office at the time, who happened to be all Clergymen, I want to state that no such instructions were issued to me to have this prosecution called off; further, that the present Chairman of the New Brunswick Liquor Commission Board never held office as Chairman of the Prohibition Commission in this Province. The information in the Hotel case was laid on January 12th, 1920. Mr. Fulton left this Province July 1st, 1919. You can easily see that these statements are not founded on facts. Prohibition of speech should accompany Prohibition of liquor.

I am, Sir, etc.,
 G. H. BARBOUR

Leader Welcomed

promises made at the time of Confederation to the Island. The Conservative Government also had passed the enactment, which insured the representation of the province in the House of Commons, which never be cut down to less than four members. They also were responsible for $100,000.00 extra subsidies and for standardizing the gauge of the Island Railway.

He emphasized the duty that lay on all Canadians who look to the future of the country. United States was closing her markets against us, by adopting high tariff rates. Were we to remain any longer heavers of wood and drawers of water to them by shipping out our raw materials to be made over into manufactured products in the United States factories and then buy those products back from them? Such a policy was ruinous.

He scored the Australian treaty. As a result of this, who formerly exported large quantities of butter were now importing it.

"Our young men and women the very life blood of our country were leaving it to go to the United States. The remedy for this is in our hands—legislation to insure that we should have an equal chance with the rest of the world in our own markets.

In conclusion, he stressed the importance of having faith in the future of our country and of not allowing sectional interests or prejudices to injure that future.

Miss Bennett expressed her pleasure in having this opportunity of meeting for the first time people of the Island and of Georgetown. If the province did not get all that it should at Ottawa, it was, not for lack of effort on the part of Mr. MacDonald who was one of the strongest for Maritime Rights in the House.

She counselled them to think over seriously what had been said to them that afternoon and to draw their own conclusions.

SOURIS MEETING

A very splendid reception by an audience which filled the Benevolent Irish Society Hall to the doors was accorded Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett on the occasion of his second address to the people of Prince Edward Island at Souris last night.

Dr. A. A. MacDonald, M. L. A. president and in addition to himself, Miss Bennett, Mr. Bennett and Mr. J. A. MacDonald there were present on the platform Mr. H. P. Duchemin, Mrs. Strubel, Mrs. Murdoch McKinnon, Mrs. McLean, Senator McLean, Mr. Harry McLean, M. L. A.

When Miss Bennett arose to deliver her address, a lovely bouquet was presented to her by little Miss Rena MacLean, daughter of Mr. R. C. McLean.

Mr. J. A. MacDonald, M. L. A. the first speaker, stressed the fact that Mr. Bennett through his experience in many walks of life knew Canadian conditions, from bottom to top. "We must see," the speaker said, "that fair play is granted all the various interests of the life of the country. A lop-sided policy which does not take account of this, will fail to advance the interests of the country."

Mr. MacDonald said that the recommendations of the Duncan report had been only partially implemented as regards Prince Edward Island. It was only after a hard fight in the house that $1,000,000 was placed in the supplementary estimates for the construction of a car ferry. After the standardization of the railway, nothing has been done since the report was tabled. Speaking of the Souris breakwater, he said that when in 1925 the county failed to elect a Liberal the amount was struck from the estimates. At last in 1928 we succeeded in having something put in the supplementary estimates but nothing has yet been done.

Miss Bennett next addressed the audience and expressed her pleasure at the splendid reception they had received in Prince Edward Island and to which place this was her first visit, emphasizing the necessity of women, now that they have the franchise taking greater interest in the problems and policies of their country, both individually and through their societies. Mothers in particular should so inform themselves on these matters so that they will be able to train their children to become loyal Canadians ever ready to give their best to the service of their country. Concluding she expressed her pleasure at being here in King's County because Mr. J. A. MacDonald represents it, the only Conservative representative from Prince Edward Island who is ready to give their best to the service of their country. Concluding she expressed her pleasure at being here in King's County because Mr. J. A. MacDonald represents it, the only Conservative representative from Prince Edward Island who is ready to give their best to the service of their country.

Dr. A. A. MacDonald then read an address to Mr. Bennett from the Conservative electors of eastern King's County.

Mr. Bennett then addressed the meeting. His position he said, was one beset by many difficulties, and much toil, but feeling that he might be of some service to his country he yielded to the request of the Winnipeg Convention in order that he might in some measure repay the debt of gratitude he owed to Canada. He then emphasized the splendour of P. E. Island's heritage. The children were descendants of the English, Scotch, Irish and French pioneers. These men left behind them more than homes and the torch of faith and hope and the glorious background of tradition.

Mr. Bennett next remarked on the great prominence which P. E. Islanders had won for themselves abroad in Church and state and in the judiciary. In this way she had contributed far more in proportion to her population to the upbuilding of Canada.

He then spoke of the great problem which faced the Fathers of Confederation and one which faces us today, the development of our natural resources. He then went on to stress Canada's peculiar difficulties in lying side by side with the populous and wealthy United States, a country which always placed the interests of its citizens first, and which did not hesitate to terminate on very short notice the reciprocity treaty which was in force before the civil war.

But Canada has made great strides so that today no one can leave without having the injuries and inequities that fell to the lot of the Maritimes righted. Both parties had agreed to carry out the Duncan Commission, he said and you have a right to insist on the report being carried out in full. The Conservatives voted for the immediate carrying out of its terms, and the Liberals including the three Liberal members from P. E. Island voted against it. Mr. Bennett pledged himself if he became Prime Minister of Canada to carry all its recommendations into effect immediately. He concluded by wishing the people prosperity and happiness, and asked them to ponder carefully on the future policy of the country.

Yesterday Mr. Bennett and Miss Bennett were entertained to lunch by Mr. J. A. MacDonald, M. P., at his residence in Cardigan and to supper by the Conservative ladies of Georgetown at the home of Mrs. D. Gordon.

THE MARKETS

MONTREAL, Que., Aug. 10.—The foreign demand for Canadian grain here today was extremely dull. The domestic trade in Canadian western oats was also of a limited character and prices were reduced one cent per bushel. A moderate amount of business was done in all lines of milled with local buyers and prices were firm. Standard grades of rolled oats were steady under a fair demand. Little business was done in spring and winter wheat flour but values were firmly maintained. The demand for all grades of eggs continued active and prices ruled firm. The receipts were 1,775 cases. Further weakness developed in the cheese market and prices were reduced another fraction which was attributed to the limited demand of late. The receipts were 12,470 boxes. A feature of the butter trade was the easier feeling that developed and values were marked down a fraction of a cent. The receipts were 2,367 packages. The market for imported beans continued active and firm. Handpick dried lots for immediate delivery were wage scale higher than that of any European country.

The remedy then, that which the United States have employed to stop our potatoes, our fish and other products from competing with similar products of their own land.

Mr. Bennett went on to stress the necessity of adopting such policies as will enable them to hand on unimpaired the heritage left us by our fathers to future generations.

Speaking of the Duncan Commission, he extended a warm tribute of praise to Mr. J. A. MacDonald and the Provincial Government for working in season and out of season to have the injuries and inequities that fell to the lot of the Maritimes righted. Both parties had agreed to carry out the Duncan Commission, he said and you have a right to insist on the report being carried out in full. The Conservatives voted for the immediate carrying out of its terms, and the Liberals including the three Liberal members from P. E. Island voted against it.
